Did You Hear...?

Did You Hear...? The 1991-92 school year is a very commemorative one indeed here at Forest Lake Senior High. We celebrate twenty wonderful yet diversified years since our building was built in 1972. Years which have seen everything from bomb-threats to the new additions on our building in order to occupy our growing student body. Teachers have come and gone throughout the past twenty years, yet many of our present-day teachers have been here since the eight-o'clock bell opened classes for the first time in 1972. Technology has become much more important in our everyday classes and is continually being stressed as we look to the twenty-first century. We also mark our change from Region 4AA to 7AA in both athletics and other extracurricular activities for regional competition. A variety of fashions, fads, and sayings have all passed throughout our school during the past twenty years, and we are continually exposed to new changes every year. Now our school prepares us for the anxieties and stress of the real world. Graduation sets us, along with other Forest Lake alumni, working towards our goals and sharing some of our best memories here at Forest Lake Senior High.

LEFT: This may seem like a normal scene for all of the juniors and seniors, but for the sophomores, it looks a little overwhelming when deciding what to eat and where to sit. BELOW: Assistant Principal, Dr. Cooper, shows intensity while getting those morning announcements done on the first day of school.

ABOVE: Do you know where this is located? If you don't, you probably didn't know that our school building is 20 years old. If you want to check it out, it's on the wall right as you come into the main entrance.

Remember When...?

ABOVE: One might be able to tell that these smiling faces went far. These girls were Region 4AA Softball Champions. During the summer, they went to state and took 4th place. RIGHT: Look at these smiling faces of Jennifer Halder and Dana Wojtowicz. Their Prom night will surely be an event to remember.

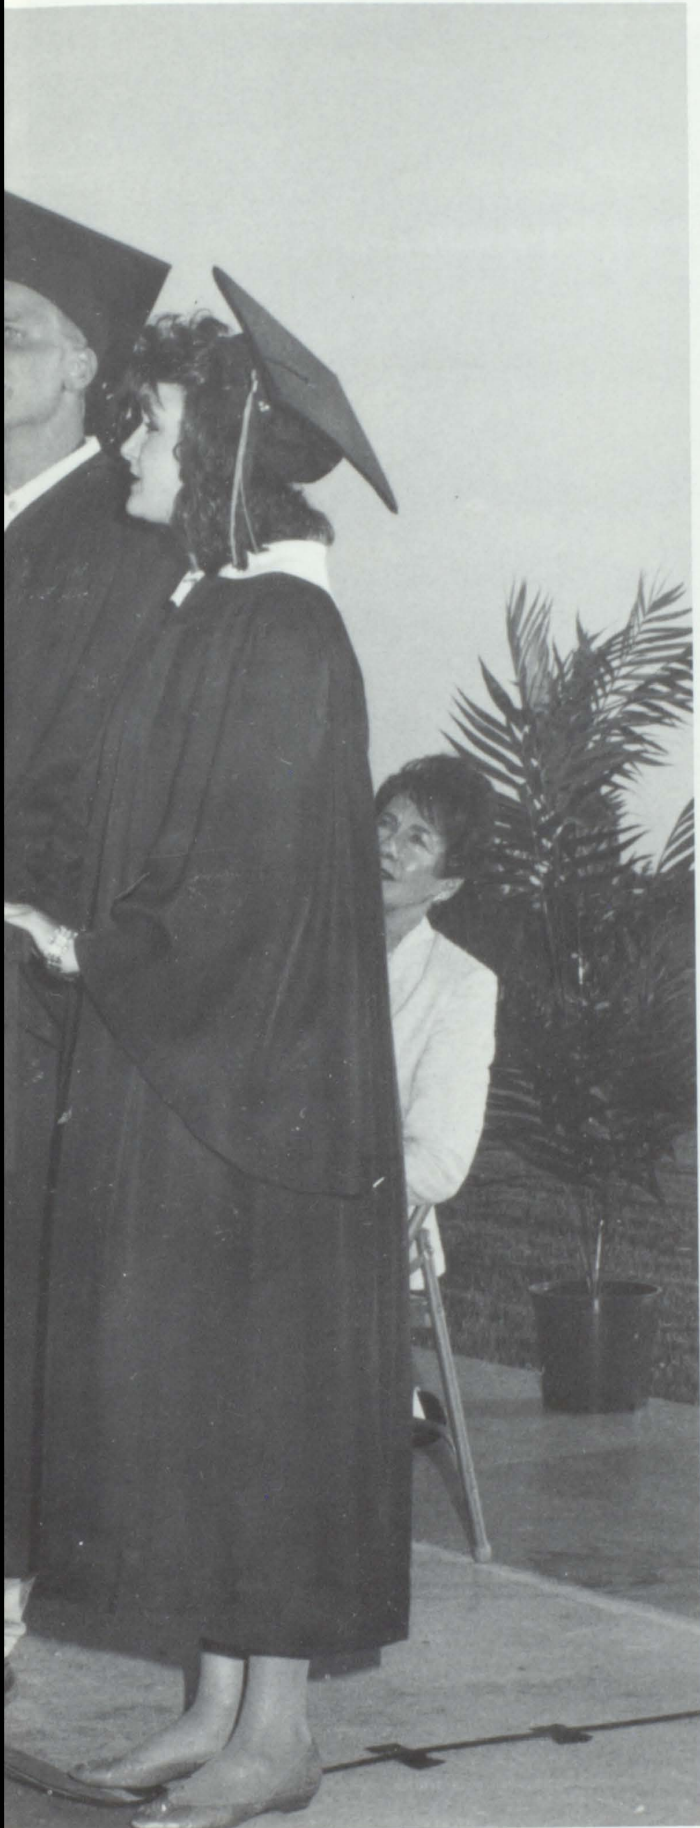

As the end of the 1991 school year draws near, there may be some mixed emotions throughout the student body. For the seniors, it's the end of their high school experiences. Now it is time to face what high school prepared them for, the real world. It is also a time for memories. Memories that will last them a life time. Memories of growing up and getting through the good and bad times together as a graduating class.

Juniors can look forward to being the leaders of the school and enjoying their last year.

For the sophomores, it's the end of getting picked on for being a "softy", and they can look forward to doing the same to the incoming freshmen.

The last school bell rings for three months and summer vacation begins. The summer always seems to effect everyone in a different way. For the seniors, worries about how they are going to pay tuition for college or where they can earn money. The juniors begin to get senioritis, better described as thinking the school revolves around them. As for the sophomores, they get to look forward to one of their best years in high school.

Back into the swing of things!

As we start another exciting school year, we step aside to ask a few students their impression of the first day of school . . .

The first impression on sophomore Angie Lydon was, "I didn't really like it. It was the same as any other first day of school — too many boring lectures!"

Junior Phil Maki commented on how nervous and confused the sophomores were. He also said, "It was great there was no homework. I couldn't wait until the end of the day."

Senior Natalie Belva, an exchange student from Belgium, explained, "No matter what Forest Lake students think about coming back — there's no getting out of it!"

The first day brings all students new experiences, ideas, and basically mass confusion. But somehow we all manage to get through it and have a fun year!

During the winter of 1972, students were transferred from the old high school, which is now Central Jr. High, to our present high school. Here, Annette Lappe and Roxanne Boesel are entering the new school for the first time.

BELOW: Although it's hard to start another agonizing year of tests and studying, seniors Traci Johnston and Marc Merrigan look forward to their last year of High School as they talk with others about their plans for the future.

RIGHT: Getting new locker combinations is a breeze for juniors April Barnier and Jason Bourgoïn.

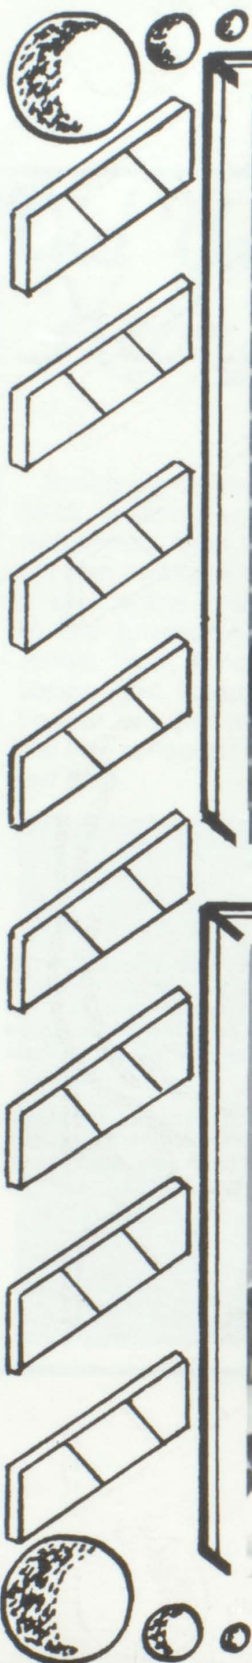

LEFT: These sophomores show just how boring it can be listening to rules and regulations all day, but they still pay attention because they know how important these rules are.

