

ONE CLASS. TWICE THE CREDIT.

Dual credit classes allow qualified students to earn high school and college credit at the same time, making substantial progress toward a college degree before finishing high school. While in the program, high school students are able to take college-level coursework taught by college faculty at a fraction of the tuition cost.

College of the Mainland offers college classes to qualified high school students. Dual credit classes are taught by COM faculty on high school campuses, COM college campus (main campus and League City) or online. Upon successful completion of the course, students receive college and high school credit.

Why participate in Dual Credit?

- Earning college credit early at a reduced cost can save time and money
- Accessibility to college resources such as library access, tutoring services, career exploration and more
- Ease the transition between high school and college in a familiar, supportive environment
- Foundational courses that apply toward an academic transfer program at COM or are intended to transfer to a public college or university in Texas
