ADMINISTRATIVE POLICY

INSTRUCTION

SUMMARY

The Salem-Keizer School District is committed to providing access to electronic resources for the advancement and promotion of learning and teaching. While electronic devices are permitted on campus, our desire is to cultivate a safe learning environment that is free from disruptions.

DEFINITIONS CIPA

The District’s electronic resources include but are not limited to computers, tablets, peripherals, networks, email, telecommunications, and internet connections. This includes accounts and services established for schoolwork that can be accessed both from home and school.

Independent Communication

Communication that does not require assistance or interpretation by an individual who is not part of the communication but that may require the use or assistance of an electronic device.

Personal Electronic Devices

Any portable, electrically powered device that is capable of making and receiving calls and text messages and accessing the internet independently from the school’s network infrastructure. This does not include a laptop computer or other device required to support academic activities. Computers and handheld mobile devices including but not limited to, iPod, iPod Touch, iPhone, smartwatches, iPad, Android Phones, Android Tablet, Nook, Kindle, Kindle Fire, etc., which are not owned by the district. Electronic devices also include earbuds or other types of headphones.

INSTRUCTION

1. Access to electronic resources is a privilege, not a right and entails responsibility. It is expected that students adhere to the same standards for communicating online that are expected in the classroom and are consistent with District policy and procedure.
2. The use and access to electronic resources (including cell phones) will vary based on what is developmentally appropriate for the grade level of the students, the extent to which this access can support the educational environment, and the degree of potential disruptions that can occur as a result of student usage. As a result, the following policy guidelines will be enacted for each grade level.
 - a. K-12: Students may use cell phones and personal electronic devices before entering and after leaving the school day. During the school day, students are not allowed to use their phones in classrooms, common areas (lunch) or during passing times. In general, students will be asked to turn their cell phones off and place them inside of their backpacks, with the main office or in their locker (if available). If such a device is observed by staff during school hours, it shall be confiscated by staff until redeemed by a parent/guardian/caregiver. Parents who need immediate communication with their student are asked to call the school’s main office. [See exception to policy for schools using cell phone pouches 2c below]
 - b. Secondary schools implementing a system of cell phone management using cell phone pouches, have the following expectations: Students will be issued a cell phone pouch for their use during the school year. Students are expected to place their cell phones and other personal electronic devices inside of their cell phone pouch upon arrival inside of the school building each day. Cell phones will remain inside of this pouch for the remainder of the school day. The pouch may be opened as the student is leaving school grounds after the dismissal bell, for a release period, or for open campus. Students will remain in possession of their cell phone pouch during the day by storing it in their backpack, purse, locker, etc.

- c. Personal electronic devices may be used when use complies with the terms of:
 - i. The student's medical provider's order for the care and treatment of a medical condition.
 - ii. The student's individual education program, as defined in ORS 343.035 or an education plan developed for the student in accordance with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 29 U.S.C 794.
 - iii. A written exemption provided for the student based on a process and guidelines adopted by the school district to allow school building administrators to accommodate the individual circumstances of a student or to further specific education outcomes for a student.
