Note: The date the form is signed is not the date it becomes effective. A Beneficiary Designation form does not become effective until received and approved by the Department of Employee Trust Funds. The person filing the designation must still be alive when ETF receives the form. An acknowledgment will be sent when this designation has been reviewed and accepted. Invalid designations will be rejected.

Beneficiary Designation Instructions

Personally identifiable information such as your Social Security number, birth date, etc., will not be used for any purpose other than for the administration of the benefit programs administered by ETF.

Who Completes a Beneficiary Designation

Search "beneficiary" at etf.wi.gov for help on completing a beneficiary designation form.

If you are the owner of a Wisconsin Retirement System account from which a death benefit or life insurance benefit would be payable upon your death, you may file a Beneficiary Designation. Most WRS participants, some alternate payees (former spouses/domestic partners) of participants and some beneficiaries of deceased participants are eligible to file. If no Beneficiary Designation is on file with ETF, WRS benefits, death benefits, and life insurance benefits will be paid according to the statutory standard sequence in effect on the date of death as explained in the "Naming Standard Sequence" section.

Special Note to Annuitants: If you selected a WRS joint and survivor annuity when you retired, you can never change the named survivor that you named on your WRS annuity application. Filing a Beneficiary Designation form does not change your named survivor.

Completing a Beneficiary Designation

Clarity. Our objective is to ensure prompt payment of any death benefits available upon your death, as specified by you on the Beneficiary Designation form. Clarity is necessary when you complete a Beneficiary Designation form, in order to avoid any questions as to your intent. ETF staff will review your designation and may reject it if it is unclear or confusing.

Note: Nicknames, overwriting, erasures, "white-out," crossed-out words, numerals denoting order of beneficiaries, special instructions and notations, references to future events, or use of the word "or" in naming beneficiaries will result in our rejecting your designation. Designations by letter, previously submitted designations that have been altered, designations with extra non-form pages attached will also be rejected.

Simplicity is important. Because your designation may remain in effect for many years and applies to all benefit plans and accounts to which you may become entitled, we recommend against filing lengthy or complex designations. If you wish to name a large number of beneficiaries, anticipate frequent changes in your beneficiaries, prefer to make special arrangements for each benefit plan or account, or want to impose special conditions on some benefits, you should consider naming your estate or a trust. Your death benefits administered by ETF would then be distributed according to your will or trust document. Payment is issued to the trust or estate, not to the trustee or estate representative.

Top of form. Your name, address, Social Security number, birth date and telephone number should be typed or printed in ink (not pencil) at the top of the Beneficiary Designation. This information is required.

Sign and date. After designating a beneficiary or beneficiaries, sign and date the designation at the bottom of the page. Unsigned and/or undated forms will be rejected. Forms dated with a future rather than a current date will be rejected.

Guardian/Conservators. A legal guardian or conservator of the estate who has appropriate legal authority may file a Beneficiary Designation form on behalf of a participant. The guardian or conservator must also submit a photo-copy or facsimile of the court order of guardianship or conservatorship.

Power of Attorney for Finances. A Power of Attorney for Finances who has the appropriate legal authority may file a Beneficiary Designation form on behalf of a participant. To file a Beneficiary Designation form, the Power of Attorney for Finances must have the specific authority to create or change a beneficiary designation as provided in s. 244.41(1) Wis. Stats. The Power of Attorney or participant must submit a photocopy or facsimile of the signed and executed Power of Attorney document.

Submit the form to ETF at the address listed at the top of the form. Make a photocopy of the completed form and keep for your records. An acknowledgment notice will be sent to you.

Effective for all benefit plans and accounts. Unless otherwise specified on the Beneficiary Designation form (in the box below the secondary section, above the signature line), a Beneficiary Designation form filed with ETF will apply to the benefits payable upon your death from all benefit plans and accounts administered by ETF. You may designate beneficiaries for separate benefit plans and WRS accounts. Separate benefit plans are life insurance and WRS benefits. This does not include benefits from the Deferred Compensation Program. The separate WRS accounts you may hold are your own account and/or those you may own as a beneficiary or an alternate payee.

If you wish to designate different beneficiaries for separate benefit plans or accounts, please use the space on this form directly above the signature block. If you file a Beneficiary Designation form for a specific benefit plan or account, and subsequently file a form which does not specify a benefit plan or account, the new designation will supersede all previously filed designations.

Please contact the administrator of the Deferred Compensation Program for details regarding naming or changing beneficiaries for your Deferred Compensation Program account.

Other Life Insurance. The designation of a beneficiary filed with ETF does not apply to any life insurance program not administered by ETF.

When effective or invalid. Once a properly completed Beneficiary Designation is received and approved by ETF, it remains in effect until you file a new designation or until there are no further benefits payable. If you subsequently reestablish eligibility for benefits after closing an account, the previously filed Beneficiary Designation is invalid.

EXCEPTION: This designation will be set aside, and standard sequence will govern payment of your retirement account death benefits, if ETF makes a mandatory distribution of your retirement account to you. Designations continue to be applicable to any life insurance or beneficiary account that may be payable.

NOTE: A divorce, annulment, or similar event will not invalidate a Beneficiary Designation that named your former spouse. To remove a former spouse as a beneficiary, you must file a new designation.

Payment progression. Your death benefits will be paid first to your primary beneficiaries. If some of your primary beneficiaries die before you, your death benefit will be divided among those primary beneficiaries who are still living. Secondary beneficiaries will receive benefits only if no primary beneficiary survives you.

