

Primary Norwegian A Teacher

100% teaching position, starting August 2023

OIS seeks a qualified professional with a child-centred approach to learning, excellent pedagogical training and classroom practice, strong collegial relationships, and a commitment to contributing to the development of the Norwegian learning programme and school community at OIS.

The teacher appointed to this role will have autonomy and creative freedom as they collaborate with a team of highly qualified Norwegian teachers. This role does not come with "contact teacher" responsibilities, but the appointed teacher would work with more than one year level.

Requirements

- Proficient Norwegian speaking and writing skills
- Native Norwegian fluency
- Teaching certification, approved through NOKUT or a similar organization overseas
- Experience as language teacher
- Proficient English skills

Candidates with the following will be viewed favourably

- Experience teaching Norwegian
- Experience in an international school setting
- Experience teaching primary school students
- Excellent technology skills

Personal Characteristics

- You are a class leader and are concerned with creating good relationships with students, parents, and colleagues
- You are flexible, solution-oriented, and collaborative
- You stay academically up to date and seek out new ideas, relevant research, and inspiration.
- You love to learn and teach

Responsibilities

- Collaborate with other Norwegian teachers
- Plan and teach effective lessons following the national curriculum
- Communicate effectively with parents and guardians
- Prepare students for national tests
- Contribute to the professional collegiality of the school staff

We offer

- Resourceful and motivated students
- An inspiring international working environment
- A committed and collaborative faculty
- A collegial Norwegian teaching team
- A competitive salary package
- Generous professional development opportunities
