Rustling Leaves

By June Baker

★ GRAND WEATHER

"My what grand weather we're having" and "Well it looks as if spring is just about here", were the remarks being made.

But alas, Monday was Ground Hog's Day and the little fellow was able to see his shadow. Six weeks of really cold weather can be looked forward to if that old adage comes true.

★ WHAT! AGAIN!

It seems that Rozanne Smith is getting to be a very popular girl these days. As drum majorette for the Farmer's Union, she received a great deal of publicity and in last Saturday's Pioneer Press she was pictured getting instructions from two famous Norwegian skiers on how to ski.

★ WHO'S WHO THIS YEAR

ANNE TRICOLA—Anne is a dark haired, vivacious girl whose pep has made her a grand cheer leader. She belongs to the Biology Club and also lends her soprano voice to the senior high chorus. Reading and bowling rate as her favorites and her ambition is to become a Red Cross nurse.

DELORES KUEFLER—'Ole' is another person who wants to become a Red Cross nurse. She has been in the band for four years and rates dancing as her favorite pastime and hobby. She liked "Gone With The Wind" the best of all the movies she has seen. When asked what she liked best in school years she replied, "The practice dances (And who doesn't).

Cardinal Patrol To Give Valentine Party

The Cardinal Girl Scout patrol will sponsor a Valentine's Day Party next Monday for the group.

A Valentine box will be made in which fortunes will be placed. Each girl will have to perform whatever the fortune card says. A surprise game is also being planned.

A lunch of cookies and candy will be served.

The Girl Scouts organizing the program are: Delores Morley, Nadine Holl, Joan Baltes, Delores Moen, Elaine Hiller, and Doris Engquist. —P. T.

Students Voice Their Opinions on Junior Dances

A delightful evening of waltzing, dancing the fox trot, conga, rhumba and many others was spent last Friday at the local Legion Hall.

Everyone has a comment on them so let's listen to a few:

"What do you think of the Junior dances?"

Wallace Larson: I thing they're okay, because everyone can get together and have a great time. It is a good recreation and I hope there will be more.

Mary Holl: I think it is a very good idea to have these dances, but I wish there were more of them. It gives everyone a chance to learn how to dance, and I think this is worth taking advantage of.

Mr. Robb: No one needs to beg me to attend the junior dances. I enjoy seeing students having a good time, learning not only dancing, but social conduct as well; and I have an excellent time taking part too.

Gloria Sanderude: I think the school dances are perfect and a splendid way to spend those Friday evenings. There are good dance records of all variety, so why don't a lot more of you come?

Ruth Hopkins: I have been to both of them so far and I hope that it will be possible for me to attend all of them. I think most of the students are more confident of themselves when they are 'learning' among classmates. You can always learn something new.

Anne Tricola: I think they're fun and I hope they keep them up. The sooner everyone learns to dance, the more fun they will have.

Rollin Houle: The dances are swell. But there should be more slow waltzes so the beginners can learn.

Don't forget the next dance will be tomorrow evening at the Legion hall.—G. S.

TIP-OFFS

Last [illegible] Forest Lake played North Br[illegible] one of the best games of the season. The sad point about it was that we lost. The game was played on even terms through out until North Branch pulled the game out of the bag in the last quarter. Forest Lake pulled up to within two points of North Branch with about 10 seconds left to play. But North Branch held the ball in the few remaining seconds and won.

One of the referees for last Friday's game was "Buzz" Gentry who coached Central to a St. Paul City Championship this year.

For the size of the teams the B team played season. Every team they have played has been this year, I'd say they are having a pretty fair taller and larger than them. The players on this year's team will probably make up the team of a couple of years from now and if they work now, they will have all the better team in the next couple of years.

The game Friday against Mahtomedi was a game which showed that no matter how calm you try to be when a game gets close you still get excited. The game turned out to be close in the end, but we did what counts, we won.

Final Eliminations Held In Declam

Eliminations for the Junior High Declamation Contest were held Monday and Tuesday. The people that were chosen will be in the final contest which will be presented to the high school and public on Fbruary 12.

In th humorous group Una La Motte, Robert Furrer, Alice Richards, Dorothy Daninger, Eva Marie Lunzer and Rita Hauble were chosen.

In the original poetry division the following were winners: Jeanette Houle, Edward McHenry, Howard Hawkinson, Bill Campbell, Patricia Lee and Herbert Elmstrom.

Mr. Hammond, Mr. Kuefler and Mr. Wilson were judges of these two groups.

Mary Lou Micken, Phyllis Johnson, Eileen Schuetzler and Betty Hopkins are in the final dramatic group. Joyce Peltier, Gerald Armstrong, Kenneth Houle and Marc Shoquist are the oratorical winners.

Mr. Moede, Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Plourde were the judges.

This contest is an annual event at Forest Lake schools and much time is spent preparing to make it a success.

Miss Booren and the junior high English teachers deserve much credit for the fine work they do in presenting this dclam contest.—L. J. A.

Student Body Honors Miss Skog at Pep Fest

Last Friday morning a farewell pep fest was given for Miss Skog. A BREEZE extra was published and each of the students received one. In it was written the outstanding events of Miss Skog's teaching days at Forest Lake. Patricia Tricola made the presentation of a gift from the student body.

Short pep talks were given by Coach Von Wald and Rollin Houle. Mr. Moede sang a song, "To Miss Skog" which he and Mr. Johnson had written. He was accompanied by Mr. Johnson. Two selections were played by the German band.

The fest was closed by singing the school song.—G. S.

From The Office Window

Daylight saving time will be in effect on Monday morning, February 9.

The school time will then be the same as now according to the clock. Classes will actually start the one hour earlier, which will be the daylight saving time, 9:00 o'clock.

It might be well for pupils to retire on February 8 according to the new time, to avoid unnecessary delays along the bus routes and to help prevent tardiness of any pupils. Buses are to arrive at school at 8:45 and leave at 3:45.

The acceptable time change comes when for a while a few pupils will need to meet the buses before daylight. At the same time we are in the midst of the winter season when unfavorable weather is at least possible.

Permit us to especially invite continued cooperation of the parents to see that reasonable precautions are practiced in getting children properly to the buses and home from the buses. The district aims to maintain a high standard of bus service, but Federal regulations which are entirely in order might result in some curtailment which we hope and believe would be graciously accepted.

Journalists See Movie Entitled "Bound To Last"

Last Tuesday the Journalism Club met in the agriculture room. Assignments were given out and the picture for the bi-annual was taken.

A very interesting movie was shown to the club entitled "Bound To Last". It showed the various steps used in the manufacture of books. It began with the paper and showed the steps in printing and binding of books until the books are reading for distribution.—E. H. A.

Every Time You Buy A Stamp You Brighten The Glow Of Freedom's Lamp

A crisis, perhaps the greatest the United States has ever faced, now confronts the liberty-loving people of our country. The mechanized might of Nazi Germany, Facist Italy and land-hungry Japan is pitted against the United States and her allies. This threat to our freedom must and can be met only by the whole-hearted cooperation of every individual in the nation-wide Defense Program.

The herculean task of building a two-ocean navy, raising and equipping an army of at least two million men, and the building of an airforce of gigantic proportions must be financed by an equally huge sum of money. For instance, a 35,000 ton battleship costs about 70 million dollars and a single four-motored bomber nearly half a million dollars. In addition to this the government must finance three-fourths of the new plants needed to fill defense orders.

In order to raise this money for the Defense Program new and higher taxes are in use and much borrowing is being done. The advantages of borrowing money directly from the people are: (1) Every individual may have a chance to participate in our united effort (2) Each person thus has an opportunity for systematic saving for future years (3) Well-distributed holdings will serve as a safeguard for the entire country in the trying times that follow any war (4) The tendency for rising prices due to greater consumption will be curtailed somewhat by the saving of some of the increased national earnings.

The best way for students to help in the Defense Program is by purchasing Defense Stamps and Bonds. The buying of stamps may be thought of as buying bonds on the installment plan. Some of the reasons for buying stamps and bonds are summed up as follows: (1) Your investment is as safe as the United States Government (2) Your money will be put to work immediately to protect the freedom and safety of the United States. (3) The money you invest does double duty—it buys safety for yourself (4) The buying of stamps promotes the habit of saving.

Let's all show our patriotism by buying stamps and more stamps for "Every time you buy a stamp, you brighten the glow of freedom's lamp".—O. W.

February Calendar

Feb. 10—Basktball game here with North Branch.

Feb. 13—Student trip to basketball game at Lindstrom-Center City.

Feb. 20—Basketball game here with Chisago-City.

Feb. 22—Junior High program at 2:30.

Feb. 23—Stillwater exchange program at 3:00.

Feb. 24—Basketball game at Stillwater.

Two New Students Enter Seventh Grade

Two of the newest students in the junior high are Lola Trout and Doris Jones, who now raise the seventh grade attendance to 45.

Doris comes from Anoka, where she last went to school, while Lola went to Bryant Junior High in Minneapolis. They're both small, have dark brown hair and English in nationality. The things Lola likes better about Bryant than Forest Lake school are the swimming pool and cafeteria. The noon hour at Bryant was only 35 minutes long, while at Anoka it was an hour all year. Lola thinks the pupils are friendlier here, and they both like the teachers better.

For hobbies Lola collects odd bottles, while Doris is beginning a stamp collection. A few of Doris' favorites are skating, spaghetti, red, speling, Deanna Durbin and Clark Gable. Her spelling, Deanna Durbin and Clark Gable. Her Lola likes horseback riding, corn on the cob, maroon, English, Mary Martin and Spencer Tracy, while she is adverse to sweet potatoes, math and spelling. Lola's ambition is to be a stewardess.—J. H.

Boraas, Voelker, Speak to Biology Club on Rubber

Rubber, the most talked of product during our present war situation, was the subject of the Biology Club program at its last meeting.

Chairman on the program committee was Donald Voelker, who gave an interesting report on how rubber is secured from the trees and rubber plantations.

The curing of rubber, Roger Boraas' topic for the program, was explained very much in detail. He also told of possible sources for rubber. A few of these are petroleum, the Russian dandelion and many other plants.

A committee of Emmet Cartier, Gladys Mae Benson and John Nelson was appointed to prepare a program on "Evergreen Trees and Forests" for the next meeting.

Students To Be Sleepy On February Ninth

After February 9 Forest Lake may be called a sleepy town without hurting anyone's feelings. Daylight Saving Time will then go into effect and the new schedule will bring stories such as this:

With a noise like a hardware store falling down, the alarm clock goes off and startles the drowsy student into at least partial wakefulness. Grunting sleepily, he strangles the clamor of the repose-robbing time-piece. As he sets it back he glances at it and seeing the time exclaims something like this, "Why, I just put out the clock and wound the cat. It can't be eight o'clock already"!

He then rolls over and drowses off. When he just barely resumes his sleep, he is awakened by the shrill voice of his mother, "Get up this instant! Do you know it's eight-thirty"?

With this he jumps out of bed and dresses in frantic haste. If he lives in town, he grabs a sandwich as breakfast and heads for school striding as if he wore seven league boots. He arrives at school and rushes up the stairs, only to be warned by a teacher about obeying the traffic rules. He reaches his seat beating the buzzer by the skin of his teeth. He is soon lulled to sleep by the monotonous drone of the teacher's voice. His rest is short-lived for the lulling sound of the teacher's voice soon changes tone, and he is rudely awakened.

Oh, well, if you believe you have a hard time, think of others and you will change your mind. Remember no sacrifice is too great when it is an aid to our defense effort.—D. W.

Band and Chorus Prepare For Spring Festival

The band and chorus have now begun their work in preparation of the spring festival. No ratings are to be given to each school entering the festival this year, only criticisms and suggestions for improvements.

The mass band number will be "Hall of Fame" by Olivadoti. The individual numbers are as follows: Traveller—Butchel, Hosts of Freedom—King and Peace and Production—Pares.

The chorus numbers will be the 'Hiking Song" and "We Adore Thee, Lord God".

On February 13, the band will go on its last trip, when we play Center City-Lindstrom.-J. B.

The Fate of a Traffic Rule Violator

Time for the buzzer to ring!
To the villian this meant but one thing.
Up the stairs six steps at a time
Went the scourge of all whose life was sublime.

"Halt!" cried the student on duty,
Don, Walter, Phil, Marvin, Yehudi.
As along his way he speeded
The words of the officer went unheeded.

Now to the right, now to the left,
On he went with actions adept.
Crashing thru tackle, plunging thru center

Beating the buzzer by a second and a half,
He reached his seat and began to laugh
"I outfoxed those foolish fellows on duty, Especially that bossy one, Yehudi".

The villian laughed much too soon
For not very long after noon
He was summoned to court
And he paid heavily for his sport.

He received the sentence of memorizing
Those rules he had so long been despising.
Just because I've used the pronoun "he",
Don't think it couldn't have been "she".

Think twice before you run
You're only depriving yourself of fun.
So all you future offenders take note
Of the following rules. I quote:

1. Keep to the right in halls and stairs.
2. Walk—regardless of the time.
3. Single file up and down the stairs (except for fire and air raid emergencies).
4. Rushing and pushing is not tolerated.
5. Standing in groups near doors, fountains, and bulletin boards is prohibited.
6. Extended visiting between periods and dashing to class at the sound of the last buzzer is prohibited.
7. Respect traffic officers. They are serving you. They have the direct responsibility of student traffic and the authority to enforce these rules. They are your representatives and as such deserve your respect and obedience.

Pupils violating the traffic rules will be dealt with individually and necessary penalties inflicted.

Col. Nelson Emphasizes Trained Personnel

Necessity of having 'trained personnel" to win the war was emphasized by Lt. J. E. Nelson, State Director of Selective Service, today in a statement urging high school and college students to "devote themselves to their daily tasks as never before." To make their most effective contributions to winning the war, it was emphasized, it is urgent that students be better equipped.

"Such patriotic devotion to the tasks at hand will continue to keep us supplied with expert leadership, so necessary if this war is to be carried to a successful conclusion", the director stressed. "The plan of Selective Service is to call those men of ability for the various fields of services as they are needed and we sincerely hope that the cause will not be lost because of an insufficient supply of trained personnel."

"The defense of our lives, our homes, and our freedom is at stake", asserted Col. Nelson. "We must be calm, yet determined to go to work with renewed effort to fit ourselves to fill the ranks whereever and whenever our country needs us most. We must look to our educational institutions to furnish skill, research power, and intelligent leadership. For certain branches of the service, high school and college education is necessary.

"This war is not to be won by any one group of men alone, but by the united efforts of carpenters, mechanics, welders, chemists, mathematicians, draftsmen, doctors, nurses, seamen, firemen, air pilots, engineers, meteorologists, miners farmers, teachers, and transportation workers, as well as those who man the guns. This war will not be won by the side which can put the most men in the field, but by the side which can produce and deliver at the right time and place the most machines, invent new weapons to overcome the enemy, and furnish intelligent officers who will use the man power and machines where they will be most effective."

Col. Nelson recalled that young men enrolled in the secondary school and colleges at the beginning of World War No. 1 made a contribution to winning of that war "which will always stand as one of the glorious pages of American history."

"That their record will be equaled or even surpassed in the present conflict is apparent from the spirit of patriotism which is so evident in our secondary schools and colleges", he added. "It is eloquent testimony of the devotion of our youth to the American way of life. This splendid enthusiasm constitutes one of the nation's greatest resources and to be used most effectively should be directed wisely and purposefully".

It was pointed out that whereas men formerly went to war merely by taking down the shooting iron and "going to meet the enemy," modern warfare is "a very complex process and involves all of the finely coordinated tasks of civilian as well as military life." The war is being carried on in the shops, in the science laboratories, in hospitals, in battleships, in the air, and on the field.

IN SUMMARIZING HIS ADVICE TO THOSE IN THE EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS OF THE STATE, THE STATE DIRECTOR RECOMMENDED THAT STUDENTS CONTINUE THEIR STUDIES UTILIZING THE TIME TO FULL ADVANTAGE TO PREPARE THEMSELVES FOR THE MILITARY AND PRODUCTIVE TASKS OF THE NATION UNTIL THEY RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS FROM THEIR LOCAL BOARDS AS TO WHAT COURSE TO FOLLOW. THIS PRESCRIBED ROUTINE IS AN ORDERLY PROCEDURE WHICH DETERMINES THE PROPER TIME AT WHICH THE INDIVIDUAL WILL RESPOND TO THE CALL MADE UPON HIM AFTER HE HAS BEEN CLASSIFIED AND HIS STATUS DETERMINED

Rangers Win One Lose One Past Week

Saturday night the Rangers will travel to St. Paul to play a postponed game with the Macalaster Freshmen. The Mac Frosh are a tough team and they haven't lost a game this season. This game will be played at 6:30 with the main game between Macalaster and St. Mary's immediately following.

On Tuesday the Maroon and Gold will play a return match with the Vikings from North Branch. The Rangers will be seeking revenge because of a beating administered by the Vikings less than two weeks ago.

The Rangers dropped their third contest of the year to a scrappy North Branch team by 32-30 in a close contest on the Viking floor January 27. The lead changed a number of times until finally the Viking team pulled the game out of the fire for a victory. The Rangers had a poor night and Anderson with 7 points and Peterson with 8 points led the scoring for the Rangers with Windahl garnering 12 points for North Branch.

Last Friday the Rangers met a revamped, snappy, aggressive Mahtomedi team who almost pulled an upset on the favorite Maroon and Gold. The game opened as a one sided affair with the Rangers piling up a 22 to 8 advantage by halftime. The Rangers however relaxed their vigilance under the basket and scored only four points in the third quarter. With the score at 26-15, and in spite the Zephers massing 13 points to the Rangers 7 in the last quarter, the final score was chalked up for Forest Lake. High points men were Houle of Forest Lake with 15 points and B. Ryan of Mahtomedi with 14.—E. S.

Thirty Home Ec. Girls Take Part In Show

Last Tusday afternoon the Home Economics I and IV girls with the Mighty Ranger members gave a tea and style show in the auditorium.

The theme of the program as "Styles Now and Then". A pantamine entitled "Daisy Mae Scragg Comes to Town" headlined the events. Clothes made by the Home Economics IV girls were featured through-out the skit, while old fashioned garments were also modeled.

The 7th grade girls modeled aprons and hats made of kitchen utensils.

Dorothy Leutnner was pianist while Miss Longar supervised.

After the program refreshments were served.

The girls who took part are as follows: Ruth Olson, Ruth Rohner, Marlys Larson, Joyce Richardson, Margaret Jesperson, June Shelander, Ruth Johnson, Harriet Anderson, Mae Kroberger, Bonnie Baker, Florence Shosten, Betty Nelson, Ruth Hopkins, Hazel Anderson, Phyllis Larson, Betty Kunshier, Dolores Valenty, Elaine Alex, Olive Bellingham, Marilyn Houfer, Evelyn Dawson, Muriel Engquist, Elsie Hansen, Audrey Hauble, Shirley Jean Hegg, Katherine Holtzbauer, Marie Lee, Eleanor Osterbauer, Edith Parsons and June Proulx.—P. Debate Club Changes Question to Labor Unions

The Debate Club has changed their question about conscription to, Resolved: That the labor union is an answer to the need of the American working man.

Last Tuesday George Mitchell and Melvin Houle (affirmative)' and Wesley Tolberg and Franklin Williver (negative) debated, with Pat Tricola and Mr. Moede acting as judges. No definite decision was made.

Material for the new question was obtained by writing to: The Oliver Mining Company, Hibbing; Northern States Power Company, Minneapolis and the Federal Government in Washington, D. C.—P. T.

Junior High School Crier

★ INTERVIEWS

The Junior High Journalists interviewed two new seventh grade girls last Thursday. Lola Trout from Minneapolis' Bryant Junior High and Doris Jones from Anoka. One fact that they stressed was that they like the teachers very much.

★ LIKES

Tommy Lehecka and James Stokes certainly must like basketball. They even played with the girls during their phy. ed. class.

★ "HITLER"

Hitler is a funny guy
His jet black hair hangs o'er his eye.
His staring cruel, dark eyes,
Look like two beady horse flies.
His moustache is small and quaint
There is so little of it; it almost ain't.
His mind is queer; his head is big.
His actions are of a greedy pig.
His friends are few; his foes are plenty
He should have died in nineteen-twenty.
He's not short; he is not tall,
Soon will come his final fall.

★ DEFENSE STAMPS

I wonder where the Junior High is in buying Defense Stamps? It's a cinch they aren't on the top. Are we going to let the Senior High beat us? I should hope not! Come on! Buy.

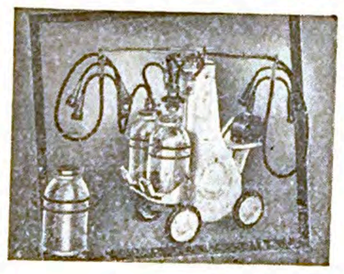

★ BATON TWIRLING

By reports from Marguerite Rainer the majorettes are getting new batons. Lets hope they can follow in Rozanne Smith's footsteps.

Reddy Says: "Here's where I really can save you some time!"

"Having orange juice for breakfast? That's swell, because Uncle Sam wants every one of us to get his vitamins. But let me do the hard work of juicing those oranges for you. Just get out your electric food mixer with the juicer attachment and plug it in. In a jiffy I'll have brimming glasses of golden orange juice for every member of the family. And almost no work for YOU. That's my job, you know . . . to save you work, and save you time which you can devote to your wartime activities. So put me to work, 'cause it's fun for me to make household tasks easier for you."

IS IT PATRIOTIC TO REMODEL BUILDINGS NOW?

— an authoritative statement on a much-debated subject!

Do you want to build or remodel now—but at the same time wonder whether you can without interfering with our war program? Then read this statement made by C. F. Palmer, Defense Housing Coordinator. "Remodeling is going to be a national need," says Mr. Palmer. "To save critical materials, we should renovate, repair and expand existing structures instead of building new ones We should insulate to save fuel and transportation, and build with fire-proof non-military materials. There are plenty of these. Their use at this time helps fill the gap in residential and factory space." Keep your property in shape, and help conserve national resources. Bring your remodeling problems to us. We have the materials—and the experience—that can save you time and money, too.

YOUR CAR — How to Get the MOST Out of It

By CODY HOEKSTRA, Your Chevrolet Dealer

TO CHANGE OR NOT TO CHANGE

Whether to change crankcase oil and if so how often are subjects of perennial argument among motorists. Under ideal conditions oil would last a long time, although tests indicate that even then it would in time get "tired" and not do as good a job. However, conditions are never ideal. Cars are driven fast, dust and dirt get in despite filters, water condenses and mixes with the oil, gasoline leaks past the cylinders, carbon is washed down.

All of these things accumulate rather slowly, but they do make it necessary to change oil at reasonably regular intervals.

Some things to keep in mind in connection with oil are:

A dirty filter is no better than none at all.

Heavier oil does not necessarily provide safer lubrication. Frequently, the reverse is nearer the truth. Engines today are built tighter and run faster. If oil is too heavy it will not readily flow between the closely fitted moving parts.

Don't forget to warm the engine before draining the crankcase. Cold oil is like cold molasses.

Don't worry if your car consumes a small amount of oil between changes. That's natural even with normal driving. No harm is being done even if the oil level is as much as a quart below the full mark.

The Senior Class Practices Marching

1—2—3—4—1—2, "Crash" get in step, 1—2—3—4—. All right Pat and Franklin start walking; not too fast now, you're president so you lead the class. Has everyone their partner now? All right, Don keep in step and go ahead. Heher (?) Furrer you go next. Okay—keep the line moving. Crash! ! March, not dance, and while I think of it throw your gum away—no. not under that bench, over there in the basket. Now where was I—yes, keep moving. No, Bud and Ruth, you can't march together and Ole and Fibber either. Well. that's pretty good—walk—together.—

My, how these kids have grown up (??). I remember them way back in the grade school. Dolores Valenty for instance, why I remember when she was in the first grade and the bangs she wore. She always had such angelic look on her face; my, how she's changed! I have to laugh every time I remember the time she got angry at Miss Hildahl in the seventh grade, one day, so she and a pal hid her glasses in the flower pot where she couldn't find them. Then there was the time George, Bud, Donald and a few others got together and planned for a whole week ahead of time—Yes, Mr. Moede? I do think they should change places, too.

All right—everyone quiet down a minute. Turn here where the "X" is and march to your seats. That worked out fairly good but we'll have to practice more. Everyone file out and begin all over again. All right, Don there's your cue. 1—2—3—4—. That's fine. Where's the other fourth of the class? Well, go get them! They know this is no time time to sneak out and play baseball, and least of all, on the grass! Get in line here.

Well it's getting better but there's still room for improvement. Do it over again. Yes, I know you're getting tired Elmstrom, but next period is study—your hour to sleep, so hang on a little more. Well, I shouldn't wonder your feet are tired Lorna, after all that dancing last night.

Well we've practiced marching enough for today—we'll begin on singing now. Oh! the bell—we'll have to practice tomorrow again. Everyone be here. All right, you're excused.

Excused from what? Didn't I tell you? Well—it's just the seniors practicing the processional and recessional for graduation. —L. H.

Ruth Hopkins Joins Ice Follies Troupe

June 1 will mean vacation to we students, but to Ruth Hopkins it will seem like an adventure when she will leave by train for San Francisco, California, to join the Shipstad-Johnson Ice Follies to prepare for the 1943 show.

It was a real surprise to Ruth when she went skating at the Arena in Minneapolis in March and was then chosen as an "Ice-

Skating will require a great deal of strenuous work and practice before the peak is reached. An everyday routine is to get up at 9:00 and skate until 3:00 in the afternoon. The evening show begins at 8:15 and runs until 11:15. Ballet dancing, various types of exercises, and some sport are required in the training.

The 1943 show will begin in Hollywood, California. From there it will move to such famous places as: Madison Square Garden, New York; Canada; Boston; Tulsa; Saint Louis: Chicago; Buffalo; Hershey; Baltimore; Springfield, Mass.; and in March of 1943, the troupe will perform in Minneapolis. Ruthie said she'll be looking for all of her Forest Lake frends then.

We all wish Ruthie the best of success in her skating and that ice skating may some day "bring her fame".—G. S.

Seniors Honored At Final School Dance!

Sweet strains of Rose O'Day, Miss You and other popular songs were floating through the air at the Legion Hall last Friday night. Now this wasn't a jam session in spite of the concoction of noise, music and laughter, but it was the last dance sponsored by the juniors for this school year.

Although the dance was in honor of the seniors, grades 10 and 11 were also invited.

Just as Commencement and Baccalaureate exercises bring to a close the school year so did this last junior sponsored dance bring to an end the social functions which were sponsored throughout the year. They have provided many hours of entertainment and will be remembered in the years to come by all who attended them. —E. A.

Don Waller Writes Farewell For Seniors

Tonight upon receiving our diplomas, the class of '42 will have reached the termination of its high school career.

The knowledge we have acquired will be of immeasurable value in living a more pleasant and complete life.

We shall long remember the faculty members who have so patiently guided us in our forward attempts.

The various activities engaged in such as basketball, football, band, chorus and baseball will long be remembered as some of the outstanding events of our high school days. The prom of our junior year and the senior high dances will also be long remembered.

Some of these memories are enjoyable but I am sure that most of them we shall long cherish.

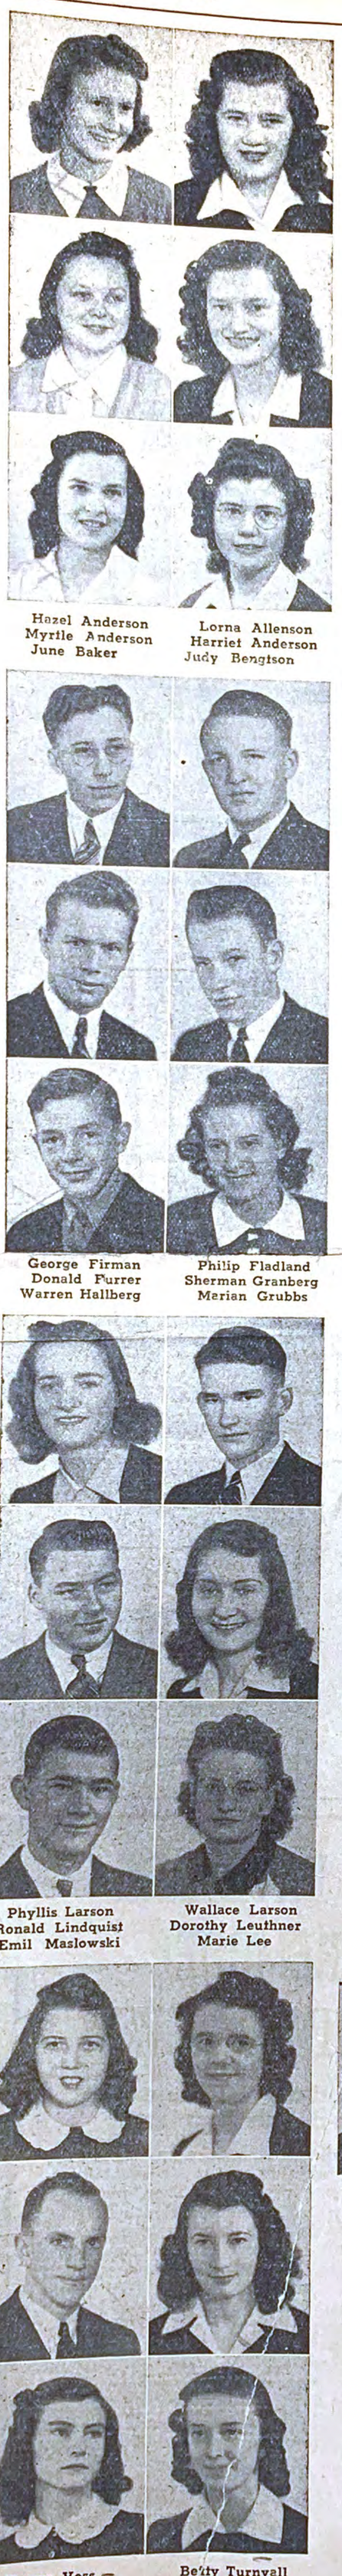

So, with this on behalf of the class of '42, I say farewell to the faculty members and to the students.—Donald Waller.

Manitoux Test Shows Six Positive Reactions

Only six students, out of the total of 114 who took the manitoux test, had positive reactions. The Xrays taken of these students proved negative.

The tests, which was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, cost $50.75. This money was secured through the Minnesota Public Health Association which received the money by the sale of Chrstmas Seals.

Mesdames Palmer Gilbertson and Archie Mattson served as nurses for the test.

Rustling Leaves

• FAREWELL SENIORS

The class of '42 is passing the goal mark out of school life into life's school. Twelve years ago we all started out with the world of book knowledge ahead of us. Step by step we learned the three r's and its attendants. First came junior high, then senior high and now we have reached the point where the Board of Education has decided that we are ready to emerge into a school where each will stand alone, not as a class, and go his separate way in his chosen field.

May the knowledge we have gleaned in the past be a staff on which to lean and our college be one of success and not hard knocks.

• A GRAND SUCCESS

The senior class thanks Mary Jane W., Anne T., Delores K., Delores., Lorna A., and Donna V. for the enjoyable time had at the party held at Weisser's last Thursday evening.

The time was spent in playing games and dancing after which a delighful lunch was served.

• ANOTHER SUCCESS

Was the dance given by the juniors in honor of the graduating class?

