GRADING SMARTER, NOT HARDER

A 3-part virtual series
with author and educator,
MYRON DUECK

During his 23 years of teaching and administration, MYRON DUECK has developed grading, assessment and reporting systems that provide students greater opportunity to show what they understand, adapt to feedback, and play a significant role in the reporting of their learning.

In this three-part series, Myron Dueck will lead a cohort of Santa Barbara County educators to explore the why, the how, and the what of unit planning and assessment. Participants will learn how to break down and strategically address the standards. You will develop, share, and receive feedback on collaboratively developed unit plans. Myron will share his stories, tools, and first-hand experiences to support participants with making assessment decisions that motivate students and help them learn.
