

OC Newsletter

TONIGHT

Come enjoy our wonderful Holiday Service & Craft Fair tonight from 6:00 PM - 8:00 PM.

Bring your donations, kind heart, & creativity.

The Holiday Bazaar blends art and service and we will have a donation drop-of station for our struggling and unsheltered neighbors.

Come tie blankets for Primary Children's Hospital, or decorate a treat or craft to take home.

Donations being accepted for the Utah Food Bank & Volunteers of America.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Dec. 2 - Holiday Service & Craft
Fair 6:00

Dec. 23 - Solstice Celebration

Dec. 23 - Early Release Day 1:30

Dec. 26 - Winter Break

Jan. 9 - Student Return

Jan. 16 - MLK Day No School

Jan. 27 - End of First
Semester

This year, Prevent Child Abuse Utah (PCAU) will again be visiting our classrooms to teach lessons on how children can stay safe. They are scheduled on Monday and Tuesday, 12/19 and 12/20. Attached you will find a form with more information and the option to opt out. We only need you to return this form if you do NOT want your child to participate. We also encourage you to take their online parent course on child abuse prevention. Unfortunately, it is not online right now, but watch for more information when that becomes available.

As you know, our classrooms will be having a Blanket Giveaway on Friday, December 23rd, after our whole school Solstice Celebration and brunch in each classroom. After recess, adults will be invited to leave their child's classroom so the kids and their teachers can experience the Blanket Giveaway in an intimate setting. Please join us in the library at 10:30 for our annual Adult Blanket Giveaway. Please bring something you've made or something dearly loved to share with us. Please arrive promptly so we can visit, settle in, and start our ceremony in a timely manner.