A large percentage of the students and a few of the faculty—Mr. and Mrs. Moede, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Robb—were present.

• CELEBRITIES ALL

"Will you sign my annual?" "I haven't a pen, let me use yours." Such are the expressions heard around the school these days. Yes, the annuals have come and there is the usual run on seniors for autographs. This year the juniors are also sharing in the mad rush. Here and there one may see a small group of students huddled around a desk waiting patiently for some personality to get through signing the books piled before him, while the individual is thanking his lucky stars that next year he won't be living in such a bedlam.

• POMP AND SLENDOR

Left, right; left, right; breathe the seniors as they march slowly up to the stage. From the auditorium the strains of Pomp and Circumstance ring out as the seniors rise and march slowly out. Once out the back door they began to rearrange their lines and do a repeat performance. Up the aisle they go, across the stage and back to their seats. It is marching practice for the class of '42 as they prepare themselves for Thursday night when they will give their last performance in high school dressed in the traditional gray cap and gown of F. L. H. S. graduates and hoping that of all the things they've done in their school years this will be the best.

• A WHAT?

A lady from the city was visiting on a farm and out of curiosity she decided to see really what a farm looks like.

Early the next morning, she arose and went out to the farm to watch the farmer feed his livestock.

"Oh, what a cute little calflette!" she exclaimed.

• BEHIND THE FOOTLIGHTS

In Hollywood the famous stars always have their helpers called stand-ins. These people do much of the work but little merit is given to them; the stars get all the glory and splendor.

Right here in F. L. H. S. we have such a similar person — Mary Jane Weisser. Whenever there is a program of singing or playing, Mary Jane can always be seen on hand ready to lend her helping hand. Much credit and appreciation is extended to you, Mary Jane, for the grand performances given throughout your school years.

HITS And RUNS

By BOB HOLL

Well, this will be the last writing I'll probably do at any time. Oh, I might write a letter every year or so, but I'll never again have the pleasure of writing for the Breeze.

It has been fun writing for the Breeze because there is so much to write about. Football, basketball, and then baseball. All these along with all those senior boys who took part in these sports, provided the material on which I could write.

Football: Alvin White. Clarence Huber, Don Furrer, Bob Elmstrom. Wallace Langdon, Richard McGee. Bob Holl and Rollin Houle.

Basketball: Rollin Houle. Bob Elmstrom, Fred Holmquist. Bob Holl, Richard McGee and Wallace Langdon.

Baseball: Fred Holmquist, Rollin Houle, Bob Elmstrom, Wally Langdon, Bob Holl and Warren Hallberg.

You will notice that many of the fellows took part in all three sports showing that they had all around athletic ability. The senior class put out a good outfit in scholastic rating too. There was not one fellow who was kept from playing because of ineligibility. That is a pretty good record.

I was told by all the fellows to thank Coach Von Wald for the wonderful things that he has done for us. Although we didn't always win, we learned many things that are going to help us later; for instance, spirit, team work, co-operating with the other fellow, fight and best of all, how to have a good time. I know all the boys have had a swell time under the leadership of our three coaches, Von Wald, Hammond and Mike.

Rangers Defeated In Seasons Final Game

The Rangers dropped their last game of the season to White Bear in the eighth inning. The 5-4 triumph for the Bears was the second this season over the Rangers.

Speckman, pitcher for the Bears, held the Rangers to five scattered hits and struck out eight men. Holmquist, the Ranger hurler, gave up eight hits and struck out six batters. This season was a great one for Fred as he struck out thirty-eight men in four contests.

Ty Jeans crossed the plate for the Ranger's first run in the first inning when he was driven home on a hit by his brother, Bill. The Rangers next run came in the fourth inning when Houle came home on a crack to the first basemen by Peterson. The fifth inning saw the awakening of White Bear when they showered a four barrage on the Rangers to go out in front. The Rangers however came back in the sixth and seventh innings with two runs to tie the score. The Rangers, however, only connected for one hit in the eighth and were unable to score while the Bears connected for three hits and managed to drive one run across on a close play.

Boys who have earned their letters this season in baseball are: Wenzel Croone, Fred Holmquist, Rollin Houle, Tyrus Jeans, Robert Holl, Wallace Langdon, Warren Hallberg, Bill Jeans, Don Peterson, Malcolm Morley, Harry Kuefler and Steve Tricola. Fred Holmquist was chosen captain.

Journalism Club Elects New Officers

Officers for the Journalism Club for the coming school term were elected Tuesday at their regular meeting.

Lois Jeanne Arndt was elected program chairman and Gloria Sanderude was named secretary.

The work of the program chairman is to arrange for guest speakers and interesting programs for the meetings. It is the duty of the secretary to take roll call and to count points.

Students who plan to belong to the club next year were present at the meeting. The editor explained the awards policy and the policies of the club. A writer is required to write 1,000 lines each year to receive an award. A bronze pin is given for the first year of work, a silver for the second and a gold pin for the third year.

The new members were asked to sign a sheet of paper designating what kind of writing they wished to do.

Anyone in the senior or junior high school who wishes to become a member but was unable to attend the meeting may speak to Billy Engler about joining. All new members will be welcome.—L. J. A.

Many Thanks—Advisers, Staff

Being named outstanding school-page in the local paper publication in Minnesota; being given All American rating by National Scholastic Press Association; the Breeze banquet; and many other outstanding events high-light the past year of journalistic endeavor at Forest Lake high school.

Doris, Billy, Alice Jeanne, and Pat

To Mrs. Earl Lellman and Mrs. Russell Hammond go many whole-hearted thanks for the splendid work they have done in advising the Breeze during the past year. It was they who proof-read all the copy and helped to prepare the dummies and headlines through the past thirty-six issues of the paper.

To Pat Tricola, assistant editor and secretary, and to Doris Pederson, program chairman, go many congratulations for the fine work they have done on the paper and in the Journalism Club.

To the Breeze staff as a whole, I wish to express utmost thanks for the splendid writing they have done during this past school term.

To Mr. Gilbertson and his Times staff go many thanks for the splendid work they have done in printing the paper. It is through their weekly efforts that the Breeze has won the honors that they have this past year.

To the administration as a whole, I wish to express my sincerest thanks in making this year's work on the Breeze a pleasure to me, as well as an honor.

Let us hope that in the coming year that the Breeze may again win honors and that again the publications of Forest Lake High School will prove one of the outstanding activities of the year.

Billy Engler, Editor

Forest Lake High School Students:

As postmaster of the local post office, I wish to thank you for your splendid cooperation in buying United States War Savings Stamps during the past school term.

The majority of you will be earning money this summer and there is no better place to invest than in your government. I hope that you will not forget that the stamps are on sale at the local post office during the summer months.

I also wish to express my thanks to Francis Plourde and the Student Council of the high school for their efforts in securing the stamps and selling them at the school.

Ben Heim, Postmaster

Roger Johnson Elected Senior Class President

Last Friday during home room period elections for next year's class officers were held. Last week the retiring officers of each class and the class advisers nominated candidates for president.

The following officers were elected:

Eighth Grade: Richard Hall, president; Dewey Campbell, vice president; Anne Hopkins, secretary; James Janssen, treasurer.

Seventh Grade: Mariella Weber, president; Marianne Rainer, vice president; Edward Weckerly, secretary; Genevieve Sederstrom, treasurer.—J. S.

Defense Stamp Total Reaches 620 Dollars

Last Tuesday the Student Council sponsored sale of United States War Savings Stamps ended with a total of $620.05! This sale of only five months has far exceeded the $500 goal set by the council. The sale last Tuesday of $23.90 brought the average sale for each of the 600 pupils in the grades and high school to $1.03.

Many thanks should go to Mr. Plourde who started the project as well as to Joyce McGowan, Betty Lou Weisser, Donald Waller, Phil Fladland and Franklin Williver who have all given time and effort to the sale.

The Student Council wishes to thank all of the students who have cooperated in making the sale a success. However, everyone must remember to keep on doing his part by buying all the stamps he can at the post office.—D. W.

What We're Leaving Behind

We, the senior class of '42, in order to establish a more perfect union, do bequeath in our last will and testament the following:

Lonna Allenson leaves her diet to Melba Sahlin.

Robert Cartier leaves behind Naoma Graton.

Ronny Lindquist leaves his ? ? ? to Norman Meister.

Ruth Hopkins leaves her skates for Alice Jeanne McGee.

Betty Erickson leaves "Beer".

Rollin Houle leaves his basketball suit to Donald Peterson.

Donna Voss leaves her tardy slips to Marie Winnick.

Mary Jane Weisser leaves her brains to Franklin Williver.

Donald Furrer wants to keep everything.

Warren Hallberg leaves his science ability to Melvin Houle.

Anne Tricola leaves the classrooms quiet.

Dolores Valenty leaves a pair of slacks to Hazel Gray.

Bob Elmstrom leaves with Eleanor Edquist.

Richard McGee leaves for Washington.

Dorothy leaves her Song Hit Books to Aileen Morrissey.

Bob Holl leaves his "pony" to the Latin I students.

Betty Kunshier leaves her jokes to Gladys.

Julia Berglund leaves her appendix to the Biology class.

Optomistic Ideas For The Future

The scene of this story is laid in the banquet room of the Lakeside Hotel in Forest Lake, Minnesota. As one looks in upon the room he sees a group of faces which show that they have carried the brunt of hard work, but which still have an eagerness about them for more and better work. It is the first reunion of the class of '42. At the head table acting as toastmaster is Donald Waller, formerly senior class president. He adjusts his tie, takes a deep breath and commences to speak—

"Fellow classmates—the last time we were all together was on the eve of our commencement on May 28, 1942. Twelve years have passed since that time. Twelve years of war, hardship, hard work and strife. Those twelve years have taken their toll amongst us for many of our classmates have fallen on the field of battle; have been the victims of a war which it is our duty to prevent. We must work for peace and love, unity and brotherhood, not only in our land, but for the lands across the seas which now lie davastated.

You, my classmates, have helped to win this war by sacrifices and courage and now you are going back to a normal life. You are once again doing the things you wanted to do in 1942, but which a war has prevented. And now I am going to call upon Lorraine Spescha to tell you what the members of our classes are doing at present. Some of those things they wanted to do in 1942—Miss Spescha"—

Lorraine Spescha is a small solemn looking woman. Her once black hair is streaked with grey and her brown eyes look weary, but she smiles as she says, "Mr. Waller, I see that your friendly rival, Mr. Fladland has won the hand of Joyce Richardson and that you are beginning to resign yourself to the idea of being a bachelor. I certainly hope that the army has taught you enough about cooking.

Looking over this group I see many girls are now in the commercial field. Some of them are: Betty Turnyall, Evelyn Palmer, Margie Matheson, Phyllis Larson, June Baker, Lorna Allenson, DeLores Ekegren, Harriet Anderson, Ruth Olson, Florence, Florence Shosten, Yvonne Heisler, Hazel Anderson and Betty Erickson. There are several members of the aeronautical field here including Wally Langdon and Bob Holl. There is a famous designer in the person of Myrtle Anderson. Her dresses are an exclusive feature of the dress shop operated by Luella Carpenter.

The hospitals have interested many of our former students such as Marion Grubbs, Eleanor Edquist, Betty Kunshier, Rollin Houle, Dolores Kuefler and Betty Nelson. Ruthie Hopkins is now starring in the new ice show which opened in Madison Square last month. Anne Tricola is at present co-starring with Emil Maslowski in a new picture produced by Alvin White. Fred Holmquist and Warren Hallberg are working on a new plastic formula and I believe David Johnson has just perfected a new type of television radio. A little while ago I was talking to George Firman who told me all about the adventure he and Don Furrer have been having in the African jungles.

Our class has produced a lot of housekeepers lately. Some of them are Marilyn Houfer, June Proulx, Margaret Jesperson, and Marie Lee. Two little girls still serving as army hostesses are Dolores Valenty and Donna Voss, but they'll soon be through and back home. Someone has brought to my attention the fact that the Cartier twins, Richard and Robert, are professors of agriculture at the U. of M. and that Richard Dahlin is an assistant there. While I was in New York last month I took in many sights and visited many places of interest. In one of New York's largest libraries I saw Doris Pederson sitting at her librarian's desk. After a while we shall hear short talks by Richard McGee, football coach of N. Y. U. and Walter Berglund, the Fuller Brush Company's outstanding salesman for this year. After that we shall hear several songs by Donna Carlson of the Metropolitan Opera who will be accompanied by Mary Jane Weisser, noted concert pianist. Later there will be dancing to the music of Ronnie Lindquist and his Muscal Magicians featuring Dorothy Leuthner as vocallst. We certainly hope that you enjoy yourself and that you see many old friends tonight.

Commencement Tonight At 8:15

This evening at 8:15 the seniors will meet in a body for the last time at graduation exercises.

Mr. A. L. Olson, of the St. Paul Union Stockyards will give the main address, " A Graduate's Obligation to Society".

The invocation will be given by Rev. Thomas Gibbons.

Mary Jane Weisser, valedictorian, and Florence Shosten, salutorian, will give addresses titled "Post-War Reconstruction" and "Our Victory", respectively.

A senior girls' ensemble and the senior class as a body will present music.

Alumni greetings will be extended by Mrs. Richard Valenty.

The Legion Auxiliary awards will be presented by Attorney Rollin G. Johnson, representative of the American Legion Post 225.

The diplomas will be given to the seniors by Mr. James T. Elwell, Jr., President of the Board of Education.

The processional and recessional will be lead by Franklin Williver and Pat Tricola,, president of the junior class respectively. Mr. Carrol Johnson will play the accompainment.

Students Receive New, Bigger and Better Annuals

Last Monday the bi-annual was distributed to the students. This book was published by the class of '42 and the class of '43. The book cover is made of rust linen with the Forester printed across it in large, brown letters. As you open the book a page has been set aside to the printing of the school song, Forest Lake Loyalty. A large picture of the high school occupies another page with a list of the annual staff printed below it. A dedication page was set aside to Mr. Kuefler for his fine cooperation with the students and the building up of a high standard school. This picture was also placed here.

As we look farther into the book we find the picture and write-ups of the administration.

This year's book has a different arrangement than ever before. It is arranged according to seasons such as Fall, Winter and Spring. Let's take a peek into the Fall section. Here we find the pictures of the Freshman class, the sophomore class and three pages of football pictures and write-ups of the individual participants. Next shown is the junior cast from the play "The Late Christopher Bean." To fulfill the fall section is a snapshot page of fall scenes taken of various members at school.

Presenting the winter scenes division! Here are pictures of the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, who will some day "carry-on" for F. L. H. S. The basketball squad, coach and assistant coach have individual pictures and write-ups telling various, specific statements about their qualities on the team. Then a picture of the whole fleet is shown with a big write-up of the games of the year. Various clubs are shown next such as M. R., Debate, F. F. A., G. A. A., Noon Hour Activities, Cheerleaders, Declamation Contest, Student Council, Junior Scholastic Club, Journalism Club, S. O. S., and the Biology Club. We then look upon another winter snapshot page.

Junior High School Crier

• PARTING

Some people surely are lucky. Did I say lucky? It must be a typographical error—at least that's what Steve Tricola thinks. On the treasure hunt at the Freshman party, Steve had a wonderful time sprawling in the mud. His reward was wading in Clear Lake to get cleaned off.

• MORE ON THE FRESHMEN

The "womanless" wedding presented at their party was really a ceremony to behold. I'll try to recapture some of its splendor.

To the stains of "The Prisoner's Song, bridesmaids Mickey Jeans and Robert Backlund departed on their long journey down the green pathway of Peterson's pasture. They were garbed in beautiful floor length gowns of the latest fashion. Following them came tripping the three young flower girls, Stanley Saxe, Bill Campbell, and Edward White.

The bride, Stanley Richards, wore a lovely white nightie of bleached muslin with tiny blue bows to fulfill the rhyme "Something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue".

The groom, Alfred Bakeberg, wore a suit of tan and black. The happy couple were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. Zane Johnson and descended into happily married life to the inspiring strains of "I Wish I was Single Again". Accompanist was Lois Abrahamson.

• FRESHMEN BID ADIEU

We can leave something, too, to the Junior High:

Morris Osterbauer leaves his brains to Jeannette Houle.

Birdie Johnson succumbs her vitality to Phyllis Ellerman.

Harvey Lindgren leaves his seat and ? ? to Wally Houle.

Doris, Billy, Alice Jeanne, and Pat

To Mrs. Earl Lellman and Mrs. Russell Hammond go many whole-hearted thanks for the splendid work they have done in advising the Breeze during the past year. It was they who proof-read all the copy and helped to prepare the dummies and headlines through the past thirty-six issues of the paper.

To Pat Tricola, assistant editor and secretary, and to Doris Pederson, program chairman, go many congratulations for the fine work they have done on the paper and in the Journalism Club.

To the Breeze staff as a whole, I wish to express utmost thanks for the splendid writing they have done during this past school term.

To Mr. Gilbertson and his Times staff go many thanks for the splendid work they have done in printing the paper. It is through their weekly efforts that the Breeze has won the honors that they have this past year.

To the administration as a whole, I wish to express my sincerest thanks in making this year's work on the Breeze a pleasure to me, as well as an honor.

Let us hope that in the coming year that the Breeze may again win honors and that again the publications of Forest Lake High School will prove one of the outstanding activities of the year.

Billy Engler, Editor

Forest Lake High School Students:

As postmaster of the local post office, I wish to thank you for your splendid cooperation in buying United States War Savings Stamps during the past school term.

The majority of you will be earning money this summer and there is no better place to invest than in your government. I hope that you will not forget that the stamps are on sale at the local post office during the summer months.

I also wish to express my thanks to Francis Plourde and the Student Council of the high school for their efforts in securing the stamps and selling them at the school.

Ben Heim, Postmaster

Roger Johnson Elected Senior Class President

Last Friday during home room period elections for next year's class officers were held. Last week the retiring officers of each class and the class advisers nominated candidates for president.

The following officers were elected:

Eighth Grade: Richard Hall, president; Dewey Campbell, vice president; Anne Hopkins, secretary; James Janssen, treasurer.

Seventh Grade: Mariella Weber, president; Marianne Rainer, vice president; Edward Weckerly, secretary; Genevieve Sederstrom, treasurer.—J. S.

Defense Stamp Total Reaches 620 Dollars

Last Tuesday the Student Council sponsored-sale of United States War Savings Stamps ended with a total of $620.05! This sale of only five months has far exceeded the $500 goal set by the council. The sale last Tuesday of $23.90 brought the average sale for each of the 600 pupils in the grades and high school to $1.03.

Many thanks should go to Mr. Plourde who started the project as well as to Joyce McGowan, Betty Lou Weisser, Donald Waller, Phil Fladland and Franklin Williver who have all given time and effort to the sale.

The Student Council wishes to thank all of the students who have cooperated in making the sale a success. However, everyone must remember to keep on doing his part by buying all the stamps he can at the post office.—D. W.

What We're Leaving Behind

We, the senior class of '42, in order to establish a more perfect union, do bequeath in our last will and testament the following:

Lonna Allenson leaves her diet to Melba Sahlin.

Robert Cartier leaves behind Naoma Graton.

Ronny Lindquist leaves his ? ? ? to Norman Meister.

Ruth Hopkins leaves her skates for Alice Jeanne McGee.

Betty Erickson leaves "Beer".

Rollin Houle leaves his basketball suit to Donald Peterson.

Donna Voss leaves her tardy slips to Marie Winnick.

Mary Jane Weisser leaves her brains to Franklin Williver.

Donald Furrer wants to keep everything.

Warren Hallberg leaves his science ability to Melvin Houle.

Anne Tricola leaves the classrooms quiet.

Dolores Valenty leaves a pair of slacks to Hazel Gray.

Bob Elmstrom leaves with Eleanor Edquist.

Richard McGee leaves for Washington.

Dorothy leaves her Song Hit Books to Aileen Morrissey.

Bob Holl leaves his "pony" to the Latin I students.

Betty Kunshier leaves her jokes to Gladys.

Julia Berglund leaves her appendix to the Biology class.

Optomistic Ideas For The Future

The scene of this story is laid in the banquet room of the Lakeside Hotel in Forest Lake, Minnesota. As one looks in upon the room he sees a group of faces which show that they have carried the brunt of hard work, but which still have an eagerness about them for more and better work. It is the first reunion of the class of '42. At the head table acting as toastmaster is Donald Waller, formerly senior class president. He adjusts his tie, takes a deep breath and commences to speak—

"Fellow classmates—the last time we were all together was on the eve of our commencement on May 28, 1942. Twelve years have passed since that time. Twelve years of war, hardship, hard work and strife. Those twelve years have taken their toll amongst us for many of our classmates have fallen on the field of battle; have been the victims of a war which it is our duty to prevent. We must work for peace and love, unity and brotherhood, not only in our land, but for the lands across the seas which now lie davastated.

You, my classmates, have helped to win this war by sacrifices and courage and now you are going back to a normal life. You are once again doing the things you wanted to do in 1942, but which a war has prevented. And now I am going to call upon Lorraine Spescha to tell you what the members of our classes are doing at present. Some of those things they wanted to do in 1942—Miss Spescha"—

Lorraine Spescha is a small solemn looking woman. Her once black hair is streaked with grey and her brown eyes look weary, but she smiles as she says, "Mr. Waller, I see that your friendly rival, Mr. Fladland has won the hand of Joyce Richardson and that you are beginning to resign yourself to the idea of being a bachelor. I certainly hope that the army has taught you enough about cooking.

Looking over this group I see many girls are now in the commercial field. Some of them are: Betty Turnvall, Evelyn Palmer, Margie Matheson, Phyllis Larson, June Baker, Lorna Allenson, DeLores Ekegren, Harriet Anderson, Ruth Olson, Florence, Florence Shosten, Yvonne Heisler, Hazel Anderson and Betty Erickson. There are several members of the aeronautical field here including Wally Langdon and Bob Holl. There is a famous designer in the person of Myrtle Anderson. Her dresses are an exclusive feature of the dress shop operated by Luella Carpenter.

The hospitals have interested many of our former students such as Marion Grubbs, Eleanor Edquist, Betty Kunshier, Rollin Houle, Dolores Kuefler and Betty Nelson. Ruthie Hopkins is now starring in the new ice show which opened in Madison Square last month. Anne Tricola is at present co-starring with Emil Maslowski in a new picture produced by Alvin White. Fred Holmquist and Warren Hallberg are working on a new plastic formula and I believe David Johnson has just perfected a new type of television radio. A little while ago I was talking to George Firman who told me all about the adventure he and Don Furrer have been having in the African jungles.

Our class has produced a lot of housekeepers lately. Some of them are Marilyn Houfer, June Proulx, Margaret Jesperson, and Marie Lee. Two little girls still serving as army hostesses are Dolores Valenty and Donna Voss, but they'll soon be through and back home. Someone has brought to my attention the fact that the Cartier twins, Richard and Robert, are professors of agriculture at the U. of M. and that Richard Dahlin is an assistant there. While I was in New York last month I took in many sights and visited many places of interest. In one of New York's largest libraries I saw Doris Pederson sitting at her librarian's desk. After a while we shall hear short talks by Richard McGee, football coach of N. Y. U. and Walter Berglund, the Fuller Brush Company's outstanding salesman for this year. After that we shall hear several songs by Donna Carlson of the Metropolitan Opera who will be accompanied by Mary Jane Weisser, noted concert pianist. Later there will be dancing to the music of Ronnie Lindquist and his Muscal Magicians featuring Dorothy Leuthner as vocallst. We certainly hope that you enjoy yourself and that you see many old friends tonight.

Commencement Tonight At 8:15

This evening at 8:15 the seniors will meet in a body for the last time at graduation exercises.

Mr. A. L. Olson, of the St. Paul Union Stockyards will give the main address, " A Graduate's Obligation to Society".

The invocation will be given by Rev. Thomas Gibbons.

Mary Jane Weisser, valedictorian, and Florence Shosten, salutorian, will give addresses titled "Post-War Reconstruction" and "Our Victory", respectively.

A senior girls' ensemble and the senior class as a body will present music.

Alumni greetings will be extended by Mrs. Richard Valenty.

The Legion Auxiliary awards will be presented by Attorney Rollin G. Johnson, representative of the American Legion Post 225.

The diplomas will be given to the seniors by Mr. James T. Elwell, Jr., President of the Board of Education.

The processional and recessional will be lead by Franklin Williver and Pat Tricola, president of the junior class respectively. Mr. Carrol Johnson will play the accompainment.

Students Receive New, Bigger and Better Annuals

Last Monday the bi-annual was distributed to the students. This book was published by the class of '42 and the class of '43. The book cover is made of rust linen with the Forester printed across it in large, brown letters. As you open the book a page has been set aside to the printing of the school song, Forest Lake Loyalty. A large picture of the high school occupies another page with a list of the annual staff printed below it. A dedication page was set aside to Mr. Kuefler for his fine cooperation with the students and the building up of a high standard school. This picture was also placed here.

As we look farther into the book we find the picture and write-ups of the administration.

This year's book has a different arrangement than ever before. It is arranged according to seasons such as Fall, Winter and Spring. Let's take a peek into the Fall section. Here we find the pictures of the Freshman class, the sophomore class, and three pages of football pictures and write-ups of the individual participants. Next shown is the junior cast from the play "The Late Christopher Bean." To fulfill the fall section is a snapshot page of fall scenes taken of various members at school.

Presenting the winter scenes division! Here are pictures of the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, who will some day "carry-on" for F. L. H. S. The basketball squad, coach and assistant coach have individual pictures and write-ups telling various, specific statements about their qualities on the team. Then a picture of the whole fleet is shown with a big write-up of the games of the year. Various clubs are shown next such as M. R., Debate, F. F. A., G. A. A., Noon Hour Activities, Cheerleaders, Declamation Contest, Student Council, Junior Scholastic Club, Journalism Club, S. O. S., and the Biology Club. We then look upon another winter snapshot page.

Junior High School Crier

• PARTING

Some people surely are lucky. Did I say lucky? It must be a typographical error—at least that's what Steve Tricola thinks. On the treasure hunt at the Freshman party, Steve had a wonderful time sprawling in the mud. His reward was wading in Clear Lake to get cleaned off.

• MORE ON THE FRESHMEN

The "womanless" wedding presented at their party was really a ceremony to behold. I'll try to recapture some of its splendor.

To the stains of "The Prisoner's Song, bridesmaids Mickey Jeans and Robert Backlund departed on their long journey down the green pathway of Peterson's pasture. They were garbed in beautiful floor length gowns of the latest fashion. Following them came tripping the three young flower girls, Stanley Saxe, Bill Campbell, and Edward White.

The bride, Stanley Richards, wore a lovely white nightie of bleached muslin with tiny blue bows to fulfill the rhyme "Something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue".

The groom, Alfred Bakeberg, wore a suit of tan and black. The happy couple were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. Zane Johnson and descended into happily married life to the inspiring strains of "I Wish I was Single Again". Accompanist was Lois Abrahamson.

• FRESHMEN BID ADIEU

We can leave something, too, to the Junior High:

Morris Osterbauer leaves his brains to Jeannette Houle.

Birdie Johnson succumbs her vitality to Phyllis Ellerman.

Harvey Lindgren leaves his seat and ? ? to Wally Houle.

Jackie Weisser and Norma Jean Graves leave their cheer-leading ability to June Houle.

Rustling Leaves

Once again the joys and pains of writing this column are given to a guest writer. This time Louise Crete, our columnist of last year is doing us the honor.

It seems strange to be back in old haunts again trying to rack by brains out for something of interest, but since this is a school with so many active students who are always doing strange things there must be something to talk about—ah, yes, here's a little item called

• TWEET—TWEET

By now all our songbirds have come up from the south and settled in their cozy little homes of twigs and grass. But where, oh where did that study hall canary make its nest? On first observing its song it sounded like a fife in the back of the room, then the piccolo solo in "Stars and Stripes" coming from the middle of the room, and the last we heard of it was on the third floor hall where it was doing one of its own original melodies.

• SIDELIGHTS ON JUNIOR PARTY

Hilarious replicas of the costumes worn by the early lumberjacks were the garbs donned by members of the junior class for their class party. Outstanding little number was the costume worn by Mr. Robb who was rigged out in a lumberjack's cap, plaid shirt and mackinaw, and rolled-up breeches. One experience which few juniors will ever forget was that of eating beans with a knife. Paul Bunyan would certainly have felt at home had he been a guest there.

• ATTENDANCE RECORD

Is that held by Lorraine Spescha. In the four years in which she has gone to school here Lorraine has missed but one day of school and that only because the school bus failed to come. She takes pride in the fact that she has never had a make up blank. Congratulations, Lorraine, yours is a record worth striving for.

• TIMELY CALCULATIONS

Next Thursday is the final school day for some 600 students in our school and although many are looking forward to it with anxiety it really isn't so long when one comes down to earth about it. There are six actual school days or forty two hours. Going a little farther we find that there remain 2,520 minutes or 151,200 seconds to be spent in the classrooms. So cross your fingers and start counting.

• SENIORS TREK TO ANOKA

Tomorrow is senior day and although the halls of F. L. H. S. will be amazingly quiet, we should like to send a warning to the citizenry of Anoka and to inmates of the insane asylum in that city, for it is there that the senior class plans to spend their day. And one wonders how many will escape from the little man in the white coat.

Last Friday while discussing the matter, Mr. Johnson said that the Rum river runs through Anoka and goodness—how the faces of some little boys lit up.

Rangers Win Second From Chisago City

Paced by Holmquist's one-hit pitching the Rangers swamped the Chisago City nine 7-0. This is the second game that the Rangers have won from the Maroons.

The Ranger's first score came in the second inning when Langdon rapped out a single with one aboard. The Rangers had only started however, for in the next inning they collected five more runs. Ty Jeans led off with a single and Holl drew a walk. Houle clouted a double driving in Jeans and moving Holl to third. Billy Jeans connected for an infield single and drove Holl and Houle home. Peterson got on base on a fielder's choice while Bill Jeans was tagged out between third and home. Holmquist made it to first by virtue of a walk. Croone drove in Peterson when he hit the ball and it was dropped by Chisago. Holmquist was caught off first and tagged out. Langdon hit a hard single into left field and drove in Croone. The next man up struck out, retiring the side.

The Rangers collected their last run in the fourth inning when Ty Jeans got on base and was driven home on a single by his brother, Bill. Chisago's only hit came in the second inning on a single by Bergerson. Holmquist struck out 11 Chisago batters and walked none.

The last game of the season will be played at White Bear on their field today.

Office Issues Approximately 2,000 Blanks Per Year

"Greenbacks" by the hundreds on file in Mr. Plourde's office!! Now don't all rush in there in hope of finding dollar bills as the reference s made to make-up blanks only.

If it were not for the fact that this article has to be in by Friday I would have spent my spare hours in counting the make-up blanks that were issued this past school year but "time waits for no man" and it would take time to do such a task.

Although the accurate number is not known there are at least 2,000 blanks on file. We arrived at this figure by taking the number of school days (about 200) and multitplying that by the average number of blanks issued in one day. Probably 10 blanks a day is too little (how about in cold weather??) but this will give you a rough idea of all the writing Mr. Plourde and Muriel have to do every morning between eight and nine a. m.

Remember this total is not accurate but if you are really curious to know the true figures and if you have the time and ambition you may go to the office and count the number of "green-backs" that are now "out of circulation."

