As many of you have noticed, there is a new face at WLMS. Her name is Rosalyn Tobler, and she is our new assistant principal. She is from Dry Branch, GA and before coming to WLMS, she was an 8th grade science teacher at Rutland Middle for 14 years. She has a Bachelor's degree in physics, a Master's degree in business and MBA, and a Specialist degree in educational leadership. She is married and has two children and two dogs.

Many people think of her as strict when that is simply not the case. She says her philosophy of discipline is that discipline does not look the same for everyone, and everyone has different expectations for how they should behave at home. She believes we should create an environment where students feel safe, and everyone treats everyone fairly and with respect. Mrs. Tobler knows that rules are necessary, and we need consequences to back them up. Without consequences, no one would follow the rules, and we would have chaos.

She said she loves our school, and when asked what she wants to see improve, she said absolutely nothing. She is happy to be at West Laurens and is in a good place. She says she wants to be an important asset and help others. When asked what her goals were, she said she wants to make Laurens County Schools the best!

WLMS Student Spotlight: Cory King - 6th Grade

The student spotlight this month is Cory King. He is in sixth grader, and he says, "It's great!" However, he does miss SWLE because Ms. Baker isn't his teacher anymore. He is a very sporty person. His favorite part about middle school is going to the gym to play basketball, just like most boys who attend here! He also can throw a very good spiral in football. When he isn't at school, he enjoys playing any sport. Cory is very athletic and a kind-hearted boy who is always giving out hugs!

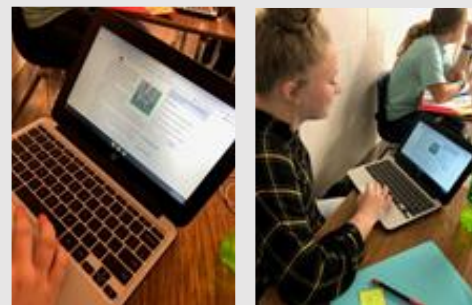

AR is Gone?

I'm sure most of you have all heard the rumor that 7th grade has done away with AR; however, that is not completely true. Even though it's not required for students to read AR, there is a substitution for it. Seventh graders no longer have to go to the library and look for books directly on their Lexile's. They are no longer being "forced" to read a certain number of books nor have to get a certain amount of points. One seventh grade teacher points out that it is NOT eliminated; it is just not tied to an AR score anymore. Some seventh grade teachers think AR isn't effective at WLMS. One seventh grade teacher stated, "Students do not like being "forced" to read books simply because they are on their Lexile level, not necessarily their interest level. Students with high Lexile levels also do not have a wide selection of books from which to choose in the school library. Their only choices tend to be nonfiction science books or biographies."

Although the AR requirements have changed, they still have to read on a website. This website is called Read Theory. Read Theory provides students with higher interest reading that could be similar to the articles on the Milestone. A teacher from seventh grade doesn't fully agree with AR being replaced with Read Theory. She says that novels read by small groups on their Lexile levels would be better. On the other hand, one seventh grade student said that she likes Read Theory because the passages are shorter. Read Theory is NOT a better option, but it is providing shorter passages for students to read on their individualized Lexile level. It is still not allowing students to read on their INTEREST level!

Stressing Out!

The most common thing that everyone deals with at school is stress. We have so many tests, a lot of homework, extracurricular activities, and we don't have any time to relax. Seriously, we have mental breakdowns at least 3 times a week. Since I'm stressed all of the time, I have come up with several ways to deal with stress. To keep from getting stressed, you should try to get at least 8 hours of sleep per night. Another way is to take a bath (or shower) and light a candle or use essential oils. One WLMS student stated, "I turn on some music and reorganize my room." That is something I also do very often. One of the biggest ways to deal with stress is to play with your pet (if you have one). Playing with a pet can increase levels of the stress-reducing hormone oxytocin and decrease levels of the stress hormone cortisol. Talking to someone about what you are stressed about can help you, too. Another WLMS student stated that she has to talk to a friend to stay calm. The last way to deal with stress is to go outside and ride a bike or take a walk. The fresh air outside will make you feel better, and plus you get a work out. Trying a few of these strategies will most likely help you deal better with stress.

