The Dauphin County Technical School Joint Operating Committee (JOC) met in executive session, work session and in regular session on October 18, 2017. Brian Shiflett and Julie Neal attended all meetings. Joe McFarland and Brian Shiflett participated in the Planning for the Future Committee meeting held earlier the same evening.

Five Possible Strategies for Addressing Enrollment Growth

1. Purchase or lease a satellite facility
2. New construction at current DCTS site
3. Utilize space in member district high schools
4. Create a modular classroom community at current DCTS site
5. Continue to cap 9th grade student enrollment at 275

Dr. Grimm noted that DCTS would like to begin planning for increased enrollment beyond the current level, which represents maximum capacity, because student applications have grown steadily in recent years. For the 2017-18 school year, DCTS received 519 9th grade applications and accepted 280. Max capacity is 275 for 9th grade, and enrollment at the end of September is 266. Dr. Grimm listed five possible strategies for addressing continued enrollment growth, summarized in the sidebar. She also noted that there are several potential new CTE programs and expansion of existing ones that could be employed to satisfy student demand. In addition, increased student enrollment drives corresponding increases in academic courses and staffing.

Before the administration embarks in any further substantive growth planning, Dr. Grimm requests the member districts signal their support for such planning or whether they'd like the school to hold firm at the current capacity. The JOC discussed next steps, and requested data be sent to the member districts to inform their decisions. That data includes DCTS application and enrollment growth trends for about the past five years; member district enrollment trends; new programs under considerations and existing programs that could be expanded to meet demand; a ballpark cost estimate of each of the growth options; and what question(s) should the member districts be prepared to address or vote on at an upcoming JOC meeting. Dr. Grimm and Mr. Shiflett will work to prepare and distribute those items to the districts with reasonable notice prior to the November 15 JOC meeting.

Dr. Grimm also indicated that three new staff positions will be included in the 2018-19 preliminary budget: an English teacher, an electives teacher, and a social worker (replacing CAIU contracted services). The superintendents have indicated their support for the additional positions, which are driven by increased enrollment. Those additional positions will require a dual-classroom modular building on the school site. The administration will be recommending the purchase of the modular building through capital reserve funds and anticipate a cost similar to the one purchased, installed and renovated during 2013-14 for $143,000.

Mrs. Traynor, Assistant Administrative Director, presented an overview of S.O.A.R. (Students Occupationally and Academically Ready), a PDE-managed state-wide articulation agreement that allows completers of programs of study (POS) incorporating secondary and postsecondary education elements along with coherent and rigorous academic and technical content aligned with PA's academic standards to transfer credits to post-secondary institutions which receive federal Perkins funding. See attached SOAR flyer.

Ms. Zaharick, Business Administrator, reviewed the audited 2016-17 financial statements. The school's auditor will present to the JOC in November.

The JOC conducted second reads and approved new policies Policy 000-Policy/Procedure/Administrative Regulations and Policy 005-Organization.

The JOC approved the appointment of Dwain Messersmith as Assistant Principal at a salary of $73,000 replacing Clint Heath. Mr. Messersmith is currently a Tech Ed teacher at Big Spring HS and resides in Millersburg.

Upcoming events: CTE Xpo for Middle School families, November 8, 5:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. (see attached flyer); DCTS fall play, “Alice in Wonderland,” November 17 – 19 (see attached flyer for show times).

The next JOC meetings will be held Wednesday, November 15, 2017, 7:00 p.m. Meetings are held in the DC Tech cafeteria, and all meeting agenda are posted on BoardDocs (www.boarddocs.com/pa/daup/Board.nsf).