Council Conducts Ads Survey

The Student Council has conducted a survey of some of the leading library periodicals for the purpose of studying the extent of advertising devoted to alcohol and tobacco. The four popular periodicals chosen for investigation were Life, Newsweek, New Yorker and Time.

This investigation was conducted over a period of three months and the approximate amount of space, average location and color were determined.

The New Yorker had about eight full page covers devoted to tobacco and 19 to alcohol. It ran about 20 tobacco ads and 160 alcohol ads all of approximately one half page each. The average page size of tobacco and alcohol ads were seven tenths and six tenths pages, respectively. About 82 per cent of the tobacco ads and 60 per cent of the alcohol ads were colored.

The Time devoted about 80 full page covers to alcohol and seven to tobacco while the inside ads of one-half page size had 17 for tobacco and 112 for alcohol. The average size of both ads was from four to five tenths page. 81 per cent of the tobacco ads and 47 per cent of alcohol ads were colored.

The "Life" had nine tobacco and four alcohol cover pages while the inside ads of the "Life" had 42 tobacco and 152 alcohol ads. The average size of both ads was seventh tenths page. 40 per cent of the tobacco ads and 43 per cent of the alcohol ads were colored.

The Newsweek tobacco and alcohol ads had about three and eleven on full page cover ads, respectively, and the tobacco had three ads of one half page size inside while the alcohol ads had 29. The average page size of ads devoted to tobacco and alcohol were four tenths and eight tenths, respectively. 62 per cent of tobacco ads and 71 per cent of alcohol ads were colored.

Of these four periodicals, Newsweek carried the least advertising for these products while the New Yorker had the most advertising of alcohol and Life had the most advertising for tobacco.—G. A. W.

Baccalaureate On Sunday, May 24

Sunday evening, May 24, at 8:15 p. m. the senior class of Forest Lake high school will assemble at Baccalaureate to receive special spiritual inspiration and advice.

The Reverend Oscar Lund will be the guest speaker and his address will be titled "If".

The Senior High School Chorus will sing two songs, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach and "Oh, Gladsom Light" by Bartniansky. Donna Carlson will sing a vocal solo.

The audience will sing "Come Thou Almighty King" and "Holy, Holy, Holy." Invocation will be given by Father Thomas Gibbons. A senior girls chorus will sing "In Yonder Meadow" and "The Years at the Spring." Mr. Carroll Johnson will play the processional and the recessional.

One week from tonight sixty-one seniors will receive their diplomas. The valedictor and the salutatory addresses will be given by Mary Jane Weisser and Florence Shosten, respectively.

Presidential Nominees For Election Tomorrow

Last Friday, May 15, presidential nominees were elected for next year's classes. The five retiring class officers and the two class advisors for each grade, met and decided on the candidates.

Three members from each class were chosen and on Friday, May 22, the entire class will vote for president and also for the other three offices which are vice-president, secretary and treasurer. If the class wishes to have one or two more candidates they may do so by a petition with the majority of the class's signatures. All nominees must be doing passing work in at least four solid subjects in order to qualify for presidency.

Senior class: Roger Johnson, George Mitchell, and Lois Jeanne Arndt.

Freshman class: Phyllis Ellerman, Godfrey Vacura and June Sanderude.

Eighth grade: Evelyn Rosckes, Richard Hall, and Dean McGowan.

Junior "Lumberjack" Party Provides Entertainment

Dancing, relays, tug of war and nail pounding were the chief methods of entertainment at the junior class "Lumberjack" party last Friday evening. Boys and girls were required to dress in lumberjack style.

The refreshments also carried out the theme, with such foods as beans, cheese sandwiches, fruit salad, pickles, cake and punch.

A fireplace on which huge stockings and "red flannels" were drying supplied the decorations and chunks of wood were used as chairs.

The following chairmen of the various committees were responsible for the success of the party. Melba Sahlin, refreshments; Alice Jeanne McGee, program; and Gloria Sanderude, decorations.—L. J. A.

NOTICE

Senior Class Day, scheduled for Friday, May 22, will not be held this year.

The school received an official order from the Tire Rationing Board that buses cannot be used for any student trips.

The seniors, however, will be given Friday off. The school will not sponsor any event or picnic for them.

Forest Lake Exchanges Program With Stillwater

An exchange program was presented last week to the students of the Stillwater High School by a group of Forest Lake students.

The program presented was as follows:

Piano Duet, "Deep Purple"...Mary Jane Weisser and Delores Kuefler
"Brotherly Love" ..... Ethel Jane Christenson
Boys Quartette ..... Roger Johnson, David Engquist, Roger Boraas and Fred Holmquist.
Flute Solo ..... Lois Jeanne Arndt
Vocal Solos, "She'll Always Remember, and "Everything I Love" .... Gloria Sanderude
"Johnny Takes A Trip" ..... Alice Richards
Piano Duet, Piano Concerto....Delores Kuefler and Mary Jane Weisser

Mr. Moede received many congratulations on the fine program that was presented.—L. J. A

Stamp Sale Increases Over 60 Dollars Past Week

Last Monday the sale of United States War Savings Stamps by the Student Council totaled $570.45. This increase of $60.35 is almost three times the previous week's sale.

The new total has raised the per capita purchase to ninety-five cents. Let's all invest in freedom and make the average sale per pupil one dollar.—D. W.

Boys Build Model Planes for Navy Practice

Model airplanes ranging from 4 inches to 22 inches in wing span are being built by the industrial arts classes for the Navy. These planes will be used for gunnery practice and when they are placed at a distance of 35 feet from the gun they will appear as if they are a half mile away.

Vernon Loren is making the largest plane that Forest Lake has in its quota. It will have a wing span of 22 inches.

After the planes are finished, Mr. Hammond, the local instructor, has plans of obtaining a down town window and putting the finished airplanes on display.

Many of the schools in this area are not meeting their quota. Forest Lake will meet their quota of 50 planes by the first of June.

Student Council Guests At Annual Luncheon

The annual Student Council luncheon was held last Wednesday noon in the home economics room. The luncheon was prepared by Miss Longar and students from the home economics classes.

Those present at the banquet were Donald Waller, Dorothy Leuthner, Phillip Fladland, Billy Engler, Marvin Weber, Franklin Williver, Dolores Paul, Joyce McGowan, Betty Lou Weisser, LeRoy Carlson, Gerald Holmquist, Milton Jeans, Phyllis Johnson, Kenneth Houle, Ambrose Baltes, Mr. Plourde, Mr. Kuefler, Miss Booren, Mr. Dorgan and Miss Longar.

School May Conduct Summer Classes

During the coming summer months ,the Forest Lake Board of Education is anxious to provide every possible opportunity for all in or out of school boys and girls, men and women, to better prepare for many exacting vocations or entrance requirements into higher institutions of learning.

These courses will be primarily for persons with a genuine interest. The offerings this summer might be for a limited time in such felds as higher mathematics, industrial arts, sciences, commerce, agriculture, music, physical fitness and recreation. Whether any credits can be earned depends on regulations, interest, need, achievement and time.

Naturally, the studies which are to be provided will depend on the demand and availability of instructional staff and facilities.

Persons who are interested in taking a course, or courses, this summer are urged to contact Mr. Kuefler at his office at the school.

The majority of the courses offered pertain to pre-aviation. The school has secured many books pertaining to pre-aviation and it is hoped that, in the coming school year, that pre-aviation courses may be included in other class work.

Citizens Plan For Active Athletic Program

The recreation program for Forest Lake is going to be changed this year to a more vigorous exercise than in former years.

Mr. Richie Peterson is chairman of the committee. Other committee members are: Mrs. Irma Wilson, Mr. Raymond Holl, Mr. P. H. Stack, Mr. Wally Frederickson, Mrs. Myrtle Weisser, Dr. G. M. Ruggles, Mrs. Amelia Johnson, Mr. Palmer Gilbertson, Mr. Kenneth Von Wald and Mr. B. C. Kuefler.

The facilities will be used. Some of the activities that will be played are: archery, baseball, volley ball, softball, bowling, drill, boxing, wrestling and tumbling.

Mrs. Frank Weisser, Mr. Bob Fors and Mr. Von Wald are in charge of setting up a program which will be approved by the committee. —P. T.

Was I Just "Dreaming Out-Loud?"

The other evening as I happened to be walking down the street who should I meet but Comrad, who was accompanied by His Girl Friday. After a hasty how do you do, they passed on as they were to meet their best friend Kit Carson on Waterloo Bridge.

Proceeding up the street, who next should I meet but Brother Orchid more commonly known as The Earl of Chicago. Much to my amazement he related to me that he had just come from Behind Prison Gates. When asked how and why he happened to be in prison, he said I Stole a Million from The Bank Dick.

At the Hotel Imperial there I found Maisie relating her recent trip into the Heart of the North, which is the land where The Sun Never Sets.

Upon glancing at the clock in the lobby it came to me I had an appointment with The Devil and Miss Jones. After my conference with them I started on my Long Voyage Home via Tin Pan Alley. When I reached home I immediately "hit the hay", as I had an exciting experience of meeting many celebrities or was I just Dreaming Out-loud?—E. Junior High School Crier

• POSTPONED

The freshman class party has been postponed until this evening. It is a picnic sort so you see what rainy weather would do to it.

• SCHOLASTIC CLUB PICNIC

The junior high scholastic club had its final meeting Tuesday. I suppose you shouldn't say meeting because it was a picnic.

• GLASSES!

Did you notice all the people this year that have gotten glasses? Junie Sanderude, Jackie Weisser, Bunny Stankievicz, Norma Jean Graves and many others. It proves that those physical examinations really pay!

• YOUR ROVING REPORTER

What are you going to do this summer?
Betty Grant—Eat, sleep and be merry.
Birdie Johnson—Swim.
Jackie Weisser—Enjoy myself.

• MILK

James Stokes—What kind of milk is this? (He moved his hand back and forth in front of his eyes.)

Tommy Lehecka—I don't know. What kind is it?

James—Pas uer ized!!

• CAN YOU IMAGINE

Not finding a corny joke in this column? Andy Knutsen without Zane Johnson?

NOTICE

Any kitten-ball team, baseball team or any other organization of that type, wishing to use the school ball diamonds or any other facilities during any of the seven days in a week, are requested to make arrangements through Kenneth Von Wald, Physical Fitness and Recreation Director, or Richie Peterson, president of the local organization.

This is intended to insure adequate plans, also to avoid conflicts and misunderstandings.

The continued whole-hearted cooperation of the community is solicited and anticipated.

Frosh Class Party To Be Tonight at Peterson's

The freshmen class party had been scheduled to be held May 14 but due to weather conditions it was postponed to May 21.

The party will be a pow-wow and picnic combined and will be held at Peterson's landing at Clear Lake.

The members of the food committee are Miss Booren, Zane Johnson, Norma Jean Graves and Eileen Schuetsler.

The grounds committee is composed of Mr. Dorgan, Gerald Armstrong, Mickey Jeans and Dale Moen.

Miss Wareberg, Esther Graton, Steve Tricola and Helen Huber make up the entertainment committee.—E. H. A.

HITS And RUNS

By BOB HOLL

• Last Tuesday's game can be chalked up as the first shutout for Freddy Holmquist. He gave Chisago exactly one hit, and that one was a single by Storms into left field.

• The game was only a five inning affair because Chisago had to be home by five-thirty.

• Forest Lake got their first run in the second inning when Croone scored after some hectic base running a little while before. Holmquist was on first and Croone hit a line drive double to left field with Holmquist going all the way around to third base. Seeing that he couldn't make it home he started to run back to third only to meet Croone who had thought he had gone all the way home. Chisago then got Holmquist in a hot box, and then proceeded to get Croone in the hot box as he was caught off second base, but on a wild throw to second base, he made it to third and scored a second later on a single by Langdon.

• Forest Lake proceeded to pick up three more runs in the third inning on scores by Ty Jeans, Holl and Houle. In the fourth inning with Langdon collecting his second hit of the day and Billy Jeans his third in three times at bat, Forest Lake picked up three more runs to make it a shutout and win by 7 to 0.

• Also pulled in the game was the first double play of the year. It was a slow roller to the pitcher, with Freddy picking it up and throwing it to Ty Jeans at second and from there over to first for a double killing.

Hanley Show Travels 38,000 Miles Last Year

Last Tuesday, May 12, grades one thru nine attended the puppet show "Pinocchio" in the high school auditorium.

As everyone should know the story of "Pinocchio" it will not be necessary to tell the story.

Ethel Hanley started her marionette show about ten years ago but for the last eight years, it has become her hobby. Mrs. Hanley has her workshop in Iowa on the Mississippi River where she makes all the the characters portrayed in her puppet show. All characters are first made of clay, and then they are put in a plaster cast. Plastic wood is also used. She makes every part of the body but the head. William Bunn, a Grantwood prodigy, of Iowa, makes the heads of the characters.

Ethel Hanley has two other people working with her when she is on tour. Aline Phelton of Oklahoma and Gene Nevins, of Hollywood, California have helped her a great deal with her marionettes.

Last year Mrs. Hanley and her show travelled 38,000 miles throughout the United States. On May 16, she arrived in California with her show.

"Pinnocchio" is not the only feature of her puppet shows, but she has shown "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", "Alice in Wonderland", "Adventures in Toyland" and "Vaudeville." —G. A. W.

WORK TODAY . . .

PLAN FOR TOMORROW

Straight thinking is important today, as Government war expenditures bring increased earnings for many families.

Prudent persons will take advantage of today's opportunities to pay off their obligations and get out of debt—to invest regularly and as much as they can in U. S. Defense Bonds—to save in advance for heavier Taxes next year—to lay aside a reserve fund for post-war readjustment.

Think straight—and think about tomorrow.

Rustling Leaves

By Gloria Sanderude

Editor's Note: Last week Rustling Leaves was written by June Baker instead of Gloria Sanderude.

• GOOD DEED DOTTY SAYS:

"Wouldn't" it be a great thing for the appearance of the school if some generous soul built a rack for the bicycles which lie clustered along the front of the building from 9:00 to 4:00 every day. It would also enable students to find their bikes more easily and allow more room for students and teachers passing through there. How about it? Has anyone any spare time in which to do a much appreciated good deed?"

• DISAPPOINTED NELLIE

Nellie Solem was simply delighted when she saw one of the posters announcing the appearance of the Hanley marionettes in Pinocchio and began to vision what a great time she would have watching the tiny wooden actors, but poor Nellie—her facial expression dropped to the depth's of despair when she was told that the program was only for the grades and junior high school.

• COMMERCIAL ARTISTS

Typing and stenography classes have resorted to typing as a means of expression in the fine arts. The students are typing silhouette pictures of animals, flags, landscapes, birds, soldiers and many other subjects. Upon a pencil sketch they type a letter such as "x" to fill in the sketch. Some of the pictures are very fine pieces of work.

• WHO'S WHO

Donald Swanson—"Don" is a small dark-haired chap whose ambition is to go to Michigan and work with his pals. He especially likes the color green and strawberry short cake. Among his other favorites are the book Robinson Crusoe, the movie, Pacific Blackout, and the sports swimming and skating. Stamp collecting and dancing are his hobbies. He says his pet peeve is women, but we know better.

Warren Benoy—Here's a future Deisel engineer or mechanic who would like to be an apprentice to a railroad machinist. Warren likes to fish and a favorite hobby of his is tying artificial flies for fishing. He especially likes chocolate malted milks. "Hold That Ghost" rates as his favorite movie and "The Blazed Trail as his favorite book. His one dislike is English and his favorite pastime is tinkering with his auto.

Richard Dahlin—A quiet lad with an adventuresome soul is Richard D. He places all western movies and novels at the head of his list of favorites. Macaroni ranks as his favorite food and red as his favorite color. In his spare time he engages in swimming, skiing and doing 4-H work as well as traveling. After graduation he plans to spend some time with his father in northern Wisconsin and has ambitions of becoming a road contractor.

MR. NELSON REVIEWS

"George and Margaret", Senior Class Play

Mr. John Nelson

"Who are George and Margaret?" This question, no doubt, lingered in the minds of most of the audience who gathered Friday evening, May 7, to witness the Forest Lake High School's Senior Class presentation of Gerald Savory's George and Margaret.

The question regarding the true identity of George and Margaret was never really answered by the drama itself, excepting to the degree that George and Margaret were, evidently, bosom friends of Alice Garth-Bander, the socially inclined mother of the Garth-Bander family, and hated intruders to the remainder of the family. George and Margaret were even spoken of as "That horrible couple" by Dudley, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Garth-Bander.

The identity of George and Margaret is not as important as it seems to be. In fact, their identity is irrelevant.

The drama of George and Margaret, as presented by the Senior Class of Forest Lake, was a rather delightful and welcome bit of relaxation and enjoyment. There should be no question in anyone's mind who viewed the production as to the excellency and the high quality of the acting which prevailed throughout the entire production.

Anne Tricola did a fine bit of work in portraying the character of Alice Garth-Bander, and Wallace Larson did just as well in portraying the character of Malcolm Garth-Bander, the seemingly stupid and absent-minded father of the family.

The opening scene finds the Garth-Banders straggling to a breakfast composed, for the most part, of sausages. Malcolm Garth-Bander, dutiful husband that he is, seems not at all perturbed or ruffled over the expected arrival, that very same day, of George and Margaret. Alice, the mother of the family, is all a hustle and a bustle because her friends are at last coming to pay her their long awaited visit. Dudley, the younger of the Garth-Bander sons, although dreading the arrival of his mother's friends, is looking forward to the arrival of his friend and fellow colleague, Roger Frampton. Roger is evidently an artist on the piano. Frankie, the frivolous and not too dignified daughter of the family, is not concerned in the least about any of the expected guests excepting that she heartily dislikes George and Margaret and decides that she will hate Roger Frampton because he has several bad habits—among them a noisy habit of slobbering while partaking of his repast. Incidentally, Philip Fladland was a "natural" for the part of Dudley and Dolores Kuefler was just flippant enough to carry out the desired effect Frankie was expected to have on the audience.

Claude, the elder of the Garth-Bander sons, finally poured his own tea and had his breakfast, after absorbing a number of timely insults as to his ability as an architect and a general all-around believer in character and self control. Alvin White played the part of Claude very well.

After the breakfast is over and Malcolm, the father, decides it was a fellow club member who wanted to get fat, the family makes their plans for the day's activities. Claude asks Dudley, in no uncertain terms, to keep Roger Frampton out of his way. Frankie decides love is not anything to worry about. Dudley decides to be in for dinner. Malcolm decides to do as Alice, his wife, wishes him to do and Alice goes about in her own inimitable manner making arrangements for the event of George and Margaret's arrival.

The first act closes with the arrival of the handsome, well-groomed Roger Frampton—Emil Maslowski performed very creditably as Roger—and the unexpected call from Margaret announcing the bad news to Mother Garth-Bander and the good news to the rest of the family that George and Margaret regret to announce that they will be unable to call on the Garth-Banders that day.

The second act opens to find the family just after they have partaken of a fine dinner. Incidentally, this dinner again had been especially prepared for George and Margaret's benefit, but they had once more failed poor Alice. The second act reveals the fact that Frankie has fallen deeply in love with Roger and Roger has likewise fallen in love with Frankie. Neither of the two seems to be able to make much headway at revealing this love to each other.

Claude announces his intentions to marry Gladys, the maid, much to the horror and dismay of Alice.

The act closes with Frankie's slapping Roger because she is apparantly unable to do anything else and Alice's denouncing of Claude for his intentions of marrying Gladys, the lowly maid.

The last act is the climax act of the drama. Alice decides, after talking with Gladys, that Claude shall have his own way even if she herself will be jeered at and scoffed by society. She decides that Gladys is quite attractive and maybe even a bit pretty. After consenting to the marriage of Claude and Gladys, Alice is overjoyed when Roger and Frankie announce their engagement.

The new maid, Beer—quaint name for a maid—adds hilarity to the final minutes of the drama.

The happy and reconciled family drink a toast to each other's health and happiness as George and Margaret finally arrive at the door.

It is by no means out of place to add that all those who took part in the production of George and Margaret did a fine bit of work.

I know that I am voicing the popular opinion of the public when I say that Mr. Robb has again done a remarkably fine bit of work in directing the senior class play cast to a highly satisfactory performance.

Rev. Lund To Speak At Baccalaureate

Reverend Oscar Lund, pastor of the Faith Lutheran Church, will be the speaker at the Baccalaureate Service Sunday, May 24.

Mrs. Russel Hammond will pley the processional and the recessional. The senior high school chorus will sing Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring and O Gladsome Light.

There will be no tickets for this service.

Anton L. Olson, secretary-treasurer of the Union Stockyards Company, South St. Paul, will be the principal speaker at the Commencement Service.

The valedictorian and the salutatorian, Mary Jane Weisser and Florence Shosten, respectively, will speak on various phases of the current war.

Reverend Thomas Gibbons will give the invocation. Mr. Carroll Johnson will play the processional and the recessional. A group of senior girls will provide music for the program.

Mr. James Elwell, Jr. will present the diplomas to the seniors.

At the commencement the outstanding boy and the outstanding girl will be named and presented with awards from the American Legion.

Mary Jane Weisser Receives Digest Award

Mary Jane Weisser, valedictorian of the graduating class at Forest Lake High School, has been given the Sixth Annual Award of The Reader's Digest Association for students, who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community, it was announced today by Mr. Francis Plourde, principal.

Miss Weisser will receive an honorary subscription to The Reader's Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the Editors, "in recognition of past accomplishment and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come."

Since 1937 The Reader's Digest Association has presented these awards yearly in senior high schools throughout the United States and Canada to the highest honor student of the graduating class. The awards are part of the educational program sponsored by the Association and were a logical outgrowth of the wide use of The Reader's Digest in school work. With the collaboration of leading educators, a special edition of the magazine, containing reading improvement guides and study helps, is made available to schools and colleges as a supplementary text-book in English and social science courses.

The award, which Mary Jane will receive, is designed to stimulate scholarship, citizenship, and continued contact with good reading. after graduation.

Bill and Tyrus Jeans Attend Baseball School

Billy and Tyrus Jeans probably encountered one of the most interesting baseball schools for high school boys when they were at Grand Forks, North Dakota. Tyrus was there one week and Billy remained two weeks.

When asking Billy about his routine and the place he stayed, he said that headquarters was the YMCA. In this building was a swimming pool, a gym, pool tables and other recreational facilities.

At 9:00 the boys would get up and eat breakfast at 9:30. They began practicing baseball at 11:30 and continued until 3:00 or 3:30 in the afternoon. The evening meal took place at 5:30.

If there was no baseball game scheduled the boys were free for the evening

Billy's position on the team at Grand Forks was left fielder and he holds the same position on the local high school team.

During the short time Billy was gone, he made many acquaintances and they'll be remembered as good "baseball friends."—G. S.

Business School Represenatives Speak to Seniors

The senior class welcomed two speakers Monday from the Minneapolis Business College. Mr. Edwin A. Hetland, president of the College of Commerce, spoke to the seniors in the Stenography II class.

Mr. W. T. Batdorf, of the Minnesota Business College, also spoke to the seniors on the chances of making a success by taking a business course.—P. T.

Soil Conservation Discussed By Biologists

The Biology Club held a meeting last Friday with the topic of Soil Conservation being discussed by Curtis Wilson, Donald Voelker and Gail Carlson.

The S. O. S. Club has invited the Biology Club to join them in a trip to the Carlos Avery Game Farm. They plan to leave at twelve o'clock and to spend the afternoon there.

The Biology Club accepted the invitation and the plans are now being made for the trip.

Next Friday the club will make a second visit to the local greenhouse. They will see the different vegetables being planted and the methods of transplanting. Mr. Nelson planned the trip.—G. A. W.

Five Journalists Receive Awards

Five journalists earned enough points to receive their journalism awards this past week.

Bob Holl, sports columnist, Lois Jeanne Arndt and Dayton Williver are the senior high students receiving awards and Shirley Mae Arndt, junior high columnist, and Jeannette Houle, junior high editor will receive ribbons.

The three senior high people will get bronze pins for the first year of earning 1,000 points.

Two Girls Receive 60 Word Gregg Certificates

Two more Stenography I students, Evelyn Anderson and Frances Spescha, have received their Gregg Shorthand Certificates for 60 words per minute. This makes a total of twelve girls who have earned their awards.

There may be one more chance for the students who have not yet received their certificates to do so.

The 80 words per minute dictation test will be given soon.—T. H. A.

Marine Speaker Disusses Training and Life of Corps

Sergeant Don Bramon, from the Marine Recruiting offfice in Minneapolis, showed movies and spoke to the high school last Monday.

The films were about Marine Corps Training, Marine Parachute Troops, and the Marine Detachment at the New York World's Fair.

After the films were shown Sergeant Bramon spoke to the groups. He explained about the basic training from five to six weeks at San Deigo, California, and also of the special vocational schools that the Marines offer.

Additional information about the Marines may be obtained by writing to the Marine Recruiting Office, Minneapolis, Minnesota.—P. T.

HITS And RUNS

By BOB HOLL

• Commenting on the ball game last Tuesday with White Bear, I would say that if we would have won that game it would have been played nine innings as we were getting stronger by innings while after the second inning we collected about a run an inning.

White Bear opened in the first inning with a big splurge of six runs which were scored on errors in the infield and a couple of hits.

• After that big first inning splurge Freddy Holmquist limited the visitors to only one more run while Forest Lake was picking up a couple for themselves. The last of the fifth opened with a hit and two successive walks to fill the bases. Speckman, the White Bear pitcher, then proceeded to walk in two runs, but Mackenhauser came in to strike out the side and end Forest Lake's golden opportunity to put the game on ice.

• Forest Lake's fifth and final run came as a result of a fluke home run hit by Wenzel Croone which sailed under the fence. No ground rules had been made for such a hit so it had to count.

• Freddy Holmquist pitched nice ball throughout the game, and the loss was not because of pitching but because of lack of support in the first inning.

• There will be a lot of reminiscing done after this year is done by all the fellows who have played together for the last four years through football, basketball and baseball.

The fellows will remember of trying to decide whether to go out for footbal when freshmen because they thought they would get hurt, and after they were out, finding out it wasn't so bad after all. Many of the fellows will remember that big thrill when they were sophomores of getting into their first game at Mahtomedi. And then there was the thrill of making the team the next year.

• Basketball followed with the fellows trying their best to make an impression on a new coach in their sophomore year. The fellows had some of their best times when they all played together on the second team in their freshman and sophomore years. Another thrill which was really a big one was when you scored your first field goal.

• Then baseball came. Although the season wasn't long it finished off the year just right. If all these fellows give each other as much cooperation all the time as they did during these sports, everything will turn out perfectly.

School Board Election May 19 at High School

The school board election will take place Tuesday, May 19, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. in room 1 of the Forest Lake high school.

Incumbents whose terms have expired are Raymond J. Holl and Idor A. Pederson. Both have filed for re-election to three year terms. Emil Johnson is also a candidate.—I. H.

Rep. Gale Sends Congratulations

May 5, 1942

Mr. Billy Engler
Editor of the Forest Breeze
Forest Lake, Minnesota

Dear Billy:

May I congratulate you and the members of your staff for receiving "All-American" honors from the Natio.al Scholastic Press Association.

It gives great satisfaction to do a job well and you deserve a good deal of credit for the standard of your paper.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,
Richard P. Gale

Forest Lake Has 500 Average In Midseason

With the season half over Forest Lake has won one and lost one game for a .500 average. The dates for the last two games have been changed as follows:

Chisago City, There, May 18.
White Bear, There, May 21.

So far this season Fred Holmquist, the Rangers mighty pitcher, has accomplished the feat of striking out 21 men and has walked but eleven. The Rangers have seven errors while their opponents are a stride ahead of them with eight. Holmquist has given out seven hits and the Ranger batters have gotten 13 off opposing hurlers. Morley leads the team's batting averages with .500. Holding second is Don Peterson with .429 and tied at third are Holmquist and Croone with .333. Players who have batted runs in this season are: Croone, Houle, Peterson and Hallberg.

Players who have played so far this season are Malcolm Morley, Wenzel Croone, Robert Holl, Fred Holmquist, Donald Peterson, Rollin Houle, Wallace Langdon, Harry Kuefler, Steve Tricola, Warren Hallberg, Roger Johnson and Tyrus Jeans.—E. S.

Six Compete in National Science Contest

Preliminary examinations in connection with the national Science Talent Search will be held Friday, May 15, at the Forest Lake high school.

Students taking the science aptitude test will be Fred Holmquist, Robert Holl, Rollin Houle, Philip Fladland, Wallace Larson and Donald Waller.

The Science Talent Search is being conducted by the Science Clubs of America, sponsored by Science Service. Purpose of the Search is to discover and help develop scientific talent that will be of value to the nation in war and in peace.

Forty boys and girls who lead in the preliminary examinations will be given all-expense trips to Washington for the final examination. Two contestants, one boy and one girl, will be selected by a board of judges, on the basis of written and oral examinations, to receive Westinghouse Science Grand Scholarships of $2,400 each ($600 per year for four years). Eighteen contestants will receive Westinghouse Science Scholarships of $200 for one year.

As part of the preliminary examinations, each contestant will submit an essay of not more than 1,000 words on the subject "How Science Can Help Win the War." It may describe a project in which the pupil has engaged or desires to engage, or it may contain an original idea, suggestion or invention of possible use to our armed forces or industry. All contestants invited to Washington will receive a Gold Emblem of Science Clubs of America.

Do Your Part, Buy a Share in America

This past week the Student Council sold $24.20 worth of United States War Savings Stamps, bringing the total to $510.10. Last week's sale was $8.90 less than the preceeding week. The new total brings the average sale per person to $.85.

• LOST

Emil Maslowski just about didn't have a suit for the senior class play last Thursday. His brother, freshman Louis, was supposed to bring it to him at noon. However, Louie didn't show up 'till around 12:45 and Emil was really getting nervous.

• QUIET

Yes, the school halls were quiet, at the time of the sugar rationing, at least. You could describe it as this—"Quiet as the cash register in a suki-yaki joint."

• NOT RESPONSIBLE

I suppose most of you have seen everything written on the chairs in the music room. Perhaps the school should say this—"The views here expressed are those of the writer and do not reflect those of the owner.

• COINCIDENCE

Betty Grant's brother—General Ulysses S. Grant—made the Sunday paper. The article went something like this:

A girl who met General Ulysses S. Grant, senior at Lakeside high school in Chisago City must be very much embarrassed by now. While skating with him she asked "What's your name?" And he heartily replied, "General Ulysses S. Grant." The girl then said, "What a coincidence. I'm Martha Washington."

It was a wisecrack on her part but not for the General.

• THE SECRET'S OUT!

It will be tonight any how. Something very mysterious has been going on as to the recreation at the freshman class party. The boys are doing that part of it. It's supposed to be a secret but it leaked out somewhere and that's how I know what it is. Wouldn't be fair for me to tell though, would it?

County Bond Quota Set for $93,400

Quotas were set up today for every county in the state, as their share of a total $11,657,400 War Bond sales which Minnesota is expected to achieve during May.

The quota for Washington County was fixed at $93,400. The monthly average since July 1, 1941, for this county totaled $68,414.

The Treasury Department determined the quotas, aiming at selling $600,000,000.

County organizations prepared to intensify their efforts to achieve the goals set. Pledge campaigns were under way in most of the counties, and other activities developed to get the results sought.

The Treasury goal is to get all persons signed up to 10 per cent of their income.

The entire program will be discussed over a state wide network net Saturday, at 6:30 p. m. WCCO, KSTP, and the state network will be included.

