FROM THE PRESIDENT'S OFFICE

Summer brings a welcome respite for schools. It offers a different pace, some vacation time, and opportunities for families to get together. Our faculty and staff renew their energies as they look forward to September.

However, Canisius rarely rests. Summer allows us to refresh our programs and facilities in preparation for the coming school year. Even as I write to you, the building is humming with activity as rising eighth graders participate in our Higher Achievement Program (HAP); middle schoolers engage with robotics, video game design and outdoor adventure programs; current students are taking enrichment courses in physics, precalculus and health; and sports camps and clinics abound. Some members of the Class of 2023 are preparing college essays and applications through a week-long service of our guidance department.

We also welcome new leadership this summer as Tom Coppola '01 has begun his responsibilities as principal and Peter Reiser '84 has joined us as dean of students.

The Impact Report gives me the opportunity each year to thank you for your generosity to Canisius High School and your commitment to Jesuit education in Western New York. The Impact Report also helps us to share stories of the fruits of our partnership. In these pages we learn how three graduation classes came together to support Canisius, while we reflect on the smiles of Alumni Weekend and the joy of the Class of 2022's commencement ceremony.

When alumni return to 1180 Delaware Ave., whether after just a few years or 50, they remark how much the school has changed. Schools change – and they must. The leadership, faculty and staff may change, programs are added, the physical plant develops, and – depending on when you last visited – you may find that new buildings grace the campus. Yet, the next observation these same alumni make is that the school really feels the same. The foundations on which the school was established are as strong as ever – and they must be.

Canisius has not wavered from its Jesuit mission and our hallmarks of excellence, scholarship, faith and service. Our beloved school provides a formative and transformational experience for our students. And yes, Canisius changes lives and graduates genuinely good young men who desire to make a difference in our community and world for God's greater glory.

As I reflect on the year, I am filled with gratitude for you and your unfailing support and care for Canisius. I am thankful for our faculty, staff, counselors and coaches, who accomplished so much this past year thanks to your generosity. Your partnership is essential and integral to our success and that of our students. Simply put, we need you and your support, in all its many forms, to fulfill our mission – and we thank you.

Fr. David Ciancimino, S.J.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S OFFICE

Greetings to our Canisius community. I am excited for the upcoming school year and so very grateful for the talented professionals that fill our building. We have an incredibly rich and solid foundation to build on and good work to do.

Our foundation is not simply the more than 150 years of Jesuit education in Buffalo, but the 450-year mission of Jesuit education in the world.

Early in my career, I remember Fr. Joe McShane, S.J., who recently retired as president of Fordham University, saying during a speech to young Jesuit educators that when you think of brands of education, you think about Ivy first, and Jesuit second.

We have to be stewards of Jesuit education in Western New York. Our goal – amid all of the questions and challenges of the modern world – is to continue to provide the best faith-based, value-centered education for a young man in Western New York. Over the course of four years, our students become men who will serve others who are prepared for college and for the world.

My passion for Jesuit education is rooted in how it affected me as a young man at Canisius and the great work that I have seen in our building.

I had great classroom teachers at Canisius, from the day I walked in as an unsure freshman until the day I graduated. I was challenged as a student, but uniquely supported. I say this all the time: The reason I'm sitting here is because of the opportunities that we offer which go beyond the classroom.

I went on immersion trips to Camden, New Jersey after my sophomore and junior years, and participated in Emmaus and Kairos retreats. I'm excited every year for students to go and make those retreats and embark on those immersion trips – including service programs in Mexico and Montana in the past several months – because I know that they can be transformative.

I was part of teams when I was a student here, with the football, basketball and baseball programs. We go well beyond that today with our CHS House System that Ms. Andrea Tyrpak-Endres envisioned and now continues to steward. Being a part of a team is very important to me, and now that is what we do explicitly for every student in the building.

Ultimately, as the world moves beyond the recent challenges of pandemic, we have an opportunity to recharge. That is my hope – that in building on our unique and strong foundation, I can provide a new energy in supporting the good work that our faculty and staff do, and the transformative growth that happens over four years with our students.

Gratefully,

Thomas Coppola '01

CLASS OF '72 LEAVES A LARGE LEGACY

Competition between freshman homerooms helped drive 50th reunion jubilee gift to nearly $200,000

BY ERIK BRADY '72

When the Class of 1972 graduated, 50 years ago, the Class of 1922 stood on stage with us. They looked so old.

“Yeah, remember them?” Paul Moloney says. “That’s us now, boys.”