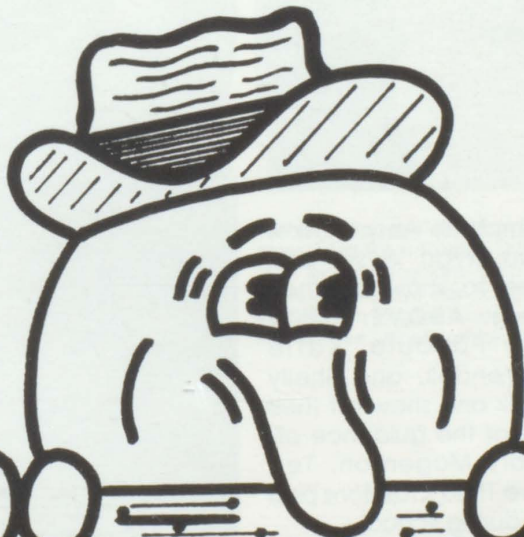

LEFT: Riding the bus is sometimes a little embarrassing, but these girls look as though riding the bus is no problem and that it may even be fun!

TRENDS OF THE PAST AND PRESENT

As you walk into school each day, you see a variety of clothing ranging in colors and designs. If you look back to 1972, some of the fashions back then are popular fashions today. Each fashion has its own personality. Jeans, skirts, and t-shirts, all show your different personalities. Paisley prints, mini skirts, trapeze dresses, and bell bottoms were all popular fashions from the 70's. So let's enjoy it while it lasts.

NIGHT LIFE IN FOREST LAKE!

Forest Lake is hopping. For some students, a night out on the town means going to a movie, and going to Perkins afterwards for some coffee. For other students, they may have after school jobs. Then again, there are always those reliable fast food restaurants. You can always find someone hanging out at Subway or Hardee's. Other students have just as much fun cruising Forest Lake in their cars. Friday nights are a good time for students to show their school spirit at games and matches. For those students who do not like hanging around Forest Lake, they may choose to go to "the Gold Rush" for a night of dancing. These are just a few of the ways Forest Lake students spend their evenings.

ABOVE: After school, seniors Tammy Smollik and Becky Danielski work at Subway to earn some extra cash.

Check out these 1972 skiers. Don't they look like they are having a fun time? Just look at the styles. I bet we all wish we could wear something like that. These students look as if they do not know what to do next or else they are taking a breather. Hey! What happened to the rest of the hill? Where did all the ski jumps go? For whatever level of skiing they were at, it was always a blast to head over to Trollhaugen for a night of skiing.

HOMECOMING '91

Terminate the Tornadoes!

After being nominated for king and queen, homecoming candidates Erin Rick and Joe Schlavin both said they felt honored. While they were on stage waiting for the crowns to be placed, Erin was looking to her right to see who received it, when she felt it being placed on her head. She was really surprised! While Joe was waiting, he was thinking about his speech next year and what he would say if he were to be king.

Well now that they have been crowned, the students congratulate them and we know that they will represent our school spirit over homecoming and throughout the rest of the year.

1992 ROSE BOWL PARADE BOUND!

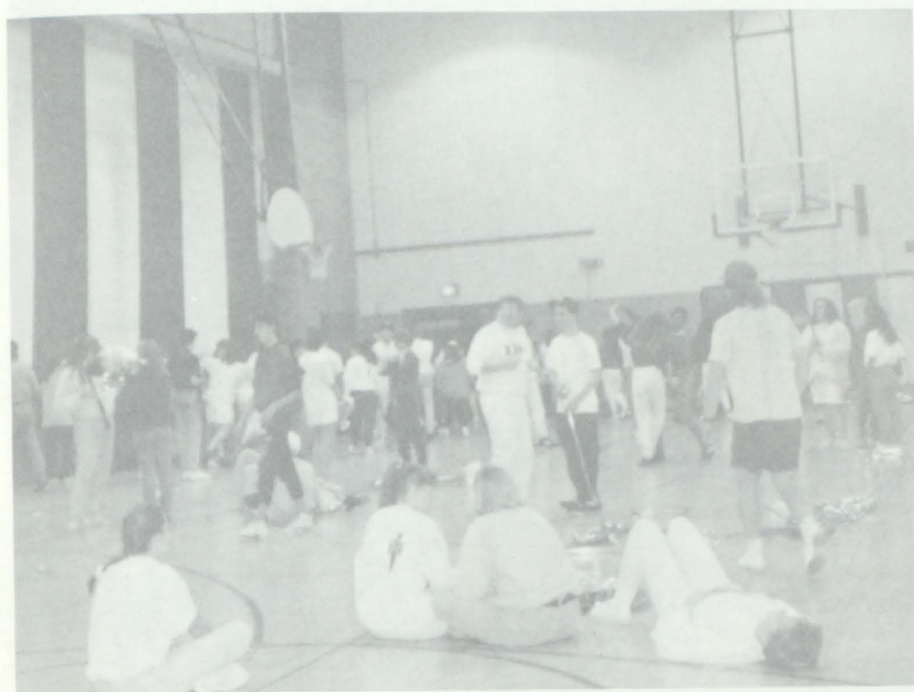

The Forest Lake High School Band traveled to Pasadena, CA for the 1992 Rose Bowl Parade. Many fund raisers were organized to help pay for the trip. A raffle was held for one lucky winner of an all-expense paid trip to the Rose Bowl game. Many hours were spent organizing garage sales, craft shows, and car washes. Band members also worked at Twins and Gopher games at the dome selling concessions. The cost of the trip was $350.00 for each band member, and every member definitely worked hard toward this unique trip.

ABOVE: Captain Mitty (Paul Read) gave commands to his crew (Dave Clifford and Dana Redfield) in the 1971 production of "Thurber Carnival".

The 1971 fall musical was called "Thurber Carnival." Is it a coincidence that this year's musical was also about a carnival? While sharing similar names, the two are very different.

"Thurber Carnival" brought the audience from a small town to an island of intrigue. The directors said that this was one of the most talented casts ever to perform in a school play at Forest Lake.

THE DRAMA DEPT. OF FOREST LAKE HIGH SCHOOL PROUDLY PRESENTS

Carnival is the story of a young girl, Lili, who goes to B.F. Schlegel's Grand Imperial Cirque de Paris looking for a job. She discovers that the world isn't always nice, as she is seduced by the magician Marco the Magnificent. She finds that someone does care for her, though, in the puppeteer Paul Bertholet, who talks to her through his puppet, Carrot Top. Eventually, Paul is able to come out from behind the puppet booth to reveal his true feelings for Lili.

Director Susan Novak has been involved in theater productions for fourteen years. Nine of these years have been at Forest Lake High School.

Mrs. Novak said that she picked "Carnival" for sentimental reasons. "Carnival" was the first play she was in after high school, in which she played the lead role of Lili. She also enjoys the show because it is a relaxed musical set in a European Carnival. The cast, which consisted of 47 people, was larger than the 35 she had planned on, but she wanted to give everyone a chance.

RIGHT: Marco the Magnificent (Christopher Averbeck) and Rosalie (Erin Johnson) sparkle together in their snazzy outfits.

Raising Technology to a Higher Power!

RIGHT: A new discovery?!?! Most likely not, but sophomores Ben Westmoreland and Phil Carpenter examine the fizzing solution they created during chemistry.

BELOW: Microscopes serve as important devices to get an "in-depth" view of the smallest of cells and organisms, just as junior Fellsia Schowalter is discovering in her biology class.

Remember your first experiences with technology and science? You built, designed, and created as a youngster playing with Legos and Playskool Chemistry Kits. Well, your future is right around the corner, and the science courses offered here at Forest Lake can help students prepare for just about any field of science or engineering.

From Minnesota Wildlife to Advanced Placement Chemistry, the science courses offered give students hands-on experience and the chance to solve real-world problems.

