LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Hyde School Community,

As I reflect upon this past school year, I am deeply grateful that we built an even stronger Hyde with a renewed spirit of community and a collective purpose. The Class of 2022 set the tone early with their working agreements around topics of integrity, honor, sportsmanship, technology, concern for each other's differences and academic rigor. They developed their legacy through:

- Setting an example for others to follow
- Positivity
- Unity
- Respect for self and for each other
- Honest communication
- Commitment to be Each Other's Keeper

In September 2021, alumni, friends and family celebrated the life of Robbie Schuller '78, who embodied the essence of connectivity, as we gathered at Schuller Circle, the beautiful fire pit and stone circle created in his honor.

In early June, we welcomed the Class of '72 for its 50th Reunion with story-telling lasting well into the night, lots of laughter and some tears. Some classmates and former faculty hadn't crossed paths for decades!

Hyde stands proudly as the most diverse independent school in Maine. This diversity of geography, talent, socioeconomic background, ethnicity, racial identity, and gender is one of the school's greatest assets. Last year's student body was comprised of students from nineteen U.S. states and fourteen countries.

Hyde continues to support outstanding students from Maine through the Maine State Leadership Initiative that identifies students of promise and character, who bring their leadership skills and love of Maine to campus.

Together, our student body established a legacy of being there for each other and finding character in challenging times. Every student and teacher participates in our co-curricular activities: College Preparatory Academics, Three-Season Competitive Athletics, Public Speaking, Performing Arts, Community Service, Discovery Groups, and the Character and Family Programs. Through striving for one's best, we are forming a true sense of grit and confidence. Our students' growth is made possible with your generous support and the many ways you inspire us to stay Hyde Strong.

On behalf of our dedicated team, I wish to express our heartfelt gratitude to our Alumni, HAPA, Parents, Grandparents, Faculty, Staff and Friends.

Your generosity and dedication allow us to build on our foundation of character development, and move boldly ahead. I also want to recognize our Board of Governors, devoted souls of Hyde who inspire me with their steadfast leadership and unparalleled commitment. Thank you all for being an important part of this small school with a big vision.

I hope to see you on our beautiful campus June 9-11th when Hyde family members from all eras and campuses will be reuniting. It is time to come together and celebrate our 57th year at We Are Hyde 2023.

With deep respect and gratitude,

Laura D. Gauld '76

We would like to extend our deepest gratitude to these true souls of Hyde for their devotion, wisdom and generosity through the many years.

We stand strong today because of the immeasurable ways they have enriched our community.

Beloved Alumnus Robbie Schuller '78 is Honored — Schuller Circle Dedication

On September 18, 2021 the Schuller family and a group of alumni gathered on campus to celebrate the legacy of Robbie Schuller '78 and to unveil Schuller Circle, a brick and granite fire pit surrounded by a circle of seats in The Sunken Garden.

Robbie came to Hyde School in the summer of 1973 and began a lifelong connection with the school and his classmates. Along with his many professional accomplishments, he worked at the Hyde Bath and Hyde Woodstock campuses. Robbie had a gift for connecting people through humor and believing in the best of people. As his classmate, Thomas Baez '78, said during his remarks, "Robbie and I came from different backgrounds and looked different, yet, through the Hyde experience, we became brothers. His heartbeat was my heartbeat."

During the dedication, alums and family members spoke about Robbie's legacy. His daughters, Blake and Olivia, lit the flame of the fire pit, and alumni and student singers sang songs from Robbie's time at Hyde. It was a powerful reminder that in life we forge bonds when we set high expectations and go after our best with others by our side. A few days later, the Class of 2022 lit the fire and shared their goals—a new group of students setting a vision and creating bonds that will become lifelong. Engraved on the plaque are these words:

*Robert (Robbie) Eliot Schuller '78 embodied the true core of Hyde - character, compassion, and laughter.
He was our friend and had a special gift for connecting people and building community. This circle honors that spirit in him and in all of us.*

The School is eternally grateful to the Rob Schuller Memorial Fund Committee: Thomas Baez, Scott Bertschy, Jeff Black, Stuart Jones, and to all of you who had a part in honoring Robbie's legacy through your generosity. Thank you all. This special gathering place will inspire students for generations to come.

Para Cyclist Clara Brown of Maine A Profile in Courage

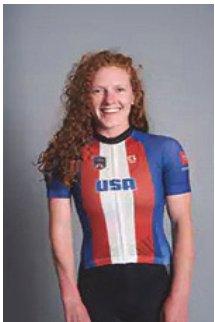

Crystal Peltzer, Director of Academics

Our Women in Leadership class had the pleasure of welcoming Team USA Para Cyclist Clara Brown to speak to the whole community in a school meeting. Native Mainer, Clara competed in the 2020 Tokyo Olympics and is a gold medal World Champion, won in 2022. The students were immediately enthralled with her story, which embodies humility, perseverance, and the perfect example of taking your job seriously, not yourself! Brown was an avid athlete as a competitive gymnast, runner, and skier until she sustained an incomplete spinal cord injury at the age of 12.

