

FOX CHAPEL AREA HIGH SCHOOL A FEW FACTS

- Fox Chapel Area High School was twice named a National Blue Ribbon School in the United States Department of Education's Blue Ribbon Schools programs. The school also received the designation from the Pennsylvania Department of Education.
- In 2012, the high school was the first ever in the history of Middle States to receive a Program of Distinction designation in school counseling. Also in 2012, the high school was the first public school to receive the Program of Distinction credential in music. In 2015, the high school was the first school nationally and internationally to be recognized as having a Program of Distinction in visual arts. The school received all three of these same designations again in 2019 from the Middle States Association Commissions on Elementary and Secondary Schools.
- The high school is consistently given Silver Medal ranks by U.S. News & World Report and is ranked among the nation's top high schools by Newsweek. The high school was also ranked among the Washington Post's America's Most Challenging High Schools in 2017.
- In 2017, the district was honored by the College Board with placement on the 7th Annual AP[®] District Honor Roll, a distinction for districts that show significant gains in student access and success on Advanced Placement courses and tests.
- High school orchestra director Mairi Cooper was named Pennsylvania's 2015 Teacher of the Year and she was Pennsylvania's nominee for National Teacher of the Year.
- Fox Chapel Area High School Program Principal John McGee was named the 2011 Assistant Principal of the Year by the Pennsylvania Association of Elementary & Secondary School Principals.
- There are approximately 1,300 students attending Fox Chapel Area High School.
- There are approximately 105 professional staff members. This includes six school counselors, a nurse, and a full-time librarian. Additionally, there is one lead principal and two program principals.
- Approximately 87% of the professional staff hold a master's degree or its equivalent and the average years of teaching experience is about 22 years.
- There are 26 advanced placement courses in the curriculum.
- Eleven alternative programs may be selected by students. The alternative programs are: work experience, community service, professional experience, independent study, college/university concurrent enrollment, early admission, early graduation, course audit (enrichment), spring semester abroad, Fox Chapel Area Online, and vocational/technical education.
- There are 13 boys and 14 girls interscholastic athletic teams in the school.
- There are approximately 80 extracurricular clubs, organizations, and activities (including club sports) from which students may elect to join.
- A total of 249 members (75%) of the 330 students in the class of 2022 took the SAT during their junior or senior year.
- Of the 330 students in the graduating class of 2022, 82% are enrolled in some form of continuing education.
- The library has more than 12,000 titles in its collection. Additionally, the library is also part of Pennsylvania's Power Library system and Access PA, a library loan system that gives students access to more than 2,500 libraries in the state, as well as providing access to online databases.
- There are more than 2,000 desktop and laptop computers and iPads for staff and students, including wireless access from anywhere in the building. The high school also has computer labs with specialized software for various courses. Additionally, the high school has a Fab Lab – a creative space for innovation, invention, collaboration, and learning.