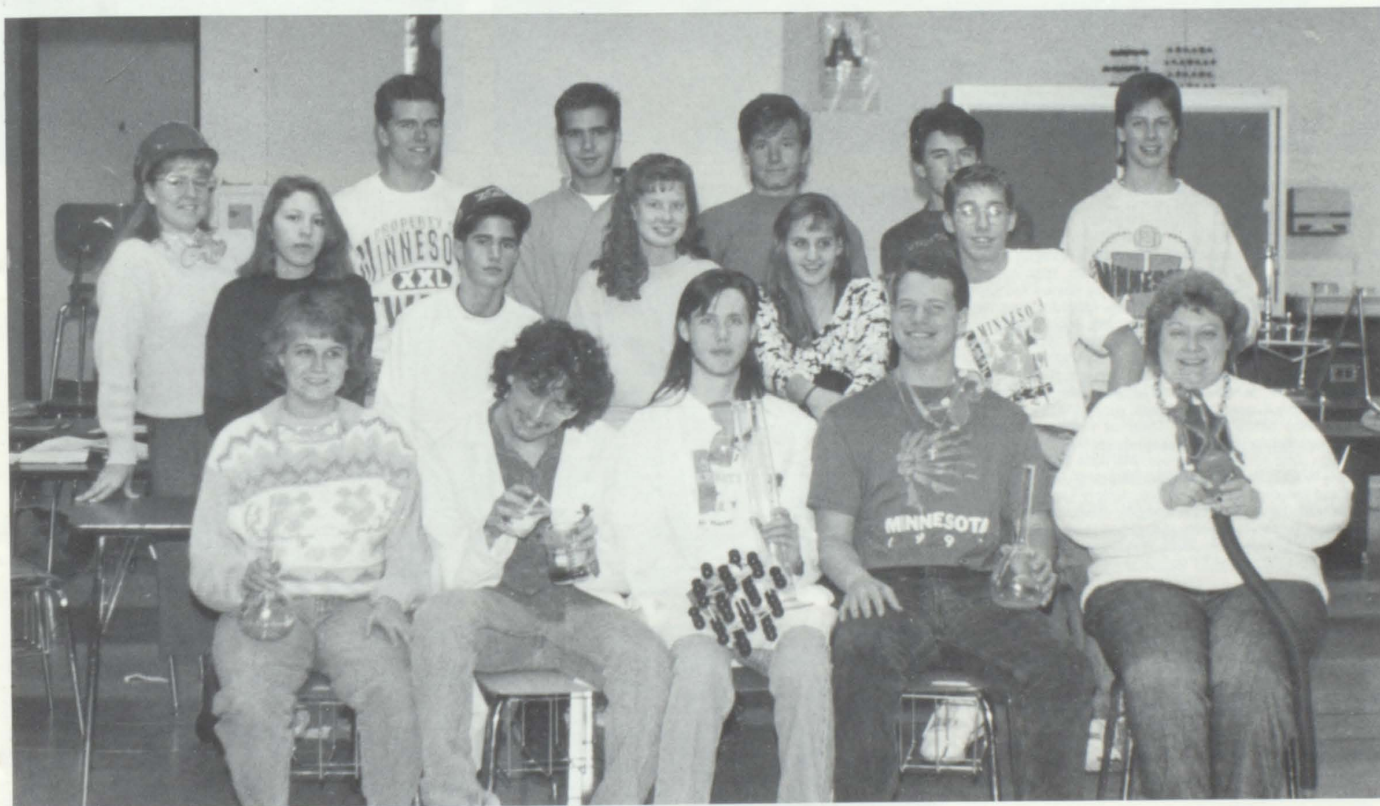

Today, the opportunities for students with mathematical and science skills are phenomenal in the science field, especially in engineering where there is expected to be a severe shortage of engineers within the next ten years.

Studying science also goes beyond the classroom.

For students who are interested in applying their scientific skills at a competition level, the science team offers both regional and state competition. Some of the events that Science Team members prepare for include identifying chemical solutions and designing and building musical instruments.

Thanks to a dedicated faculty in the science department, students are able to prepare for college or a particular science field with innovative ideas into the twenty-first century.

Building Your Future

The Industrial Arts Department has four basic classes available. They are Woods, Metals, Plastics, and Mechanics. Within those classes there are sub-divisions, such as Carpentry, Power Mechanics, Hot & Cold Metals, Basic Electricity, and Woods 1 & 2.

These classes allow the students to get away from the basic classroom atmosphere. It gives them the chance to be creative without having to use a pencil and paper. They also get the opportunity to work hands-on with many materials.

These classes offer many opportunities for those who plan on either making money from these skills they have learned, or just want to be more independent when fixing things themselves.

Did You Hear?

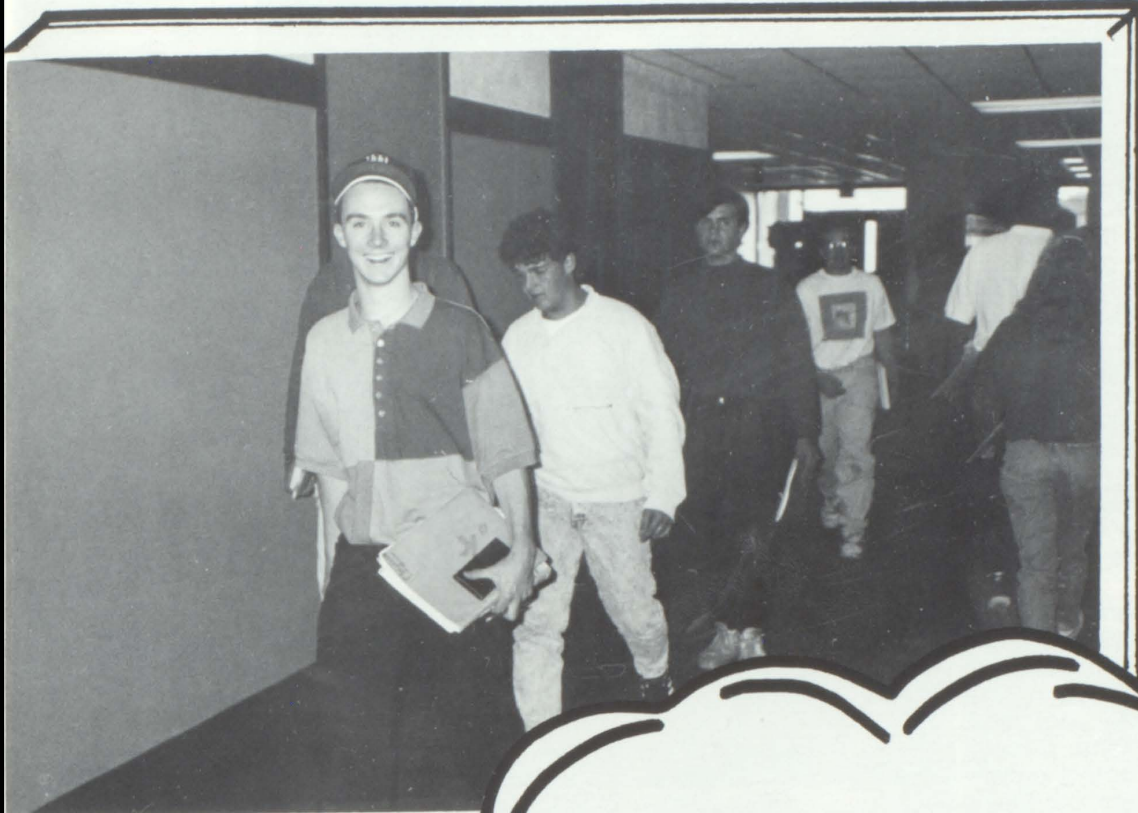

These teachers may look familiar (even with all the extra hair). They were teaching here in 1972. Pictured are: Loyal Hyatt, Thomas Pogreba, and John Reiman.

Since 1972, many changes have taken place in the Industrial Arts Department.

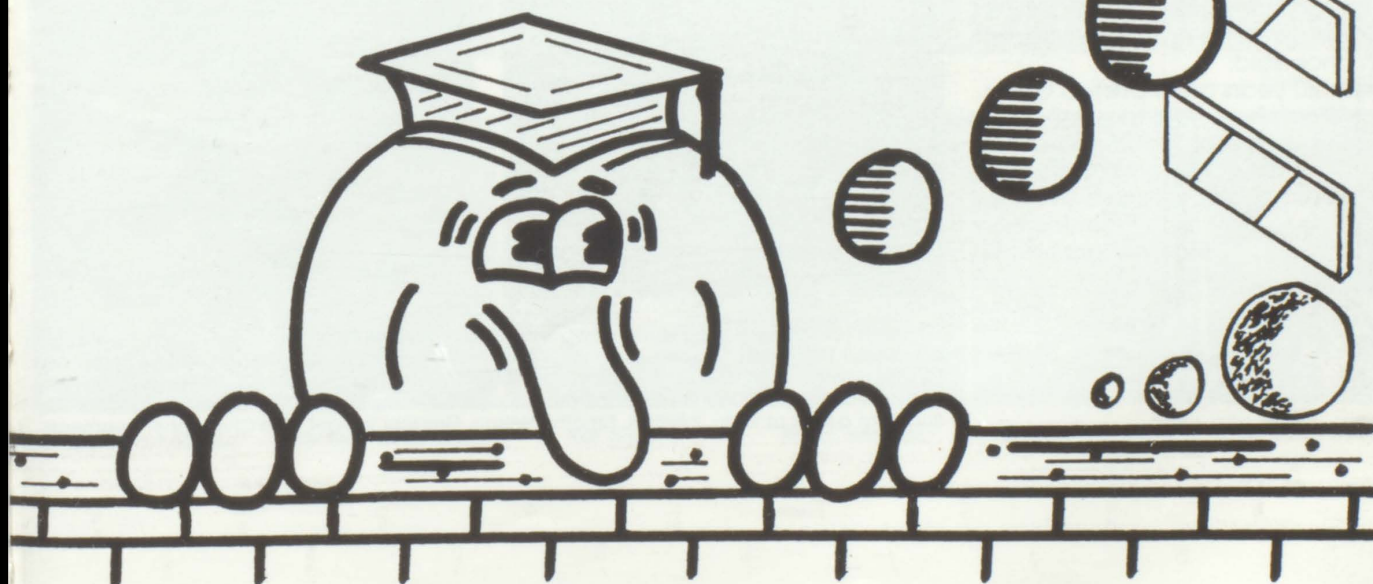

Mr. Thomas Pogreba commented that these changes are puzzling. Despite a growing number of fields involving Industrial Arts, interest isn't what it used to be. Class sizes are smaller and so is the funding for these classes.