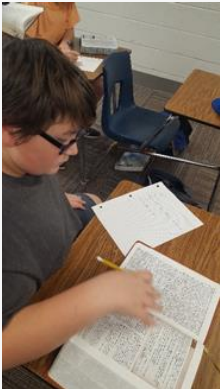

WIN

WHAT I NEED

Bible Class
Mrs. Meghan Wilson

Mrs. Wilson’s 8th grade Bible literature class is a class where students learn the history of the Bible and have fun activities to go along with it. Mrs. Wilson enjoys seeing her students grow in knowledge of the Bible and in their faith. There are 66 books in the Bible, and she wishes for all of her students to know them. In February, they were making scavenger hunts for one another over some books of the Bible. If you’re wondering what Mrs. Wilson likes most about this class, it is discussing with the class questions they may have and learning together. Everyone works well with each other. Some activities they do in this class are watching Christian movies, memorizing scripture, putting the sixty-six in order, etc. Although this class seems pretty fun so far, Mrs. Wilson wishes that they could answer questions more efficiently and smoothly. “If there was one thing I could do to make this class even better, it would be to be more organized,” she stated. We asked Mrs. Wilson if she could teach a different WIN class, would she? “Of course not!” she said. Ethan Bryner chose this class because he wanted to learn more about the Bible, and he would recommend this class to upcoming 6th and 7th graders.

8th Grade Drama
Mrs. Kellie Manley & Mrs. Jessica Jones

Eighth grade drama is a WIN class where young actors are able to express themselves in ways they could not in regular classes. Lexi Ford and Evie Lee love being in drama WIN. They literally had nothing bad to say about this class; although, they did say the class could use more props. At this time, they make a lot of their own props. Currently, students are in groups writing their own plays that they eventually hope to perform. Lexi’s and Evie’s play is a comedy. The class so far has had a guest speaker who has been in a few movies which was really exciting for them. All of the students in the class love both of their teachers Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Manley. Other fun activities they do are performing improv, keeping straight faces, and bonding with their fellow students. They use this class to express themselves in order to become creative leaders of tomorrow. Mrs. Manley enjoys teaching drama. She would never teach another WIN class even if given the choice. She wants to try and get to know her students on a personal level that she’s not able to accomplish in the typical classroom setting. One of the main reasons Mrs. Manley enjoys teaching this class is watching students express themselves; however, that is also one of her biggest obstacles. Girls in her class are afraid students will make fun of them for their behavior. She wants the school to fund the class, so they can perform plays. Mrs. Manley would also like more purchased props instead of watching her students make their own props. She enjoys interacting with the students to see their various reactions to certain activities. Overall Mrs. Manley really loves her WIN class, and she is very happy to be teaching it.

6th Grade Outdoor Ed Mr. Jeremy Matthews

Goal: To learn more about the woods/wildlife in our area.

So far we have discussed the life cycle of the whitetail deer/methods to improve habitat and to hunt them. We have also placed trail cameras in the woods around the school to see if deer live close to the school.

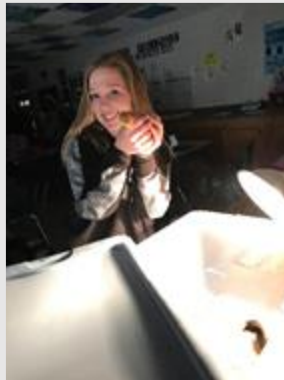

Right now we are studying the large-mouth bass. This week we learned how to tie a good knot that won't come off when you are fishing and also made PowerPoint presentations about the life cycle of the large-mouth bass.

8th Grade Animal Science Mrs. Casey Dunn

Animal Science is one of many WIN classes available for West Laurens Middle School students. Animal Science is instructed by Mrs. Dunn, an 8th grade teacher. Mrs. Dunn chose to teach this class because she has always loved animals, and she used to show livestock when she was in school. Mrs. Dunn also started her teaching degree in agriculture education, but when she got to ABAC (Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College), she swapped majors to get into teaching as she's doing now! Mrs. Dunn said she loves the fact that the students can hold chickens and that she can see the excitement on their faces because some of the students have never experienced holding a chicken. During the interview, she said that the students were amazed when they found out that hens can lay eggs without having a rooster. Mrs. Dunn also wishes that they could have more space to house more animals. The students that are in this class have a passion for animals. Out of this WIN class four will be going to competition on February 28 in Eastman - Avi Patel, Makayla Fordham, Evan Lowery, and Chandler Carter. The competition has three parts to it: livebird, candling 10 eggs, and judging poultry carcasses. Coach Brown, a two-time champion of the competition, will also be going. He helped the class better understand how to candle an egg. The class currently has four chickens.

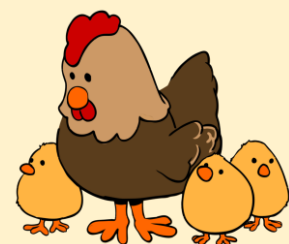

I interviewed two students from this class: Kirsten Boston and Ladedry Thomas. The students chose this class because of their love for animals. They would recommend upcoming 6th and 7th graders to take this class because it is a very fun class, and you learn more than you already know about animals. They said it's also a very interesting class. They say the hardest thing to do is to candle an egg. Overall, Kirsten and Ladedry love this class because of the fact that they can actually take care of live animals!

