MENTAL & BEHAVIORAL HEALTH PATHWAY

HEALTH SCIENCE & MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY

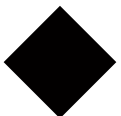

The Mental and Behavioral Health Pathway relates to occupations that assist clients on their journey toward better health. Students will learn the foundational skills of interdisciplinary teams of mental health professionals. This group includes psychiatrists, psychologists, registered nurses, and other disciplines. The pathway will ultimately focus on how they assist with the delivery of appropriate, quality treatment to patients with behavioral health concerns, psychological crises, and other biopsychological problems. Medical terminology sets a strong foundation for any pathway in the healthcare field and Counseling and Mental Health focuses on mental health and peer counseling.
