

HOMEWORK

Homework is a constructive tool in the teaching/learning process when geared to the needs and abilities of students. Purposeful assignments not only enhance student achievement, but also develop self-discipline and associated good work habits. As an extension of the classroom, homework must be planned, organized, purposeful, and should provide feedback to students in a timely manner.

Teachers may give homework to students to aid in the student's educational development. Teachers may assign homework as part of their curriculum. [If homework is to be used by teachers as part of a student's grade, the teacher will explain to students how such homework assignments relate to the evaluation of their performance.] Homework should be an application or extension of a classroom experience, and should not be assigned for disciplinary purposes.
