IV. Duties and Responsibilities of the Head Coach

Head Coaches are key individuals in the school athletic program. For many in our community, the Head Coach is an extension of the School. Therefore, a Coach assumes great responsibility when acting and speaking. Whether these actions and words are on the field of competition, at practice, in the dressing room, or out in the community the Head Coach is expected to represent Forest Park in the best possible manner.

A Coach is expected to be a role model and mentor for the athlete and to deal with the team in a firm, fair, and consistent manner. They should encourage good sportsmanship toward officials and the opposing team which will serve as a model for the general public.

There are many reasons the Coach needs to communicate with athletes. However, a Coach's communication should always be in a professional manner and not be through texting but rather through an appropriate app such as Remind. Sundays are off limits for engagement with athletes and this includes communication.

Corporation policies and procedures must be followed. Coaches are expected to be supportive of all school sponsored activities and to communicate with other Coaches, the Athletic Director, and administration, to coordinate activities among School programs.

Head Coaches lead, train, and set expectations for paid and volunteer Coaches. Head Coaches must clearly communicate to those under them to ensure that wins and losses are never placed ahead of running a program that is consistent with the philosophy and values of Southeast Dubois School Corporation. Good feeder systems are essential to a program's success. Head Coaches are responsible to work with Coaches in these programs to ensure continuity in the teaching of skill development. In the same manner, creating and managing a working relationship with programs, related to but not directly operated by the School Corporation, is an expectation of a Head Coach.

Each Coach is directly responsible for the students, equipment, and facilities under their care and supervision. Student athletes are always to be supervised and facilities and equipment must always be properly maintained.

No participant should be "cut" from a squad until adequate time has been given for observation and assessment of the athlete's ability during the official practice season. Head Coaches are expected to consult with assistant Coaches prior to cutting an athlete. When a participant is cut, there shall always be a conference with the athlete prior to the cut.

No Coach is allowed to be on the sideline or bench without approval from the Athletic Director. All Coaches must complete training per NFHS courses required by the IHSAA.