Rustling Leaves

By Gloria Sanderude

• WHAT'S NEW?

Some new Compton's Encyclopedias were placed in the library last week for student use. Let's take special care in handling them so none of them will be damaged in any way.

• LUCKY BOYS

Billy and Tyrus Jeans left Sunday for Grand Forks, North Dakota, where they will take a baseball course for an indefinite period of time. We wish the boys lots of luck and success while they are there.

• HOLIDAYS,

You probably hadn't realized that we have come to school every holiday when some schools have taken the day off, but it won't be long now (5 more weeks to be exact) and we can all resume our summer duties.

• A [illegible]ASSY NUMBER

Well [illegible]nts must certainly be given to Mr. Moede, not only for his unique conducting of the concert on Friday, but also for his fine looking uniform. It is the first time that any of four band directors has had that type of uniform.

• PEEVED???

Miss Handford claims that if any more teachers start to have food projects in their classes, she is going to have her geometry and algebra students bring pie whenever they study pi (3.1416), or in history they are going to have turkey sandwiches when they study the country of Turkey.

I wonder what she will have them bring when they study Greece.

• MUSIC LOVERS

A treat is in store for music lovers on April 30. The Gustavus Adolphus Symphony Band is going to be in Center City. For additional information see the posters posted on the bulletin boards.

• WHO'S WHO?

Betty Nelson—A decided blonde is Betty who confesses swimming and skating to be her favorite sports. When it comes to eating, she'll take ice cream any day. S. O. S., M. R., G. A. A. and band seem to have special interests for her at the present time, but when Betty graduates, her interest will turn to becoming a nurse.

Fred Holmquist—Freddie is quite familiar to all students for he has been active on the basketball and baseball teams. This year he was elected president of the S. O. S. Club. Freddie states classical music, apple pie, chemistry and the color blue as his likings. He hasn't made definite plans as to what he'll do when he graduates.

Minnesota Observes Conservation Week

In war, as in peace, conservation is one of our Nation's greatest endeavors. The wealth of a nation depends upon its natural resources. Conservation is the intelligent management and use of these resources for the permanent good of the people. During the course of a national emergency such as this, these resources are the very life blood of the Nation.

Next Monday is State Park Day when special attention is given to Minnesota's 45,711 acres of parks. There are over one and one-quarter million visitors to these parks annually. The function of a State Park is to preserve and make available for public enjoyment the fine scenic and historic areas of Minnesota. In them are preserved a typical portion of the state's original domain in its natural condition.

On Tuesday is the observance of Game and Fish Day. Minnesota citizens bought 650,834 fishing licenses and 286,586 small game hunting licenses in 1940. With this large number of anglers and nimrods and more duck hunters than any other state in the union, we can readly see the need for game and fish conservation.

Wednesday is designated as Land and Minerals Day. In 1941, 64,000,000 tons of iron ore was shipped from Minnesota, this comprising 67 per cent of the total iron ore produced in the Unied States. There are more than 8,500 that land contracts involving 341,500 acres on which interest collections amount to more than $70,000.

Thursday is Water Resources Day when conservation of Minnesota's 11,.000 lakes and 25,000 miles of rivers and streams is observed. Minnesota has a larger water expanse than any other state in the union, seven per cent of the total area of the state. Conservation of water resources includes the maintainence of lake levels for protection of game and fish. Arbor and Bird Day is celebrated on Friday when special emphasis is placed on forest conservation. Two-thirds of Minnesota's area is forest land. Forest fires, the biggest enemy of forest, are caused by carelessness in 90 per cent of the cases.

Closely associated with Arbor or Forestry Day is bird appreciation. The Goldfinch is recognized as the state bird because it is found commonly throughout Minnesota.

In realization of these facts Conservation Week should have a significant meaning to each one of us.—D. W.

'George and Margaret' to Be Given on May 7 and 8

The date for the senior class play has again been changed. The performance for the high school will be given May 7 in the evening and for the adults May 8 also in the evening. A complete list of the cast of characters and crew will be published next week.

The admission to the play is 11 cents for students and 28 cents for adults, including tax. Reserved seats may be obtained for 41 cents.

"Stand On Your Own Feet" In Class

Character is the sum total of an individual's inner traits as represented by his conduct. An important character trait is honesty.

The tasks before us are so extreme in their requirements that every boy and girl in school must cultivate and practice standing on their own feet, now! The troubled world has no place for parasites, socially or otherwise. A dictionary definition of a parasite is: "An animal or plant that lives at the expense of another." The actual wrong done in a student using and getting credit for the work of another is comparable to a parasite in that he is doing just that: getting credit for the work of another.

The real harm is done to the individual himself for it does not hurt the teacher or school that he is dishonest. Who else can suffer when he fools himself, and most likely himself alone?

Marks are merely milestones in the path of progress. A fake milestone has no real value to anyone. You may get by with another's work but then what has been accomplished? Can you go through life using a "leaning post" to prop you up? The answer is obviously, No! Don't be a parasite, but stand squarely on your own feet! A great majority of all the pupils are free living, four-square citizens earning their own marks. It is now up to those few "would-be parents" to be self sustaining and free.—D. W.

'Lumber-Jacks' to Be Theme of Junior Class Party

At a recent meeting of the junior class the theme of their class party was chosen. It will be a "Lumberjack" party.

The party will be held at the Legion Hall at some near date. The various committees for the party are as follows:

Program—Alice Jeanne McGee, George Mitchell, Roger Johnson, Hazel Gray and Carrel Johnson.

Refreshments— Melba Sahlin, Olive Bellingham, Arthur Anderson and Delores Paul.

Decoration — Renee Spangenberg, Gloria Sanderude and Doris Dupre.

Invitations—June Shelander, Joyce Berglin and Elaine Alex.

Clean-up—Melvin Houle, Edward Stark and Marvin Weber.

By BOB HOLL

● The line-up for the first baseball game of the season was as follows: Croone, catching; Holmquist, pitching; Elmstrom, first base; Houle second, Holl, short; Langdon, third; with the outfield bolstering Peterson, Johnson, Morley and Hallberg.

● With Bill and Ty Jeans gone to North Dakota for a week, the team was broken up somewhat in the infield.

Compared with last year's team the '42 team doesn't have the hitting punch of last year's team as "Baldy" Bakeburg hit over 600 last season and Joe Sahlin was a good clutch hitter.

The pitching is just as good as shown in practice, as very few of the batters facing Fred Holmquist have gotten to first base.

● During this wartime crisis nearly every college in the country has included in its program compulsory physical education training. This is a very good thing for certain individuals who take part in no athletics but it does not help the person who takes part in some sport.

Here's an idea. Why don't they make physical education compulsory for persons who do not take part in any sport during that season, but not for those who are already getting some training in a certain sport.

This kind of system would serve as an incentive for kids to take part in some sport.

This kind of system I think would work especially well at Forest Lake because noon hours like those used in spring football could be used, and many more fellows would turn out for the sport.

Rangers Defeat Chisago City Baseball Nine, 5 to 3

A third inning full of errors enabled the Ranger baseball nine to defeat the Maroons of Chisago City by a score of 5 to 3.

The Rangers first run was scored in the second inning by Don Peterson who came home on a hard hit ball to center field by Rollin Houle.

In the third frame Harry Kuefler got on first by virtue of a walk. The next batter fanned but lead off man Malcolm Morley cracked a hard hit to center field and made it all the way to second. With men on second and third, shortstop Bob Holl cracked a ground ball to the second baseman. The ball however, was dropped and Holl reached first safely. Kuefler and Morley came home on the play and ran the score up to 3 to 0. Holmquist was walked for the second time and he and Holl moved up to load the bases on a hit by Peterson. Houle drove a low ground ball over third and Holmquist came home following Holl.

Chisago City got runs in the fourth, fifth, and seventh innings with Peterson and Edmans scoring.

White Bear Host To Music Festival

Tomorrow the members of the band and chorus will attend a music festival at White Bear. The program will begin at one p. m. with the vocal groups followed by the band numbers.

At eight p. m. the program will consist of massed band and massed chorus, as well as instrumental solos.

Among the schools that will attend are Columbia Heights, North St. Paul, Stillwater, Mahtomedi and White Bear.

The chorus will sing I Heard a Forest Praying and The Kerry Dance. In a Persian Market and The Traveller Overture are the numbers that the band will play.

Massed bands will play Hall of Fame, The Traveller, Hosts of Freedom, The Star Spangled Banner and Two Chorals. The massed choruses will sing America the Beautiful, Kerry Dance, Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring and The Hiking Song.

Mr. Don Marins, assistant director of the University band, will direct the massed band. Mr. John Marinus Kuypers, director of vocal music at Hamline, will direct the massed chorus.

Tickets for the evening performance at White Bear are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for students, plus tax.—L. J. A.

Arbor and Bird Day May 5 in Minnesota

May 5 is the date set for the planting of trees, shrubs and anything else that might resemble a tree (except a hat tree). The first formal observance of this day was set on April 22, 1812, in Nebraska. The idea to set aside a day for the planting of trees was conceived by J. Sterling Morton, a member of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture.

Rhode Island and Nebraska are the only states in which this day is regarded as a legal holiday, which means that from sun-up till sun-down, they can plant trees without worrying about anything else. In Minnesota people will have to plant their trees after the work is done for the day as it is not regarded as a lgal holiday. Nevertheless all persons should try to plant at least one tree or shrub on this day because now, more than eyer before, trees are needed to carry on the war.

May 5 also happens to be Bird Day. It is celebrated to commemorate the birthday of Audubon, the great naturalist. The object of this day is to stimulate interest in natural history and in natural study.—E. A.

Biology Club Hikes To Clear Lake For Bird Study

The Biology Club enjoyed a field hike for its program Friday. The purpose was to study and to identify the different kinds of birds. The students, in charge of Donald Voelker, hiked to Clear Lake and back.

Junior High School Crier

• FROM OTHER PAPERS

While rummaging thru the White Bear School paper "Bear Tracks" I came upon these choice bits of poetry:

Curious fly
Vinegar jug,
Slippery edge,
Pickled bug!

• ANOTHER:

Little dachshund
Asleep on a log,
Forest fire,
Hot dog!

• HEEL!

• WEEK-END

Mrs. Anderson: Eugene, this makes five times I have found it necessary to punish you this week. What have you to say for yourself?

• LETTERS TO YOUR COLUMNIST

Gene Ruggles: I'm glad its Friday!

In each weekly column will be reserved.. a space for "Letters of Complaint or otherwise" to your columnist. If you do have one don't hesitate to bring it to me in Freshman room 34. They may be unsigned or otherwise which ever is preferred. Don't be afraid to comply—Senior High too!

• FINES

While walking thru some of the Junior High rooms I noticed the many students who have fines and overdue books from the library. You must pay your fines at once. Remember—no books will be taken out after May 20.

Ranks As One Of The Best In The Nation

The Forest Breeze, publication of Forest Lake high school, was awarded an All-American rating by the National Scholastic Press Association last week.

The rating, which has been long-awaited, is the highest that any school paper of this type can receive. The total score for the Breeze was 1040, the highest number of points earned by any one school paper of this type in the nation. The All-American rating was earned by only four school papers of this kind in the United States.

The BREEZE received only one criticism, that of not following up speeches given by speakers at the school.

In every other division, the paper received an excellent score. The divisions that the Breeze was judged on were:

News Values and Sources—coverage, balance, vitality, originality and treatment.

Coverage—Are all the news sources adequately covered?. Does it cover every phase of school activity?

Balance—Is news content well-balanced between the various sources? Are all possible sources found so as to give variety to the paper? Does it interest every type of reader?

Vitality—Are the news stories developed from the most significant angles? Does the paper avoid giving too much publicity to persons of little news interest?

Originality—Are there plenty of features? Is there variety? Do the features interest all students and readers of the paper?

Treatment—Is the copy prepared on the basis of its news value. Are the most important stories placed in the proper places on the page so that they will catch the reader's eye the first thing?

News Writing and Editing—content, organizing, style, leads, features, interviews, speech reports and copyreading and proofreading.

Content—Does the copy deal with specific facts and not vague generalities? Is the story free from unnecessary facts and figures?

Organization—Do the stories follow the lead? Is the copy direct and to the point?

Style—Are the stories written in a simple direct manner? Are the stories heavy, monotonous and sterotyped? Is the diction good?

Leads—Do leads feature distinctive element of the story? Are the leads interestingly written?

Features—Do they conform to the basic standards of good writing? Are they written about up to the minute facts and incidents?

Interviews—Are the interviews of some interesting person? Are they presented in a "question and answer" style?

Speech Reports—Is the speech copy centered around the main points? Are specific facts presented? Are direct quotes as well as a summary used?

Copyreading and Proofreading—Is the copyreading and proofreading accurate? Is some set pattern used for numerals, punctuation and capitalization?

Headlines, Typography and Makeup—Headlines, typography, front page make-up and printing.

Headlines—Do the headlines summarize the stories and do they present the significant feature of each? Are their meanings easily grasped? Are the headlines well-balanced and mechanically attractive?

Typography—Are the type and headline types attractive to the eye? Is there harmony between type faces?

Printing—Is the impression and ink distribution uniform. Do the cuts print well?

Department Pages and Special Features—Column, features, make-up, coverage and treatment sports writing and display.

Column—Do the editorials deal with the real problems of the school and with current, social, economic and political problems on which students should be thinking?

Features—Are the features free from "too much chaff"? Are the editorials written in an interesting style?

Make-up—Does the typography and make up of the editorial page create reader interest and appeal?

Coverage and treatment—Does the sports section present a complete and interesting coverage of school sports? Is the sports news well-organized rather than scattered through the paper?

Sports writing—Do the sports stories meet the standards of good news writing? Are they colorful?

Display—Is the display in keeping with the character of the page? Is there a sufficient variety?

Last year the Breeze received First Class Honor Rating which is an excellent rating.

First Graders for '43 Asked to Enroll

Children of the Forest Lake Consolidated School District 56, and of closed rural districts transporting to Forest Lake, are to enroll now. Miss O'Donnell, first grade teachcer, will furnish each grade teacher, the high school principal's office, and the superintendent's office with blanks for parents to use in registering their children. Other children in school may take these blanks home or to their neighbors.

A child must be six years old on or before January 1, 1942, to be eligible to enroll for the next term.

There have been several embarrassing situations during the past years due to the fact that errors occurred in reporting birthdays. If such an error is discovered accidentally or because of a complaint, we need to try to adjust the matter. Also, last year only 34 pupils were registered in the spring but 43 started school in September, which caused considerable inconvenience for a while.

Rustling Leaves

By Dayton Williver

• INTRODUCING

Just as the "long-minded" speakers always say, "Being unaccustomed to public speaking as I am, I will bore you for only a short time," I will have to rely on the same excuse as your guest columnist.

• GRADUATE

We are glad to hear of the high honors Billy Eckles, a former student at Forest Lake high school, received in the completion of an army radio course and graduation from an aerial gunnery course.

• A RIDDLE

Here is a choice bit of foolishness that you have probably heard before.

Why are fire trucks red?

Fire trucks are red because:

Newspapers are read too, and two times two is four, and four times three is twelve, and twelve is a ruler, and Queen Elizabeth was a ruler, and Queen Elizabeth is a ship, and ships sail on the seas, and there are fishes in the sea, and fishes have finns, and the Finns are fighting the Russians, and fire trucks are rushin', Sooo fire trucks are red.

• SOPHOMORE

Reminiscing over the sophomore barn dance last Thursday we remember these highlights. Years ago folks danced like this . Now we dance like this.

I wonder if Malcolm is any wiser (or is that the way you spell it.)

Three cheers for Mr. Robb's combination tail spin and swan dive which ended up with a three point landing; (I wonder how those three points felt).

Let's have three more cheers for the "all-sophomore" band in their fancy uniforms.

• STAMP COLLECTING

There is one kind of stamps we can all make a hobby of collecting just as fast as we can. They are United States War Stamps on sale Monday and Thursday under the sponsorship of the Student Council. The stamp sale up to Tuesday totaled $428.95. Buy all that you can as often as possible.

• WHO'S WHO THIS YEAR!

David Johnson—"Davy" who aspires to be a radio technician, has a special liking for sports. Strumming a Hawaiian guitar is this senior lad's hobby. His favorite book is "Drums Along the Mohawk" and the movie that he had a special liking for is "Sergeant York." He belongs to S. O. S. and has been doing the secretarial work in F. F. A. for the past two years.

Wallace Langdon—To be an aeronautical engineer is "Wally's" ambition. He confides that he enjoyed the Junior-Senior Prom most of all school activities. His hobby is model building and his best liked movie is "Captain's Courageous." When the pangs of hunger strike him, he likes much to eat (and probably likes to eat much of pork chops and ice cream.) A good all-around athlete, "Wally" has been outstanding in football, basketball and baseball.

Student Achievement Test Results Released

All parents are requested to read the slip that was enclosed in all report cards of students in grades 1—8.

These slips show the progress or standing of the student in the achievement tests which were given a few weeks ago. They tell whether the child was above average, average or below average.

These achievement tests are standardized tests which have been given to Forest Lake students for the past 12 years.

BOB HOLL'S SPORTFOLIO

Von Wald's Bulldogs beat Hammond's Wildcats last Thursday 7-0. That was the score of the intra-squad game played at noon last Thursday. The winning touchdown was made by Steve Tricola on a long pass from Bill Jeans with Johnson plunging over the point after touchdown. The game opened very slowly with neither team making very large gains although Peterson got off on a 15 yard spurt and then Billy Jeans made 10 more but the Wildcats held and Bulldogs lost the ball on downs.

The Wildcats opened up in the second quarter with McGee doing most of the lunging through the center of the line. In my estimation Mitchell looked good at quarter but even better at tail.

As the second half started, the Bulldogs opened with passes mixed with running plays. Then out of what seemed a mistake in signals, Jeans threw a lucky pass which Tricola took right out of Peterson's hands, side stepped one other Wildcat and crossed the goal 15 yards ahead of the nearest man.

The Wildcats opened the fourth quarter with a terrific running attack which finally took them to the Bulldogs 30 yard line where the attack raged on. Then with 55 seconds to go they threw a desperate pass which was called complete because of interference on the 17 yard line. Their one desperate last pass failed and the game was over.

There was a large turnout for the first night of baseball practice with about 25 fellows turning out. The first night was devoted to warm-ups and building up the wind by running the base to a stop watch.

Fifty-five Students On Honor Roll

Fifty-five students have attained the honor roll for the fifth six weeks period. This will entitle them to be excused from the last final exam if their work is satisfactory during the remaining weeks of the school year. The teacher has the right to prevent the excusing of any pupil which he thinks has not done satisfactory work.

The "A" honor roll includes: grade 8—Jeannette Houle; grade 9—Shirley Mae Arndt and Morris Osterbauer; grade 10—Roger Boraas, Ronald Tolberg, Dayton Williver, Curtis Wilson; grade 11—Wesley Tolberg; grade 12—Donald Waller.

The "B" honor roll includes: grade 7—Joseph Houle, Shirley Olson, Alice Richards, Evelyn Rosckes, Richard Hall.

Grade 8—Phyliss Ellerman, Julia Rose Geis, June Houle, Kenneth Houle, Shirley Morley, June Sanderude, Godfrey Vocura, Mary Carol Volker, Herbert Elmstrom.

Grade 10—Muriel Engquist, Shirley Hegg, Mae Kroberger, John Nelson, Betty Lou Weisser.

Grade 11—Lois Jeanne Arndt, John Bronczyk, Walter Bronczyk, William Engler, Melvin Houle, Carrel Johnson, Ruth Johnson, Iris Kunshier, Melba Sahlin, June Shelander, Marvin Weber, Franklin Williver.

Grade 12—Donna Carlson, Phil Fladland, Warren Hallberg, Robert Holl, Doris Pederson, Florence Shosten, Mary Jane Weisser.

Exhibit To Precede Music Concert Friday

Tomorrow, April 24, is the date for the annual all-school exhibit which is open to the general public. The exhibit will begin at 7:30 o'clock and will continue until 8:30 o'clock.

Each home room in the junior and senior high school will exhibit work done by the students in these grades. There will be colorful drawings and paintings created by junior high artists. Equations and geometric drawings will fill some of the rooms.

There will be unusual exhibits in Latin and English portraying the life of the Romans and recreating scenes from famous novels.

Science rooms will be filled with projects on chemistry, physics and biology and the music rooms will show quaint little instruments used by ancient musicians as well as pieces of music composed or arranged by students.

The industrial arts and home economic rooms will have on exhibit many pieces of handicraft made by the pupils, such as metal work, all kinds of woodwork, drawing, clothing and food exhibits.

The grade school rooms will carry exhibits in penmanship, art, geography, spelling and history as well as pieces of work created by the students at home.

The exhibits will be followed by a musical program presented by the band and chorus. There is no admission charge for the program or exhibit. Parents are urged to come to view the work done by their children.—L. C.

Twenty-five Report for First Baseball Practice

Twenty-five eager baseball aspirants reported for practice this week for a new season of play. Coach Von Wald has been working his team hard in preparation for a tough season. This year's play for the Rangers will officially open at Chisago City on April 28. The tentative schedule for this season is as follows:

April 28—Chisago Ciy, There.
May 5—White Bear, Here.
May 19—Chisago Ciy, Here.
May 22—White Bear, There.

S.

Lost or Strayed

A basketball jacket has been lost or strayed. The jacket is one of the warm-up jackets of maroon color. It has the name "Forest Lake" in large gold letters across the back. The athletic department requests that anyone knowing the whereabouts of this jacket please notify the high school principal.

"School Life" Magazine Changes Its Name

With the February issue of School Life, the official monthly journal of the United States Office of Education was temporarily discontinued for the duration of the war.

The magazine that will replace School Life is Education for Victory. The new magazine has now become the official publication of the United States Office of Education Federal Security Agency.

The articles of this publication deal with child health in the school, safety activities in the school and other topics of vital interets during the present war situation.

Although the magazine is primarily for teachers, students may use it. You may get a copy from the superintendent's office for your use.

Tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. the members of the musical departments will present the annual spring concert. The purpose of the program is to entertain as well as to show the progress made by the musical department which is under the direction of Mr. Moede.

The program will be as follows:

The band will play the Star Spangled Banner, Smith; Come Sweet Death, Bach; March from Aida, Verdi; Dauntless Overture, Holmes; Hosts of Freedom, King.

Lois Jeanne Arndt will play a flute solo entitled "La Cinquantaine."

The junior high chorus will sing The Ash Grove, a Welsh folk song; Soft Is Their Slumber, Neefe.

There will then be a short intermission.

The senior high chorus will then sing Now Thank We All Our God, Cruger; Kerry Dance, Molly; I Heard A Forrest Praying, DeRose; The Hiking Song, Krone.

Wallace Langdon will then play a trumpet solo.

The band will close the program with the following selections: Marine Hymn, Phillips; In A Persian Market, Ketelbey; Hall of Fame Concert March, Olivadoti; Traveller Overture, Butchell; America, Carey.

May 1 the band and chorus will take part in the music festival at White Bear. The band will play the Marine Hymn as warm-up number and The Traveller Overture as the contest number. The Kerry Dance and I Heard A Forest Praying are the songs the senior chorus will sing.—L. J. A.

Wallace Langdon To Be Assistant Director

Another member has been added to the George and Margaret company. Wallace Langdon was chosen as assistant director by Mr. Robb. He will undoubtedly be a great help to the cast as well as to the director.

Memorizing lines is not the only essential for staging a play. Properties, make-up, costumes and the general stage crew all help to put a play across.

Perhaps the most difficult job is getting properties. Some oddities to be found for the George and Margaret cast are: refectory table, 2 cruets, spectacles, scout badge, bowl of fern and a grandfather's clock.

Some appetizing properties are: sausages, toast, coffee, tea, milk and sugar.

The stage crew will be announced in the next issue of the Breeze.

The date of the play has been changed to May 6 and 7.—P. T.

Juniors To Sponsor Dance At Legion Hall

Once again the students will be able to dance under the sponsorship of the junior class. The next dance will be held at the Legion Hall April 27 from 8 o'clock until midnight.

These dances are open to all senior high school pupils of Forest Lake high school. Admission is free. Refreshments will be sold.

Junior High School Crier

★ USED TO BE?

Maybe you remember I mentioned something about the freshmen boys giving the girls a return party; well, plans seem to have suddenly subsided. Does anyone know the reason?

★ WHAT GAIN?

Airplanes are back! Or were they ever gone? One never knows but anyway they were flying in a certain junior high English class. And don't think the ones who did it don't regret it!

★ SLEEPY HEAD!

Miss Wareberg: Merle . . . .
Merle Sederstrom: Pshh. .(snore)
Miss Wareberg: MERLE . . . .
Merle: Another snore.
Miss Wareberg: MERLE! ! !
Merle S.: Huh . . What? Ohhh . . .

Well maybe it's exaggerated abit but he was sleeping. And I do mean sleeping!

★ AMBITIOUS

Under the able direction of Miss Booren several junior high girls are making charts as to the scholastic standing of the pupils in their rooms. If you see them on exhibit look carefully and you'll notice not many people are too low in their subjects.

★ CAN YOU IMAGINE? ?

No kids flocking to Handrum's store at noon?

★ HEH! HEH!

James Jenson: Heh! Heh! Heh!
His Dad: What's the joke?
James: Mamma gave me a quarter. Heh! Heh!
Dad: Yeah—go on.
James: I only asked for a dime. Heh! Heh!
Dad: And what's so funny about that?
James: I only wanted a nickel. HEH! HEH!

Five Scouts Earn Badges

During the year many Girl Scouts have earned ranks from a tenderfoot to a first class scout.

Girls who have earned their tenderfoot badges are as follows: Barbara Hall, Nadine Holl, Elaine Hiller, Joanne Rogers and Corrine Peterson. Marianne Rainer and Joanne Houle have received second class ranks and Jeannette Houle and Marceline Houle have badges earned toward their first class rank.

Many topics hav been worked on for first class ranks. Some are bookfinder, community, safety, scribe, bibliophil and homemaking.

Mrs. Hall Speaks To Junior Scholastic Club

At the last meeting of the Junior Scholastic Club on Wednesday, Mrs. Garnet Hall was the guest speaker.

Mrs. Hall's husband, Captain Garnet Hall, is now somewhere in Ireland or England but at one time was stationed at Camp Claiborne in Louisiana, where the Halls joined him. On their way to Louisiana, they travelled through Tennessee and Georgia where they swam in Warm Springs.

By the time they got to Louisiana, the rent had rocketed and they had a hard time finding a house.

It rained almost continuously while they were there, and the soil, according to Mrs. Hall, could not absorb the water quickly enough. Just a few hours of rain would flood small pools and streams.

Places to swim are very scarce down there, and the Halls had to travel fifty miles one way to go to a safe pool.

On their way back they travelled through the East and saw Mount Vernon, the Hermitage, and other places of interest. In the three days that they were in New York they had to pay over five dollars in toll for bridges and tunnels.

Mrs. Hall concluded her talk by showing the group some very interesting pictures and pamphlets on her travels.—J. H.

Steve Tricola Scores Only Touchdown of Spring Game

A third period touchdown by Von Wald's Bulldogs spelled defeat for the Wildcats coached by Hammond. The scoring took place on a pass from Bill Jeans to Steve Tricola on the receiving end.

Tricola was away before the Wildcats knew what took place. The extra point after the touchdown was scored by Roger Jonnson who went over tackle on a fake kick.

The larger Bulldogs made it hard for the wildcats to gain much ground. The plucky Wildcats held however until they yeilded the fatal touchdown in the third quarter.

Players on both teams who made exceptional showings were George Mitchell, Melvin Houle, Bill Jeans, Roger Johnson, Richard McGee, Steve Tricola and LeRoy Sahlin. The game was refereed by Mr. Nelson with Bob Holl as the head linesman.—E. S.

Stenography II Girls Work In Town's Business Places

Fifteen stenography II girls are now working at various business places in town. They work two hours a day for two weeks. The girls receive no wages, as they are working for experience only.

Stenographic work, filing, bookkeeping and typing are some of the jobs they undertake.

Business places where they are working are: Pepin Oil Company (Doris Pederson', C. Thomas Store (Phyllis Larson), Mr. Kuefler's Office (Lorraine Spescha, Ruth Hopkins and Betty Waldo), Mr. Plourde's Office (Florence Shosten), The Times Office (Judy Bengtson and Delores Ekegren), Interstate Lumber Company (Hazel Anderson), Baker Motor Sales (June Baker), Dr. Ruggles Office (Dorothy Leuthner), Dr. Larson's Office (Evelyn Palmer), Mattson and Company (Donna Carlson), Mr. Mike (Joyce Richardson) and the Creamery (Betty Erickson).

Assessments Due

All seniors and juniors are requested to pay their assessment dues in the next few days. This is to enable the annual staff to complete payments and work on the book. The senior assessment is sixty cents and the junior assessment is forty cents.

OLD PICTURE FRAME HELD 1890 NEWSPAPER

YOUNG AMERICA—A laugh or two was enjoyed by William Knobel, recently when he came upon the portion of a newspaper dated September 11, 1890, in the back of an old picture frame. News items in those days were presented in a very different manner than today. Particularly amusing was the description of a divorce case which told of the wife being twice the size of her spouse, she beating him with a broomstick and a tree limb "like a huge giantress", and other cases of inhuman treatment. The divorce was granted.

MRS. V. EUGENE JOHNSON TO SPEAK AT MISSION MEETING

Mrs. V. Eugene Johnson, survivor of the Zamzam, will be the speaker at the District Women's Missionary Society meeting to be held at Scandia Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Johnson will speak Sunday evening and will show motion pictures in connection with her talk.

Saturday evening the Young Women's Missionary Society of the District will have charge of the program and Sunday afternoon at 3:00 the Junior Mission Band will render the program. Rev. David Vikner, former missionary to China, will be the speaker. A bus is scheduled to go to Scandia on Sunday afternoon and those who are interested should call Mrs. A. W. Telander.

Rustling Leaves

By June Baker

★ SPRING

"What delights us in the spring is more a sensation than an appearance; more a hope than a reality. There is something in the softness of the air, in the lengthening of the days, that caresses us and consoles us after the vigorous weeks of winter".

This quotation and the old saying that "In the spring, a young man's fancy turns to love", are shown in all walks of life today. Everywhere robins are singing, plants are poking their stems into the air, new friendships are blossoming and everyone is rejoicing about the grand weather.

★ PICTURES AND PERSONALITIES

The treat of the evening for the guests at the Breeze banquet was the various drawings Miss Hoffstrom made of some of the guests. In order to draw some of the individuals she took their initials and then drew a picture from them while for others she used a symbol. Many amusing things resulted and the effects were hilarious.

★ SLIPPING

Falling down while dancing seemed to be the latest fad displayed by the students at the dance sponsored by the juniors last Friday.

It seemed that the floor was a little slippery for a few who went tumbling. In spite of this, a very entertaining time was had by all. Whether you like the old-fashioned or the newer style of dancing you'll be sure to enjoy yourself as both kinds are danced.

★ WHO'S WHO

Phillip Fladland—Phil's a very active lad who always can be counted on to make up a good program. He belongs to the student council, the band, is an honor student and has acted in both the junior and senior class plays. His ambition is to join the air corps.