Friends and Memories

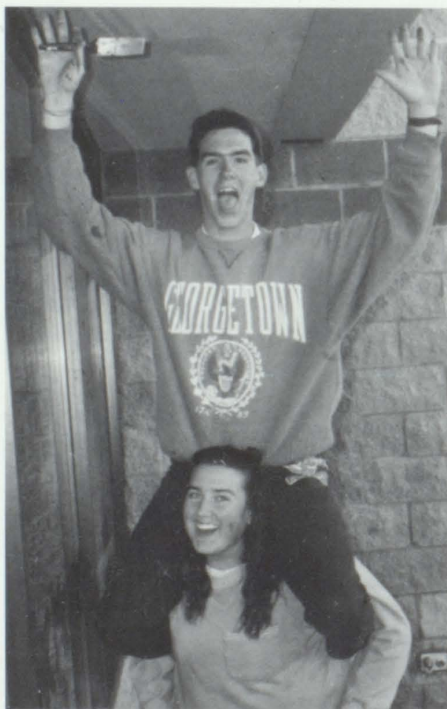

Our last year is finally through. We have shared so many good times. Some of us have been fortunate enough to be friends since kindergarten. Others of us have met through the years or have moved into the area and joined the community. We have stuck together and flourished from all our hardships. We have enjoyed the good times and also suffered through the bad. As a great song writer once wrote, "It's worth it all, in these days, to be best of friends."

Forest Lake brings memories to us that will never be forgotten. Each class has their own memories that pertain to their high school years. The walk-out our sophomore year may have meant more to some people than others, but it affected practically all of us. The event our junior year that first comes to mind for most would have to be the destruction of the graffiti bridge. The class of 1992 was the first class to miss out on the opportunity to decorate the bridge for homecoming. The major event of our senior year was the vandalism to the area of the football field during homecoming week. Even though it was seen as negative by most of the student body, we all knew there were many positive events to look forward to.

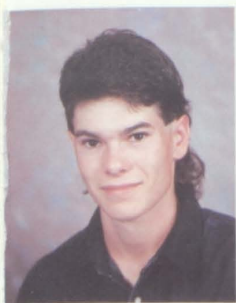

But the most important thing to remember is that we shared these things together, resulting in a bond that can never be broken. As a great man once said:

"Near 20 years have passed away
Since here I bid farewell
To quiet class rooms and noisy halls,
And scenes of play
And playmates loved so well."

Organizations

Student Council

Inga Lennes, a senior, was the President of Student Council this past year. She felt that two of the most successful activities the Student Council performed this year were the Homecoming dance and the blood drive.

Inga wishes student council could have done more charity events, but was afraid that most students wouldn't participate.

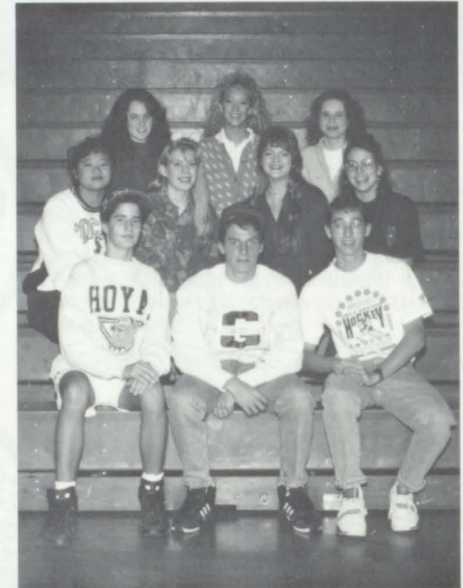

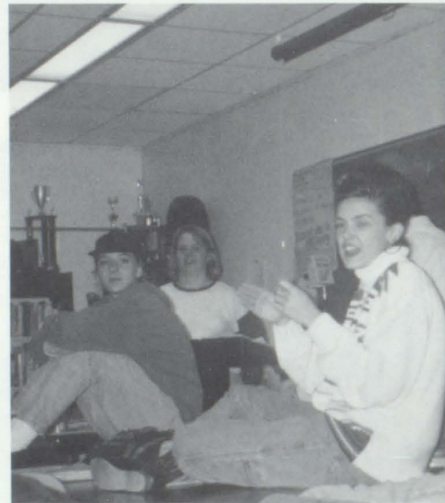

When charity events are done for the first time, student council wants them done right. If not, they really don't have a second chance to do them again.

An inconvenience the student council experienced this past year was the loss of their student council room. They now have to move to a different classroom every time they meet. Hopefully within the next 3 or 4 years, student council will be able to find a permanent home again for future members.

Mr. George made his debut as advisor of student council this past year. Inga is sad that Mr. McElrath is no longer the advisor anymore, but feels that Mr. George is just as dedicated and concerned. She also feels "a change was something we needed and Mr. George gave us a fresh start."

A new change this past year concerned the concession stand. Other activity groups sold concessions to raise money for their organizations instead of student council continually running it.

Even though student council has made many changes this past year, the dedication and loyalty of student council members remains the same to the student body.

National Honor Society

SERVICE

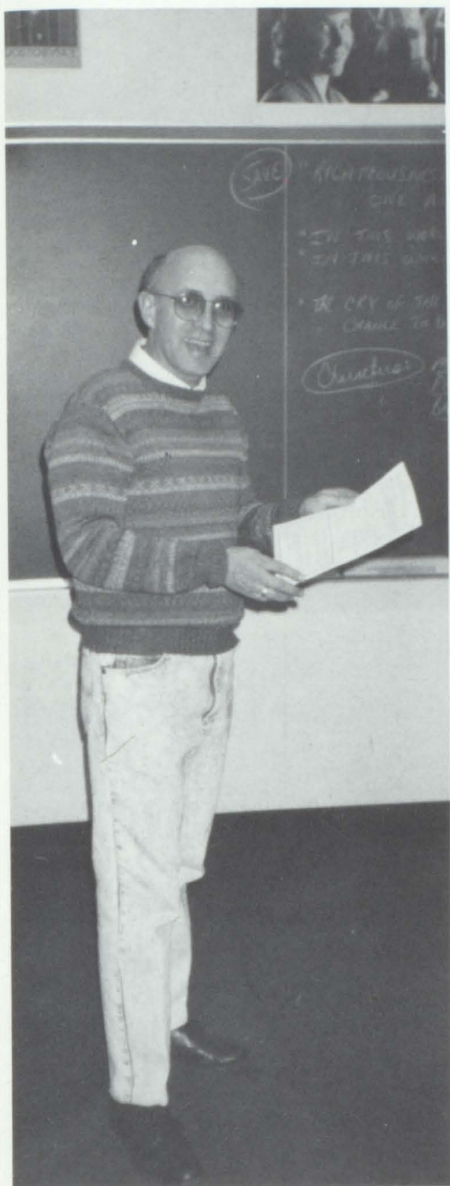

These are the four characteristics found in members of the National Honor Society. Each year, four service projects that benefit the school or community are undertaken by the student members. Each of these committees is headed by one of the four officers. This year's projects include a food drive (headed by Andrea Moore) in December, Valentine's Day activities (headed by Jason Deegan) in February, nursing home visits (headed by Inga Lennes) in February/March, and a loose change week (headed by Jake Houle) in April/May.

Several changes have taken place for the 1991-1992 school year. One change is the addition of individual service projects, which must be completed by all members independently. The biggest change is the exclusion of sophomore members. New members will now only be admitted as juniors and seniors. This provides more time for the sophomores to prove that they have the characteristics to live up to those of the National Honor Society.

Singing Their Way Towards Perfection

"I know you can do it wrong. . .now let's hear you do it right" J. Lindstrom

TOP LEFT: Learning every new piece of music takes a lot of concentration, as you can tell on a few of the choir members' faces.

TOP RIGHT: Even though Mr. Lindstrom had a lot more hair twenty years ago, he still has not lost his musical touch.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Site reading creates a challenge to these students, but the hard work will eventually pay off.

In past years, the music department offered three choir classes: sophomore choir, concert choir, and chamber choral. Just as today, all of the classes were directed under Jim Lindstrom. This year there are only two choirs to be directed, for Mr. Lindstrom decided to eliminate the chamber chorale.

One of the more unique characteristics about choir is that every school has the privilege to select an all-conference choir. The fortunate members are chosen by their director. Mr. Lindstrom's criteria is fairly basic. The members must be seniors who have good work habits, sing in tune, and have been under his teaching for at least two years. This year's members were Melissa Hallberg, Sarah Much, Melanie Waldoch, Beth Wiede, Amanda Engquist, Jennifer Johnson, Therese Klein, Kristin Zaske, Lenny Sorenson, Jeffery Kolodjski, and Wesley McDonald.

