SheTech Explorer Day Registration is now open!
Join us February 28, 2023

Register for SheTech Explorer day now and imagine the possibilities through STEM careers and education pathways for high school girls in 9th-12th grades. Join us from 9am-1pm on Tuesday, February 28, 2023 at the Mountain America Expo Center in Sandy, UT. This FREE, full day of STEM and hands-on workshops in tech is back and we want to hold seats for you so don't wait to register now for the 2022-2023 Explorer Day!

More than 3,000 girls will be in attendance from all over the state of Utah where they will connect directly with female mentors and role models in Utah's tech industry. When you reserve your student seat to attend you'll be matched with hands-on workshops hosted by real tech companies and brands you love. Throughout the day, girls will explore career pathways and programs with universities from across the state of Utah, compete to win prizes in a TechChallenge that helps students apply technology to collaborate and problem solve on real-world issues, and so much more. Lunch will be provided—all free of cost!

This year, we are excited to announce SheTech Explorer Day is proud to be a program supported by the Utah State Board of Education Career & Technical Education and their CS Specialist, Kristina Yamada.

Don't wait! Educators should reserve buses through the school early to help students get to Explorer Day. SheTech connects girls with unique, insider's access where students can imagine the possibilities, see and speak to real women in the STEM careers that interest them, and learn more about these jobs and the pathways to get them there. Register today and don't miss out!
