

English 12 AP Literature and Composition Summer Reading List

Students who are enrolled in English 12 Advanced Placement Literature and Composition for the Spring semester should read two works before the first day of class (one novel and the play). Annotate or take notes on your readings since you will be evaluated on both works sometime during the first two weeks of the semester. Be sure to pay close attention to what the author is doing both stylistically and thematically.

Novel Choices: Margaret Atwood- The Handmaid's Tale (1985)

*Sandra Cisneros-The House on Mango Street (1991)

Play: Sophocles- Oedipus the King (Oedipus Rex)* (429 BC)

*Note-If you would like to borrow copies of these texts, please stop by room 103.

If you read the previous listed works on summer reading list for the fall students, please come talk to me in room 103.

I look forward to having you in class in a few weeks!

~Mrs. Polesiak