Margaret Jesperson—This "happy-go-lucky" blonde has the ambition of making a lot of money. She says that "The Great Lie" is her favorite movie and "Rebecca" is her best liked book. She belongs to the M. R., and G. A. A. clubs. Chow mein, red, horseback riding, skating and dancing rate as her likes and she absolutely can't stand mice.

Bill Engler Takes Editor Duties Again

For the successive year, Billy Engler was named the editor of the Forest Breeze at the annual journalism banquet last Thursday, April 9.

Bob Holl served as toasmaster for the program and the speakers were named for characters in the funny papers. The program was prepared by a committee with June Baker acting as chairman.

Virginia Hoffstrom, guest speaker at the banquet, gave an interesting talk on "art". To add color to the talk, she drew pictures of several students and teachers who were prominent in journalism work the past year.

Mrs. Earl Lellman, now of Owatonna, told of her experience watching the making of a daily newspaper, and detecting propaganda in the news today.

Mr. Pourde announced the editor for the coming year for the Breeze. In his speech he stressed importance of keeping up morale. Jeanette Houle gave a musical reading entitled "Foolish Qustions". She was accompanied by Mrs. Hammond on the piano.

Billy Engler named Pat Tricola assistant editor for her excellent work in helping put out the Breeze the past year. He also accepted the editorship for the coming year.

June Houle played a piano solo; Lois Jeanne Arndt, a flute solo; and June Baker sang "Till Reveille" and "Keep the Home Fires Burning". Mary Jane Weisser accompanied them on the piano.

Iris Houle acted as chairman of the decoration committee and Hazel Anderson headed the menu committee.

Outside guests included Palmer Gilbertson, Virginia Hoffstrom, Sidney Anderson, Harold Anderson, Tom Olson, Gladys Elmstrom, Doris Lellman, Russell Hammond, Francis Plourde, Myrna Booren and Mary Hendrickson.

Senior Dramatists Play To Empty Auditorium
Plan For Better Crowd May 5

"Okay, act one, Alice and Malcolm on stage".

Curtains do not rise, nor do lights dim, but George and Margaret is on! The scene is the dining room of a moderately wealthy family, "tastefully" furnished in folding chairs and a settee minus any cushions. Malcolm and Alice seat themselves at an imaginary table, eat imaginery food and speak acid-tongued lines.

A dog, belonging to one of the cast, wanders into the auditorium, and entangles himself in the bleechers. The cast divert themselves from their lines long enough to watch the spectacle.

The grind begins again.....

"I don't like sausages much", says father.

Mr. Robb slowly paces up and down the stage listening intently, stopping now and then to give a suggestion.

What came before those lines and after, I don't know for the simple reason that one of the members of the cast had a bad disturbing cough.

Emil Maslowski and Alvin White arrive twenty minutes late. Ole Kuefler, portraying sophisticated young Frankie, chews gum and scratches her back.

Doris Pederson makes her entrance and Emil M., standing around in front of the stage gets in the way so I can't see her pretty legs.

Wallace Larson comes galloping down the stairs in a rush to make his entrance.

Anne Tricola misses another cue.

But nevertheless real work is being done on George and Margaret these evenings.

May 5 is the date set for the play. It will undoubtedly be a great evening's entertainment, so don't miss it!—P. T.

Grades To Present Phy. Ed. Program

Tomorrow the grades will present their annual physical education and health program to the general public and grade school.

The first grade will present five different acts: Posture Song, Dancing Together, Windmill Song, Girls' Skipping and Up, Up in the Sky. Richard Johnson will be the announcer.

Glendon Shodahl will announce the four parts of the second grade's program which are: The Health Parade, Animal Imitations, The Danish Dance, and Did You Ever See a Lassie.

The third grade will give a series of relays—Duck Walk, Walrus Walk, Chinese Get Up, Cartwheels, Pure Food Man, Between-the-Legs Relay and Overhead Passing Relay. Their announcer will be Janice Rae Berggren.

Beginning the program for the intermediate grades, the 4th grade will present: Three Deep, Rope Jumping and Looby Loo. Announcing for them will be Robert Rudin.

The fifth graders will begin their acts by a Posture March and continue with Side-Cut Step and Forward Stride in Rythm. Farmer and Crow Relay and Figure Eight Rope Jumping elimination. Joan Baltes will announce.

Polishing off the program the sixth graders will give a dribbling relay, hopping relay, explanation of height and weight charts and ground ball. Don Geis will announce.

Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend.—P. T.

Group Games Feature Physical Ed Program

Tomorrow the annual physical education program will be held in the auditorium. All grades from the seventh thru the tenth are participating. Mr. Von Wald, and Misses Handford and Nelson are in charge of the program.

Numbers on the program are as follows:

Eighth grade versus ninth grade girls in volley ball; seventh and ninth grade girls will tumble; eighth grade versus tenth grade girls in a posture relay; both the ninth and tenth grade girls will do folk dances; and the seventh and tenth grade girls have prepared a number on pyramid building.

The seventh grade boys are selecting some good rope climbers and wrestling to put on a demonstration. The eighth grade boys will do rope climbing and a demonstration on boxing. Group games of volley ball and teniquots will be done only by the eighth grade boys. Both the ninth and tenth grade will do some rope climbing and boxing and wrestling. The only class to tumble will be the tenth grade class. Also first aid will be demonstrated by the tenth grade boys.

The physical education program will be at 1:00 o'clock for the grade school and at 3:00 o'clock for the high school. The public is invited to attend.—G. S.

"Science of Warfare" Topic for S. O. S. Program

"Science of Warfare" was the topic for discussion at the last S. O. S. meeting which was held on Friday, April 10. Chemistry and the physical construction and uses of the number of waring devices such as: bombs, mines, torpedoes and gases were discussed.

Interesting talks and discussions were given by the following students:
Alvin White—Warfare's Deadly Mines.
David Johnson—Aluminum
Carrell Johnson Japanese Fighting Men
Fred Holmquist—Why No Gas Warfare
Wallace Larson—Wartime Submarine Hazards.

School Subscribes to Christian Science Monitor

Have you seen the new daily newspaper which we are now receiving at the school library? Probably it is still obscure as last week was the first time it was in circulation here at school. It's "The Christian Science Monitor", an international daily newspaper which is published in Boston.

Of the many newspapers we now receive the C. S. M. is considered one of the best in circulation at the present time. The make-up of the paper consists of a daily feature page (it has a dash of comics also on this page), editorials, education page which deals with schools, etc., a financial page, a very fine sports page with up-to-the-minute news about the latest games, tournaments, etc., and there's also a special page for women known as "Today's Women". The paper is known also for its current news stories which come direct from the associated press.

APRIL 24 IS DATE FOR ANNUAL EXHIBIT

On April 24 Forest Lake high school will hold its annual all-school exhibit which is open to the adult public from 7:30-8:30. During that hour parents and friends of the school children may view the exhibits which are samples of the pupil's work and achievement in the forms of projects and booklets: and discuss their child's educational problems with the teachers.

Probably the most outstanding exhibits will be found in the home economics, industrial arts, agriculture and commercial departments.

After the exhibit, the high school band and chorus will present a musical program consisting of instrumental and vocal numbers.

Seven Girls Earn Gregg Certificates

Ten Stenography I students have now received their 60 word certificates in shorthand. The students who received their certificates this month are: Iris Kunshier, Melba Sahlin, Delores Paul, June Shelander, Ruth Johnson, Ruth Arkman, and Mae Shoberg. Elaine Alex, Gloria Sanderude and Pat Tricola received their awards last month.

In order to qualify for an award you must take a letter at 60 words a minute for five minutes and transcribe the notes with less than 15 errors. The students are given 45 minutes to transcribe.

There will be one more chance for the other students to get their 60 word certificates in shorthand.—E. H. A.

Red Cross First Aid Classes Begin Wednesday

The Red Cross First Aid classes will begin on Wednesday, April 22, at 7:30 o'clock. They will last for two hours.

In order to complete 20 hours of study before the close of school, two lessons a week are necessary. The other night for lessons is to be determined at the first meeting.

The instructors for this course are Mr. Leo. Cartony and Mrs. Ruby Wesberg of Stillwater. The cost of this instruction is paid for by the Red Cross.

Those who are interested and did not sign up in January, please ask for a entrance blank at the superintendent's office.

Concert Program To Have Patriotic Theme

April 24 is the date that has been set for the annual spring music concert and school exhibit.

The music program will be built around a patriotic theme with music for enjoyment.

Among the numbers that will be played by the band are: The Star-Spangled Banner, Hosts of Freedom and the Halls of Montezuma, the official marching song of the United States Marines.

In addition to these, several concert overtures and program pieces will be included. Among these are the Traveller Overture, In A Persian Market and Dauntless Overture.

Among the numbers to be sung by the chorus are the Kerry Dance, I Heard A Forest Praying and Now Thank We All Our God.

Several instrumental solos will also be included on the program.

Parents are invited to visit the teachers in their home rooms from 7:30 to 8:30. On exhibit in the various rooms will be samples of the work done during the year by the students.

All parents are urged to attend this worthwhile program.—L. J. A.

Awards Day Definitely Set Until April 30

The Awards Day Program has been postponed definitely until April 30. This is because of the wrong colors of letters received from the manufacturer. The guest speaker, Professor Norton of Monroe High School, was also unable to be here.

Compton's Encyclopedia To Be Added to School Library

The 1942 copyright edition of Compton's Encyclopedia will soon be added to the school library.

The series of books has been enlarged a great deal over the previous books. The latest edition of these books that we have in the library is 1938.

The books contain a great deal of subject matter on the present war and the countries engaged in combat. They have large colored pictures, graphs and many statistics on the populations, the war machines, and the conditions of the various countries engaged in the war.

There is also a supplement to the book on the war which will be kept up to date each year.

As well as a lot of information on the war, the books still contain information on science, literature, mathematics, geography, and many other subjects.

The Compton's Encyclopedia is the most widely used reference book in the schools of America.

150 ATTEND F. F. A. RALLY

Thirteen boys who are members of the Forest Lake chapter of the F. F. A. attended a district rally at North Branch last Saturday.

One hundred fifty boys in all attended this rally. Odean Hokenson, of the local chapter, responded to the address of welcome for Forest Lake.

Floor Show, Dancing, Games, To Entertain Sophs Tonight

Under the student supervision of Iris Houle, the sophomore class party will be held this evening at the Legion Hall starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Iris has had charge of all arrangements for the party and the committee chairmen under her are: floor show, Bernice Dupre; decorations, Malcolm Morley; refreshments, Joyce McGowan; and invitations, Gertrude Waldo.

The theme of the party is a Barn Dance. Admission to the party is a noisemaker and each guest is requested to wear old clothes.

Boys Are Ready For Football Battle Today

Today is the day for the bloody battle between Hammond's "Wild-Cats" and Von Wald's "Bull-Dogs". The game takes place during the regular practice time from 11:00 to 12:15 a. m.

Practices for this ordeal have been going on all week. Both coaches commented that their team was going to mop up the other and thus they installed the fighting spirit in their boys.

The "Wild-Cats" coached by Hammond consists of Richard McGee, Gerald Holmquist, Geo. Mitchell, Don Peterson, Milton Jeans, Malcolm Morley, and Richard Campbell, as backs. Linemen include John Blanchard, Wenzel Croone, Gordon Palmer, Clarence Fedje, Leslie Collen, James Montain, Gerald Armstrong, C. Dupre, Richard Anderson, Warren Patrin and Marc Shoquist.

The battling "Bull-Dogs" on Von Wald's squad are Roger Johnson, Billy Jeans, LeRoy Sahlin, Lawrence Rainer, Staney Saxe, backs; Melvin Houle, Curtis Wilson, David Engquist, Steve Tricola, Emmet Cartier, Raymond Waldoch, Calvin Ludwig, Russell Benoy, Lawrence Peloquin, Gunder Gunderson, O. Dupre, Stanley Richards and Edward White, linesmen.—E. S.

BOB HOLL'S SPORTFOLIO

Today's the big-intrasquad game with Hammond's "Wild-cats" versus Von Wald's "Bull-Dogs".

Hammond's team will be built chiefly around McGee who will be in at fullback. At quarter will be George Mitchell; wing, Jerry Holmquist; and at tail, Don Peterson. This backfield lacks the experience of Von Wald's team. It has Roger Johnson at full; Billy Jeans, tail; Lawrence Rainer, wing; and LeRoy Sahlin at quarter.

The teams are evenly matched but the Bulldog's seem to have the edge in experience as most of the boys have played some football before. As far as the lines are compared Von Wald's team outweighs Hammond's by quite a margin.

Von Wald's team will probably have Engquist, Gunderson, Cartier and Tricola in the line-up.

Hammond's line will be bolstered by such players as Blanchard at center and Palmer at guard. Hammond's team has a pair of strong ends in Croone and Anderson. I know I'm sticking my neck out but I'll take Hammond's "Wild Cats" 12-6 over Von Wald's "Bull-Dogs".

The big leagues opened last Tuesday on what should be good seasons for some clubs and poor ones for others.

I think the Yankees have it to themselves in the American league with their strongest opposition coming from the "White Sox" and the "Red Sox".

As an underdog I'll string along with the "Athletics".

In the National league it will be a fight between three teams—the Reds, Cardinals and the Dodgers.

New Books Are Put In Library

During the last few weeks our librarian has prepared 70 new books for distribution in our library. In order to become better acquainted with these new books and their contents, a few of the books are listed below.

Are you interested in aviation? Now probably boys are the only ones to whom this may appeal, but if you're curious to know the amount of education received, what subjects to study before entering this field and the opportunities offered by this profession, why not read How To Get Into Aviation by John B. Walker, or from a more technical standpoint on the subject, read the book, Elements of Aeronatuics by Francis Pope.

Do you keep up on "who's who" in the books included in the book of the month list? Probably you didn't know that three of the many which are included in this list are now available in our library, namely, Christopher Columbus by Samuel E. Morrison; My Name is Aram by William Saroyan and Sapphira and the Slave Girl by Willa Cather.

We all like to read humorous books, especially those containing jokes and silly anecdotes and what coud be more soothing to our nerves after a hectic day at school than to be able to pick up a book of this type? Why not enjoy yourself by reading A Sub-treasury of American Humor by E. B. White, a recent book of the month selection.

Maybe none of us will have the opportunity to appear on a quiz program but we can keep tab on ourselves and our knowledge right at home —does it sound possible? Many of the answers to the questeions which may stump you can be found in the book It's Fun When You Know the Answers by Dee Henry.

Cheerleaders take notice! Do the yells you now use seem to be growing whiskers because they are old? Do the yells fail to arouse pep and school spirit among the student body? If you find that this is so, why not try a few new yells. If you glance through the book Just Yells by Willis N. Bugbee you can be sure to find some new and peppy yells.

For those aspiring music students and biologists it may be wise for them to read or discover new facts in the following books—Music Lovers' Encyclopedia by Deems Taylor; Fabre's Book of Insects by Fabre and Our Country's National Parks by Irving R. Melbo.

Do you have a favorite author? Probably you do and it may be Robert L. Stevenson or Edna Ferber. A book has been written by Eulalie O. Gregor called Robert L. Stevenson, Teller of Tales which acquaints the reader with the former author of well-known novels. Edna Ferber, who has offered us such fine books as Cimmarron and Show Boat has now, another book to add to the famous list of her novels. It's So Big. Why not jot that down on your "must read list?"

For all spiring stenographers a good way to gain more knowledge about office and stenographic work is to read the book, Secretary's Handbook and Office Manual by Elmer W. Leighton.

Two other books which follow the trend to more work of English and literature are A Treasury of the World's Greatest Letters by Mr. Schuster and The Oxford Companion to English Literature by Paul Harvey.

Now when the entire nation is engaged in an "all-out" effort to win the war, we should know more about this war and what let us into it. Some of the questions we may ask ourselves while contemplating on the present war situation are—How is the Navy organized to fight the war?—How is the Air Force organized?—How can young people help?—How can we pay for the war?—What are the farmers doing to help the war effort?—All these questions may keep us in doubt how we do stand and its up to us, as students to know. The best way to get a first-hand view of the present war is to read the book, America Organizes to Win the War.

Junior High School Crier

• ONIONS AND ORCHIDS

Orchids to the freshmen boys for their return party to the girls. Onions to some of that bad weather that we have had.

• COMEDY?

The Japanese are just like silk stockings, did you know that? As soon as there's a hole in them they RUN! ! !

Gerry Armstrong: Our horses are so much alike we should do something so we can tell them apart. I know! I'll knock a tooth out of mine.

Forrest Miller: O. K.

But the next day Forrest's horse fell and knocked a tooth out so—

Forrest: This time I'll cut my horses's tail and make sure.

After having done this, Gerry's horse caught his tail in the barn door and pulled it out so—

Gerry: Oh, nuts. Let's measure them, then there can be no mistake.

So they proceeded thus and it turned out the black horse was ½-inch smaller than the white horse.

• ACHIEVEMENT

The seventh and eighth graders had achievement tests instead of six weeks exams this six weeks. I'll bet they enjoyed themselves.

• DRAWINGS

At the Breeze banquet last week a picture was drawn of your columnist struggling over humor to install in this week's space. Virginia Hoffstrom drew it.

If she could only see me as I struggled with the Scholastic magazines to find some jokes! Don't be afraid to tell me if something funny happens. Please!

Rustling Leaves

By June Shelander

★ VACATIONS

Well, here we are back at school after an enjoyable vacation. Don't feel too bad, but just think, there are only eight weeks left of the school year.

★ CORRECTION

An error was made in this column last week as to the name of the writer. It should have read Lois Jeanne Arndt instead of Gloria Sanderude.

★ CLASS PARTY

From what I've heard the seniors had a high old time at their class party. I bet some of the senior girls were rather embarrassed when falling on the gym floor—or maybe they had reason for it.

★ NOT REALLY ! ! !

Recently Alice Jeanne McGee saw a collection of stuffed birds at a library in Owatonna. While looking them over she saw one bird lying on its back and very brightly she remarked, "Look, this bird is dead".

★ WHO'S WHO

Ruth Olson: This blonde, blue-eyed senior girl has been a clarinet player in the band for three years and also belongs to G. A. A. and M. R. She rates "Singing Hills" as the best movie she has seen and tells us that ice cream and cake are her favorite foods. Upon being asked what she does in her liesure time, she replied, "Listen to the radio and sew".

Emil Maslowski: This past year Emil has been the capable leader of the boys in the Noon Hour Activities. As yet, he has not decided what vocation to pursue, but his hobby is photography. His pet peeve is doing research work and he confesses his love for ice cream and chocolate cake.

June Proulx: She is a transfer from Centerville, entering Forest Lake high school in her senior year. She lends her soprano voice to the senior high chorus and states that home economics is her favorite subject. Her favorite pastime is going to the movies and incidentally her favorite movie is "Shepherd of the Hills". After graduation, June plans to become a defense worker.

Richard Cartier: Richard looks so much like his twin brother, Robert, that you can hardly tell them apart. Richard belongs to F. F. A. and he says that of all the school activities he liked the basketball games the best. Some of his favorites are: movie, "Boom Town"; color, blue; food, roast turkey; book, "Beau Geste". His ambition is to become an accountant.

Six Groups Compete In Music Contest

Forest Lake, Stillwater, White Bear, Mahtomedi, North St. Paul and Columbia Heights will be the competing schools in the annual music contest which will be held at White Bear high school on May 1.

Judges for the contest will be John M. Kuypers, director of the Hamline Choir for the vocal numbers, and Daniel Martelli for the instrumental numbers.

Each competing group will perform sometime during the day in the contest. Future notes will be received as to that effect.

Daniel Martelli will direct the mass band which will play the "Star Spangled Banner", "Hall of Fame", "Hosts of Freedom", "Traveller" and America".

John Kupers will lead the male chorus in singing Kerry Dance: Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring: Hiking Song and the Star-Spangled Banner.

The mass groups will be made up of students from all the competing schools.

Student Council Plans "Armed Forces" Program

A committe composed of Franklin Williver, Phil Fladland, Dolores Paul and Dorothy Leuthner was appointed at the last Student Council meeting to prepare plans for a Student Council day program.

The theme of the program will be the various divisions of the armed forces. There will be various recruiting officers from the coast guard, army, navy, air corps, marines and the nursing corp who will speak at the program.

Each year it has been the policy of the Student Council to sponsor some event during the school year. In previous years there has been student teacher days and college day programs.

The date for this year's program has not been definitely set.

Kuefler, Engler, Lead Typing Students In Speed Race

Nineteen typing students are now typing over thirty words a minute in typing speed tests. The speed tests are fifteen minutes long and in order to qualify your test, you cannot have more than three errors.

Dolores Kuefler and Billy Engler have the greatest rate of speed recorded on the typing charts. Dolores is now typing 48 words per minute while Billy is typing 47 words per minute.

Other students who are typing over thirty words per minute are: Bonnie Baker, Muriel Engquist, Mary Holl, Robert Holl, Alice Jeanne McGee, Roger Mattson, Dayton Williver, Curtis Wilson, Julia Berglund, Elsie Hanson, Lorretta Hopkins, Avonelle Alldritt, Maye Kroberger, Richard McGee, Malcolm Morley, Beatrice Richardson and David Shoquist.

Annual Breeze Banquet Tonight

Today at 6:30 o'clock, the annual Breeze banquet will be held in the auditorium. This year's banquet will be a gala event and a number of speakers and musicians will appear on the program.

The theme of the banquet will be the "comic section" of a newspaper. Invitations were written with a picture of some couple prominent in the funny papers.

The guest speaker will be Miss Virginia Hoffstrom of St. Paul, who is a chalk drawer. She is the daughter of Hauff and Hauff, outstanding columnist of the St. Paul Dispatch-Pioneer Press papers.

Mrs. Earl Lellman, Mr. Plourde and Billy Engler will also speak at the program.

Musical numbers on the program will be a piano solo by June Houle, a musical reading by Jeannette Houle, a flute solo by Lois Jeanne Arndt and a vocal solo by June Baker.

Highlights of the program will be the announcement of next year's editor and the assistant editor for the past year. The N. S. P. A. rating will also be made public at this time.

Bob Holl will serve as toastmaster for the event.—G. S.

Von Wald Chairman Physical Ed. Program

On Friday, April 17, the annual physical education program will be held in the gym. All physical education students and the grade school pupils will participate.

The program is directed by Mr. Von Wald, chairman; Miss Nelson, Miss Handford and Miss Lipsett.

The high school boys will take part in tumbling, first aid instructions, boxing, rope-climbing and wrestling. The girls will do folk dances, tumble, build pyramids and take part in various relays. The G. A. A. girls will participate in showing some activitiy they have done during the year.

The grade school will do a posture march, rhythmic side-cut step and the farmer and crow relay.—G. S.

Sale of U. S. War Stamps Mounts to $392.85 This Week

The sale of United States War Stamps by the Student Council has reached $392.85. This is an increase of $40.65 since March 16.

Remember the stamps are on sale on Monday and Thursday in the high school school and on Tuesday in the grade school.

Juniors Named Winners Of Noon Activity Race

The final scoring of the classes in the Noon Hour Activities race which was completed before Easter vacation is as follows: juniors first with 192 points, seniors second with 159, sophomores with 70 and freshmen last with four points.

As soon as the weather permits, a schedule of outdoor games will be followed.—D. W.

TIP-OFFS

By Bob Holl

● With baseball coming into the picture I'd like to know how St. Paul and Minneapolis are going to come out in this year's pennant race. St. Paul has a much revamped team with a lot of rookie players in Hoffman, Grant, Graham and others. These rookies have shown-up best in spring practice and most likely will make up part of the team. St. Paul's pitching is weak with too many boys who had sore arms and who are trying comebacks. The only steady pitcher left is Vedie Himsel.

● Minneapolis this year will have a team something like the one they had last year. They are going to use many rookies this year as all the good ball players are in the army. The pitching department will be the weakest spot on the Minneapolis team with the same old veterans returning from last year.

I think this is a good time to try and pick the pennant race in the American Association, so here goes: first place, Kansas City; second, Milwaukee; third, Indianapolis; fourth, St. Paul; fifth, Louisville; sixth, Minneapolis; seventh, Columbus; and eighth, Toledo.

● Although the state basketball tournament is long gone by, a few comments can be made on it. In the first place the tournament was uninteresting up until the last game. All the scores of the games were one-sided and some of the games were even runaways. As far as the last game was concerned I didn't think either Buhl or Marshall were up to the standards of last year's finalists.

Two of the best looking players in the tournament were Jackie Hiller of Marshall and Gorge Smilanich of Buhl. Hiller made all-state but Smilanich did not, although he was the best defensive man on the floor. In the other games I thought Shanka of Hopkins and Chapski of Bagley were plenty good.

Twelve Years As Our Superintendent

Mr. Kuefler, who is a graduate of St. Cloud Teachers College and the University of Minnesota, has been superintendent of our school for twelve years.

He is also a member of Phi Delta Kappa and along with Mr. Plourde introduced the assignment books in our school.

His hobbies are music and sports and he can be seen viewing with interest any musical or athletic event in the school. He stated that the inter-class tournament games showed a lot of spirit and cooperation.

Mr. Kuefler is very proud of our school transportation system.—I. H.

Freedom— Made Of Simple Stuff

From the archives of broken peace we are bringing out old words and dusting them off for use again as shining lanterns to lead us through the darkness of another war.

Words like freedom, justice and truth—all of them hard to define, none of them used more frequently than freedom.

You cannot say what freedom is, perhaps, in a single sentence. It is not necessary to define it. It is enough to point to it.

Freedom is a man lifting a gate latch at dusk and sitting for a while on the porch, smoking his pipe, before going to bed.

It is the violence of an argument outside an election poll; it is the righteous anger of the pulpits.

It is the warm laughter of a girl on a park bench.

It is the rush of a train over the continent and the unafraid faces of people looking out the windows.

It is all the howdys in the world, and the hellos.

It is you trying to remember the words to "The Star Spangled Banner".

It is the absence of apprehension at the sound of approaching foot-steps outside your closed door.

It is your hot resentment of intrigue, the tilt of your chin and the tightening of your lips sometimes.

It is all the things you do want to keep on doing.

It is all the things you feel and cannot help feeling.

FREEDOM—IT IS YOU.

Boys Needed For Summer Farm Work

A serious shortage of farm labor during the summer months may become a "bottle-neck" in the all-out war effort unless all available man-power is harnessed. The available man-power is our school-boy of today.

The United States Commissioner of Education has asked all superintendents to register all available students who will be available for farm work this coming summer. Local boys may so register with Mr. Kuefler in the school office. This call is especially for town and city boys who have found no work for the coming summer.

The farmers of our trade area who need help are urged to inform the school authorities.

In order that this call for workers will not cause unemployment for people of older ages, boys are urged not to register unless they are sixteen years of age. If it becomes absolutely necessary in this all-out effort to have more workers, boys of fourteen or fifteen years of age will be asked to apply for these jobs.

Boys who register will be placed in agriculture work only when their health and welfare are safeguarded through reasonable hours of work; equitable wages; safe and suitable transportation where needed; and, for those living away from home to be near their work; provision of fully adequate housing accomodations, supervisions, and leisure-time activities.

The youth may be enrolled with the U. S. Employment Service which has offices at the county seat and also at St. Paul.

Students to Dance and Jive At Shin-Dig Tomorrow Eve

Dancing to the music of Benny Goodman, Jimmy Dorsey, Wayne King and many other name bands will be featured at the next junior-sponsored dance.

The dance will be held tomorrow evening at the Legion Hall from eight o'clock until twelve o'clock.

Poster Contestants Vie For Prize Rank

Six dollars worth of prizes will serve as incentive for students to take part in the annual Poppy Poster Contest will close on May 1.

The contest shall be divided in two classes: First Class, students in seventh, eighth and ninth grades inclusive; and Second Class, students in tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades inclusive.

There will a national prize for the best poster in each class. State prizes will be announced later.

The words "American Legion" or "American Legion Auxiliary" must be incorporated in the design of each poster and a poster must have a fitting slogan which shall not exceed ten words.

On each poster must be a picture of the Flander's Poppy in the correct color The posters shall be made of chipboard, matboard, pasteboard or cardboard.

The poster dimensions shall not exceed 14x 20 inches.

The United States Flag shall not be used in any form on Poppy posters.

When judging the posters, the judges shall use the following scale:

(1) Appeal: force with which the poster drives home the poppy, the message shall be with strict adherence to the significance of the veteran-made poppy.

(2) Artistic ability.

(3) Originality.

(4) Neatness.

The posters will be divided into classes according to the materials used in the construction of the poster. Class one includes posters made with paper cutouts, crayons, pencils or water colors. Class two includes all posters made with tempera water colors or oil paints. Class three shall include posters made with tempera water colors or oil paints.

The name and address of each contestant and the department must be written in ink on the back of the poster.

Junior Scholastic Club Boasts 22 Members

Marijane Sokolowski a member of the team which published the Times a few weeks ago spoke to the Junior Scholastic Club a few days ago.

She told of interesting experiences of her college days and gave advice as a green freshman.

Marijane says that the task of money should not keep you from going to college as there is plenty of work to get on the campus and many of the students work their way through college. After school and on Saturdays you may find Marijane behind the counter of the mail order office at Montgomery-Ward, selling shoes.

The Junior Scholastic Club membership has risen from fourteen members to twenty-two. The club has a ruling that each member have a rank number. The officers have the highest number and those following receive their numbers by drawing.

The following are the members of the club given in rank order: Marc Shoquist, Shirley Mae Arndt, Morris Osterbauer, Phyllis Johnson, Alice Richards, Mary Carol Voelker, Herbert Elmstrom, Melvin Boettcher, Kenneth Houle, Godfrey Vacura, Phyllis Ellerman, June Houle, Roberta Johnson, June Sanderude, Mildred Alex, Eleanor Anderson, Julia Rose Geis, Jeannette Houle, Rachael Marier, Shirley Morley, Marguerite Rainer and Merle Sederstrom.—J. Junior High School Crier

★ THE EFFECT EASTER HAD ON:

Jeannette Houle—came to school and worked just as hard.

June Houle and Phyllis Ellerman—came sporting new hair styles.

Most of the boys—returned with that "school again" feeling.

★ SEVENTH GRADERS "GYPED"

The seventh graders have been deprived of the five-minute period between first and second hour class in the morning. Naturally some of them don't like the idea, but there must be a good reason behind it otherwise it wouldn't be in practice.

★ TENNIS TROUBLE

Tommy L.: Took me five weeks of hard labor to learn how to play tennis.

Mickey J.: It did. And what do you have for your pains?

Spescha, Tolberg Contest Winners

After weeks of tabulating and calculations, the winners of the spelling and handwriting contest are ready to be announced.

The winner of the senior high school handwriting contest is Lorraine Spescha. Honorable mention goes to Gloria Sanderude, Jossetta Carnille, Joyce McGowan, Maye Kroberger and Hazel Gray.

Wesley Tolberg was named the winner of the spelling contest in the senior high. Muriel Engquist, Clara Telander, Julia Berglund, Lorraine Spescha, Billy Engler, Florence Shosten and Melba Sahlin receive honorable mention for their outstanding work.

The outstanding speller in the junior high school is Jeannette Houle. Honorable mention goes to James Rainer, Shirley Mae Arndt, Alfred Bakeberg, Marc Shoquist and Esther Graton.

Marguerite Rainer captured the handwriting honors in the junior high. Norma Jean Graves, LaVerne Ringuis, Betty Hopkins, June Sanderude and Esther Graton earned honorable mention because of their fine penmanship.—G. A. W.