For the last five years, Forest Lake High School has been involved in the Twin Cities Suburban Conference Music Festival. The music festival consists of high school choirs from the conference getting together to sing for one another. The choirs are evaluated on how well they perform. Choir members agree that it is a worthwhile experience because they get to sing at a different school and meet new people from other choirs.

Mr. Lindstrom has set goals for both the sophomore choir and concert choir. His major goal for sophomores is for the students to improve their musicianship, to understand musical concepts, and to become better singers. Mr. Lindstrom's goals for concert choir are slightly different.

"I would like the students within the choir to communicate and get along with each other," Mr. Lindstrom said, "I would also like them to work together and be the best they can be."

Mr. Lindstrom feels that teaching music is more than a job; it is a love. With his dedication and active involvement among both junior and senior high students, there is only room for improvement and a strong ensemble of choir students year after year.

FFA is a group of people who are training to be leaders. They use the FFA organization to develop leadership skills, citizenship, and cooperation.

Throughout the year members participate in contests, attend leadership conferences, and have fundraisers. The members sell plants and Christmas trees, and with this money, they adopt families, attend state and national conventions, and award scholarships to high school seniors. They also raise money for "Camp Courage," a leadership experience at Jaycooke State Park near Duluth. At camp they plan the yearly FFA program, work together on cooperative projects, and get to know each other better so they can work as a team.

If one would like to be in FFA, one must enroll in at least a half-year Agri-Business class every year they are a member.

Coming To A New Country

Coming to a new school is one thing, but coming to a new country is another. This year there are seven foreign exchange students attending Forest Lake High School.

Most of them arrived in August, right before the school year began. They will be departing after the school year is over to go back to their native country. The foreign exchange students are staying with a host family from the Forest Lake area.

For most of them, one of the biggest changes was choosing the classes they wanted to take. In many of their countries, high school is preparation for the major they have to choose after high school.

The foreign exchange students had to adjust to a variety of changes. Fabienne Million (France) commented that our school has a lot of school spirit and feels that this makes a very fun environment to learn in. "In our country, school is a lot harder and is very strict. They have no sports or extra-curricular activities," she said.

Paloma Arroyo (Spain) commented on how nice it is not having to wear a uniform. She said, "In my country Levi's are like your Girbaud's. They may cost up to $100."

Tessa Cannehag (Sweden) commented on the way we eat. She said, "The U.S. eats so much junk food! In my country we eat so much healthier. Instead of french fries we eat boiled potatoes. We also eat lots of fish." She also commented on how we have to pay for our school lunches. In her country the school lunches are paid for by the government.

Throughout all of these changes, they have managed to adjust well to the new school and the new country. They all really enjoy being at our school and have made many new friends. They also add a strong sense of diversity to the learning environment throughout Forest Lake High School.

Circle of Support

Circle of Support was established in 1990 and is lead by the Chemical Health Counselor, Joyce Leslie, and the Youth Service Bureau. The group's purpose is to bring unity among students while supporting one another. They were trained last year by James and Pamela Toole sponsored by the University of Minnesota. They taught skills such as good listening and communication practices and how to help others.

One of the projects they have worked hard on is helping new students feel welcome and adjusted.

Members are assigned a new student to show around school and answer questions.

Everyone in the group agrees that Circle of Support is a beneficial experience for both the members and the new students at Forest Lake High School.

What is Mock Trial?

Mock Trial is an academically challenging extra-curricular organization targeted to students interested in the justice system. Students prepare a case and compete against other schools. Each team consists of 3 attorneys, 3 witnesses and 1 alternate. The trial takes place in a real courtroom situation with a real judge presiding over the case.

Math Team

Brainpower In Competition!

BELOW: Sharing his mathematical insights, Jason Rogers carefully explains a problem to his fellow teammate, Kristen Nelson.

Math team is a unique club in that students can develop skills and get experience for pursuing careers in the math field. Math team members put in many long hours after school to work on complicated math problems that could be used in competition.

The math team competes in conference competition just as athletic teams do. It involves both individual and team competition. In individual competition, a student has twelve minutes to complete four problems, while a team of eight members must complete six problems in twenty minutes.

The biggest goal the math team sets is for the state meet. The conference winner advances to state, but individuals who perform exceptionally well also have the privilege to advance to state.

With a small group of team members, Mr. Conner is somewhat concerned about the future of the team, especially since there aren't any sophomores on the team this year. But there are many positive points of being on the team.

"The students get to look at things before they see them in the classroom, which helps them prepare for advanced levels of math," Mr. Conner said.

Math team is definitely worthwhile for students who are interested in math. With individuals working both alone and as a team, it is an exciting and challenging experience for all.

MATH TEAM MEMBERS: FRONT: Mr. Wally Conner, Lara Kiley, Melanie Larson, and Kristen Nelson. BACK: Jason Rogers and Michael Olson.

ABOVE: Frustration can be quite common when dealing with complicated math problems, as shown by Michael Olson, but Mr. Conner is always on hand to share his superior knowledge with his students.

The average opinion of students in Forest Lake High School may be that our World Language Clubs are all work and no play. Well this is far from true as our foreign language teachers have explained.

The German Club's major event this year was Germanfest '92, held at St. John's University in Collegeville. There, German students performed plays and skits, recited poetry, and ate German food. German Club also went to a restaurant known as Gasthaus Bavarian Hunter in Stillwater for an authentic German meal.

The French Club students sold World's Finest chocolates to raise money for after-school activities such as French videos and going to French restaurants. One of French Club's biggest events was going to a sophisticated French restaurant called "Forepaughs". Like the German and French Clubs, Spanish Club also prepared foods after school. An example of the kind of food that they prepared was Paella, a dish with rice, chicken and vegetables.

Did You Hear?

In 1972, Forest Lake High School had only Spanish and French Clubs. Not until 1988 was the German club added as an extra-curricular activity. In the picture above Cheryl Paulsrud and Irene Fisher taste-test some of the French delicacies at their annual Christmas party.

This year, like past years, all the World Language Clubs went to the Festival of Nations. There they had a chance to talk with people from other countries by way of three to five minute phone calls. They also tried foods of all different origins and purchased foreign items.

An Odyssey of Pursuit

"We are a respected organization and people are afraid to go against us," said Odyssey of the Mind advisor, Mrs. Pat Cheyne.

Odyssey of the Mind meets every Thursday with Mrs. Cheyne, but in order to develop a winning organization, members must devote other days of the week as well.

Odyssey of the Mind has been an organization for the past eight years. The seven to eight members of O.M. must be high-potential students who are quick thinkers. Creativity is also an essential trademark of being part of O.M.

Every year, O.M. is presented with a challenging problem chosen by the judges of the annual competition. The coaches of O.M. felt that this year's problem was one of the most challenging they have ever been faced with. The students had to design and construct five cars that travelled twenty feet in a straight line and popped a balloon.

After long hours of hard work and practice, O.M. presents their solution at a regional meet. The winner of the region advances to the state meet. The state champion finally has the privilege to compete at the world meet where teams present their award-winning solutions.

Odyssey of the Mind gives students an excellent opportunity to solve complicated problems while maintaining a fun and creative attitude.

Alternative School

Alternative school gives students a chance to earn a high school diploma without actually going to high school.

The alternative school in Forest Lake is coordinated by Cam Hedlund. Lois Weber is the counselor and Steve Novak is the principal of the school.

There are over seventy students participating in the alternative school. The average age for most students is from 16 to 21 years, but there have been students taking part who have been between 28 and 33 years old.

The alternative schools offer eighteen different classes. There are four English classes, four math classes, four social studies classes, and two science classes. Other classes offered include art, physical education, OJT, and a leadership class.

At the maximum, one class holds fifteen students. This gives students a great opportunity to get personal help from their teachers. In fact, there is hardly any homework for the students because the majority of homework gets completed during class time.

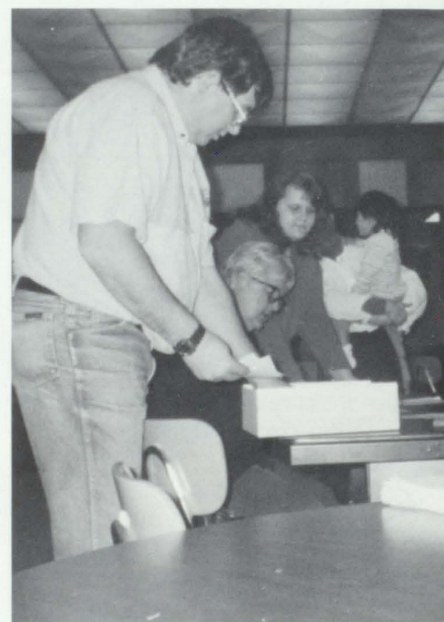

Alternative school semesters are the same as in high school. The only difference is that students in alternative schools get credits for quarters instead of semesters.

The teachers' main goal for the students is to help them get into a technical or community college.