We had our 50th reunion in May, and Paul was one of the class organizers of a first-class weekend. We gathered at Cole’s for drinks on Friday night, at Tony Manzella’s for fun on Saturday afternoon, and at the Kennedy Field House for dinner on Saturday night.

There we presented one of those comically oversized checks as our class gift. It turned out to be oversized in more ways than one. Our goal was $72,000. We doubled that – and kept going. School officials tell us our tally of $197,000 – which will establish an endowed scholarship and contribute to others – is most likely a record for money raised in a single year by a Jubilee class.

“Yeah, remember them?
That’s us now, boys.”

How did we do that? Well, let’s just say that, deep down, we are freshmen forever.

It was Mike Murray’s inspired idea to set up our class fundraising as a competition among freshman homerooms, which somehow is still a thing for us. The smartest kids were in 1-A (as they frequently remind us) and took Greek. The rest of us took Latin.

Where did that leave those of us in 1-F? (There was no 1-G.) Look, we 1-Fers may not have been the brightest bulbs in the chandelier, but we did understand a simple progression of the alphabet. (So long as it wasn’t in Greek.)

Bill Bukowski (1-E) is a professor at Concordia University in Montreal and a renowned expert in the psychology of early adolescent development. He finds it professionally and personally interesting that our class remains, at least in part, stuck in our early adolescent years.

Mike Murray (1-D) realized that this eccentricity could be used to goose us into larger donations. It worked: 1-D gave the most, followed by 1-F, and then 1-B. We know what the late Rev. James P. Higgins, S.J. (1-B) would have said: What, you couldn’t make it an even $200,000?

We knew him as Woody. As we walked through the Blue Doors for reunion weekend, we entered the ornate foyer that is now named for this visionary Canisius president. As

WHAT IS AN ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIP?

An endowed scholarship, like the ones established by the classes profiled in this issue, is a donation that earns interest each year. It is established and named by a donor and invested with Canisius' endowment with the purpose of supporting generations of CHS students. Canisius awards some or all of the interest accrued in a given year, not the principal. Donors can add more funds over time, but the principal amount remains intact.

What makes it different from a current-year scholarship? The primary difference is that current-year scholarships are often one-time donations for a single award that is applied during the current school year. Endowed scholarships can support students for all four years at Canisius and benefit generations of future Crusaders.

Who can endow scholarships? Anyone or any group can endow a scholarship. The minimum amount required to establish an endowed scholarship is $50,000. This minimum amount does not have to be donated all at once and can be pledged out over a period of years. Endowed scholarships can be created through donations of cash, securities, stock, RMDs from IRAs, real estate, and other tangible personal property. Donors can also choose to establish an endowment through a planned estate gift. Donations to establish or build endowed scholarships are generally tax deductible.

Who do I contact about establishing an endowed scholarship? Vice President for Institutional Advancement Andrew Deyell '91 at deyell@canisiushigh.org

he told us at our 10th reunion: “I’m the only success here. I’m a Jesuit.”

We remembered, too, the other 24 classmates we have lost, including Pat Kwiatkowski (1-E). His wife, and the son who succeeded him as Canisius bowling coach, learned at our reunion dinner that some of the money we raised will go to the Patrick Kwiatkowski '72 Memorial Scholarship.

100TH CHS CLASS HAS GIVEN MORE THAN $140,000

Tight-knit Class of '70 kept raising goals - and kept surpassing them

BY MARTIN HAUMESSER

When Gerald “Gerry” Winkler ’70 passed away in 2014, several of his classmates from Canisius High School held a fundraiser in his honor and donated the proceeds to their alma mater.

Those Crusader classmates continued to remember Gerry by donning Philadelphia Phillies baseball caps – Gerry’s favorite team – at a CHS alumni golf outing.

The group then began connecting with other members of the Class of 1970 at various alumni events and discussions turned to creating a scholarship to honor the entire class of 1970 – the 100th graduating class at Canisius High School.

By the 45th reunion of the class, momentum was building for the fundraiser among classmates who may not have been close friends in their teenage years but now enjoyed a camaraderie based on one thing: Their shared love for Canisius High School.

Members of the class formed a fundraising committee with a goal of establishing an endowment and donating the funds at the 50th class reunion. The committee reached out to classmates through phone calls, emails and regular mail, and the response was remarkable.