Six Lettermen Will Bolster Baseball Squad

Baseball will soon take over the sports fans of Forest Lake high school. Practice will start with the termination of spring football.

This season is to be Forest Lake's second year in theparticipation of this game. In the first year of play the Rangers won two games and dropped four. This year's schedule has not yet been completed, but will be published in the Breeze as soon as it is arranged.

Prospects for the season are good with the returning of six letter men from last year's Ranger team. Returning lettermen are Bill Jeans, Rollin Houle, Robert Holl, Robert Elmstrom, Fred Holmquist and Don Peterson.

Other promising candidates who will undoubtedly show up for practice are Tyrus Jeans, Wenzel Croone, Clarence Huber, Richard McGee and Wally Langdon.

Spring football will probably end late next week and will officially close with an intra-squad game directed by Coaches Von Wald and Hammond.—E. S.

He was telling her of his travels and the things of international significance he had observed. At eleven o'clock, he was talking about the situation in Spain. At twelve, he started explaining Germany's recognition of an Italian conquest. At one he was expounding on the influence of Russia. At two her father started downstairs and daughter turned quickly to her father.

"And have you been to China, too?"

"Why, yes."

"Good; then I won't have to explain about the freebooters and the Open Door Policy".

★ WHO'S WHO?

Evelyn Palmer—The ambition of this senior girl is to be a secretary. Evelyn declares that her pet peeve is silk stockings and her favorite food is olives. Those of you who notice the advertisements for the bi-annual would recognize the adept drawing of this girl. She confides that her favorite teacher is Mr. Moede.

Betty Waldo—This blue-eyed girl also plans to be a secretary. Betty has been a member of the band for three years and has also participated in S. O. S. She states that her favorite color is blue and her favorite pastime is reading good novels.

Alvin White—Besides engaging in basketball and football. Alvin also has a yen for acting. He was in the junior class play last year and has a leading part in the senior class play this year. This tall lad states that his pet peeve is too much make-up, and he has a special liking for spaghetti.

Betty Turnvall—This senior Miss hails from Stacy. Betty's favorite foods are devils food cake and ice cream. When asked what she liked best in school work Betty replied, "Making acquaintances and the chorus". Her favorite pastime of listening to radio music is reason enough for her belonging to the band. Betty aspires to be a seceretary in defense work.

Final Annual Copy Sent To Buck-Bee Mears

There was a last-minute hustle, a rustle and a hub-bub, but the bi-annual was finally completed and sent to the printers on April first. Mr. McIlrath was here this week and checked over everything for the final printing.

Students may expect to receive their books by the middle of May. —H. A.

Professor Norton To Speak At Awards Program

Awards day will be Tuesday, April 14, at 3:00 p. m. Pupils being awarded will receive the awards from Mr. Kuefler.

Mr. John A. Norton, commonly known as Professor Norton, will be the guest speaker. Mr. Norton is the principal of Monroe high school in St. Paul. He is famous for his after dinner speeches on sports.

All junior and senior high pupils are invited to attend. —G. A. W.

Various Topics Depicted In G. A. A. Project Books

Ten G.A.A. members have made project books to get points for an award. To get an award each girl has to have 120 points. Twenty points is the maximum on a project book and 100 points in activities.

The following girls have made project booklets: Harriet Anderson, Joyce Berglin, Mae Shoberg, Eva Strecker, DeLores Ekegren, Florence Shosten, Bette Kunshier, Margaret Jesperson, Melba Sahlin and Phyllis Larson.

The following topics were chosen for th booklets: badminton, basketball, tennis, fo ball, bowling, baseball, soccer, first aid, skiin horseback riding and walking habits.

35 Boys Report For Spring Football

The annual Spring football practice started again last week. Thirty-five boys reported for the opening session. Promise is shown in these new recruits as many of them are large fellows. Junior Class Places First In Noon Hour Activities

Last Friday the indoor Noon Hour Activities Competition reached its close with the junior class winning by quite a margin. The seniors were runnerup, sophomore, third; and the freshmen last.

The junior class though small in number, succeeded in winning due to its fine cooperation.

Supervision of the activities was ably done by Miss Handford and Mr. Hammond. The student supervisors were Melba Sahlin and Emil Maslowski, assisted by Wallace Larson and Delores Paul.

Watch next week's Breeze for final scores. —D. W.

No slacks will be allowed, but all old clothes will be encouraged.

Miss Booren Instructs Here Eleven Years

MYRNA BOOREN

Most of you have had Miss Booren at one time or another. She has taught practically every subject in every grade in junior high school.

When she began teaching here she taught the fourth grade. She has been teaching the junior high for eleven years.

She says during her experience in junior high, Forest Lake has added new activities each year, which has a lot to do to interest both the pupils and teachers.

Miss Booren states, "I consider it a great privilege to contact so many different ways. I think our junior high is getting better each year."

One thing she dislikes most of all is red marks and over-due make-up blanks.

She likes to hike and read, but best of all she likes to travel.

She says one of her wishes is that this school had more room. —R. A. C.

Church Council At Nicaea Determined Easter Date In 352

Next Sunday, which is Easter, is the principal feast of the ecclesiastical year. The date for Easter was determined by the Church Council at Nicaea in 325. It set the date as the Sunday after the first full moon following March 21, the Spring Equinox, Consequently, Easter moves between March 22 and April 25. In 1934 Easter fell on April 1.

The origin of the term "Easter" is believed to to have been from the name Eostre, a Teutonic goddess of spring. This celebration of the renewal of life was easily changed to the resurrection of Jesus from the dead.

In early times the Protestants took little notice of Easter but within the past fifty years virtually all Protestant sects observe the day with special services.

As early as the present century many of the Protestant churches began to adopt the custom of the Catholic Churches by holding services commemorating the resurrection at sunrise.

The Easter tradition of decorating churches with a Bermuda lily has become so general that the flower has come to be known as the Easter lily.

The custom of regarding the egg as symbolic of the resurrection is because it holds the charm of new life. The coloring of the eggs was used by the Egyptians, Greeks, Romans, and Persians.

Knickerbocker Historian's 159th Birthday Tomorro w

Washington Irving, whose 159th birthday anniversary is tomorrow, gained the distinction of being the first American literary man to attract attention in England. He was born on April 3, 1783 in New York City. He began the study of law but never seriously followed it as a profession.

He went to Europe when he was twenty-one and remained for two years. On his return he published his Knickerbocker History of New York. During the War of 1812 he was on the staff of the governor and wrote for a Philadelphia magazine. In 1815 he went to England to look after business interests of his brother's firm in which he was a partner. With the failure of the business he devoted his time exclusively to literature.

His Sketch Book was well received in both England and America when published in 1819. Two of the tales from this book which are famous to this day are "Rip Van Winkle" and the "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow." He held the position of Secretary of the United States Legation in London from 1829 to 1831. During this time he wrote The Alhambra.

Ten years later he was appointed United States Minister to Spain. After three years he returned to his home at Tarrytown, New York, where he continued to write until his death on November 28, 1859. His last work was the Life of Washington. His works have been published in forty volumes.

Annual Breeze Banquet April 9; Miss Hoffstrom, Speaker

Miss Virginia Hoffstrom, daughter of the famed columnist, Hawf and Hawf, will be the main speaker at the annual Breeze banquet which will be held on Thursday, April 9. She is a chalk talker and will draw pictures of several of the banquet guests.

Other speakers will be Doris Skog Lellman, Billy Engler and Mr. Plourde. There will also be several musical numbers.

The menu committee is as follows: Loretta Hopkins, Gertrude Waldo, Ruth Cartier and Hazel Anderson.

The members of the program committee are June Baker, Lois Jeanne Arndt, Billy Engler and Doris Pederson.

The decoration committee consists of Iris Houle and Alice Jeanne McGee.

The invitations were prepared by Gloria Sanderude, Lois Jeanne Arndt, Elaine Alex and June Shelander.

Junior High School Crier

★ CURRENT?—

Here's a joke that has taken the junior high by storm. Maybe It's familiar. Don't read the end first.

Think of a girl:—
Think of a boy:—
Now think of another girl and another boy—
Close your eyes—
—Dark isn't it?—

★ WHAT'S THAT SMELL?

The freshmen can do just as well as some of the chemistry classes in getting odors from experiments. Donna Lawrence was burning some bacon last Wednesday and at first it smelled good and made you feel hungry but then—ugh! ! !

★ POINTERS

Mr. Krasgin, the dancing teacher, was giving the eighth grade boys some pointers on boxing Wednesday. I guess he really knows how. When the boys would get up to spare with him you could almost see their knees crumple beneath them.

★ COULD YOU FEATURE?

No one kicked out of Mr. Nelson's freshmen science class?

★ DRAMA

Freshmen reading some plays of a really mushy sort. They're from the Prose and Poetry books so most of the senior high probably remember them. Take the ROMANCERS, for instance.

Winner Announced In Debate Program

The annual debate and forensics program, under the direction of Mr. Moede and Mr. Nelson, was held last Friday. The winners of the various divisions were as follows:

Dramatic—The White Hands of Telham by Mary Holl.

Original Oratory—War and the Farmer by Alvin White.

Oratorical—Hating War by Roger Johnson.

Humorous—Brotherly Love by Ethel Jane Christensen.

The winners of the debate on the question: Resolved: The Federal Government should own and operate public utilities, were: the negative debators, George Mitchell and Wesley Tolberg. The affirmative debators were Pat Tricola and Franklin Williver. Wesley Tolberg was chosen as the best debator.

Melvin Houle was chairman of the Debate and the judges of the program were Miss Ruth Johnson, Miss Loren, Mrs. Richard Peterson, Mr. Elmer Johnson and Mr. B. C. Kuefler.

The pupils who participated in the contest are to be commended on their fine work as are the advisors.—L. J. A.

University Journalists Speak To Breeze Staff

Last week the members of the Journalism Club were privileged to have as their guest speakers, Miss Marijane Sokolowski, Don Moog and John Berdie, all students at the University school of Journalism.

Mr. Moog and Miss Sokolowski are both contributors of the "Minnesota Daily", the University daily paper.

The speakers told about life on the campus and the subjects that you are likely to take if you attend the journalism school. They also answered questions asked by the students.

An interesting note is that the majority of the students at the U. of M. are working their way through school. The journalists also learned that a good way to make money is to write for the "Daily" which pays on the worthiness of the stories submitted. Every person receives pay at the end of the month, even if it may be only ten cents.

The "Editors for a week' of the Times stated that they believe the Forest Lake paper to be the best of its kind in the state.—L. J .A.

April Fool's Day Almost Three Hundred Years Old

From time immemorial, the first day of April has been set apart as a time when it is permissable to play harmless tricks upon one's friends and neighbors.

This custom is of uncertain origin, but it probably had its beginning in France, about 1564, when New Year's Day was carried back to the first of January, instead of being celebrated on the twenty fifth of March, as had before been the case.

Before the change was made the merry making has culminated on the octave of the feasts, April 1, and this day was still set apart for mock ceremonial visits and pretended gifts, with a view of making fools of those who had forgotten the change of date. The custom once established was continued even after its origin had been completely forgotten. This at least, is the most plausible conjecture concerning the origin of April Fool. —R. A. C.

Physical Education Program To Be Given April 17

Under the direction of physical education instructors Von Wald, Nelson and Handford, the annual physical education program will be given on April 17 in the local school gym.

The program will consist of tumbling groups, demonstrations of folk dances, pyramid building and group games.

The participants in the program will be members of the physical education classes.

The public is invited to attend this program and there is no admission charge.

Hil Hints For A Joyous Easter Vacation

M vent out like a lion and what w in on the last fatal blast of did ? Well, April of course, and col e joyous season of Easter.

wi nto the "swing of it' just go down me store and there on all candy to an be found hundreds of chocolate c oosters and any other kind of farm ril which can easily be digested as xll in condensed form (skim milk and s) and not in the usual form in which most often found.

other sign of the approaching Easter n is the weekly rest from our "chores e day." And oh, how we do appreciate week, as all we do is catch up on any p lost on previous week-ends: eat dy till we wish that there wasn't any h thing; and above all we forget what history or a biology book looks like.

e greatest consolation of all is that after n a blissful week we again return to our mer week day tasks which will continue for another eight weeks after which we are awarded a nice three month's vacation. Now don't be blue or let down by this statement as summer isn't so very far off.

During this one week forget your cares and have a grand time for yourself, and as for a few healthful suggestions I'll leave these few rules to guide you on your way:

1. Overeat, especially of sweets (your digestive system may grumble and roar in distress, but don't worry, it may only be a stomach ache).

2. Sleep only during the daytime. Only take time out for three square meals a day. Go out every night, th enjoy yourself.

3. Forget your boy, and studies and only think up ex will to give to either Mr. Plourde or Mance. n why your last three make-up bla will eren't in bright and early on Easter l fro ay or Tuesday.

4. Remember all you. ose friends and wish them a joyous Easte ju They'll remember you to remember).

Well, all in all have a and time over vacation, my fellow studen , as we all deserve it, don't you think? ?

★ WHO'S WHO THIS YEAR

Donna Carlson—

During her four years at Forest Lake, Donna has never failed to be an honor student. Her lilting soprano voice has blended with the chorus for the past three years. Donna's greatest ambition is to be an opera singer. This dark haired, blue-eyed miss enjoys skating, skiing, being a spectator at basketball games, and also likes English at which she excels.

Harriet Anderson—

People who try to be someone else are Harriet's pet peeve. In her high school she has been prominent in Chorus, Band, G. A. A. and M. R. She has a desire to further her education in the commercial field and then to work in some big office. How Green Was My Valley is her favorite book and The Road To Singapore is her favorite movie. Incidentally, she has a grand sense of humor.

Donna Voss—

This gay miss has ambitions of attending the University of Minnesota. After that she would like to travel. Her favorite movie is Rebecca, while her pet peeve is high heels and anklets. She revels in skiing and dancing. When asked what she liked best in school she replied that she most enjoyed the junior-senior prom.

Margie Matheson—

Learning how to cook is this blonde, blue-eyed girl's ambition. During her school years she has been a member of the alto section in the Chorus. Fun loving Margie also likes skating and hiking as well as ice cream and chocolate cake. Teasing people is a hobby which she delights in. In the future Margie plans to be a stenographer.

Moede, Kuefler Judge Forensic Eliminations

Eliminations were held Monday morning, March 16, for the senior high forensics program. Mr. Moede and Mrs. Kuefler were the judges. Those competing for the final contest which will be held March 27, are:

Dramatic—Mary Holl, Frances Spescha and Gail Carlson.

Prepared Oratory—Roger Johnson and Wallace Larson.

Original Oratory—Robert Cartier and Alvin White.

Humorous—Ethel Jane Christianson and David Engquist.

The program will at 2:45 and the public is invited.

Annual Breeze Banquet To Be Held April 9

Plans are being made for the annual Breeze Banquet which will be held April 9 in the high school gym.

The people on the committees are as follows:

Menu—Loretta Hopkins, Gertrude Waldo, Ruth Cartier and Hazel Anderson.

Program—Billy Engler, Doris Pederson, June Baker and Lois Jeanne Arndt.

Decoration—Iris Houle and Alice Jeanne McGee.

Invitations—June Shelander, Lois Jeanne Arndt, Elaine Alex and Gloria Sanderude.

Special speakers will be invited and announcements of the new editor, assistant editor and National Scholastic Press Association rating will be made.—L. J. A.

Ruggles, Dorgan Speak At Tournament Pep Fest

Last Tuesday afternoon at the pep fest, Mr. Dorgan said, "We stand a good chance of winning tonight". How we all wish we could still say that.

Roger Johnson led the group in the pledge to the flag, after which the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner" and everyone joined in by singing it.

Dr. Ruggles, president of the Businessmen's Association, also gave a short talk.

The entire student body should be complimented on their enthusiasm and school spirit which they showed by cooperating with the cheer-leaders who led the yell and the school song.—J. S.

Defense Stamp Total Reach $352.20

The sale of United States Defense Stamps by the Student Council now totals $352.20 up until last Monday.

The total is an increase of only $45.75 since February 19. This shows that buying has fallen off considerably. Let's all try to aid in our war effort by buying stamps.

The stamp sale is on Monday and Thursday in the high school and on Tuesday in the grade school. The Monday sale is taken care of by Betty Lou Weisser and Joyce McGowa and the Thursday sale is in charge of Donald Waller. —D. W.

Robb Names Cast In 'George & Margaret'

The senior class will present their annual drama, May 5. George and Margaret is the chosen play with eight members in the cast.

The story revolves around the awaiting of two dreaded guests, George and Margaret, who, by the way, will add mystery to the play by not appearing until the third act. The people playing the roles will only be known by the director and cast.

Doris Pederson takes the role, Gladys, a plump twenty-two year old girl. Malcolm, portrayed by Wallace Larson, is the father of the family. Alice, mother of the family is characterized by Anne Tricola. Phil Fladland takes the part of person that has a weird sense of humor, called Dudley. Frankie, portrayed by Delores Kuefler, is a vivacious twenty-two year old girl that might easily be mistaken for fourteen. Claude, a pompus man, s characterized by Alvin White. Roger Frampton, good-looking in an easy-going way, is portrayed by Emil Maslowski. Betty Erickson takes the part of Beer, a prim, elderly lady.—P. T.

Wanted – Snapshots

A great deal of progress has been shown in completing the bi-annual. One snapshot page has been completed, but a campaign for more pictures is requested.

The gloss finishes of individual pictures of the seniors and juniors are being mounted by the co-editors and assistants.

Mr. Mitsoff will take group pictures of the people who are in the finals of the declamatory contest and also the senior play cast.

The write-up committee, under the supervision of Gloria Sanderude, has been very cooperative in writing their stories. There are only a few left to be written. Please write them so that there will be no delay in finishing the year-book.

A number of group pictures have already been sent into Buckbee-Mears to be finished. Such progress may account later for the bi-annual to be distributed in the early part of May. Please show your cooperation.—G. S.

One Week Remains In Noon Activity Race

As the Noon Activity race draws near a close with only one week remaining the junior class continues to lead by the comfortable margin of 54 points. The scores up to last Monday were: juniors—175; seniors—121; sophomores—53 and the freshmen—9.

During the past week the juniors gained 28 points, seniors, 20; sophomores, 8; freshmen, 5.

TIP-OFFS

By Bob Holl

● Six seniors played their last game against White Bear last Tuesday night. In my estimation this is the best group of fellows that has played at Forest Lake in a long time, scholastically as well as good players. One record established this year was the strict following of training rules by all the boys. There wasn't one bit of trouble this year having to do with training as there was in other years. This in itself is highly commendable.

● The team in itself was a little better than average, although it could have been much better. Forest Lake had the height on just about every team it played outside of Murray and a couple of others who were about the same height.

● Forest Lake's scoring punch centered around three men with a fourth man being shifted from one position to another and not having the scoring opportunities as the others. As to the guards, comparing the shots they took, they scored fairly well.

●As a defensive team, we did not fair so well. The opponents, I believe, outscored us by about 4 or 5 points which does not look very good against our won and lost record.

The whole team seemed to have lapses in defense so often against Chisago and two games against White Bear. Not one man played poor defense ball but the whole team.

● Few of the thrilling highlights of the season:

Beating White Bear the first game of the season.

McGee putting his fist through the locker room wall.

Hectic game against Chisago when we won by two points. Also when they played here and you know what happened.

● As long as the season is over let's watch our district representative Farmington. Unless she pulls a big flop she should easily take the Regional meet at the Hamline fieldhouse and make the state. Unless they meet a tough team in the first round of the state she should make the semi-finals. This is purely if.

● This year's baseball team will have plenty of need for pitchers so if any of you strong arms think you can throw, show up at the first practice.

Coach Steers Rangers To Victory

An immense amount of credit should be given our coach, Mr. Von Wald, for supervising the players in all their victories. Every evening after school he has attended practice in the gym as well as out on the field during the football season.

A graduate of North Central College in Naporville, Illinois, the coach also played fullback on that college team. After graduating he taught at three other schools before coming to Forest Lake. They were Kenyon, LeRoy and Harmony, all Minnesota towns. Now he has been a faculty member at our school for three years.

When asked what he had to say about the team he replied, "I'm very proud of the team not only for their record but for the sportsmanship as well".

The team and the coach wish to thank the student body and all the Forest Lake fans for the good representation at all the tournament games.

Mr. Von Wald is married and has two children, Bernard and Karen.—G. S.

Dorothy Leuthner Reviews Movie

On Tuesday, March 17, the senior class sponsored the movie, H. M. Pulham, Esq., which was presented as a matinee performance for the school students and in the evening for the general public.

While writing his class biography for the twenty-fifth reunion, Robert Young relives his life. His childhood, high school and college days all pass in review.

While just out of college he enters the newspaper business and meets glamorous Hedy LaMarr. They fall in love and plan to be married. After his father dies he is expected to look after the family affairs and retain the same position his father had.

Because of their different social standing they hav ea disagreement and he leaves. During the next twenty years they never see each other. She becomes an outstanding newspaper woman and he marries a childhood girl friend. Then one day in his office she telephones him and invites him to lunch. He goes but when he sees her she is so beautiful he can't go in.

Later he goes to her apartment and they realize things can never change and they will have to go on their own way and forget each other.

He meets his wife and suddenly realizes that they are really in love but have never truly realized it before. His affair with Hedy is just an emotional idea but not really low.

Basketball Team Guests At Banquet

Members of the 1941-42 Ranger basketball team were guests of honor at a banquet given by the business men of Forest Lake Tuesday night. A delicious steak dinner was served after which the program was held. Toastmaster B. C. Kuefler called on Palmer Gilbertson, publisher of the Forest Lake Times; Rollin Houle, captain of the basketball team; Richie Petersen, local druggist; Kenneth Von Wald, basketball coach; Francis Deig, of St. Thomas; and Dr. G. M. Ruggles, president of Business Men's Association who gave some very interesting talks. The main speaker of the evening was Francis Deig of St. Thomas college who spoke on Athletics and the Boy. An instrument solo by Robert Elmstrom and a vocal solo by Mr. Moede were well received. After the program the team was invited to watch a typical businessmen's meeting. Pictures of army life were shown after the meeting by Corporal Warren Patterson who is home on leave. The boys wish to thank the business men for an enjoyable evening and it is assured that it is one they will never forget. —E. S.

Students, Green Attired, Observe St. Patrick's Day

Tuesday the halls were filled with students in green dresses, sweaters, ties, socks or a shamrock to commemorate St. Patrick's Day.

..Whether Irish or not everyone should know why it is the tradition to wear shamrocks and why we remember the good saint.

St. Patrick, trying to explain the mystery of the Trinity to the Irish, plucked a shamrock and said that the three leaves represented the three persons of the Trinity and the stem on which they grew stood for the godhead and was typical of the unity of Three in one.

The tradition making St. Patrick memorable was his expulsion of the snakes from the Green Isle. The saint had banished all but one large, old serpent which put up a fuss about leaving. St. Patrick made a box and invited the serpent to enter it. The serpent objected because he said it would be too small for comfort. After a discussion the serpent agreed to enter the box to proe it was too small and when he was safely in it, the saint shut the lid and threw it in the sea.

Thus we honor the patron saint of Ireland on the date of his death, March 17.—L. J. A.

Topic, Chairman Chosen For Biology Club Meeting

"The Lives of Famous Biologists' will be the topic to be discussed by the Biology Club at their meeting tomorrow. Gladys Benson is chairman of the committee which includes Doris Elmstrom and Wallace Olhow.

Dr. Poirier, local physician, spoke on Hydrophobia to the club last week. He gave the causes, carriers and preventives of Hydrophobia.

The only preventive of Hydrophobia is the Pasteur treatment which consists of a series of fourteen injections of a vaccine which is made from the brains of a dog who has died from Hydrophobia.

There is no cure for the disease, only a preventive, and in human beings the disease proves fatal in about two weeks.

Ray Heim Speaks To Scholastic Club

Ray Heim, graduate of the local school with the class of 1933, presented the Junior Scholastic Club with an interesting talk on Wednesday.

Mr. Heim travels with the Ice Follies as stage manager, and has been with them for six years. He makes numerous trips for the Follies and totals about 50,000 miles a year.

Mr. Heim has a private flying license.

He viewed the Iceland Convoy and the outstanding feature was that all the men wore full beards. This is necessary to prevent the freezing of their faces when going to Iceland.

Mr. Heim saw the Normandie several years ago in its full glory and recently saw the pitiful sight on its side in the New York harbor.

The Ice Follies began with 28 members and opened in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The Ice Follies of '42 has a troop of 101 members.—P. J.

Four Journalists Earn One Thousand Points

The first awrds to be given in the stenography I class were earned by Elaine Alex, Pat Tricola and Gloria Sanderude last week. They took dictation from the Gregg Manual at a rate of sixty words per minute with less than fifteen errors.

The manual is issued once a month and has both typing and shorthand material in it. Each time, it has dictation to be given at a certain rate of speed and can only be given once. If you do not make a qualifying copy the first time, you will have to wait until the next month to be able to try for an award again.—G. S.

34 Seniors To Take Colleege Aptitude Tests

Tomorrow senior apitude tests will be given. All seniors who has 85 per cent in their grades may take the tests. The tests are the Cooperative English 70 minute test and Psychological—60 minute test. Pupils who plan to go to the University are required to write an English theme.

Four Students Earn Breeze Awards

Four journalists have earned their minimum of one thousand points and are eligible for awards.

Doris Pederson, program chairman, June Baker, columnist, Edward Starh, sports writer and Pat Tricola, secretary are the eligible ones.

Students close behind are: Dayton Williver with 637 and Gloria Sanderude with 626 points respectively.

No junior high journalists have earned an award. Jeannette Houle has the highest number with 412.

Houle, Anderson Capture Honors

Finals for the 1942 inter-class basketball tournament will be held on Friday at 2:30. The two classes surviving the preliminaries on Wednesday and Thursday will battle for the inter-class crown. The trophy for this event must be won three years in a row by one class before it is theirs. The juniors played the freshmen on Wednesday and the seniors will play the sophomores today.

The rules and regulations for the tournament are:

1. The class president will appoint the student coach and managers.
2. Each class is allowed two lettermen per game.
3. The first team of the finals will be excused ten minutes early.
4. Terms of play:
   a. Five minutes playing time per quarter.
   b. Two minutes between quarters and four minutes between halves.
   c. Admission is five cents for the tickets to the finals. These tickets will be sold by the class treasurers. The proceeds will be used by the local American Legion Auxiliary in the health testing program.
   d. The two referees are to be selected from former athletes of Forest Lake high school.

The Rangers wound up another big season at South St. Paul when they left the floor. Having one of their most successful years they slammed out 11 wins and dropped only 7 contests. The Maroon and Gold captured the first sub-district crown that this school has had in a number of years.

The Rangers were outscored by their opponents by a mere five points as the totals stood at: Forest Lake—489 to the opponent's—594.

High scoring honors were captured by Captain Rollin Houle who scored 163 counters only four ahead of "String" Anderson who had 159. Don Peterson was the only other man breaking the hundred mark with 111. "Spike" Houle also led in the free- throw department making 58 per cent of the shots awarded him. Another senior, Wally Langdon, was second with 43 per cent.

Six of this year's lettermen will graduate leaving only two to carry on. The boys who played their last game on the hardwood at South St. Paul are Captain Rollin Houle, Robert Elmstrom, Wallace Langdon, Robert Holl, Richard McGee and Fred Holmquist. Morris Anderson and Donald Peterson, both juniors, will be the returning lettermen. —E. S.

Junior High School Crier

● A MEMORABLE DAY

Howard Long, a seventh grader, had a memorable event happen to him last Saturday.

farm on which Howard lives at the pre-

Bess and Roy Shipstad, owners of the sent, invited him to come to Minneapolis as their guest.

Movies and the Ice Follies occupied the trio's interests for the day.

● ANOTHER SING

Junior High had another sing last Wednesday and again it went "over with flying colors" is the way to describe it. They had new books this time. One vocal combat was the girls singing "Spanish Cavalier" and the boys "Solomon Levi".

● THAT EXPAINS IT

I've just found out what 'Hut Sut Rawlson on the Rillerah' means", said Berverly Wahlquist, a seventh grader. "It means "You're my fillagadusha, shina-ma-roosha, balda-ralday, boom-to-de-ay!"

● DAFFYNITIONS

Indiscreet—Where little children should not play after school.

Sedate—What the girl friend answers over the 'phone to her beau.

Defense—That which the garbage can is on the other side of.

Indorse—Where we go to escape the rain.

Deduce—What we get for coming in late.

Intense—What the draftees sleep in.

Snuff—Meaning sufficient.

Look To The Future, Classmates

In 1945, in a small cafeteria, two waitresses, Marjorie M. and Myrtle A. are busily waiting on customers, when in walks Spike H.

"Well, Dr. Houle, what are you doing in this part of town?"

"I'm just taking a rest from pre-med school".

"Do you ever hear about those Red Cross nurses Doores K. and Anne T."

"Oh, yes, and there are several other nurses from the class of '42 over at the hospital; Marion G., Bette K., Julia B., Betty N., Mary Jane W., and Yvonne H.

"We have a lot of business-minded classmates. We were down at the Business College last week and found Harriet A., Judy B., Emil M., Donald L., Joyce R., Betty T., Ruth O. and Betty W., all enrolled there, and June B., and Lorna A. are doing office work for their Dads. Florence S., and Lorraine S. are also secretaries."

"A few of our friends are at the "U", too. Robert C., Donna V., Warren H., and Wallace L. is taking up medicine there."

Donna C. comes in and informs them that she is taking opera singing at the Minneapolis College. She also has heard that Dorothy L. is taking music at Hamline.

"Don W. is taking up Chemical engineering and Richard M. is going to college and studying to be an Architectural engineer."

"I called the dress designing school to see if Dolores V. is still taking dress designing, and found that Marie L. is the switchboard operator".

"I wonder if Phyllis L. ever got to be a mattress tester afterwards? She always said she wanted to be one."

'Ruth H. has been doing a lot of traveling, but Luella C. and June P. are both working at home."

"Philip F. is going to teacher's college studying to be an English teacher".

"Well, we had better get back to work, so the rest will have to go unaccounted for."

What did one drop of cream say to another drop of cream? Let's go into a corner and curdle!

★ CAN YOU FEATURE!

Mr. Moede not talking to the girls about his shrimp salads and sandwiches?

Billy Engler not busy working on the Breeze?

The assembly without those certain tete-a-tete's?

★ SONG FEST

A gala time was had by everyone last Friday during the home room period when American folk songs were discussed and sung in all home rooms.

Among the songs sung were the "Old Gray Mare," "Red River Valley," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," "Home on the Range" and "Polly Wolly Doodle."

★ WHO'S WHO

Myrtle Anderson—A senior miss with different ideas is Myrtle Anderson who someday hopes to be a dress designer. Her favorite pastimes are learning to knit and watching basketball games. She has been an active M. R. member for three years and this year holds the position of secretary in that organization. She loves vacations, likes jello and dislikes cats. Collecting stamps and sewing are her favorite hobbies and her greatest desire is to go to designing school.

Bette Kunshier—Brown eyed, dark haired Bette has a certain dislike for olives and stocking runs. Reading good books and ice skating occupy most of her idle hours. During her school years in Forest Lake she has been a member of such clubs as M. R., G. A. A. and S. O. S. Bette's favorite colors are brown and tan. She also likes her french fried potatoes and steaks done up brown. After finishing school she hopes to attend a nursing school and learn the technique of being a nurse.

