SETTING

The play begins just before dinner on a dark and stormy night not too far from Washington D.C. in 1954. The place is Boddy Manor, a mansion of epic proportions and terrifying secrets. It's worth noting for the context of this play that the play takes place at the height of McCarthyism and the Red Scare. By definition, McCarthyism is the practice of making accusations of subversion or treason without proper regard for evidence. How apropos. No?

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

I would like to thank my family and friends as they continue to support me and my love of theater - especially my husband, Scott Gulke, as he so often steps in to help me with everything from costumes and props to set building and design.

In the fall of 2022, I gave the drama club students a choice of what play they would like to do. It was an almost unanimous vote for "Clue," which just so happens to have been one of my favorite games as a child. I clearly remember sitting around our kitchen table with my brother and sister ready to make my accusation - who did it, where and with what.

The students have done an amazing job with this show. Lines and blocking have been memorized, sets, props and lighting are complete, and we are ready to welcome you to Boddy Manor.

Now that you have accepted our invitation, let the game begin!
