

Your March Program Guide

In spite of the current wintery climate we are pleased to announce that registration for our summer day camps are now open. Further below you will see two brand new six week day camps in addition to our usual camp offerings that will serve to provide age appropriate care for nearly any school aged child in our community. With that said, the level of popularity for our camps has grown significantly since the start of the pandemic and as a result we are no longer able to guarantee space in our summer programs. To that end, I encourage you to take advantage of the early bird discount and register at your earliest convenience to ensure your children don't miss out on the summer fun.

As always thank you for your support and we look forward to seeing you outside this summer!

*Dustin Huguenin
Ellington Recreation director*
