Hello RAHS Families and Community!

It is the middle of February and despite rainy days and dark afternoons, we can tell spring is not too far away. The 10th grade team is busy orchestrating the cross-curricular King County International Airport (KCIA) project which will challenge our sophomores from April through May. The Junior team has a well-thought out structure for the 14th annual version of the Port of Seattle Environmental Challenge Project (ECP); and juniors will also soon be visiting the University of Washington Engineering department. The annual College Fair is coming up and before we know it, Class of 2023 will be crossing the stage on June 12. And in the meantime, planning is already in the works for 2023-2024!

One of THE most important events this spring, is our Annual PTSA Auction event on Saturday, March 18 at the Museum of Flight. Our fabulous PTSA needs your help! While auction items are key to raising funds, we need folks at the auction to bid on those items. Please spread the word to any benefactors you know that may want to attend. Information can be found at the RAHS PTSA Auction website. All of the proceeds go back to help your student and help make our school special.

We continue to celebrate Black History Month in February. This week, we recognize the contributions of Educator, Kelly Miller. In 1887, Mr. Miller was the first Black graduate student in Mathematics, became a Dean at Howard University, and an active civil rights activist where he continued to push for access to higher education for all Black Americans. We honor his contribution as we also strive to prepare our students of color for their future in the college and career of their choice.

Enjoy the short week and hope to see you at the auction.
