Town of Killingly / BOE Capital Improvement Plan by Building 2023-2024 through 2027-2028

Overview:

The following pages prioritize the building and district level projects by distributing the project over a five-year span. Additionally, the BOE Facilities Sub-Committee, in partnership with the Superintendent and the Operations and Maintenance Supervisor, provided recommendations identifying anticipated completion dates for each project. The following assumptions were made in providing the estimated cost for each project:

- Potential State reimbursement is not reflected for any of the costs listed.
- · Financing costs for bonded projects are not included in any of the costs.
- All anticipated costs are in today's dollars.
- All anticipated projects will be evaluated annually and revisions will be made in order to accommodate changes in facility conditions, changes in existing programs, the addition of new programs, enrollment changes and new regulatory/code requirements of overall district needs.

The following considerations were taken into account when identifying each project:

- What building projects are required by code or for significant safety/health reasons?
- How will the project significantly improve the delivery of education or school programs?
- How will the project increase operational efficiencies?
- What projects are essential replacements/upgrades of building systems or sites?

^Renovation of Community Center

It is unknown at this time how much of projects 1 and 3 will be included under the scope of renovations for the Community Center.

1. Electrical Upgrades/Hallways

New electrical panels from the main switch room to hallways are needed to distribute power evenly. Currently, power is being rerouted from various floor levels, which is not in line with best practice.

2. Travel Lane

Replace travel lane between Westfield Avenue and Killingly Memorial School to accommodate daily vehicular traffic.

3. HVAC Renovation

Air is constantly being exhausted from the old high school. This building depends totally on the air drawn in through the doors and windows for its make-up air. Indoor air quality and efficiencies would be greatly improved with the installation of pre-heated roof top air handlers.

1. Replace Greenhouse Roof

The greenhouse roof has developed several leaks which can no longer be repaired.

2. Exterior Building for Maintenance Dept.

Needed to consolidate storage needs and have a place to work on equipment. Protect equipment from the weather. Price is an estimate and includes concrete pad, doors for an 80x100 storage building.

3. Additional Parking Adjacent to Athletic Fields

This project will create an access road to the lower playing fields, create an additional 100+ parking spaces, and provide handicap access to the lower fields (Parking project - $346K). The additional parking will support various events held at the school.

4/5 Renovate Lower Sports Fields (Phases I & II)

The grass on the lower sports fields is in very poor condition. Sports teams feel that they cannot play competitively on these surfaces. This would require at least 3 inches of topsoil spread on the field surface, all irrigation fixtures raised to the new height, and reseeding. After that has been completed the field should not be used for 18 months in order for the new grass to get established.

^{*}Estimates with an asterisk are not reflective of a quote.

1. Install New Doors, Update Entryway, and Redesign Office

Replace all exterior doors and frames. Redesign from entryway and office space to improve security efforts. Concept plans have been developed by Silver/Petrucelli & Associates. It is estimated to cost $550K to replace the doors and frames at each entryway. The cost to renovate the main office and install a secure entryway is about $750K.

2. HVAC Renovation

The installation of a new condensing boiler, (3) new hot water pumps, (12) new VFD's for main hot water pumps and booster pumps, replacing unit ventilators as needed and upgrading the existing automation system with a new digital open protocol BACnet controllers with a front end and adding unit ventilators on to the system for whole building controllability. The project would include air conditioning for classrooms.

3. Redesign & Repave Driveway & Parking lot

The parking lot needs to be resurfaced. The base under the asphalt was improperly installed and does not support heavy weight and volume of daily traffic. The asphalt sidewalks are deteriorating due to the inadequate subsurface and should be replaced with concrete. The sidewalk along the entrance to the school was built below grade of the driveway and should be raised and proper drainage installed. Design and create a new bus exit.

4. Full Roof Replacement/Insulate Roof

Many sections of the KIS building have no insulation resulting in significant inefficiencies and loss of energy. The condition of the roof is deteriorating due to age and environmental exposure. Shingles are becoming dislodged. Sections of the roof leak. Roof insulation is failing.

| Short Descripti | | School Psychologist part of the compreh determine eligibility | ensive evalu | • |
| Function/Object Number: | | 21400/5323 (Psycho | logical servic | es/PPS) |

Detailed Request Description

KPS currently has only one school psychologist to conduct cognitive evaluations to determine eligibility for special education services. The role of a school psychologist should include assessment, data collection and analysis, progress monitoring, enhancing school-wide practices to promote learning, designing academic, behavioral and mental health interventions, consultation and collaboration, and providing prevention and intervention services, but with only one psychologist, the time is spent exclusively on testing those students in middle school, high school, and those who are outplaced by KPS. This leaves no time for conducting evaluations for our students in elementary schools.