Julia Berglund—Julia is a tiny blonde, blue-eyed lady who, despite her size, can do big things such as being secretary of the state M. R. convention and secretary of G. A. A. in her junior year. S. O. S., 4-H and the band are other organizations to which she has belonged. Her favorite hobby is making picture scrap books. In the not too far future she plans to study nursing at one of the nation's great hospitals.

Sherman Granburg—Here's a lad who doesn't want to be a farmer all his life. He hasn't any definite plans for the future, but would like to obtain a position in a field other than agriculture. Reading good literature and baseball are his favorite pastime and sport. He claims a particular liking for ice cream and fried chicken. When asked what he liked best about his school years he replied, "Basketball games and vacations."

Four Students On 'A' Honor List

This six weeks fifty-two students are on the honor roll, with an increase of one from the previous time. The junior class leads with 11 honor students.

All students who make the honor roll during the fifth report period will be exempt from one final examination at the close of the school year.

"A" HONOR ROLL:

Grade 8—Jeanette Houle.
Grade 10—Ronald Tolberg.
Grade 11—Wesley Tolberg and Franklin Williver.

"B" HONOR ROLL:

Grade 7—Alfred Blaine, Shirley Olson and Alice Richards.

Grade 8—Phyllis Ellerman, Herbert Elmstrom, Julia Rose Geis, June Adair Houle, Kenneth Houle, Shirley Morley, June Sanderude, Godfrey Vacura and Mary Carol Volker.

Grade 9—Mildred Alex, Eleanore Anderson, Shirley Mae Arndt, Melvin Boettcher, Phyllis Johnson, Roberta Johnson, Rachael Marier, Morris Osterbauer, Marguerite Rainer, Merle Sederstrom and Marc Shoquist.

Grade 10—Roger Boraas, Gail Carlson, Evelyn Dawson, Muriel Engquist, Shirley Hegg, Ruth Rohner, Dayton Williver and Curtis Wilson.

Grade 11—Lois Jeanne Arndt, Olive Bellingham, Walter Bronczyk, Billy Engler, Ruth Johnson, George Mitchell, Melba Sahlin, Mae Shoberg and Marvin Weber.

Grade 12—Judy Bengtson, Donna Carlson, Phil Fladland, Warren Hallberg, Robert Holl, Wallace Larson, Doris Pederson, Florence Shosten and Donald Waller.—G. S.

Spelling, Handwriting Finals On March 13

Probably many of the students have been wondering why we have the spelling and handwriting contest. Here are some of the reasons: (1) To impress pupils with the importance of good writing. (2) To give pupils and teachers a better idea of the student's knowledge of spelling.

The rules for the penmanship contest are as follows: (1) Write with ink. (2) Write the first three sentences of the Gettysburg Address as often as possible in the two minutes allowed. (3) A double warning bell will ring and two minutes later the starting bell will ring. Write until the next bell and stop.

Rules for the spelling contest are: (1) 100 words will be selected by the English teachers. (2) Words will be pronounced once and used in a sentence. (3) Words not legible will be counted wrong. (4) T's not crossed, and I's and J's not dotted will be counted wrong.

The winning writer of the handwriting contest will receive a blue ribbon on awards' day and the winner of the spelling contest will also receive a blue ribbon.

The 7% of pupils in each grade who spell best shall have three points added to their mark in English and the 7% who spell the poorest shall receive three point deductions.

The contest will be held tomorrow during home room period.—L. J. A.

Juniors Still Lead Noon Activities With 147 Points

The juniors continue to dominate the noon hour activity race with 147 points. Forty-six points behind, in second place, come the seniors with 101 markers. The sophomores are in third place with 45 points and the Freshmen trail with only four points.

In the past week the juniors have gained 25 points, the seniors—5, the sophomores—15 and the freshmen—2.

Come you freshmen and sophomores, let's give those juniors and seniors some competition.—D. W.

Biologists Discuss Birds; Next Week—Hydrophobia

Bird Banding and winter birds proved an interesting topic for the Biology Club at their last meeting. Ruth Rohner was the program chairman for this meeting.

Curtis Wilson talked on the banding of birds. He told how the birds are caught and how they are banded. He also gave various reasons for banding birds.

Gertrude Waldo told of the many winter birds in our own community.

Ruth Rohner talked on the long migrance of birds.

The proram for next time will be "Rabies and Hydrophia". Anne Tricola, chairman, Emmet Cartier and Mary Jane Weisser comprise the committee in charge of this program.

Our Busy Secretaries

"Why were you absent? Your make-up blank is due! Why were you late for class? She is in room....., I'll call her for you!" These are the common expressions spoken by the petite, auburn-haired girl, Muriel Glassco. She assists Mr. Plourde with his office work and among her duties are recording attendance, making out absent and tardy slips, typing examinations and notices for bulletin boards, answering the high school telephone and performing numerous other tasks.

Grace said when she was going to school that her hopes were to get an office position near her home, and now for two years she has qualified as a very efficient assistant in Mr. Kuefler's office. When she isn't working at school, she likes to spend her time embroidering, baking and cooking.

—G. S.

In Mr. Kuefler's office, a blonde girl carries on the business transactions and this is none other than Grace Stephenson. With report cards due every six weeks, she is kept busy recording grades, registering new students, and typing all the business letters. She also does a splendid job of bookkeeping and working the adding machine.

Both of the girls are Forest Lake high school graduates. Muriel graduated in 1938 and Grace graduated in 1939.

For four years Muriel has served as a capable worker and says she enjoys her work immensely as she always liked school and this keeps her right in the trend of things. She has an unusual hobby of painting Christmas cards.

Those Who Make Honor Roll Exempted From Final Test

As an incentive for better work during this next six weeks period, all students who are on the 'A' and 'B' honor roll in both the junior and senior high school will not be required to take the final six weeks' examination. They also must do creditable work during the final six weeks' period to be excused from school a day earlier.

The plan to be followed this year is similar to that of last year as three final examinations will be given in each subject. This plan is believed to give a fairer representation of the pupil's knowledge.

Let's all make a special effort to increase our present honor roll of 53 to 60 for the next six weeks' period. D. W.

Basketball Captain Crowned To the Tune of Lohengrin

Rollin Houle, a modest senior, was hitched to Josephine Basketball in poorly illuminated (it says so in Physics) ceremony a few evenings ago. Thus, by this path of matrimony, he was swung into the basketball captaincy.

The groom was attired in a towel loaned to him by his protege, Kenneth Von Wald. He was attended by "String" Anderson and "Wally" Langdon who were dressed in Maroon and Gold pants matched by swallow-tailed coats Donald Peterson acted as ring bearer, placing a cigar wrapper in "Spike's" hand at just the wrong moment.

No bridesmaids were present because of their mysterious disappearance. Two of the ushers vanished also, namely Bob Holl and "Mutt" Elmstrom. Carrying the bride's train was assigned to "Fibber" McGee who tripped merrily along while holding up the old shower curtain. To "Fritz" Holmquist went the job of the bridal music. He banged on the wall with a curtain rod and smashed windows to produce the effect of tinkling bells.

After the ordeal the groom made a bolt for the door but was rushed gently down to the shower room.

Even after all this nonsense the student body wishes to congratulate "Spike" on recent appointment to the basketball captaincy.—E. S.

Biology Club Discusses First Aid At Meeting

"What should you do when you burn yourself? Should you put a bandage on a burn? I heard you shouldn't. How can you treat shock?" These were a few of the many questions asked and discussed during the meeting of the Biology Club Friday.

Gladys Mae Benson gave a report on the "Causes and Preventions of Burns". In her talk she stated how burns are caused mostly in the home of the housewife, and how she can help prevent these. Roger Boraas reported on the "Kinds of Burns". He told of the different degrees of burns and the differences between a dry and a moist burn. Loretta Hopkins reported on the "Remedies for Burns and Shock". She stated the different remedies you can make quickly in the home, and she also told that you do vocer a burn with a bandage to prevent infection. A discussion followed each report.

An interesting program is being planned for next week on Birds.—L. H.

Oh, Thus Be It Ever Freemen Shall Stand

Somewhere in France:

Guard: Halt! Who goes there?

Answer: An American.

Guard: Repeat the second verse of the "Star Spangled Banner."

No reply.

Guard: Pass, American.

Such is not going to be the plight of Forest Lake High School students. This week in class room, in the halls and on the bus, students were heard reciting the National Anthem.

The flag and our National Anthem have a deeper meaning to us these days when the boys of our country are giving their blood to defend it.

This stirring anthem was written during the War of 1812 by Frances Scott Key. He was detained on board the English fleet and his anxiety for the fate of the fort which was being bombarded led him to write the flag song for which he was famous. He watched the bombardment of the fort all through the evening, and then listened to the roar of the cannon all night. When day light came the stars and stripes were still visable above the old fort. It was then that he wrote the words of the "Star Spangled Banner."

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

O say, can you see, by the dawn's early light
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming!
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O say, does that star-spangled banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, now conceals, now discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream:
'Tis the star-spangled banner, O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood was washed out their foul footsteps' pollution
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave;
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

O! thus be it ever, when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation
Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just,
And this be our motto—"In God is our trust."
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave

Rangers Lose To Bears In District Tilt

The Rangers were eliminated by White Bear in the district tournament by a score of 53-33, Tuesday evening.

The Maroon and Gold had trouble throughout the entire game in getting themselves adjusted to play. The Bears grabbed a quick 7-0 lead, but the Rangers closed in and, the quarter ended 12-10 for the Bears.

From this stage on the Bears went on a scoring spree, outpointing the Rangers 16 to 4 for a 28-14 halftime lead. The big difference in the teams was Morris Anderson. When he was not in the game the Bears rained in shots from under the basket. The Maroon and Gold held the Bears to 25 points in the second half while scoring 19 themselves.

In the last quarter the team started rolling, but at this point of the game not much could be done.

Scoring was led by Smith of the Bears with 12 points. Close behind were Anderson of the Rangers with 10, and Don Peterson with 9.

Senior Movie Date Set At March 17

H. M. Puham, Esq. is the movie which the senior class will present at the Forest Theatre on March 17 (St. Patrick's Day). The cast of the picture includes such stars as Robert Young, Hedy Lamarr, Ruth Hussy and Bonita Granville. The story is taken from the novel by John Marquand. The book was chosen by the Book of the Month Club and the screen version of it was nominated as one of the ten best movies of the year.

The picture deals with the class system in Boston society. Robert Young as the descendant of a prominent Boston family is asked to write the biography of his class for their twenty-fifth reunion. As he relives his life there comes to him the memory of a young advertising copy writer in New York (Hedy Lamarr). Strict parental rules kept him in Boston after his father's death, but the glamorous Hedy wanted him away from the influence of his family. What happens to Mr. Young afterwards can be determined only by seeing the picture.

A matinee for the students will be held in the afternoon. Two performances will be held in the evening, one at 7:30 and the other at 9:30. Tickets may be obtained from seniors at the following rates—25c for students and 30c for adults. Grade school children's ticket—11c. These may be bought from the grade school teachers.—J. B.

Eloise Engler Wins Free Annual in Snap Contest

Eloise Engler, junior high student, was declared the winner of the snapshot contest for submitting the best picture to be used on the snapshot page of the annual. This winning picture was a baby picture of Delores Valenty and Bill Engler. As a prize, Eloise will receive an annual free.

Pictures submitted by Margaret Jesperson, Wallace Larson and Alice Jeanne McGee received honorable mention.

The snapshot committee for the annual selected the ten best pictures, and the winning picture was chosen by the teachers and the annual staff.—D. P.

Boy Scouts to Attend District Rally at North Branch

The Boy Scout District Rally will be held at North Branch on March 16. The boys will compete with other troops in various activities, such as, first aid, signaling and judging of time, distance and weight.

The troops participating will receive points for the number of parents and friends that will attend the rally.

The Boy Scouts, senior and F. F. A. have sent their fourth truckload of paper to the cities since the first of the year.—E. H. A.

Junior High School Crier

● WELCOME!

I'll bet most of the seventh graders are glad to see Richard Hall back! There must be some pretty good ideas for talks in the things he has seen.

● SCHOOL TERRACE

Some junior high girls got a brilliant idea last week. A window in the girls' locker room allows a perfect exit on to the roof over the music room—I leave the rest to you.

● BRILLIANT

In the freshmen music class the other day, the class was singing "Throw It Out the Window", a song made up of Mother Goose rhymes. When they came to the song "Old Mother Hubbard". "Birdie" Johnson piped up thus—

Old Mother Hubbard
Went to the cupboard
To get her poor dog a bone,
And when she got there

She found a "Whiz".....

● WILL

Gerald Armstrong be a science teacher?
June Sanderude a singer?
Harvey Lindgren a farmer?
Esther Graton a model?
LeRoy Olson a second Thomas Edison?
We hope so!

Girl Scouts' Thirtieth Anniversary Today

Today is the anniversary of the Girl Scout organization, which first began in 1912 when a group of girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Juliette Low, organized the Girl Guides at Savannah, Georgia. This game was used until 1915 when it was changed to the Girl Scouts.

Girls from the ages of 10 to 16 are eligible to join the Girl Scout Troop which is divided into patrols, each patrol having four to eight members.

Before a girl can join she must first attend four meetings. The next thing she does is learn the scout law, flag etiquette, four woodcraft signs and the tieing of knots, all of which enables her to become a Tenderfoot.

The next rating is the Second Class Scout where she must qualify in the following: nature study, sewing, first aid, cooking, thrift and care of health.

In order to become a First Class Scout, she must make a map, judge height, weight and distance, send code messages, swim, pitch a tent and supervise an overnight hike in the country.

Special merit badges are awarded to girls who qualify in other various activities and after she has received 21 badges she is elgible for the Golden Eaglet, the highest award that can be obtained.—J. S.

Rustling Leaves

By June Baker

★ LIFE IN '42

The old saying, "Life begins at 40", may hold true for some, but for the senior class life begins in '42. Now that the term is over half gone, the hustle and bustle of the last few days will soon come, and with it graduation for some sixty seniors

★ WHO DID IT?

George Washington, our first president, has been discussed a great deal down through the ages and the story about the cherry tree is well-known by all.

Mr. Washington, as the story goes, was supposed to have discovered his best cherry tree chopped down by his young son. The latest rumors have it that "Popeye" ruined the tree, for Washington said, "I can not tell a lie, Pop, I did it".

★ WHO'S WHO THIS YEAR!

Mary Jane Weisser—Meet the "Valedictorian" of the graduating class of 1942. Mary Jane has always been an honor student and her earnest work has landed her where she is. She belongs to the Biology Club, S. O. S. and is pianist for the Senior High Chorus. Her ambition is to become a graduate nurse.

George Firman—Travel and writing are George's ambitions while his future plans are to work in the geology field. He confesses his liking for sleeping, reading and swimming. His hobbies are collecting stamps and playing chess and he confides that stupid women are his pet peeve.

Donald Furrer—"Don" has the ambition to write a study of Latin American Social Life. He was class president in his junior year and Student Council secretary His future plans are to gain a general and practical education.

Florence Shosten—Florence is another honor student who has attained a high rating. She is the "Salutatorian" of her graduating class. She participates in G. A. A., M. R. clubs and lends her alto voice to the Senior High Chorus. Reports are that she is a wonderful cook and enjoys trying out new recipes. Her ambition is to become a stenographer.

Nine Girls Earn 100 Word Certificates

Students of the stenogaphy II class have been working hard all year to obtain speed certificates in shorthand. Throughout the term many pupils have received their awards. A student must be able to take dictation for five minutes at a certain rate of speed. The errors are not to exceed five per cent. The last 60 word certificates were received by Ruth Olson and Betty Turnvall.

Mrs. Telander has earned her 80 word certificate and the following have received their 100 word certificates: Doris Pederson, DeLores Ekegren, Donna Carlson, Phyllis Larson, Joyce Richardson. Dorothy Leuthner, Evelyn Palmer, Florence Shosten and Betty Waldo.—J. B.

Students Raise Their Voices At Final Basketball Pep Fest

The last pep fest of the basketball season was held last Friday.

A talk was given by Franklin Williver, and Billy Engler spoke on the program of the bi-annual.

Alice Jeanne McGee, senior high cheer-leader, introduced the new "Spell-it" yell and June Houle introduced the "Hoo-yah" yell.

Fred Holmquist started a cycle of brief speeches by the members of the team which were conducted by Mr. Von Wald and Mr. Mike.

The band played several numbers and concluded the fest with the school song.—L. J. A.

TIP-OFFS

By Bob Holl

● Two teams go from the sub-district at Mahtomedi. That means that if Forest Lake wins the first game and loses the second the team will still go to the district. So it's vital that we win the first game in order to qualify.

● Of the four teams in the sub-district Forest Lake picked by far the hardest opponent is Columbia Heights. The other two teams are not as strong as Forest Lake and Columbia Heights. Mahtomedi has been beaten twice by Forest Lake and No. St. Paul has one of its weakest teams in a couple of years.

● The fourteenth district, I don't believe is as strong as last year when it was represented by Rd Wing. About the strongest contenders this year are Red Wing (again), So. St. Paul (in my estimation the strongest) and Farmington (will be strong if it gets back into its form of last year).

● Mr. Benson, the coach before Von Wald, came up to watch Forest Lake play Chisago City Friday night and he thought the team showed up quite well, but he thought we had an off night. He made the remark that it was a good game to get rid of any sloppiness before the tournament.

● I believe that last Friday night Chisago City could have beaten any team in the state, they just couldn't miss! Any place they shot from, it went in. Although they won, the score should have been closer as Forest Lake played sloppy ball the first half, played in a slump in the third quarter and went right back to the old style of play in the fourth quarter. I believe that was the reason for the defeat.

Rangers Lose 2nd Battle In Week

The Rangers went down fighting last Tuesday before the Ponies of Stillwater by a score of 37-29 on the Ponie's floor.

The first two quarters were periods of low scoring. Stillwater got off to a quick start by taking a 6 to 2 lead in the first quarter. But the Rangers came back by sinking 8 points while holding Stillwater to 4 to tie the game at 10 to 10 at the half. The Ponies came back at the half to score 18 points in a third quarter rally. In the last quarter the Rangers drove on but just didn't have the time to overcome the Ponies at this late a stage

Ranger scoring was led by Houle and Anderson who scored 14 and 10 points respectively. Siegfried, the Ponie center, was high point man for the game with 15 points.

Forest Lake	F.G.	F.T.	F.	Pts.

Knitting Occupies 7th Grade Activities

Knit one, purl two. This is what the seventh grade girls are hearing. As a project in Activities, the seventh grade girls are knitting.

As the majority of the girls are beginners, they are knitting scarfs. The girls are under the supervision of Miss Nelson, an experienced knitter, who has knit several sweaters and an afghan. The girls plan to keep the scarfs themselves.—M. L. M.

Grades Work on Art Projects; Hold Meetings

● FIRST GRADE

At the last meeting of the first grade Safety Legion Club, they discussed safety on school buses, such as waiting for the bus, how to act in the bus, and other phases of school safety.

They have just completed the post office unit where they studied about how a post office works. In connection with that, they discussed defense stamps and worked problems about their cost.

Decorations are being put up in readiness for for Easter, and they will soon study about the windmills and tulips of Holland.

● SECOND GRADE

The second grade boasts two new students: Jacqueline Dougherty and Ramona Morrissette.

Stories were read at the last meeting of the Reading Club by Muriel Nygren, Joyce Miles, Anita Jelmberg, Donald Fiene and Jerry Winnick.

They are making booklets in which the children draw faces of clocks and on these record the time they went to bed each night for a whole week.

● THIRD GRADE

In history, the third grade studied about the Eskimos and after completing this unit, they made an Eskimo table scene.

At their meeting Tuesday of the Kindness Club they had a program and opened their "kind deed box" in which they put the kind deeds that they have done.

● FIFTH GRADE

In language the fifth grade is making poem booklets. They each pick out a certain subject and find all the poems they can on it. They must make up an original poem about their chosen subject.

Delores Morrissette is a new pupil in the fifth grade.

● SIXTH GRADE

New pupils in grade six are Paul Wood,.. ..Louis Wood and Joyce Richert.

Don't Waste Food!

In the past weeks an ever-increasing amount of food has been wasted! This waste is so great that almost sixty pounds of food has been placed in the waste containers in a single day. At this rate 10,800 pounds would be wasted in the 180-day school year or almost 5½ tons!

This food would feed many of the starving people in German-occupied countries such as Greece where even a bread crust might seem a luxury. Such foods as wheat, sugar, fats and butter are sorely needed by our soldiers and Allies. Some short-sighted persons argue that the soldiers do not receive it anyway, but it is certain that they will not get it if it is thrown away.

Agriculture must feed 10 million more people in 1942 than in 1940. The industry has lost 750,000 persons since 1939 so the burden is doubly great. This food that might be dear to hs before the war is over is now being wasted.

If you do not wish to take so much lunch to school, tell your mother so that she may give you less and it will thus be saved. If you do have too much lunch with you, take it home again and try to make use of it in some way. Try going without food for a few meals and you will find out how good even plain food tastes.

DON'T WASTE FOOD!!—D. W.

Columbia Heights Foe In Sub-District

The Forest Lake Rangers will meet Columbia Heights in the opening game of the sub-district tournament which will be played at Mahtomedi March 2 and 3.

A pep fest at 2:40 on Monday will put students in the proper tournament spirit for that evening's game.

School will close at 3:00 o'clock on Monday to enable students to go home before going to the game. The tournament is a student trip and admission for high school students is 20 cents at their home school.

Announcements will be made on Tuesday concerning Tuesday night's games.

Awards Policy Board Revises Breeze Policy

At a recent meeting of the Awards Policy Board, the following changes were made in the Breeze awards policy:

In order to receive a pin at the end of the school year, a journalist must have earned a minimum of 1,000 points. Some of the different ways to earn points are: Writing in the Breeze (one point per line), city paper and the Scholastic (five points per line). In making a Journalism Scrapbook, up to 100 points can be earned. Typists are given points on basis of amount and accuracy of material typed (up to 800 points). Proof-readers can earn 200 points and the secretary can earn up to 600 points. The program chairman may earn 400 points.

The editor receives a gold-filled pin while the assistant editor receives a sterling pin; both pins have a scroll and quill engravement.—J. S.

A Social Hour Will Entertain Home Rooms

"Social hour" will be the topic for home room this week. Special entertainment will be provided in each home room by the home chairman.

Last week the topic, "Women in Men's Jobs", prepared by Miss Wareberg and Mr. Nelson. During the discussion much prejudice was shown against women fulfilling men's jobs. Due to conditions of the war situation many women are now taking the place of men in various fields of work.—N. B.

Stillwater Presents Exchange Program to Local High School

Stillwater high school presented a forty-five minute program to the local high school on Wednesday at 3:00. Their program was made up of talent from their school. George Rydeen acted as master of ceremonies.

The program was as follows: A rope twirling act, Tom Curtis; piano solo, Paula Scheel; vocal solo, "Waltzing", Jean Emanuelson accompanied by Kay Darrington on the piano; "The Bells of St. Mary", "Oscamctissima', "Chinese Lullaby", Ruth Sutherland and Ruth Ann Doyle playing the vibra-harp; a reading, "The Chosen People', George Rydeen; "Chloe", a piano solo, Kay Darrington; vocal selection, Marilyn Steineck.

In return, Forest Lake will present a program to the Stillwater students on March 24.

Our Janitors, Ray and Al

Faithful, not only at their work but to the students, are the janitors, Albert Lellman and Ray Erickson. Since July, 1938, these two outstanding personalities have done much to make our school a pleasant one to attend. They clean the washrooms, sweep all the halls and floors, wash 400 windows twice a year, repair desks, paint, refinish, mop and wax floors. Among their most difficult jobs is to keep the lawn looking as neat as possible and to keep the shrubs trimmed and free from broken limbs. Everyone will agree that they have mastered that task perfectly.

Al is seen more in the high school building where he is on hall duty every noon. He lets the students into locked rooms to get some forgotten article or lends out a nickel or dime if requested. These little things will always be remembered when we think of Al.

Ray has the responsibility of taking care of the heating system and contends to be a great deal in the grade school building. Every morning at ten he takes the school's mail to the post office and brings the faculty's mail back. He is always ready to give a helping hand and, therefore, has won the admiration of all the students.

Both Ray and Al are married. Ray has a small son and Al has two married children, a son and daughter.—G. S.

The Old Rattle-trap

I look at my car like a disgusted man
The tires are sitting there without any air
It's an old Ford and it's out of style
I don't even think its worth the while
Here are some parts, I'm missing them
And I'm a'pointing these people to find them.

First comes the starter, Mr. Robb
Who is also the school heart-throb.

Next comes the steering wheel. Mr. Kuefler
He knows how to run the teachers.

Hazel Gray, George Firman, & Virgil Baker.

Then comes the school band, a very good horn
In their elegant dress, what a classy form.

These are the spark plugs, Delores, Gloria, Lorna, and Pat.
And then Mr. Moede with his tires flat.

Mr. Plourde and Mr. Mike make good head-lights
Burton and Tyrus as the tail-lights
Miss Booren is a pretty good brake
Stop her, stop her for goodness sake.

Could the running board be the school board?
An essential part in our broken down Ford.

The taxpayers are the wheels or tires
Mr. Johnson makes a good accelerator.
Marie Winnick is our very best rattle
Messrs. Lellman and Erickson the throttle.

The last we'll consider is the bumper
P. S. To all the names mentioned
Are meant no bad intentions.

Ruggles, Poirier Speak To Physics & Chemistry Classes

Dr. Ruggles and Dr. Poirier, two local physicians, spoke to the Physics and Chemistry Classes last Friday.

Dr. Ruggles, who spoke to the Chemistry class, told the relations of chemistry to the human body. He also told how the X-ray machine is operated.

The structure and operation of the eye proved interesting to the Physics class. The topic was presented to them by Dr. Poirier. Major eye diseases and their corrections by use of optical instruments was an important point of his talk. Distances for distinct vision and the power of accomodation of the eye held the Physics class's interest.

Girl Scouts Work Hard To Complete Projects and Tests

The Cardinal patrol is concentrating its work on arts and crafts, out-of-doors and health and safety. Some of the projects undertaken are: decorating a flower pot, making menus and dawing a sketch map. Delores Morley is the Cardinal patrol leader.

Miss Handford and Miss Helland are the Girls Scout advisers.—P. T.

Chisago City Win Over Rangers 53-31

With hope in their hearts the Rangers will travel to Mahtomedi to compete in the annual sub-district tournament. The Maroon and Gold will meet Columbia Heights in the first game Monday evening at 7:30. Immediately following this contest North St. Paul and Mahtomedi will play. On Tuesday the losers of the first two games will meet for the consolation finals. Following this game will see the two winners of the previous evening pitted against each other.

Columbia Heights is a strong outfit and has beaten some of the stronger teams around here. The Rangers, in one of their best seasons, have dropped four games while racking up nine victories. The Rangers have the advantage of having played on the Mahtomedi floor earlier in the season. Rangers who will make the trip are Rollin Houle, Wallace Langdon, Robert Elmstrom, Robert Holl, Richard McGee, Fred Homquist, Morris Anderson and Donald Peterson. The Monday night game will be a student trip with buses going to the game for sure.

Forest Lake dropped its fourth game of the season to a revamped and hot Chisago City team last Friday by a score of 53 to 31.

The Chisago team led from the first quarter and never once after that did they relinquish their lead. While the Chisago machine was hot, the Rangers were definitely cold. All during the first half the Chisago team poured shots, sometimes almost impossible, into the basket. By half-time the score was 40 to 16 in favor of the Chisagoers. The second half was rougher than the first and saw three men ejected from the game because of personal fouls.

The Rangers outscored Chisago 15 to 13 in the second half to bring the score to 53 to 31. Grant of Chisago City led the scoring with 18 points. Houle of the Rangers scored 10 points for the losers honors. Both teams put in an equal amount of free throws by getting nine apiece.

The second team pulled another game out of the fire by defeating a much taller Chisago City quintet, scoring only one point in the first half. They came back in the second to score 14 more for a 15 - 11 victory. Palmer and Morley led the scoring for the junior Rangers with 5 points apiece.—E. S.

Forester Is Rapidly Nearing Completion

The annual staff, under the editorship of Alice Jeanne McGee and Hazel Anderson, is nearing the goal of completion.

Mr. McIlrath, from Buckbee-Mears Engraving Co., St. Paul, checked over the work as far as it has progressed and highly complimented the staff on its work.

Junior High School Crier

★ POETRY

"Iambic, unaccented, accented; Trochaic, accented unaccented"—and so on, went the Freshmen in their English classes last week. If you haven't recognized it, they were metering poetry. In doing this they composed limericks. I'll give you a sample:

There was a young man named Harvey,
Who had an old horse named Darby,
He'd drive her to town,
The horse would sit down,
Cause she had to wait for poor Harvey.

★ WISHES

Phyllis: Gosh, I had fun the other night! We wished on the moon.

June H: I'll bet is was romantic!

Phyllis E: It was, until he told me what he wished for.

June H: What was it?

Phyllis E. Two front tires!

★ COULD YOU FEATURE:

✦ Zane Johnson without Andy Knutsen?

✦ Miss Wareberg not chasing someone off the balcony after school?

★ LAW BREAKERS

Speaking of tapioca and pea shooters—there were several floating around the junior high last week. They've been taken away before and as usual were taken away again. Mr. Hammond announced the penalties in all the classes and they still go!

● AN EXPERIENCE HAD

One night we were going swimming. My brother and another boy told me to go home and blow out the lamp. I did as I was told. When I came to cross the highway a car going about 50 miles an hour hit me.

I got a broken leg and had to go to the hospital.

About six weeks afterwards, the doctor took an X-ray, and the leg was still broken and a silver plate put into it. About six weeks afterward, I could go back to school.

Now if the Army or Navy needs silver, I have some in my left leg. If you don't believe it, I can prove it.—Paul Mattson.

Rustling Leaves

By June Baker

● HERE AT LAST!

"Announcedl by all the trumpets of the sky,
Arrives the snow, and driving o'er the fields,
Seems nowhere to alight: the whited air
Hides hills and woods, the river and the heaven,
And veils the farm-house at the gardens end."

These lines well describe the delightful scene that prevailed in Forest Lake last week end. Well, it seems that we finally have some snow, so let's enjoy it while we can.

● SCOLDING

The other day I overheard a delightful conversation between two little tots.

"You should have heard the scolding my brother received when he asked for the car the other night," said one, "my father told my brother that tires were hard to get and that automobiles didn't grow on trees."

"Gee," said his companion, "doesn't your father realize that everyone knows automobiles come from plants."

● ANNOUNCING

A change will be made in the date for selling defense stamps. Starting next week, the stamps will be sold on every Monday.

● WHO'S WHO THIS YEAR!

Betty Erickson—Here's a future stenographer, whose pastimes are dancing and skating. She also likes music, sings in the chorus, and admits that Mr. Moede is her favorite teacher. Collecting snapshots is her hobby. "All This and Heaven Too" is her favorite movie while her pet peeve is pesty boys.

Robert Elmstrom—"Bob" is an all-around sports player whose favorite is football. He belongs to the Band, Chorus and Debate and was class treasurer in his sophomore year. He is the senior home room chairman this year. He hasn't any definite plans for the future, but his ambition is to be a coach.