After years of rehabilitation and some setbacks, she rejoined the world of competition as a coxswain for Falmouth High School's rowing team. Clara suffers from partial paralysis and weakness on the right side of her body and in her first year of college purchased her first modified road bike, and the rest is championship history.

Through a powerful presentation of her film, Ability, Clara shared her struggles and how she overcame obstacles larger than most can imagine, as well as her down to earth and silly side. Led by a student panel, the community asked questions, soaked up her answers, and was forced to recognize that we all can do hard things, it just takes effort. In Clara's case, with sweet rewards as basic as gummy bears for a good work out, to dominating world championships in her sport.

We were all inspired by Clara's journey. Watching the faces in the room and listening to the hushed silence it was clear that each person took a piece of her story to heart as we look at our own strengths, challenges, and vision for the future.

"I am happy to talk about the accident I suffered at twelve, but really want to focus on the themes that have worked in my life."

After being told she would never walk again, Clara set out on a path to push herself and opened up herself to a new path to reach her unique potential.

Hyde Discovery Process

Malcolm Gauld '72, Zach Birnbaum '11

After three years of developing the program, the Hyde Institute is excited to report that the Discovery Process will officially launch at the beginning of the 2022-23 school year.

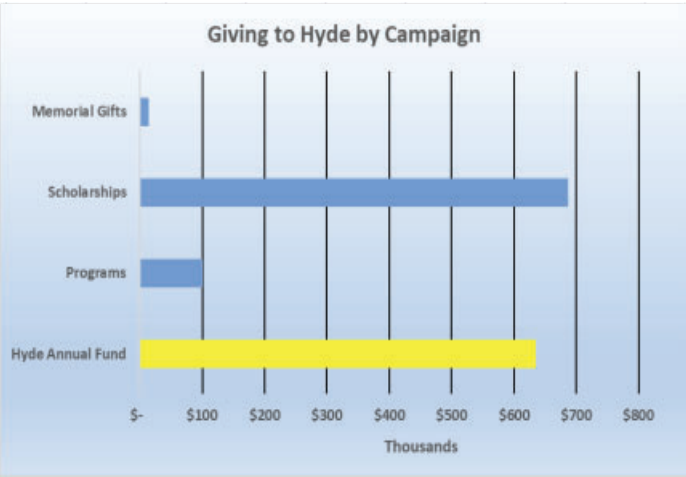

The inaugural cohort of a dozen schools is spread across six states and include a mix of public and private schools in rural, suburban, and urban settings. At the click of a button, participating teachers will have access to over ten hours of on-line training and 134 lessons organized in 25 modules. This learning content includes all of Hyde's Five Words and Principles along with such familiar concepts as The Action-Reflection Cycle, Rigor-Synergy-Conscience, and The Biggest Job. Alums will be interested to know that the lesson titles will sound familiar: "Leave It Better Than You Found It", "Introductions", "The Lighthouse Story" and "The 7-11 Dilemma."

Malcolm Gauld '72, Executive Director of the Hyde Institute, has completed a book on the program titled Culture by Design - The Discovery Process as a New Way for Schools.

Many thanks to so many of you who have supported this new initiative, one that will make a difference in the lives of countless students and teachers.

We give special thanks to Betsy Jones, HAPA and Hyde grandmother, for the stone bench near the Family Renewal Center where so much Hyde magic happens.

Gift in Kind
 Betsy and Joe* Jones

Our family involvement at Hyde began in 1973 with the enrollment of Jay Jones, followed by his sisters, Laura Denton Gauld, Claire Denton Grant, Deborah Jones Latimer, and Elisabeth Denton Crittenden.

*The Hyde principles reflected those of our family and we benefited from the years as parents and then HAPA. Positive attitude, strong work ethic and perseverance were core values of our family.
 Therefore the quote on the bench, "no such word as can't", was a Denton/Jones family motto.*

Mary Moore, HAPA A Hyde Steward Retires

When we write about an alumni parent at Hyde School, we list the names and years of their children's graduation; for Mary, that would take a whole line. Starting with Patrick ('03), Mary's enthusiasm for, and dedication to the Hyde process grew exponentially, and I think she knew then that her destiny was to someday work at the school.

Mary's journey of helping other families started, however, long before she and her family moved to Maine. In 2009 she started a group called Mothers of Youth; then she founded Building Strong Catholic Families. This effort took many months of connecting with the Archdiocese of Virginia but finally Mary convinced them that Hyde's parenting workshops would even help Catholic families! She received training and then trained others to help her present The Biggest Job workshop and small group seminars for several years in Catholic schools in her area.

As head of Family Education at Hyde, Mary affected and influenced hundreds of families with stories from her own challenges as a mother, and words of encouragement and comfort.

Of all the words used to describe Mary, attitude is the one that stands out: attitude – in a good way. Mary never stood back waiting to be asked; she always said, "how can I help?," whether it was collating papers before a family weekend, or standing in front of the community telling her story, or housing HAPA parents in Harpswell, she wanted to be involved; she was all in.