If you wish to specify who shall receive a primary beneficiary's share if a primary beneficiary is deceased, you must use an Alternate Beneficiary Designation (ET-2321) form. You can request this form from ETF.

Equal shares unless otherwise specified. If you name two or more persons as beneficiaries at one level (primary or secondary), payment will be made in equal shares to the beneficiaries at that level unless you specify a percentage for different beneficiaries.

If you specify percentages to be paid to beneficiaries at one level, the percentages at each level must total 100%.

Options Available for Designating a Beneficiary

Naming specific beneficiaries (Primary, Secondary). The Beneficiary Designation form provides space to name primary and secondary beneficiaries. If more space is needed, complete and submit a second form page and clearly mark them as page 1 of 2, etc., signing and dating each page. Do not attach extra non-form pages or list beneficiaries on the back.

If you list primary or secondary beneficiaries, be sure to include the full name, relationship, birth date, Social Security number and address of each additional beneficiary. This will speed payment of the death benefits to your beneficiary(ies).

Naming standard sequence. Currently, under standard sequence established in Wis. Stat. § 40.02 (8) (a), any benefit payable is paid to the person or persons in the lowest numbered group below. No payment will be made to a person included in any group if there is a living person or persons in any of the preceding groups. Payment to two or more persons included in any group will be made in equal shares.

The standard sequence described below is subject to change, based on changes in state statutes. If benefits are paid according to standard sequence, the statutory standard sequence in effect at the time of your death will determine your beneficiary(ies).

The present statutory standard sequence is as follows:

- Group 1. Surviving spouse or domestic partner.
- Group 2. Children (natural or legally adopted). If one of your children dies before you, that child's share is divided between your deceased child's children.
- Group 3. Parent(s)
- Group 4. Brother(s) and Sister(s). If one of your siblings dies before you, that sibling's share is divided between your deceased sibling's children.

If there are no survivors in Groups 1 through 4, any death benefits will be paid to your estate.

If you want to name standard sequence as beneficiary, simply enter the words "standard sequence." Do not include any specific names.

Naming your estate. To name your estate as your beneficiary, enter the word "Estate" on the beneficiary designation form. Do not include the name of your personal representative or executor.

If you designate your estate, your death benefits will be distributed according to your Last Will and Testament or according to Wisconsin's intestacy laws if you do not leave a will. The death benefits will be paid directly to your estate in a lump sum. It will be the responsibility of your personal representative or executor to distribute the funds according to your will, or if you do not leave a will, according to the intestacy laws.

Naming a Trust as Beneficiary. You can name a living trust or a testamentary trust as your beneficiary. Death benefits will be issued payable to the trust, not to the trustee. We recommend that you consult with your attorney and/or financial advisor to ensure that you fully understand the implications of setting up a trust, including the tax consequences. See efw.wi.gov for more information on naming your trust as a beneficiary.

Living trust. If you designate a living trust as your beneficiary, your beneficiary designation must include all of the following information:

1. The name of the trust (this must be listed first) – if naming a trust or subtrust please visit efw.wi.gov for information;
2. The date the trust was created;
3. The name of the trustee, followed by the word "trustee", or if you cannot provide a trustee, ETF may accept another contact person;
4. The trustee's address;
5. If you are currently the trustee of your living trust, you must provide both the name and address of your successor trustee for us to contact after your death.
6. (optional) The taxpayer identification number of the trust if one has been assigned.

Example:

The John and Jane Doe Living Trust, created April 1, 2008	ID #xxx-xx-xxxx
Jane Smith, Trustee
123 Main St., Anytown, WI 54321

Testamentary trust. A testamentary trust is created by your last will and testament, and does not come into existence until after your death. Usually a will must be probated before the death benefits can be paid to the testamentary trust. If you designate a testamentary trust as your beneficiary, if possible, your beneficiary designation should include the following information:

1. The name of the trust (this must be listed first) – if the trust under the will doesn't yet have a name, please provide enough information so that we can identify the trust at a future date by using the phrase: "trust for the benefit of [insert name of beneficiary[s]] or trust under article 'x' of my will created under my last will and testament";
2. The words "created under my last will and Testament" (do not include a date created);
3. The name of the trustee, followed by the word "trustee." If you cannot provide a trustee, ETF may accept another contact person;
4. The trustee's address.

Example:

The John and Jane Doe Trust, created under my last Will and Testament
Jane Smith, Trustee
123 Main St., Anytown, WI 54321

Future children. Children not yet born (or adopted) may be included on a Beneficiary Designation form only by use of the following statement: "I also include as beneficiaries as if each were specifically and individually named herein, any and all of my natural and legally adopted children." This will include all marital and non-marital children (as long as any relevant paternity is established), whether the child's date of birth is before or after your date of death. You may substitute "grandchildren" for "children" in the above example.

Naming a Charity, Religious Organization, or Other Non-Profit Organization as Beneficiary

Please list the full legal name, tax identification number, and current address of the charity so that ETF can best carry out your wishes.

Federal Distribution Requirements. Federal tax law requires retirement benefits to be distributed (paid) to a participant or beneficiary by certain deadlines. After your death, if we cannot locate your beneficiaries within the legal deadlines, the benefit will be forfeited. Therefore, it is very important for you to keep address information for your beneficiaries up to date.