Through the alternative schools program, many students are able to achieve their goals and make their career dreams come true.

ON THE JOB TRAINING

Students participating in the Work Experience Program, or OJT, earn credit and are graded on participation and completion of course requirements in the classroom and on the job. Most students that are in the OJT program strive to improve their attendance and to develop academically, economically, and socially. Student's jobs in the OJT program differ from fast food to office and business work, most of which are part-time, (15 to 25 hours a week). They earn one full credit when they leave school to go to their job at 12:30 and one-half credit when they leave at 1:30. All in all, there are a lot of rules and regulations to follow. Overall, OJT is provided to help students work, go to school, and earn credits all at the same time.

This year's Debate team had an outstanding season. There were six students that advanced from Region 4AA to State, along with two policy teams a one Lincoln-Douglas team. The Policy Debators were Brian Kunkel, Mike Anderson, Andrew Kloster, and Erin Mathern. The Lincoln-Douglas debators included Inga Lennes and Ryan Johnson. Brian Kunkel and Mike Anderson advanced to Octofinals where they were defeated by Apple Valley.

During the regular season the team won the Class AA Sweepstakes at the Watertown Speech Fiesta, in South Dakota. It is considered one of the most prestigious tournaments in the upper midwest. When the students were asked what their favorite memories were, a few of their responses included "Could you stand up Beth," "I thought it was Hotel Policy", and "Cokes for everyone." They said they would never forget Israeli, human rights, D.A., T.P., auctioneers, soap operas, ice machines, RAYON, pillow fights, Domino's Pizza, Perkins, siren noises, pitchers, goblets, Steve's dictatorship, Bry Guy getting picked up, and "stay between the ditches." Who said debators don't know how to have a good time?

The biggest highlight of the year included Speech and Debate which are unified through the National Forensic League. This year's speech team was a dynamic group and were well on their way to the top. Of all MSHSL sponsored events, speech attracts more competitors than any other single sport or activity.

Last year FLHS hosted the State Tournament. Countless numbers of calls, letters, and comments praised the tournament as the "Classiest and most memorable State Speech Tournament in Minnesota State High School League history." This year's tournament was also held at Forest Lake. Forest Lake's Speech team has a long history of superior achievements. Currently FLHS is listed in every MSHSL record for class AA speech including total number of medalists in one year (10), total number of medalists in all state contests (74), the State record for total number of champions (28) and the State record for the most champions in a single year (5). They have also been region champions for the last nine years.

Just like any other activity speech members need pep talks too. Only it's a little different. They hear words such as "internalize, concentrate, consistency, communicate, and be fresh."

When Beth Wielde and Erin Johnson were asked to explain this year's progress they said, "We are doing our personal best and we are working to achieve excellence." Well said girls!

The Diviners

A Tale Of The Life...And Death Of Buddy Layman, The Idiot Boy...

Buddy Layman was no ordinary boy. By the day that C.C. Showers stepped into his life, he had experienced many things. As a young child, Buddy survived a tragic accident. He did not escape without harm, however. He emerged from the accident with brain damage. He also emerged with a "sixth sense" which enabled him to divine water, despite his intense fear for it.

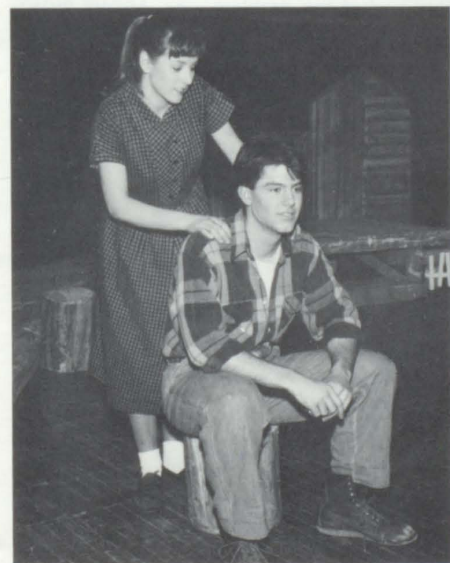

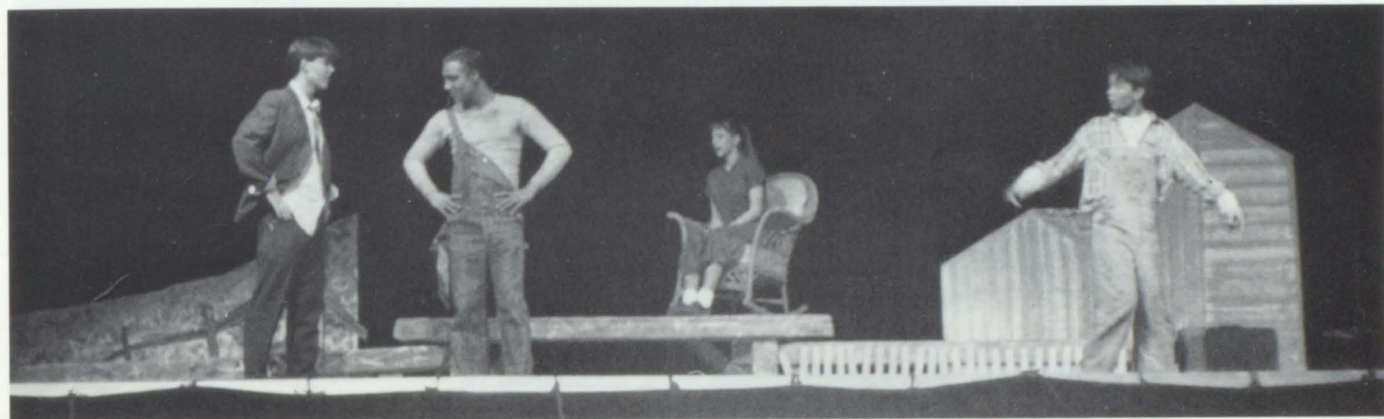

C.C. befriended Buddy and made him realize that water wasn't bad. This realization lead to Buddy confronting his fears, and resulted in a deeply moving end.

The cast of "The Diviners" consisted of nine people, as Buddy and the people in his life. The cast was made up of Josh Jabas as Buddy Layman, Jake Houle as C.C. Showers, Melanie Waldoch as Jennie Mae Layman, Chris Averbeck as Ferris Layman, Chris Foss as Dewey, Beth Wiede as Luella, Ryan Scott as Basil, Tracy Davis as Norma, and Corrine Fahey as Darlene.

The play was directed by Ms. Jane Gilles, who was assisted by Erin Johnson. Technical heads included Chris Medek as head of costumes/props, Tamie Runningen as head of set, Erin Johnson as head of lights, and Greg Weigel as head of sound. The set was designed and built by Mr. John Olsen.

The play was a very strong effort, taking place at the sub-region competition on January 30. The play then advanced to region competition on February 6, taking a close second place.

GOLF

Driving the Distance!

With the combination of some veteran and younger players, the boys and girls golf teams were looking to be competitive from the upper-half to the middle-half of the conference.

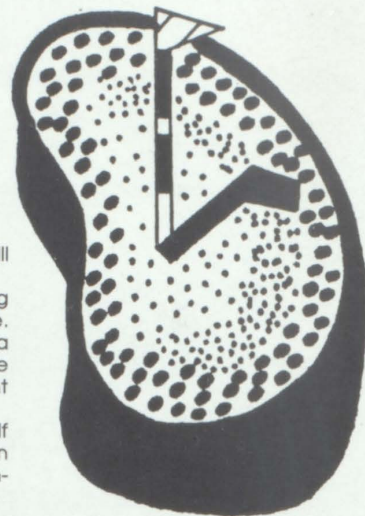

Mr. Cheyne, who coached the boys to the 1991 conference championship, said, "I think one of our biggest goals this year will be to defend our conference title. We've got three veterans in Dana Wojtowicz, Marc McCullough, and Jason Hamernick, but we're going to have to fill the remaining two varsity spots with a couple of younger players."

Another goal for the boys was to improve their region standing of 3rd place in 1991, and they will also remain in Region 4AA for the 1992 season.

As for the girls, coach Pat Cheyne was looking towards finishing in the middle of the conference. Key returning players included senior Amanda Engquist and junior Erin Johnson, but Mrs. Cheyne still had the challenge of filling four to five vacant spots with some younger players.

"We don't have as many girls going out for golf as we would like, but I think that we will remain competitive throughout the season with the individuals we have," Mrs. Cheyne said.

Igniting a New Flame on the Diamond

Igniting a new flame on the field. This is what the Ranger baseball team was looking forward to doing after a disastrous 1991 season with no conference wins.

The 1992 outlook was positive. Although the Rangers were going to be fairly young, they were going to have excellent leadership in seniors Mike Humphreys and Mike Parker, along with junior Scott Poepard, a 1991 All-Conference selection.

The "youth" comes from the fact that the varsity roster was filled with three freshmen and two sophomores. The past few years have been quite successful with the Forest Lake youth baseball program, so the Rangers were looking for some youth to add to the overall talent of the Rangers.