Spill the Tea

- Teachers should be required to have tissues and Germ-X.
- There are not enough basketballs in the gym.
- A teacher on the 300 hall sings too much.
- Please give 6th grade outside break.
- My bus driver is starting to change emotionally. He has started yelling at us for asking him something politely. He will yell things like shut up, and he saw me but left me at my house. So, my mom has to take me to school.
- We want less homework for ELA/Reading.
- I want to give a shoutout to my favorite couple Jaylon and Kiersten.
- I send all my love to my best friend Sierra Dixon. She is the nicest girl I have ever met. I wish we were sisters. Love you, BFF!
- The students need more freedom!
- It's pretty bad when the students say this, but I wish my teacher would teach us something.
- Congratulations to the WLMS Wrestling Team for being Region Champs!
- A pack of Educational Cookies on 2-20-19 had an expiration date of 1-10-17!!! Check your expiration dates!!!
- The 100 hall is great! The teachers are so nice, and the lunchroom ladies are so nice.
- Why complain about dress code? It's better than school uniforms.
- Math and science is better than English and social studies.
- Sorry my knee is distracting you.
- Jaedyn Knight has my heart, and he is my world.
- Every teacher on the sixth grade 300 hall is really helpful! The real problem is that the people saying 200 hall is dumb are actually calling themselves dumb. Think before speaking!
- The toilets on the 100 hall are so bad, and nobody flushes them. It's gross!
- Bullying is still an issue. We need real solutions.
- Mrs. Thompson is a great teacher.
- Sorry my collarbone is offending you.
- Stop juuling in the bathroom.
- Quit making roasts accounts on instagram when you're not funny.
- AR is stupid!
- Quit acting so entitled.

- What's up with Shawn Mendes being sooo cute!
- The lunch room ladies are so nice.
- Lauren Boland and Jake Fromm are couple goals! Love y'all!
- A certain girl likes Matthew in 6th grade, Thompson's homeroom.
- Please stop the drama. The fights are hurting all of us.
- Quit judging people who are changing for the better.
- Second break is needed for 8th grade!
- Map tests are NOT fun.
- Parents need to buy me a new phone. Its screen cracked.

Devotion Submissions can be emailed to Mrs. Weeks or Mrs. Kemp or placed in the Spill the Tea folders.

Ephesians 2:10 - "For we are God's masterpiece. He has created us anew in Christ Jesus, so we can do the good things he planned for us long ago."
 In today's world, we all seem to base our self worth on the things that other people say about us, how we feel we measure up to the people around us, or what we feel that we are expected to be. God's word is a constant reminder that we are enough, we are perfect in God's eyes, we are his masterpieces. Every one of us has a purpose, a plan that God made for us a long time ago, but so many of us get caught up in the here and now, and what people think of us that we lose sight of that plan. We try to make influential decisions without talking to God about them first. We try so hard to fit in, that we are not even ourselves around our "friends." When we do these things, we are basically telling God that what he said/created is not good enough, so we have to change it for it to be better. Ten years from now, who's going to look at you and say, "I'm not going to talk to you today, because while we were in middle school you did this..." No one is going to do that, by then you won't even know half of the kids you obsess yourself over now. YOU, too, are God's masterpiece; why fit in when he made you stand out?

WLMS Wrestling Region CHAMPS!

On January 31st, your WLMS wrestling team continued their winning tradition by capturing our 21st consecutive region championship. We did so in dominate fashion. Our wrestling team placed first by more than 30 points. We had 18 of our 19 wrestlers place in the top 3 in their respective weight classes. Our boys have given 100% all year and even participated in private wrestling lessons outside of our practices to get better this season. The success of this season would have not been possible without SRO Demetrius Green who volunteered to help coach and teach the boys wrestling technique and skills beyond my knowledge base. We had a great group of 8th graders who helped lead by example this year, and as sad as we are to see them go, we are excited to see them grow as wrestlers at the high school level. Closing out this wrestling season, we are already looking towards the future. I encourage all 6th and 7th graders to consider signing up for wrestling next year. It is a very unique sport where your size doesn't matter. Even if you begin with 0 experience, with hard work and dedication you can be successful. We had 4 wrestlers who started the year with no wrestling experience, and they ended up placing in the top 3 in the region tournament. If you are interested in wrestling next year, come stop by and see me, Coach Ewing, at some point. There are also multiple wrestling camps offered around Laurens County this summer, I encourage you to check them out. I look forward to seeing many new wrestlers next October.