Problem Definition and Goal

The recommended ratio of school psychologist to students is 1:500. The ratio in Killingly is 1:2490. Cognitive evaluations are a vital component of a comprehensive evaluation for special education services. The elementary schools do not have access to a school psychologist to complete these evaluations within the district. In the past, the district relied on a faculty member (certified school counselor) to complete these evaluations, but that faculty member was not certified in school psychology, which made us out of compliance with special education law. This practice also pulled the faculty member away from working in her certification area, leaving a hole in another area of pupil services. Additionally, the volume of testing leaves no time for the psychologist to do anything other than testing. The psychologist's time is dedicated to conducting evaluations for the middle school, high school, and our students who are outplaced. When evaluations are required at the elementary schools, we have had to contract with outside providers at a significant cost to the district. Last year we contracted out for 44 cognitive evaluations. So far this year we have contracted out for 23 evals at an average cost of $2000 per evaluation, with many more to come during the second semester. The high number of initial referrals, coupled with the high number of students already receiving special education services who need to be re-evaluated every three years necessitates an additional psychologist so that we can follow special education law requirements.

Adding a school psychologist for the elementary schools will save money for the district in terms of not having to outsource evaluations, but will also increase the capacity of the school teams to support students with mental health/behavioral/academic needs.

Target Population

The target population is students in the elementary schools referred to special education and/or needing to be re-evaluated as part of the triennial process.

Impact and Benefits

Cognitive evaluations are a vital component of a comprehensive evaluation for special education services. Post-pandemic, we have an increased volume of referrals to special education, which require cognitive evaluations and/or rating scales to be considered comprehensive according to special education law. Additionally, these evaluations provide valuable data to determine when a child does not qualify or should be exited from special education.

Rejected Alternatives

Require the current school psychologist to conduct the evaluations for the elementary school students.

Continue using a non-certified faculty member to complete evaluations Continue outsourcing cognitive evaluations at a cost of $1500-$2000 per evaluation

| Short Description: | | Assistant to the Manager of Busines | s Affairs |
| Function/Object | Number: | 100.160.60.25000.5114 | |

Detailed Request Description

This request seeks to add a full-time, confidential Business Office Assistant in direct assistance to the Manager of Business Affairs with oversight and compliance of the accounting and reporting requirements of the district.

Problem Definition and Goal

The Business Office is currently a staff of three: Manager of Business Affairs, Financial Assistant-Accounts Payable, and Financial Assistant- Payroll. The Financial Assistants perform the day-to-day tasks associated with the mission-critical accounts payable and payroll functions. The positions are within AFSCME Local 1303-149 of Council #4 with approximate annual salaries of $57,000. With additional tasks and compliance requirements, the operations of the Business Office are not sustainable with the current staffing. This situation has developed over the past several years and has reached a critical point. Following are examples of a few functional areas with increased workload.

The sheer volume of additional grant funding has added administrative burdens to the Business Office from translating the approved budgets to the financial system, adding payroll-related accounts to the system, and tracking ongoing revisions made to the grant budgets. The payroll and purchasing expenditures from the grant funding require additional attention, including identifying funding sources, following procurement procedures, processing payments, monitoring the spending, and ensuring compliance with the budgets.

The new eGMS (electronic grant management system) instituted by the State of CT last year has added a substantial amount of processing time and uncertainty to the grant compliance process. Cash requests which used to take an hour can now take up to four hours to complete, due to the additional expenditure information which must first be provided on a quarterly basis. Grant budget approvals and revision approvals now go through a prolonged review and approval process which makes the coordination with our financial system a time-consuming management task.

The additional funding available to the district for significant investments in technology and building-related projects has also called attention to the need for additional help in the procurement process. The district's purchasing policy requires certain levels of legwork be done prior to procurement of goods and services. Projects often involve expertise which is not available within district and for which time-consuming research is necessary. Failing to properly prepare for these purchases or projects can result in a less than optimal result. The capacity for this work to be performed with our current resources is limited.