With a "successful" attitude being brought into the team, the Rangers were sure to ignite a new flame and bring a winning attitude onto the field during the 1992 season.

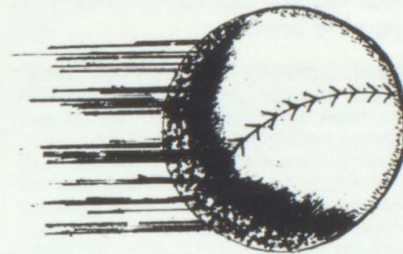

Coaches for the season include varsity coach Tim Conley, junior varsity coach Jeff Wilson, and B-squad coach Dan Forsythe.

Boys Track Is On The Jump

As our 1992 boys track season begins, it is too early for the meet results to be published. "The season has many great expectations," said Mr. Hipkins, the head track coach. We are expecting a lot from Bob Ewings, as well as many others. Last season Bob ran the 100 and 200 meter dash, the 55 meter, as well as the 4 x 100 and 4 x 200 relays. In the 800 medley, 4 x 100 and 4 x 200, Bob beat the sophomore school record, and in the 200 and 55 meter dash he broke the indoor school record. Overall, Bob ranked second in the state last year. We're hoping to see those records be beat again. Go for it, Bob. We wish you the best!

Girls Track Is On The Hurdle

As the 1992 girls track season begins, it is too early for meet results to be published. Captains Renee Lutz, Tammy Glaim, and Sara Joesting, are on Ms. Briguet's list for great expectations. On the team this year are five freshmen who are expected to do well also. Many of last year's sophomores have improved as juniors. That helps things out, but there is always room for newcomers. Good luck in the season. Let's break some records, and bring home some medals.

It seems like yesterday when we were in fourth grade just starting basketball, and now it has suddenly ended. Through the years the memories will always stay in our hearts. Throughout our lives we will never forget the friendships and the game of basketball.

What's in store for Junior Varsity

The Junior Varsity hockey team looked forward to a rewarding season. Their main goal was to get used to playing hockey at the high school level since the majority of the players were sophomores who had just came up from the bantam (8th and 9th grade) level. They also prepared for varsity-level action throughout the season, hoping they would get a shot to play in one of the toughest and best conferences in the state.

Deep Thoughts by Ranger Hockey

Aaron Hoiland commented on this year's varsity hockey team, "I think we've got a good combination of young guys who go out and work hard every day. The veteran players will provide a lot of leadership on the team. We'll have to play our very best in conference action if we want to do well."

This year's Ranger Hockey team experienced a couple of changes the past year. For one thing, they moved from section three to section four. The two tier hockey tournament was also established for the first time in hockey tournament history, so the Rangers were hoping to do well in either tournament. Although considered by many to be one of the toughest conferences in the state, the Rangers expected to have a rewarding and fun season with the combination of some veteran and young players.

"Sophomore Watch"

The first day of school rolls around and sophomores suddenly discover the change from junior high to high school. Parking permits, a bigger school, and a new wave of students and teachers are just a few examples of the new challenges sophomores are faced with. Although the first few weeks of school may be quite hectic and confusing, sophomores slowly begin to fit in and find that the new changes are for the best. Sophomores will always be looked down upon, and let's face it- a sophomore's biggest dream is to finally become a junior when they can look down on the softies. The sophomore year is an opening to a new chapter in life as well as the beginning to three years that will provide life-long memories.

Academics

ZERO HOUR

For many of us, school starts at 8:00 a.m. but, for a few energetic students, classes start at 7:00 a.m. These students are involved in one of the two zero hours, American Literature 1 & 2 or Biology A & B.

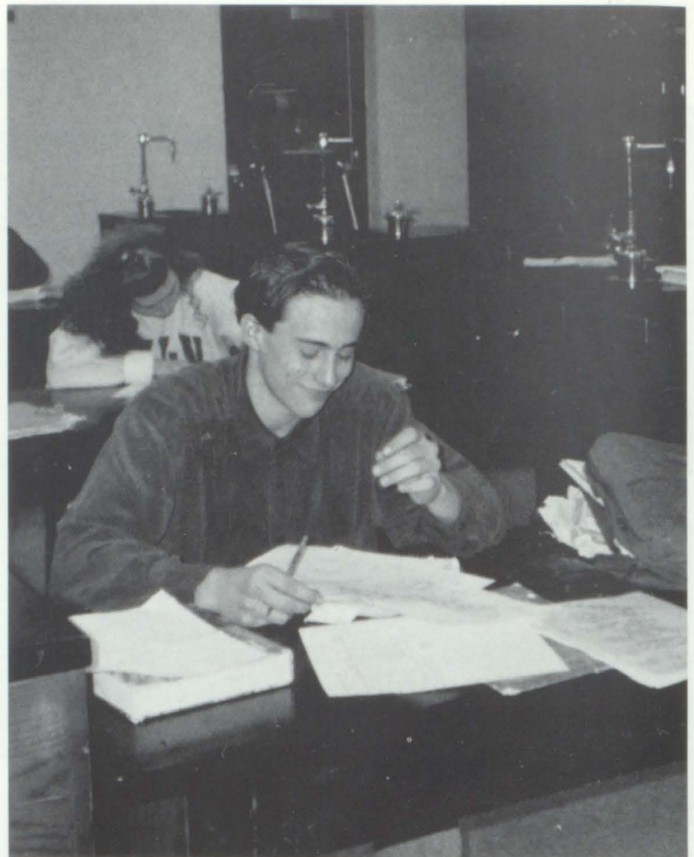

American Literature, taught by Mr. Olsen, allows sophomores to have the 7 day period they are accustomed to, and still achieve enough credits to graduate. This class is required for all sophomores, so everyone in this class is either a sophomore, a new student, a student who forgot to take this class, or a student who didn't meet the qualifications to pass it.

Biology A & B, taught by Mrs. Somrock, gives the students who have a full schedule to get their science credits. It gives the students an extra opportunity to get ahead. This class has students from all three grades.

In both classes they are taught the same things as students who have the class later on in the day.

This is the first year zero hours have been offered.

When considering the benefits, students don't seem to mind getting out of bed earlier to come to school.

College In The School

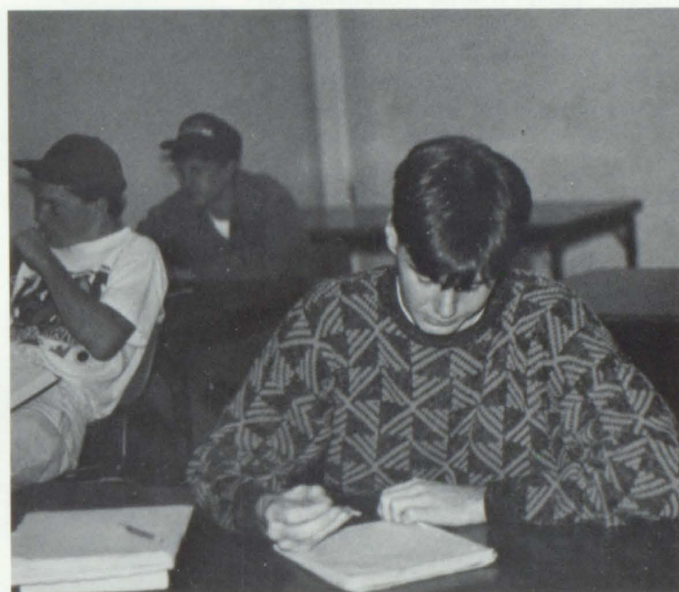

Students who are interested in going into college after high school now have an opportunity to earn extra credits. There are two classes that are considered college courses and are worth credits at major state universities. They are Freshman Writing 1, taught by Mrs. Elkren, and Micro/Macro Economics, taught by Mr. Grant. This is the second year Freshman Writing has been offered and the first year the school offers Micro/Macro Economics.

Freshman Writing is worth 5 credits at the universities and $\frac{1}{2}$ at the high school. Class requirements include writing 4 papers. In these papers they are presented with a problem and must use their writing ability to solve it. After their papers are written, the students get into groups and evaluate and grade each other. The students find this class very challenging.

Micro/Macro Economics is worth 4 credits each at the college level and $\frac{1}{2}$ of a credit in high school. Mr. Grant was asked what was different about taking this class in high school or in college. He said that the only difference is that there's more class time in high school. More time means having a better chance to review and explain things in class.

For both of these classes students have to be in the top 20% of their class. These are honor classes so they have to maintain a good G.P.A. to stay in the class. For these hard workers it doesn't seem to be a problem.

