Hello all,

We have had a mild winter so far and days that bordered on Spring-like weather. It seems Mother Nature is reminding us just how cold it can get. My children have already informed me that on Sunday, we are baking brownies (which means I am baking them while they just wait to eat them) and watching the latest marvel movie with big blankets, hot chocolate, and popcorn. As you know, it is rare when middle-schoolers want to hang out with their parents, so I completely support this idea. I hope you have some time with your family and stay warm this weekend!

There are not many notes this week.

- For 7th and 8th grade parents, please remind students that close-toed shoes are needed for Engineering (STEM) and Gym classes.
- Please see the attached traffic pattern moving forward. If you are turning left out of the parking lot when leaving, please go through the first row of the parking lot. If you are turning right when leaving, please pull through the loop in the front. MMS Pick Up Traffic Pattern.bmp
- Just a friendly reminder, school is 7:57 am-2:22 pm. Due to our rotating schedule, students who are tardy or leaving early miss multiple classes, which can be tough. The doors to school open at 7:20 am for students to arrive early, do homework in designated areas or seek extra help from those teachers who offer support before school.
- There are no late buses or after-school activities on Thursday, February 16th.
- February 17-24th is Winter Break.

Have a wonderful weekend,

Karolyn