The administrative processing cost of employee turnover in the district over the past several years, underscored by the pandemic, is unseen but real, in terms of time spent. From the handling of paperwork to onboard an employee, to accurately calculating pay and benefit time, to identifying and setting up the funding source for payment, to setting up health and life insurance benefits, to calculating payouts upon departure, to projecting replacement costs, and starting over again with a replacement has involved all Business Office staff. While this used to be primarily a task for the start of the school year, it has become a year-round activity.

The Assistant would fill a critical role in the operational functions of accounts payable and payroll, providing a layer of cross-training which does not currently exist. The uncertainties created by COVID highlighted the vulnerability of our operations. While cross-training staff is a good business practice to ensure stability and provide flexibility, this can only occur with time freed up for existing employees. With both functions working to capacity, this training time does not exist. This remains an area of vulnerability for our operations if either function should be unavailable to work for any reason.

Without this position, it leaves mostly all the accounting functions, all grant accounting maintenance and financial monitoring, oversight of payroll, financial reporting, cash management, budget compilation, expenditure and revenue projection, along with other projects, to the Manager of Business Affairs.

Please see attached for a draft of the Business Office Assistant job description.

Target Population

The Business Office Assistant would service the entire school district by performing a variety of professional accounting functions to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the Business Office in ensuring that each student in the district derives maximum benefit from the expenditure of allocations as set by the Board of Education for the acquisition of services, supplies, materials, and equipment.

Impact and Benefits

The Business Office Assistant would assist in the daily operations of the financial system of the district, providing an additional layer of professional oversight. The benefits include the improvement of timely identification of minor/major errors or issues in accounting and corrections which lead to accurate reporting, and favorable audit reports. Other benefits include timely compliance with policies and requirements, both internal and external, as well as opportunities for efficiencies. The additional help would also reduce the strain on the existing staff leading to greater productivity and job satisfaction.

Rejected Alternatives

Less experienced individual at lower salary: Complexity of the transactions and responsibilities require education and experience which justify salary and investment of training time with the intention to hire a career-minded individual.

Part-time position: Need to be available when work is being performed to be fully immersed in the broad variety of responsibilities. It would pose difficulties for coordination and planning of daily workload.

Employee of the Month Nomination–March 2023

It is my pleasure to nominate Ms. Karissa Smith as Employee of the Month. Karissa is an extraordinary Instructional Assistant at Killingly Intermediate School who currently serves in our Tier 3 Behavioral Program. She is fair but firm, kind, caring, and students both love and respect her. She does everything in her capacity to ensure that the learning environment for our students is both healthy and safe.

Over the past few years, Killingly Intermediate School has focused on building a culture that supports a climate of Restorative Practices and Social Emotional Learning for all. Karissa not only embraces the philosophy that focuses on building positive relationships to build community, but she goes above and beyond to support the emotional needs of her students. She holds firm in her high behavioral and academic expectations for students, but she understands that each child carries a different "story" with them into the building. She works to learn those stories and shows great sensitivity when working with students who are struggling or excelling. She talks privately with students in crisis, bakes cookies with those who have earned a well-deserved award, and works one-on-one with those in need of academic assistance. In short, she is skilled at identifying the needs of students to ensure a productive learning environment that will lead to the greatest success.

I have been most recently impressed with Karissa's willingness to jump into a new assignment this year, which involved working with a student with severe social and behavioral needs. While others shied away from the opportunity, Karissa embraced the challenge with the aplomb of someone twice her age and with decades more experience. As is her way, she remained consistently calm and patient, regardless of how disregulated the student became, and most importantly, she NEVER gave up on the child. Not once.

Karissa's belief that all children can learn and deserve a chance to be seen and heard sets her apart from others. She is known and respected for her ability to turn a negative situation into a positive one, and she is valued as a walking representation of a team player. She jumps into any and all situations where she can be helpful (hallway duty, bus duty, drama practice, etc.), both with and without being asked, and she does so without complaint. It is an absolute pleasure to work with someone who cares so genuinely about our school community and believes so strongly in students' capabilities. We are incredibly fortunate to have her in our KIS family!