A.P. Classes; A College Head Start

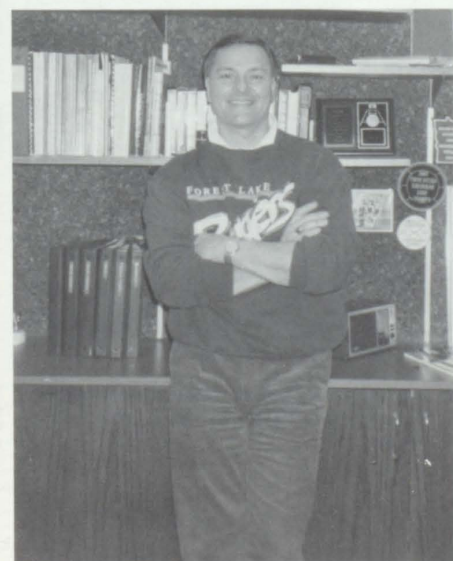

The advanced placement classes offered at Forest Lake H.S. provide motivated students with the opportunity to take college-level courses. From A.P. Calculus to A.P. Art History, there are a variety of courses to satisfy student interests. Mr. Hanson, who teaches A.P. Art History, explained, "I like the hands-on experience the students get to take part in. It really is an excellent way to prepare for college-level study." With the challenge and diversity presented through A.P. classes, students are generally well-prepared to take an A.P. examination in late spring to earn college credit.

Mollie Murphy is a senior enrolled in A.P. Spanish, which is a class covering in-depth studies of Spanish grammar, literature, and culture. She decided to take A.P. Spanish so she could earn a college credit while still in high school. In order to earn a college credit, she can choose to take the A.P. Spanish Language Examination in May. To get admitted into A.P. Spanish, Mollie had to successfully complete Spanish 3 while maintaining an above-average G.P.A. in her previous Spanish classes. When asked what the most challenging aspect of the class is, she replied, "We move at a very fast pace, much faster than any of the other Spanish classes." One of the more beneficial aspects of the class includes that it is a small enough class where help is readily available from both the teacher and fellow students. Although it may be a very demanding and challenging course, Mollie feels that it is an excellent way to prepare for a successful and rewarding college career.

Dr. Cooper, our assistant principal, thinks that we've had several changes through the years. A negative one is that many students are working so many hours at their jobs that their school work, activities, and social life suffers. A positive change is that the students in the last few years have been taking their role in learning more seriously. They have also witnessed the wide spread use of computers in all aspects of high school and the opportunities for students to gain college credit during high school. Before Dr. Cooper was a principal he taught Social Studies. He enjoys being a principal more for a number of reasons, but he thoroughly enjoyed teaching and having the direct contact with the students. When asked what his most interesting experience has been as a principal, he said, "I can think of hundreds! That's why I enjoy my job so much." When asked if the education we're receiving here at Forest Lake can compete with other countries, he said, "Yes, we can compete because we have to remember that America is constantly graduating students from school who are academically talented and are able to bring new innovative ideas into the world."

STAFF DEPARTMENTS

Attendance office secretary Elaine Zeller has been working at Forest Lake High School ever since it was built in 1972. The positive aspects from her job include that she enjoys getting to know so many students every school year. Summer vacation is an added benefit to her job, and her job has been made much easier with the recent addition of a new computer system. One of the few negative aspects about her job is that there is a very demanding pace to be kept up during Homecoming week and the first two hours of the school day. Overall, her hard work keeps the students in count and the school day rolling.

STAFF DEPARTMENTS

The janitors are very hard-working individuals who try to make things as safe as possible for us. With all of their strong efforts, they are able to keep the school grounds in top-notch shape. The most hectic and complex times for keeping our grounds in shape are during football and baseball seasons. Although they try their best to make the most of the present equipment they have, they do wish that they had better equipment to make our school as clean as possible. The cleanliness of our school is definitely evident from the janitors hard work, but a drawback to their job has been the pay-cuts in recent years, something which none of the janitors are happy about. Luckily, though, our janitors care enough to maintain the high quality of work during the school year to keep our school in the best shape possible.

At Forest Lake High School there are 5 married couples: Mr. and Mrs. Somrock, Mr. and Mrs. Hansen, Ms. Fitzgerald and Mr. Chowan, Mr. and Mrs. McElrath, and Mr. and Mrs. Cheyne.

Mr. and Mrs. Somrock have been married 5 years in August. Mrs.

Somrock says that she really enjoys working together. There are a lot of advantages she says. Including the same time schedule to help students, which is one of their common interests. And also, just being with each other. Let's hope that we see more couples in the near future.

"The time a girl came to school telling how her boyfriend had robbed the Marine bank and everyone chuckled. Later in the day her boyfriend was arrested. He had really robbed the bank!" — Mr. Pogreba

ASK ABOUT OUR GIANT
PARTY SUBS OR PARTY PLATTERS

It's The Questions You Ask, Not The Autographs You Get.

It's the last week of school. Time to collect yearbook signatures. Matt's going for a record—asking people he hardly knows to sign. Kristen is a bit more selective. Her book is filled with long, personal notes from close friends.

You Have To Ask Your Own Questions

Whether your idea of friendship is a group to hang out with or a friend or two to lean on, you'll begin lifelong friendships at Bethel College.

Just as your style of friendship is unique, so is your background. That means you'll come to Bethel with your own questions. About life.

About learning. About growing in your relationship with Christ.

And Find Your Own Answers

Bethel is a place where questions are asked openly. Where answers are individual and personal.

In the arts, in literature, in professional studies, in Bible, and in the social and physical sciences, you'll find space to explore...and to thrill in the adventure of discovery!

The end result of your time at Bethel will be much more than a college education filled with new experiences and new friends. You will be better prepared for life. You will know yourself, your God, and your world so much more intimately.

And Choose A Unique Path To Follow

And, you will continue to ask questions. Because there are always more answers out there.

To learn more about Bethel College, call TOLL-FREE today: 1-800-255-8706.

THE YEAR

For its first 100 years, the Bill of Rights had little impact on American life. Today, on its 200th anniversary, the Constitution's first 10 amendments are a basic building block of the American free society.

* PROMISING SIGNS *

- The guerrilla front called a truce in El SALVADOR after a dozen years of fighting that convulsed the Central American nation and claimed 75,000 casualties.
- For the first time since surveys of high school students began 16 years ago, a majority of seniors said they had never used any illegal drug.
- THE HUBBLE telescope finally reached the stars after it was thought to be a $1.5 billion disaster due to a mirror flaw.
- GENE THERAPY entered the medical world as a five-year-old girl became the first human to undergo such a procedure.
- DDI, or dideoxyinosine, was approved by the Food and Drug Administration to help slow the deterioration of the immune system in AIDS patients.
- THE NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL reported that per capita traffic fatalities went down 21 percent in the past decade-2 percent in 1991.
- Fresh from wrist surgery, 39-year-old JIMMY CONNORS beat two much younger players in marathon matches at the U.S. Open. Said old pro Ilie Nastase, 45, "What Jimmy had is what we all would kill for-just one more time."

In 1990 the Minnesota Twins and the Atlanta Braves finished last; in 1991 they finished the season in a showdown that fans call the greatest world series ever. The Twins took the seventh and deciding game, 1-0 in 10 innings.

The failed coup revolt sent the Soviet Union reeling toward freedom and anarchy. Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev resigned, while the leader of Russia, Boris Yeltsin (above) replaced Gorbachev's position.

David Duke, a onetime Nazi and Ku Klux Klansman, was defeated in the race for governor of Louisiana. An 80-percent black turnout gave the job back to three-time governor Edwin Edwards. The Duke Blue Devils, on the other hand, won their second-consecutive NCAA Basketball title by defeating the Michigan Wolverines, 71-51.

THE NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

ANNIVERSARY

President Woodrow Wilson signed the National Park Service Act 75 years ago. The National Park System has grown to 357 sites covering 80 million acres. The service is acutely aware that its lands are among the last natural resources for America's plant and animal diversity.

Super Bowl XXVI was held at the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome in Minneapolis for the first time ever. Led by MVP quarterback Mark Rypien (above), the Washington Redskins put on an offensive show to beat the Buffalo Bills 37-24.

1992 marks the 500th anniversary of Columbus' discovery of America. In 1492, Columbus commanded the first recorded expedition to cross the Atlantic Ocean in warm latitudes.

Thomas vs. Hill

Whispers of Misconduct in the workplace became roars when Anita Faye Hill, 35, alleged that Supreme Court nominee Clarence Thomas had sexually harassed her in the early '80s. When quiet returned, the Senate voted to confirm Thomas.

"WHAT I'LL MISS MOST IS THE UNIFORM"—MAGIC JOHNSON
After learning he was infected with the HIV virus, Earvin "Magic" Johnson retired from professional basketball and became a spokesman for AIDS prevention.

"FIRSTS OF OUR TIME"

McDonald's introduced a LOW-FAT HAMBURGER, the McLean Deluxe, in response to the public's demand for tasty, healthier food. MIKE POWELL'S first was one for the record books—an incredible leap of 29'4.5" at the World Track and Field Championships. Entrepreneur CATHY MEREDIG challenged Barbie by introducing her Happy to Be Me Doll. JESSE TURNER, released after 1,731 days of captivity in Lebanon, saw his daughter for the first time on October 23, 1991. In making out his list to help inaugurate the new Ronald Reagan Presidential Library in California, REAGAN brought together in the same place the greatest number of living presidents—George Bush, Jimmy Carter, Gerald Ford, Richard Nixon, and of course, himself.
