

What is a College and Career Readiness Plan?

The College and Career Readiness

- * is a primary strategy for recognizing student accomplishments and strengths
- * is planning, monitoring, and managing education and career development for students
- * is achieved through an on-going partnership involving students, a student's parents or guardians, and school counselors

The College and Career Readiness process addresses student information and competencies in the following areas:

- * Self-knowledge
- * Education and Occupation Exploration
- * Education, Career, and Life Planning

The College and Career Readiness process assists students in establishing education and personal/life goals, then it connects students to activities that will help them achieve their goals.

The College and Career Readiness involves a process and a product that are directed by the individual needs of each student--educational needs, individual requirements, and realistic assessment. As part of the planning process, students' interests, talents, achievements, four year and beyond plan, and goals are reviewed. In an annual, College and Career Readiness conference for every Tooele Junior High student. This conference includes the student, the student's parent or guardian, and a counselor or other school personnel. A record of the College and Career Readiness planning process activities will be kept in a personal planning folder.