“It was a modest goal initially, but we were able to increase that goal three times over the five years of the fundraising effort,” said Edward Schneider ’70. “We passed the $140,000 mark at the 50th reunion and members of our class have continued to contribute ever since.”

According to Timothy O’Brien ’70, communication was key to the success of their endowment.

“The school has provided tremendous support for our efforts, including providing the contact information for our classmates,” he said. “We continue to keep in touch with classmates via email and at alumni events held by Canisius, which strengthens our support even more.”

Schneider and O’Brien both said the efforts of the Class of 1970 are a way to give back and show gratitude for the Jesuit education they and their classmates received at Canisius.

A native of West Falls, Schneider went on to graduate from Canisius College with a degree in accounting. He recently retired as Executive Director of the UB Foundation at the University at Buffalo after a career of 45 years.

Lancaster native O’Brien earned a degree in business management from Canisius College and worked as an executive in project management and finance, retiring from HSBC in Buffalo.

“Coming together as a class enabled us to have a greater impact for the school than one individual donating on his own,” Schneider and O’Brien stated. “The endowment establishes a legacy so that the support of the Class of 1970 will continue for years to come.”

CLASS OF '92 HONORS ITS FALLEN CLASSMATES

Remembrance of seven members of class began a collective drive to endow the Class of 1992 Memorial Scholarship

BY ANDY DEYELL '91

It was about a classmate.

Rob Ryan '92 passed away on March 19, 2021. He was a character by all accounts. Rob was a standout on the football and baseball teams at Canisius in the early 90s, and he was voted "Big Mouth" in the senior poll.

"When I found out Rob had passed, I was actually in Buffalo," remembers Melvin Huffnagle '92, one of Rob's closest friends from CHS. "My family had just left New York and we were on our way to relocating to Florida. Marlon Matos, a classmate, called me while I was in the Wegmans parking lot.

"Robby and I were close. We went our separate ways as we got older, but we always managed to stay in touch. His death affected me deeply. It still affects me."

It was about a shared experience.

The Class of 1992 enjoyed the same teachers and coaches, the same classes and activities, the same traditions. And they've kept in touch through a very active Facebook page.

As they began to share messages and remembrances with one another following Rob's death, they also discussed several other classmates who have passed far too soon – Kevin Neunder '92, Matt Manicki '92, Paul Orrange '92, Brian Ragan '92 and Brendan Pfalzgraf '92. Since their initial conversations, they've lost another classmate – Buffalo News reporter Miguel Rodriguez '92, who passed in January 2022. The members of the Class of 1992 wanted to do something to memorialize their classmates.

Kevin McGowan '92, one of the class leaders, remembers, "Our conversations really hit on the idea that we had a shared experience that we appreciate and are proud of. The connection we formed and the brotherhood we experienced is unique and has played an important role in our lives.

"In fact, one could argue that our response to the loss of our classmates was a direct result of a shared formation that focused on being men for others."

It was about something very good coming out of something very tragic.

The class formed a core group who began to organize, message, and tell the story of what they were trying to accomplish. They wanted to establish an endowed scholarship in honor of their fallen classmates. They wanted to provide a scholarship for a student who would otherwise not be able to afford CHS. They wanted to help future generations of young men in Western New York have that same shared experience of attending Canisius High School.

So the idea of The Class of 1992 Memorial Scholarship was conceived, and to their great satisfaction, their classmates responded.

Roy Vongtama '92, who lives in Los Angeles, was another class member who led the way on this idea.

"It became something we wanted to do for the school, for our class, and for each other," Vongtama said. "We got a committee together that was quite active. Michael Doggendorf '92, Ian Durham '92, Kevin, Joe Sammarco '92, Mel Huffnagle, Matt Wasilewski '92, Aaron Siegel '92, Ryan Maher '92 and myself."

When the Class of 1992 gathered at the CHS Center for the Arts this past June to celebrate their 30th reunion, they had already raised $50,000 for the scholarship — enough to endow the fund permanently.

And they are not stopping there. Their goals are to raise $100,000 in the short-term and go on to build one of the largest class endowments at Canisius.

"To see our class come together as a result of such a tragic event and to know that Rob's death helped bring about something so good is extremely gratifying," said Huffnagle.

"We were just excited to get another shot at something we were so close to last year," said Sass, who rows for the University of Pennsylvania and was an assistant coach with CHS this past season. "We stuck to what we knew about how we race and then executed according to plan."

