

MILLFIELD FOUNDATION

MARCH NEWSLETTER 2023

With 2023 and Spring term well underway, we are preparing for Summer and beyond, as we seek to promote the work of the Foundation, and significantly grow our Endowment Fund to support more deserving young students.

2023 will see us deliver our third Giving Day initiative, including our Brilliance Dinner alongside talks for pupils about global philanthropy and good global citizenship. In addition, we will be launching our Case for Support, and reigniting our International Branches as we seek to engage with a wider audience of OMs and parents across the UK and overseas over the next 12 months.

Best wishes,

Andrew Cook (1987-1992; Iy Thorn)
Head of Alumni and Foundation

A CASE FOR SUPPORT

As highlighted earlier, we will be launching our Case for Support, ahead of Giving Day 2023, which outlines the Foundation's vision, goals, and rationale behind our Discover Brilliance campaign and our strategy to significantly grow our Endowment Fund. We look forward to sharing it with you next month.

DONOR DRINKS

December saw our annual donor drinks event at the headmaster's house. It was lovely to see so many faces and outline our plans and ambitions for the Discover Brilliance campaign in the years ahead. With future events lined up for donors during 2023, we look forward to sharing our progress and the outcomes Millfield are delivering as we seek to widen our reach and support more transformational bursaries.

GIVING DAY 2023

Wednesday 24 - 26 May

Supporting Giving Day: There are lots of fantastic ways you can get involved with Giving Day 2023, including match and challenge funding opportunities, both of which provide an opportunity to make your donation work harder by accelerating wider fundraising, which will ultimately make a material impact to the amount we raise. If applicable, please do share your bursary story, and highlight the positive impact being a bursary recipient at Millfield had on your time both during and post school. If you would like to be involved please email on: foundation@millfieldschool.com
