

The parent/school partnership is important! Research from the National Coalition for Parent Involvement in Education shares, “Students with involved parents are more likely to have higher grades and test scores, attend school regularly, have better social skills, show improved behavior and adapt well to school.” We thank you for your support and want to be of assistance. Find some links with great ideas for your family listed below:

- Fascinating video on early brain development. Check out this four-minute message of just how important early interactions are in the life of a child here
- Talking is Teaching calendar of 30 easy-to-implement ideas for you and your child found here
- Numerous fun home activities for children from birth to age 5 found here
- Great family ideas from Bright from the Start found here
- Helpful information about stages at various ages in the areas of Social / Emotional, Language / Communication, Cognitive, and Physical Development found here
- TALK, READ, and SING language development timeline birth to age 5 with suggested activities found here