"Nathaniel Sass and Collin Hay executed this race to perfection," said Rubino. "Our training and preparation paid off. You could see their superior strength and conditioning kick in at the 1000-meter mark. We did this for our home, the City of Buffalo. Thank you to everyone at Buffalo Scholastic Rowing Association, Canisius High School, our generous donors and families who supported our effort."

Library media specialist Brigid Monica led the commencement procession holding the school mace – a symbol of Canisius' authority to educate. A few weeks after graduation, on the final day of classes, students gave Monica a stirring impromptu sendoff by gathering and applauding her in the library on her last day after 16 years at Canisius. "It has been an honor," she told the students. "You are wonderful people, and you have touched me deeply."

THE TYRPAK CUP

During the commencement ceremony, Andrea Tyrpak-Endres, who founded the CHS House System, was surprised by President Fr. Ciancimino's announcement that the House Cup would be named for her.

"It seems fitting that the trophy should forever take the name of its founder," Ciancimino said. "In recognition of decades of service to Canisius ... it is my honor to announce that from this day forward, the House Cup will become the Andrea Tyrpak-Endres House Cup. Forevermore, students at Canisius will compete for the Tyrpak Cup."

GAMBIT XLVII

More than 500 were in attendance for a memorable GAMBIT XLVII evening as our signature auction fundraiser raised more than $550,000.

Included was the “Raise The Paddle” salute honoring Andrea Tyrpak-Endres that raised more than $250,000 for the leadership scholarship established in her name.

And be sure to save the date! GAMBIT XLVIII is April 22, 2023.

GAMBIT is successful because of the volunteer efforts of our parents. Contact Kelly Wilkens P'21, our director of special events, via gambit@canisiushigh.org to join the GAMBIT team via a committee, working in the GAMBIT office or helping on the big night.

WALKATHON

Our annual student fundraiser, the Walk for Canisius, raised $67,671.

The month-long campaign culminated on Oct. 1, 2021 with the traditional walk throughout Buffalo, the Elmwood Village and Delaware Park. By exceeding the school's stretch goal by more than $5,000, students earned the day off on Super Bowl Monday.

ALUMNI GIVING

Donations are listed by each graduating class. A total of 1,834 alumni donors contributed this year. If the rest of our 8,000 alumni made a gift of just $25, it would raise more than $200,000 for CHS students and programs.

Story continued from Page 7

Most will go to the new Class of 1972 Legacy Scholarship. Some goes to the Blue Doors Annual Fund. And then there is the $50,000 that John Ruffino (1-F) gave for a scholarship in the name of his late wife and late mother.

We gave special awards to Rocky Krysztof (1-D), whose monthly emails remind us of First Friday Mass at St. Michael's; to John Buszka (1-C), who organizes class outings to Canisius ballgames; and to Tony Manzella (1-D), who often hosts class picnics in his park of a backyard.

Dan Joyce (1-B), our man for all seasons, announced that we'd made the Rev. Richard Zanoni, S.J., an honorary member of our class. We gave Father 'Z' a vintage Brooklyn Dodgers ball cap, which brings to mind his favorite Dodgers book, "The Boys of Summer." The title comes from the famous first line of a Dylan Thomas poem: "I have seen the boys of summer in their ruin."

The poem is a rumination on aging. Reunions are, too. We have gone from senior year to senior citizens, from talk of hip albums to talk of hip replacements.

Many of us, in our Canisius years, read Hemingway's "The Sun Also Rises," in which one character asks another how he has gone bankrupt. "Two ways," is the answer. "Gradually, then suddenly."

That, of course, is how we grow old: One day at a time – until, suddenly, we find ourselves at our 50th high school reunion.

Ah, but all we had to do on those magic nights was close our eyes, and then we could hear that the sound of our voices, and our laughter, remains unchanged.

Close our eyes ... and we are freshmen again.

LEAVE A CHARITABLE LEGACY AT CHS

A charitable bequest can make a difference for future generations of Crusaders while taking into account your wishes and values.

■ A charitable bequest is a distribution from your estate to Canisius High School through your last will and testament.

■ There are different kinds of charitable bequests with specific language to indicate the precise direction of your assets.

■ A bequest to CHS made by will can have substantial estate tax savings, resulting in a larger inheritance for your heirs.

■ As part of your overall estate planning, a charitable bequest can create a legacy for you and your family at Canisius High School.

For further information and to request "Planning Your Legacy," a guide to providing for your family and supporting Canisius High School, please visit www.canisiuslegacy.org or contact Vice President for Institutional Advancement Andy Deyell '91 at (716) 200-0265.