Mary was a maternal sage to students who always offered guidance and warmth.

But the attitude she brought to performing arts is the one that will always stand out for me: bold, audacious, undaunted and daring are words I would choose to describe Mary in front of a crowd at parents' weekend. She modeled the courage she so wanted for the parents she taught.

Mary's spirit is now a part of the magic in the walls at Hyde; and her grandchildren will undoubtedly be infused with that spirit as well.

God bless you, Mary, and thank you.

Sumner Hawley Society

The Sumner Hawley Society recognizes those forward thinkers who have planned for Hyde's future with gifts in their wills, charitable trusts, real estate and retirement plan assets. These gifts are an expression of confidence in Hyde's mission and its leadership. We are delighted to honor those who have made Hyde a priority in their estate planning. The Society honors the memory of Sumner Hawley who helped conceive the idea for the creation of Hyde School. During his tenure at Hyde, Sumner served as assistant headmaster, English teacher, and fine arts program coordinator. He was an educator who possessed an innate understanding of young people, motivated students and colleagues to realize their hidden potential, and was a nurturer of student talent. Sumner retired in 1978, after which he served on Hyde's Board of Governors. Sumner Hawley died in September 1993, leaving an everlasting imprint.

We are extremely fortunate to have a gorgeous, well-equipped property for our continued growth as a community. We are so grateful for the continued support from so many supporters to keep our outdoor program and students thriving.

Megan-Mack Nicholson, Program Director

I wish to express deep appreciation for the opportunity to be involved with all the growth and inspiration that transpires at Lennox Outdoor Leadership Center (LOLC). From new students to alumni, and parents to faculty, LOLC has a learning opportunity for everyone. New students discover the beauties of Maine, bond with other students, and challenge their comfort zones. Seasoned students use the space for leadership opportunities, times of reset and tech-free retreats, and Hyde families experience the endless beauty of the property.

The Wilderness FLCs have proven to be some of the most moving programs I have had the privilege of being a part of. When it comes to the unique joys of my job, the full commitment of the entire family to the Hyde process has always been a highlight. Parents who have participated in the Wilderness FLC have been left speechless with how amazed they are at the beauty of the property and the ability to connect with their children in such an intentional space. They are impressed not only with the property and programming, but the facility as well. None of this would have been possible without you.

Lennox Outdoor Leadership Center and the lodge have been a home, classroom, safe haven and sacred space for so many. Students have talked about how they can better “hear” themselves while there. They have also commented on how much easier it is to reflect on their actions and future dreams when they have the peace and quiet to do so. It has been such an honor to watch students and parents grow and blossom while experiencing our north campus.

Thank you for creating these extraordinary Hyde moments!

Ways To Give

Every. Gift. Matters.

The Hyde Strong Annual Fund provides immediate budget relief and supports the areas of greatest need from athletics, to student activities, community service projects, faculty and staff salaries, materials and supplies, and more. The Hyde experience is fully supported by the Hyde Strong Annual Fund. Your gift:

- Provides financial aid to support the economic backgrounds of a diverse student body to afford them with the opportunity to experience a Hyde education.
- Supports Hyde's character building and family education programs, providing unique opportunities for personal growth and transformation.
- Ensures that our athletes and performing and visual art students have the supplies, equipment, and materials needed while playing, performing, and creating.
- Maintains and improves campus facilities so that our students and employees are provided with a quality environment in which to live, learn, and play.

CASH, CHECKS AND CREDIT CARD GIFTS

Hyde School accepts gifts made as cash, through a valid checking account or by means of a credit or debit card.

MATCHING CORPORATE GIFTS

Hyde greatly appreciates gifts that are matched by donors' employers. The matching gift will be consistent with the purpose of the Hyde donor's gift (usually the Hyde Strong Annual Fund), and it will be credited to the employer's corporate entity with a soft credit to the generating Hyde donor.

GIFTS IN KIND

Gifts of tangible personal property (such as artwork, collections, decorative items, automobiles, boats, etc.) or other gifts in kind may be accepted by Hyde School provided that they meet approved needs of the School, and do not place an undue burden on the School in terms of their use or maintenance.

Hyde strongly suggests donors consult with their tax advisors whenever considering a gift in kind. Hyde reserves the right to dispose of any tangible personal property that has been donated, unless otherwise documented.

STOCKS OR SECURITIES

Gifts of appreciated property in the form of publicly traded stock are accepted by Hyde through one of the School's brokerage accounts. Donors are urged to contact the School ahead of the electronic transfer to assure proper application and recording of their gift. Securities transferred by other means, either through the mail or hand delivered, will be treated as transferred on the date the School takes possession of the securities.

PLANNED GIFTS

Make a legacy gift commitment. Join the Sumner Hawley Society by declaring your intention to make a planned gift. We offer a variety of options and the opportunity to leave a lasting gift to support the sustainability of a Hyde School education for generations to come.