Clarence Huber—Hardly ever do you hear..
"Bud." He names skiing, bowling and football as his favorites and states that "Saratoga" is his favorite among movies. He saves new nickels as a hobby and plans to become a diesel engineer.

Lorna Allenson—Here's a girl who is not afraid to admit that her ambition is to become slender. Lorna favors dancing, ice skating and skiing. Keeping a scrapbook is her hobby. Her future plans are to become a bookkeeper and work for her father.

American Reformer's Birth Was Celebrated

Last Sunday, one of the most leading persons in the history of the United States observed a birthday, though she now has been dead for 36 years. This was the American reformer Susan B. Anthony, who was born in Adams, Massachusetts on February 15, 1820.

For fifteen years she was a school teacher and in 1852 she organized the first woman's state temperance society in America. In 1856 Miss Anthony became an agent for the New York State of Anti-Slavery Society.

She devoted most off her time to the agitation of women's rights. From 1869 to 1892, she was vice-president of the National Woman's Suffrage Association and after the latter date she became president of it. She asserted the fourteenth Amendment to the United States' Constitution and was arrested.

In collaboration with Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Mrs. Mathilda Joslyn Gage and Mrs. Ida Hunter Harper, Miss Anthony published what is known as the "History of Women Suffrage".

On March 13, 1906, she died in Root, New York, leaving her name written in several history books throughout the land and she will be long remembered.—G. S.

TIP-OFFS

By Bob Holl

● Well there are only two games left to play before the basketball season will be over at Forest Lake. We play Chisago City this Friday and then the last game of the season at Stillwater.

The game at Stillwater will serve as a comparison for our game with Columbia Heights as Stillwater beat Columbia Heights 56 to 40 and we can compare with them by what score we beat or get beat by.

● The game with Lindstrom-Center City was a high scoring contest on the part of both teams. Foest Lake's scoring was pretty evenly distributed with three boys having ten points and Peterson who had 13 for high point man.

● If the Lindstrom-Center City game is any comparison we should win from Chisago by quite a bit as Chi-Hi defeated Chisago by about fifteen points. I really can't see how they did it.

● It was just a coincidence that Peterson scored 13 points on last Friday the thirteenth. I just hope he has as good luck for the rest of the season.

● Tomorow will probably turn out to be a plenty tough game as Chisago always has given Forest Lake a good battle. All week we've been preparing plays, and Forest Lake will be in full strength when they take on Chisago City.

Houle, LaMotte Win Declamatory

The annual Junior High Declamation Contest was held Thursday, February 12, at 2:30 in the high school auditorium.

In the original oratory division, Kenneth Houle with his oration written on the topic, Down With Hitler, won first place.

The junior high chorus sang two numbers, The Ash Grove and Go Down Moses.

Judges for the contest were Mr. Robb, Mr. Mike, Mrs. Hammond, Mrs. Moede and Mr. Johnson.—L. J. A.

Juniors Lead Noon Activities - 59 Points

What class will receive the honor of having their name engraved on the Noon Hour Activities Plaque, which is in the trophy case?

The class which appears to be closest to achieving this goal at the present time is the junior class with a total of 59 points. The seniors are next with 36; the sophomores with 22, and the freshmen with 8 .

If you are one of those lagging behind, show your enthusiasm by participating in the games, and in that way help your class to be the foremost in inter-class tournaments.

Enthusiasm has been low recently, mainly because the team members are not down in the gym at 12:20 ready to play. After that time the game is forfeited and three points are added to the other side and three subtracted from yours.

Now, let's go after this. Be down there on time and ready to play.—E. H. A.

Defense Stamp Sale Now Totals $306.45

The sale of Defense Savings Stamps for both the high school and the grades now totals $306.45.

Mr. Robb's home room 38 still leads the sale by quite a large margin.

Remember that stamps will be sold on Monday of each week to the high school and on Tuesday to the grade school.

S. O. S. Members Tour Local Locker Plant

For their last meeting, the S. O. S. Club visited the local creamery and meat locker establishment.. A demonstration of meat cutting was given by Mr. Fred Lee, who also explained the various meat cuts and their uses. The students were taken through the freezing and locker portion of the plant. The process of curing meat by smoking was very interesting. The demonstration was arranged by Alvin White, program chairman for the meeting.—G. A. W.

4-H Officers Held Special Meeting Friday

Friday, February 13, a special 4-H officers meeting was held in Mr. Wilson's room. This meeting was held to plan the next group meeting. Tuesday, third period is the date set for the meeting. These meetings will be held every two weeks.

Helping National Defense through 4-H Club projects will be emphasized in this year's theme. —M. L. M.

Next Week's Home Room To Be "Women In Men's Jobs"

This week's home room topic will be "Women in Men's Jobs". This program has been prepared by Miss Wareberg and Mr. .Nelson.

Last weeks program, "Boy Scouts of America", was prepared by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Dorgan, the two local scoutmasters. Several of the scouts gave talks on the various home rooms on different phases of scouting.—J. W.

Valedictorian And Salutatorian

MARY JANE WEISSER

FLORENCE SHOSTEN

Mary Jane Weisser, who has attended Forest Lake schools since the first grade, was named the Valedictorian of the 1942 graduating class last week. Besides being a very good student, Mary Jane may be seen playing the piano for the chorus or hurrying to an S. O. S. or Biology Club meeting. Mary Jane's five semester average is 94.36.

Upon being asked how she feels about being chosen Valedictorian, Mary Jane said she thinks it is a great honor and her mother is very proud of her.

Florence Shosten, who has an average of 92.76, received the honor of being named Salutatorian. Florence entered Forest Lake high school as a freshman and since then she has lent her tenor voice to chorus as well as belonging to M. R. and G. A. A. She said she is very glad to have the honor of being Salutatorium, but she thought that some other person would receive that privilege.

Both girls are excellent students and are very worthy of the honors bestowed upon them.

Bob Holl was named as the highest ranking boy and Lorraine Spescha, Betty Nelson, Judy Bengtson and Donald Waller received honorable mention.—L. J. A.

16 Seniors Sign For Declamatory Contest

Students who have signed for the respective divisions are as follows:

Original oratory—Robert Holl, Roger Boraas, Robert Cartier, Richard Cartier and Alvin White.

Dramatic—Naoma Graton, Renee Spangenberg, Frances Spescha, Mary Holl, Gail Carlson and Shirley J. Heff.

Humorous—Ethel Jane Christianson, Raymond Waldock and David Engquist.

Oratory—Roger Johnson and Wallace Larson.

Mr. Nelson is faculty adviser for this annual event.—I. H.

Marie Peloquin Talks On "Phones in National Defense"

"The important part telephones play in National Defense" was Marie Peloquin's main topic when she talked to the seventh and eighth grade girls yesterday. Marie, Forest Lake's chief telephone operator, told how the telephone companies are trying to conserve defense materials such as copper by not constructing any more lines unless they're vital to national defense. The operators and the telephone company would like to construct more lines but until the duration they will not.

Many of the girls asked the question, "Why don't we have dial phones in Forest Lake?" Marie answered that because of the war it would cost quite a bit and deprive some army camp from having one. She agreed however, that the dial system would be a great improvement here. Miss Booren disclosed that the school would like to have a dial telephone so the pupils who don't know how to use one could have some practice. Marie said she would try her best to get one.

When asked how long it takes to train an operator, she replied, "two weeks, but one doesn't learn everything by far in those two weeks." Some of the qualities a good operator must have are: good and clear speech; a long arm reach; and to be courteous at all times.

The meeting was concluded with a lunch furnished by the eighth grade girls.—J. H.

ANOTHER SONNET

"Across the barren tundra like a whip,
The wind goes screaming like a thing alive;
Amidst this storm a puny man does slip,
Too cold and tired ever to survive.
Nearby, wolves howl their penance to the sky,
And slip like schoes thru the starless night,
The leader lifts his silver muzzle high,
And leads his pack into the rising light.
The pack spreads out, and stretches scarry legs,
And circle round the silent huddled form;
Seeing his plight, he screams, and then he begs,
The pleading sounds are deafened by the storm.
The fading banners of the Northern light,
Drape shadows soft about the gruesome sight".

—By George Furman

Last week one of the poems chosen as the most successfully written of the senior sonnets was published. This is the other one that was chosen. J. B.

Mrs. Patrin Talks On Her Hobby To Eighth Grade Girls

Does anyone want salt and pepper? Such was the query of Mrs. Joe Patrin as she showed the eighth grade girls her large collection of salt and pepper shakers last Monday.

She has all kinds of shakers from all over the United States. Her prized pair are little silver ones that are only about one-fourth inch high. She has different shapes of people, fruits, vegetables and almost every imaginable shape of shaker in her collection.

Mrs. Patrin said she got tired of people asking, "Do you really use them?" so now she keeps most of them filled with either salt or pepper. Her main sources of collection are from the dime stores and from people who travel.—J. H.

Sub-District Tournament To Be Held March 3 and 4

Mahtomedi is the site of the 1942 sub-district basketball tournament which will be held March 3 and 4. Forest Lake will meet Columbia Heights in the first game of the tournament while Mahtomedi will tangle with North St. Paul in the second contest.

The consolation and final games will be played the evening of March 4.

Admission for high school students is 20 cents for each evening. Adult admission is 40 cents at the door.

Rangers Trounce Chi-Hi 51-30 Friday

Only two games are left on the season's schedule before tournament time.

Tomorrow night the Rangers will meet Chisago City in what is foreseen as a rough and tumble battle. The Rangers downed the Chisago City quintet earlier in the season by a close score of 30 to 28. The Chisago team won a close game over Taylors Falls but were beaten earlier in the week by Lindstrom-Center City on an off night.

On Tuesday the Rangers will travel to Stillwater for their last game of the season. The Ponies have a tough team this season with only one man graduating from last year's squad. The Rangers will face a tough test and this game will act as a comparison to the one the Ponies played with Columbia Heights, our tournament opponent.

The Ranger powerhouse picked up its ninth win of the season last Friday when it walloped the Bulldogs of Lindstrom-Center City by a score of 51 to 30.

The games looked as though it was going to be a close one with the score 8 to 5 in the Maroon and Gold's favor at the end of the first quarter. But the Rangers came back in the second period with some bangup passing and ball handling to score 17 more points. The Bulldogs scored only 6 more counters making the score Rangers 25 and Bulldogs 11 at the end of the half. By the half Coach Von Wald was substituting his men freely, giving them rests whenever the boys felt tired. During the last half the Rangers dropped in 26 more points to the Bulldogs 19 for a final score of 51 to 30.

Ranger scoring was led by Peterson who rang 13 points through the hoop. Close behind were Houle, Anderson and Langdon with 10 points apiece.

A total of 31 fouls was registered during the game with most of them called during a very rough second half.—E. S.

Social Applications Must Be In On Time

A week ago Thursday a special Student Council meeting was called to order by President Donald Waller.

This special meeting was called because the president felt that pressure had been brought to bear on him, because he had refused to sign the social events petitions for the dance to be sponsored by the Junior class on Friday evening. He wished for the council to decide if he had done right or not.

The council discussed the matter and it was agreed and demonstrated by unanimous vote that Donald Waller was upholding the regular law of the council. His actions were given vote and approved.

Two dances have been provided by the juniors and if the social events blank is not filled out properly a dance cannot be held. This may be a kindly reminder to other organizations that this social function is a pre-requisite to parties, dances and all other social activities. One was of letting adults know such events are coming by publishing through the Breeze and, therefore, get social events blanks in on time. —G. S.

Girl Scouts Celebrate St. Valentine's With Party

The Cardinal patrol gave a Valentine party for the other patrols last Monday.

A Valentine box was made, and quiz questions were issued. A number of games were also played.

Doris Engquist, Dolores Morley, Elaine Keller, Delores Moen, Joan Baltes and Nadine Holl furnished the refreshments.—J. W.

Junior High School Crier

● CHORUS

What did you think of the Junior High Chorus at the program last week? Not bad, was it? But who could help but be good with Mr. Moede at the head of it.

● PARTYING

If any of us could have seen some of the teachers at the party at Shipstad's last Friday, I'll bet we would have REALLY had a laugh. One of them wore such a beautiful grass skirt. He even had painted toe nails. (Wonder who it was—MR. NELSON???)

● THINKIN' O' YO'

I'se like a 'lil picannin,
We've heaps of time to kill
Benn doin nothing' all day long
But a settin' mahty still.
Been a noddin' an a dozin'
An a rockin' fro and to
But honey I'se been thinkin'
Ob nobody but you . . .

Could this possibly be Louis M.s thoughts as he sits and day dreams in most of his classes?

● SPEAKING OF LETTERS

Dear Bill,

Come tomorrow evening sure. Papa is at home, but he is laid up with a very sore foot. See???

Esther

Dear Esther,

I can't come tomorrow evening. I'm laid up on account of your father's sore foot. See???

One Of The Most Charming Men In World

The old mansion on the knoll at Mount Vernon, overlooking the Potomac River, has become a shrine. Every distinguished visitor to the United States regards it as part of his duty to lay a wreath before the iron gates of the simple tomb of George Washington, and Martha, his wife, and to inspect the estate to which the "Father of His Country" brought his bride in 1759.

When George was three years old, the family moved to a larger plantation. It was here that he was born. There, according to tradition, he cut down the "Cherry Tree' and explained to his father that he could not tell a lie. We may be sure, however, that he lived the normal life of a boy on the frontier, galloping over the fields and meadows as he learned to ride, playing at Indian wars with his brothers and sister, all of them resting from their play to dash to the wharves whenever the ocean-going ships sailed their way.

To children, Washington was very playful and informal, but to men and women, he was the president, and to those who disobeyed his orders, he could display a terrible and consuming temper. But all felt he was their fellow citizen.

President Washington was said to be "one of the most charming men in the world who made it his chief duty to make everyone around him as happy as possible".

We shall never forget this great man, who helped our country on the ladder of prosperity and success and whose birthday we celebrate every February 22 and call the "Father of His Country".—M. H.

Rustling Leaves

By June Baker

★ OLD OR NEW?

Visitors to the style show were shown both the old fashioned and present day garments.

The old saying "There's Nothing New Under the Sun", was proven for many styles of today were copied from the modes of yesteryear.

Latest versions of hats were modeled by the 7th grade girls. The hats were made up of all kitchen utensils and were cleverly arranged.

★ LOST

"Lost yesterday, sometime between sunrise and sunset.

Sixty golden minutes, sixty diamond seconds, No reward is offered for they're gone forever."

Yes it was the change into daylight saving time that brought this about. Many students had to start to school before daylight came, but not many were tardy because of the hour change.

★ WHO'S WHO THIS YEAR!

Delores Valenty—A little girl whose ambition is to grow about five feet tall. Delores revels in dancing, tennis, and reading books. She belongs to th S. O. S. and M. R. clubs. Her future plan is to go to college and she confesses her dislike for bugs and frogs.

Yvonne Heisler—Yvonne is a blithe blonde whose favorite pastime is bowling and writing letters to the Navy. She participates in the activities of the G. A. A. and also belongs to the chorus. She lists "Shepherd of the Hills" as her favorite book and confides that conceited people are her pet peeve.

Ruth Hopkins—Here's a girl that takes to skating in a big way for skating is her favorite sport and pastime. During her junior year she traveled to San Raphael, California. Her ambition is to become a stenographer and she states keping a diary is her hobby.

Robert Cartier—Meet "Bob" our F. F. A. president for 1941-42. All through his high school years he has belonged to F. F. A., been very interested in agriculture and states his future plans are to keep on with this study in college. He's interested in aviation as a hobby and enjoys all Bob Hope and aviation films.

Walter Berglund—"To travel in every state in the union" is a big ambition to have and as Walter's future plans are to become a salesman, his ambition has a good chance of being accomplished. He particularly likes chili-con carne and fishing, while his pet peeve is girls with long fingernails.

Rollin Houle—"Spike" revels in sports, especially basketball and football. Besides belonging to the football and basketball teams he has joined the S. O. S. club. He plans to go to St. Thomas College and become a doctor. His hobby is collecting stamps and his favorite book is "How to Make Friends and Influence People".

LAST CHANCE TO SWING YOUR PARTNER

Come one, come all to the last Junior Dance before Lent. You may not be a waltzer, nor a person who can polka, but you might be able to ring up a sassy rumba or congo. Any way we're all learning so you won't fell out of place.

This last dance will take place Tuesday evening at the Legion Hall from 8 o'clock to 12 o'clock.—A. J. M.

ANNUAL SALE CLOSES

"The sale of annuals is definitely closed", announced Mr. Johnson last Friday. The quota was oversold by 15 books for one of the best sales in years. The junior and senior interclass contest was a close one with both classes finishing with just about the same percentage. The next big job for the annual staff will be the collection of ads for the book. Preparations are also under way for the completion of the sports section, a vital part of the annual. Work is progressing rapidly and hopes are that the book will be completed by April first.—E. S.

TIP-OFFS

By Bob Holl

I have never seen a longer floor than the Mac floor although they say Minneapolis Armory floor is longer. It was 90 feet in length while ours is only about 50 feet, so you can see what made the team so tired. The main reason for playing Mac was to see if we couldn't learn something from a team which had a little experience, but it turned out differently. The game turned out to be a rough and tumble affair, a game in which the referee blew the whistle about 10 times. The Mac freshies weren't exactly good, and I can't see how they won the games they have.

The team received a pretty good offer about two week ago after we lost to North Branch. Herb Taurman, a local business man offered that if we won one game in between that time and the end of the season he would buy the him that we won from Mahtomedi a couple of whole team steak dinners. I am sorry to inform nights later so we'll be around to eat at the end of the season.

Peterson remarked as he walked into the Mac gym: "Gee! This place would sure hold a lot of hay."

The St. Mary's-Mac game which was seen by the players last Saturday night gave them an opportunity to see one of the best basketball players around the state, Clint Wager of St. Mary's. On several instances he blocked shots that would have gone right thru the hoop. Out side of that he only scored 16 points in 14 minutes and had a total of 22 for the whole game. Incidentally he wasn't drafted because he was too tall and they couldn't shrink him.

Final Eliminations Held In Declam

The Junior High Declamatory Contest will be presented on Thursday February 12 at 2:30 p. m. On the program will be 11 ninth graders, 6 eighth graders, and 3 seventh graders. The Junior high chorus under the direction of Mr. Moede will sing two selections, The Ash Grove and Do Down Moses.. The declamatory contestants and their selections in their respective divisions are as follows:

Original Oratory—

Radio Skills Needed ..... Gerald Armstrong
Down With Hitler ..... Kenneth Houle
False Advertising ..... Marc Shoquist
Stretching Out Rubber ..... Joyce Peltier

Original Poetry—

Why Is It? ..... Patricia Lee
Charlie Was a Sailor ..... Herbert Elmstrom
Style Parade ..... Jeanette Houle
Schoolhouse By the Lake ..... Bill Campbell
Our Part ..... Howard Hawkinson

Dramatic—

Her Grandmother's Birthday, Phyllis Johnson
Joey's Friend ..... Betty Hopkins
Mary Ellen's Star ..... Mary Lou Micken

Humorous—

Backseat Flying ..... Eva Lunzer
Boo Hoo ..... Una LaMotte
Coaching a Play ..... Rita Hauble
On the Ice Pond ..... Dorothy Daninger
Johnny Takes a Trip ..... Alice Richards
Composition on a Cow ..... Robert Furrer

Jacqueline Weisser will act as contest chairman. The judges will be Mr. Robb, Mr. Mike, Mrs. Hammond, Mr. Moede and Mr. Johnson. —D. P.

Gum Creates Hazard In Gym & Fountains

Gum, that rubbery hunk of something! Boy, the trouble it gets us into, such as, writing themes, scraping it off floors and all leading up to the fact that it might be taken away from us. We always think up some good excuses to put into our 500 word themes. Most themes contain facts that the gum is good for your breath and teeth.

One pupil eager to get 500 words the fastest way, even put down all the helpful ingredients of the substance, Gum is a gooey chunk of material and everywhere it falls it sticks, so Mr. Hammond's industrial arts boys discovered. Armed with putty knives and coffee cans they attacked the gym floor and in less than an hour they had the culprit scraped off.

One of the nicest sights in school is the waterfountains by 4:00 o'clock. They contain some of the most juicy specimens you ever saw. Every piece that has no flavor to be reclaimed winds up there if no where else. Another thing that is really swell to do is to stick your gum on the banister. This produces a thrilling effect for the other pupils when they take hold of them. The gum sticks to your hand when soft and scrapes the skin off when it hardens.

These are just a few of the swell things you can do not to help the school.—E. S.

SCOUTS TO CONDUCT HOME ROOM PROGRAM

Active and former scouts will take care of the Home Room program tomorrow. This is an event commemorating the thirty-second anniversary of National Boy Scout Week. Scouts are being assigned to various home rooms to give talks and demonstrations.

"What is a Boy Scout?", "The Boy Scouts of America", "The Good Turn and Knighthood" and "Emergency Service Corps" are some of the topics being reported on.

A general discussion will take place in each home room after the topics.—P. T.

Not Better Than the Best, But Better Than the Rest

At a recent meeting of the senior class it was decided that the class flower was to be rose, and the class color blue and white. "Not better than the best, but better than the rest" was the motto chosen.

Graduation announcements have also been decided upon.—J. B.

With Malice Toward None

Oh, Slow to smite and swift to spare,
Gentle and merciful and just!
Who, in the fear of God, didst bear
The sword of power, a nation's trust!

This verse from "The Death of Lincoln" by William Cullen Bryant is a perfect tribute to Abraham Lincoln whose birthday is today.

The Lincoln family lived in a rough-hewn log cabin in Gentryville, Indiana. The pioneer family had moved from Kentucky. Young Abe had been to school only two or three months and had learned to read. The only book the family possessed was the Bible which he knew almost by heart. When he later came to govern thirty million people he said, "All I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother". She died when he was only ten years of age and to Abe it was an irreparable loss.

His love for reading became so great that books were a treasure to him. His interest in law was evidenced by the fact that he, a poor, country lad, read The Revised Statutes of Indiana. He worked at odd jobs and once took a flatboat down the Mississippi to New Orleans where he saw the cruelties of slavery.

Lincoln's political career began with his election to the state legislature. He was admitted to the bar in 1837. His reputation as a lawyer brought his re-election to the legislature by a large majority. His renown as a speaker developed after the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate over the Kansas-Nebraska Act.

When the new Republican Party met, he was unsuccessful in his attempt to gain the nomination for the vice-presidency in 1856. In 1860 he became President and the Civil War soon began. On September 22, 1862, he issued the immortal Emancipation Proclamation freeing the slaves. His Gettysburg address is known as one of the great speeches of all time. He was re-elected President and Civil War soon ended.

Five days after the surrender of General Lee he went to Ford's Theatre. John Wilkes Booth, a half-crazed actor, came into the box behind him and fired a bullet into his brain; then sprang upon the stage shouting, "The South Is Avenged!" Lincoln soon died and his passing was mourned by the North and the South alike.

Thus Lincoln died a martyr's death after freeing four million people from bondage.

SENIORS BATTLE WITH SONNETS

For the last week seniors in Mr. Robb's fourth hour English class have been struggling over sonnets.

Some may think that poetry writing is easy. It really isn't. Much time and thought have to be spent in fitting the appropriate words into the correct meter.

The sonnet is a fourteen line poem which has a very complicated rhyme scheme. There must be exactly ten syllables to each line and every other beat is accented. The other beats are unaccented.

Many interesting poems were written and the two chosen as the most successful will be published. One this week and the other next week.

PUPPY LOVE

—by Florence Shosten

He thrilled the very marrow in my bones,
My every nerve did quiver with delight;
The night before when we had been alone—
The moon above had never seemed so bright.
His eyes, so full of love, looked heavenly blue,
His kisses were as sweet as they could be,
Held close within his arms I lived anew,
It seemed that he was made for only me.
When after harvest, fall did closer crawl
My curly-headed blonde to city went.
Since, then, in church, I saw him near the wall
My heart beat like a shot from cannon sent.
If puppy love can do all this to you
I wonder what the real (McCoy) will do.

Carved Initials Fascinate Educational Movie Goer

It seems there is nothing as romantic or ageless a thing as a carved initial. While on a little excursion to the music room the other day to absorb a little knowledge from the motion pictures, I became bored. When boredom gets you, you hunt for something to do.

I began to jot down some of the carvings on the chairs before I added my own. It seems funny how those chairs have lasted so long. Here are the etchings of 'Bud', 'Jim', Joe, John, Mary and a host of others. I can bet now, if I graduate, that when I come back to this school after a long time those immortal chairs will still be there, plus a few new carvings.—E. S.

School For Aliens At Forest Lake

Come on Mothers and Dads, here's your chance to take the place of your children by going to school.

Mrs. Olive Bowyer from the District Department of Education is organizing classes for all aliens to help them attain their citizenship.

All foreign born people are eligible. Classes will begin February 17.

If you want to learn more about America, and want help in preparing for citizenship, join this nationwide organization for recruiting new citizens.—P. T.

4-H and F. F. A. Cooperate In National Paper Drive

The F. F. A. and 4-H Club members are cooperating in collecting papers for defense purposes. On Monday the third truckload, since the first of the year, will be taken to the city.—J. S.

Rangers To Seek Another Victory

Tomorrow night the Rangers will seek their second win over the Bulldogs of Lindstrom-Center City. In a previous game the Lindstrom squad was downed by a score of 40 to 22. The Bulldogs are led by Martinson, who is the teams hot-shot. This game will be a student trip so the favorite Rangers will have plenty of followers.

Last Satruday the Maroon and Gold traveled to St. Paul to play the Macalester College Freshmen. The Rangers, however, came out on the short end of a long score which turned out to be 43 to 15. The Macmen had no trouble at all in registering their victory because of superior height at practically all positions.

Ranger scoring honors were captured by Wally Langdon who dropped in 5 points. Olson of Macalester was high point man with 10 points

Forest Lake (15)	FG	FT	F	P
Peterson	2	0	0	4
Elmstrom	0	1	0	1
Houle	0	1	1	1
Anderson	1	0	0	2
Holl	0	2	1	2
Landon	2	1	1	5

The score at the half was Forest Lake 7; Macalester 28.

Lead by forward Rollin Houle who scored 12 points the Rangers won revenge over the Vikings of North Branch by a score of 24 to 23.

Forest Lake opened their big guns on the 8 to 4 advantage. They also outscored their Vikings in the first quarter by grabbing an Norther opponents in the second quarter and the score stood 13 to 6 at the end of the first half. In the second half North Branch came back surprisingly strong and almost capsized the Rangers hope of a victory. But with five seconds to go in the last quarter and the score tied at 23 to 23 Houle dropped in a free throw to clinch the victory for the Rangers.

Moses led the Brancher's scoring with 9 points. Both teams played a tight defense and therefore it was hard to score.

Introducing Mrs. Hammond

So quietly has she taken her place among the faculty that few have realized how much she is doing.

She is a graduate of Concordia College at Moorhead, Minnesota. She was formerly known as Miss Nielsen at Lindstrom-Center City, where she had charge of all the high school music in addition to being librarian and Junior High English and Latin instructor.

Mrs. Hammond teaches English, Latin, takes care of the library and supervises the BREEZE.

She enjoys all foods, attends basketball games and her hobbies are rug-making, knitting and playing the piano.

Upon being asked what she thought of Forest Lake, she replied, "It's a grand place and I enjoy making my home here".

Incidentally she received her library training in the same class that Miss Skog was in at the University of Minnesota. —J. B.

BEWARE ON THE MORROW

If you're somewhat superstitious, be very careful what you do tomorrow, for its one of those very few (thank goodness) days, Friday the 13th.

Upon looking up the meaning of superstition in the dictionary, we found that it is an idea in the mind that is not based on facts, but on fear.

In case you're not up on what's what in super-stition, here are some helpful suggestions. (1) Beware of black cats coming across your path. (2) For goodness sake don't walk under a ladder, (3) Take very special care of your mirrows tomorrow. (4) Stay away from dogs, because if you hear one howl someone will die. (5) If you see a falling star someone will die. (6) If you're out walking with a friend and come to a tree, don't separate but both go to the same side of the tree. If you don't do this, you will have a quarrel.

To be sure nothing happens to you tomorrow hang a horseshoe above your door and by all means try to find a four leaf clover to hold on to just for good measure and super protection. —L. J. A.

Price of Annual Raises to $1.25

"Now don't move; you might blur the picture. Say, if you don't move in you won't be on the picture."

Yes, the group pictures for the annual have been taken. Plans for the book have been completed, and the cover design has been supplied to Buckbee Mears Publishing Company.

M pictures have already been figured out Valtion and they are about to be mounted. ley bscription drive has been underway Roy time. The price of subscriptions from ill be raised from one dollar to one twenty-five cents.—A. J. M. G.

Junior High School Crier

★ Just Plain Smart

LeRoy Olson, the Freshman wizard, was talking the Mr. Dorgan's science class last Friday and upon saying, "If there is anything you can't understand just say 'aye'," he got the answer 'AYE' from every member of the class. (Exempting Mr. Dorgan.)

★ Songs

The Junior High Chorus is really coming along. It is far from perfect and can certainly stand improvement, but can't we all? They will sing at the Junior High Declam Contest on February 12. June Houle, from the eighth grade, will accompany them on the piano. Mr. Moede is director.

★ Movies

As you all know "Movies" was the home room topic Friday and preceding it a survey of them was taken. In Miss Booren's room I Wanted Wings hit the spot. During the discussion following it this conversation took place—

Helen H.—Why did you choose I Wanted Wings as your top movie?

Luella O.—Well, it had a mixture of all types of movies in it. Drama, comedy, music—and ahem. (Romance).

★ Music

The Junior High Sing really over with a "bang". The Freshmen seemed to bellow the loudest but that's just because they're big. Don't let it get you down, seventh and eighth graders, wait till you've got 100 kids. Wow! Combine that with what you have now and you'll really make some noise.

★ Excuse

Cupid Does Double Duty On This Day

Did you know that there's only one day during the whole year on which Dan Cupid is "King for a Day"? Yes, this honorary title is bestowed on that cute little fellow with the bow and arrow on Valentine's Day. Even though Cupid is quite busy during the other 364 days, on Valentine's Day he really takes the spot light and puts "Yahooti" in the background, although "Yahooti" is always in the background as he's the "little man who wasn't there."

Many of Cupid's arrows are sometimes sent in the wrong direction; that is, bringing a person whom you regard as a foe back to life again, as invariably there are people who do remember you (although in a friendly way) on this day. Such people as that can easily be discovered by the valentines they send, which are quite large with a picture of a battle ax (not a battle ship) or something of the kind on the front. Underneath this drawing is found quite a sarcastic verse.

But remember it's not only your enemies who think of you but also all your friends and many of them are really good friends. It might be possible to go a step further to say that they may be your sweethearts. The size and shape of the valentines you receive from these friends isn't as important as the sweet little verse that's found inside. For instance, you may receive a valentine with the following inscription:

Caring for you as much as I do,
My greatest wish will be—
That you will always understand,
How dear you are to me.

Now wouldn't something as sweet as that just set your heart afire? If you would receive such a valentine you can be quite confident that someone likes you very much and that ffor once Cupid hasn't passed you by, but sent his arrow straight to your heart with a special message of love attached.

Regardless of who sends you a valentine or how many you receive from your friends, why not show your appreciation by sending as many valentines as possible and in this way keep Dan Cupid busy tying knots, creating new friend and joining old friends together again on th great day which comes but once a year.—E. His