Other Happenings Around WLMS

Amy Garnto
2018-2019
Teacher of the Year

Mrs. Garnto is the 2018-19 Teacher of the Year for West Laurens Middle School, and now, she's in the newspaper for teacher spotlight! What can't she do? She started teaching in 1997. She likes teaching 8th grade. In her own words, "Eighth graders are not adults, but they are not children which means you can share things with them that you can't share with younger kids." The hardest thing she has ever had to deal with is losing a student because of death. Overall, Mrs. Garnto is very worthy of this spot in the newspaper!

Relay for Life Kickoff Event
Friday, April 26, 2019
6:00 p.m.
Dublin High School Track

WLMS Relay for Life Fundraiser Events!
GOAL: $4000

Coins for a Cure: One homeroom PER GRADE will have an opportunity to PIE one of our administrators.

Caps for a Cure: Each Friday in March, students may purchase stickers to wear a hat all day.

Champions for a Cure: Teachers can purchase a pass for $25 to wear jeans EVERY DAY during the month of March. See Mrs. Garnto for a pass.

Meeting Our Goal: If we meet our goal, students will receive a 20 minute EXTENDED break the Friday before Spring Break.

Shamrocks for a Cure

Want to help the fight to find a cure for cancer? The week of March 11th-15th, Student Council will be selling "Shamrocks for a Cure." When you purchase two shamrocks for one dollar, you will also get two Blow Pops and more importantly, you will show your support for a great cause. Cancer has affected so many people in the world today. You may even know someone who currently has or has had cancer. This is a perfect way to help! You can even make your shamrocks "in honor of" or "in memory of" someone you know. We will display these shamrocks in the main hall. The grade level that has the most shamrocks at the end of the week will earn extended break. Let's do all we can to find a cure for cancer! All proceeds will go to Relay for Life.

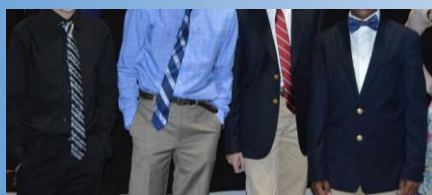

Blue & White Dance
 Friday, April 12, 2019
 6:00-9:00
 $12.00 per person

Dressing up for the Blue and White

The Blue and White Dance is coming up Friday, April 12, and everyone is looking for the perfect outfit to wear. This dance is a semi-formal dance; however, many girls think it's prom and go way over the top with their dresses. First, when you are looking for your dance dress, you have to make sure you're within dress code. Your dress can't be strapless, backless, and no two pieces are allowed. Guys can't wear jeans or shorts. Also, hats shouldn't be worn. When looking for your dress, make sure you aren't looking for a prom dress - those are too much for a middle school dance. Some styles to consider are knee length dresses, floral designs, pastel colors, sandals, and wedges. Guys could wear khakis, plaid or solid color button-ups, bowties, suspenders, and Sperrys. Remember, dress up for the dance, but don't be extra with it.

Blue & White Music Requests

1. "Going Bad" by Meek Mill and Drake
2. "Drip Too Hard" by Lil Baby
3. "No Hands" by Waka Flocka Flame
4. "Faucet Failure" by Ski Mask the Slump God
5. "Big Bank" by YG
6. "Bodak Yellow" by Cardi B
7. "Cash War" by Gunna
8. "Bounce Back" by Big Sean
9. "Rake It Up" by Yo Gotti
10. "Only" by Nicki Minaj
11. "ZEZE" by Kodak Black
12. "Taste" by Tyga featuring Offset
13. "Low" by Flo Rida
14. "Yes Indeed" by Lil Baby and Drake
15. "Lucid Dreams" by Juice WRLD
16. "Purewater" by Migos and Mustard
17. "Money" by Cardi B
18. "Mo Bamba" by Sheck Wes
19. "Look Back At it" by A boogie Wit Da Hoodie
20. "Wow" by Post Malone

(clean version of all of these songs)

Important Information

Ticket sales will begin March 20-April 10th (Spring Break is included in this time.) TICKETS CAN ONLY BE PURCHASED FROM YOUR HOMEROOM TEACHER! Snacks and drinks will be provided. The Blue and White Ball is a semi-formal event. Wear your Sunday's best. No strapless or backless dresses allowed. No 2-piece or form-fitted dresses allowed. Guys can wear khaki or dress pants. No jeans! No shorts! No hats! And no cell phones on the dance floor! Only current WLMS students may attend the dance. STUDENTS WHO HAVE THREE OR MORE DISCIPLINE REFERRALS ARE NOT ALLOWED TO ATTEND THE DANCE. (BUS OR SCHOOL REFERRALS)
