BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Education selects the single budget adoption cycle for the FY 2005-2006.

4.2 PAL Charter Academy Renewal Public Hearing (Prepared by Student Services)

The PAL Charter Academy will conclude its fifth year as a District charter. California Education Code section 47607 states that after the fifth year of operating a charter school, the chartering district would consider the renewal of the charter school. Education Code section 47607 requires that the chartering district use the charter school API data in two of the last three years, that the charter school practiced appropriate accounting principles and fiscal management, and that the charter school was not in violation of any provision of law. The PAL Charter Academy is requesting the San Bernardino City Unified School District to renew the charter for another five-year term.

Student Achievement

The San Bernardino City Unified School District applied the API provision of California Education Code section 47607 that requires the charter school's API to be equal to the academic performance of the public schools that the charter school students would have been required to attend, as well as the academic performance of the schools in the district in which the charter school is located, taking into account the composition of the student population that is served at the charter school. This requirement is included in California Education Code section 47605 in elements A, B, and C, which were established in the original charter petition. The PAL Charter petition also delineated other indicators to assess student success.

District Findings

The PAL Charter Academy has not had two consecutive years of API scores. In 2002, the school tested 18 students and in 2004 the school tested 23 students. The API target for 2005 is 474. The PAL Charter Academy would then have the two required consecutive years to assess the quality of the educational program according to API criteria. The PAL Charter Academy ranks in the first deciles in the statewide ranking for API. Two of the District's traditional high schools are also in the first deciles rank. These two schools have students that attend the PAL Charter Academy.

Board of Education Meeting

In the academic year 2003-2004, the PAL Charter Academy administered the CAHSEE to 20 students. Eleven of the 20 students, or 55 percent of the students, passed the language section. Seven of the 20 students, or 32 percent, passed the math section. The 55 percent of the students who passed the language section compares favorably with the District's pass rate of 61 percent. The math pass rate of 32 percent for the PAL Charter Academy was low compared to the District's rate of 58 percent.

In the academic year 2002-2003, none of the PAL Charter Academy students were proficient on the Content Standards Test (CST) in the areas of language, math and algebra I. However, during the academic year 2003-2004 in the language area 7 percent of the ninth graders were proficient, 8 percent of the tenth graders were proficient, and 5 percent of the eleventh graders were proficient. Nine percent of the tested students were proficient in math and 4 percent were proficient in Algebra I. It appears that the PAL Charter Academy is making progress in the CST area.

The PAL Charter Academy is an effective dropout retrieval program. In the academic year 2002-2003, the graduation rate was 23.6 percent, in 2003-2004 the graduation rate was 55.5 percent and in 2004-2005 the projected graduation rate is 70.50 percent. These students were potential dropouts.

The demographics of the PAL Charter Academy mirror the District's ethnic and socio-economic make-up. However, most of the students who attend the PAL Charter Academy have had a history of poor attendance, poor behavior and low achievement. The PAL Charter Academy has been able to provide an instructional setting that connects most of these students with learning. In the last 3 years approximately 30 percent of the PAL Charter Academy high school graduates are attending college.

Provisions of Law

The PAL Charter Academy, as required by element D, must establish a governance board. The PAL Charter Academy petition stated that it would establish a governing board of trustees that would consist of five individuals representing a cross section of local and regional constituents.

District Findings

The PAL Center, which oversees the PAL Charter Academy, has articles of incorporation, but it does not have evidence of established board policies and procedures including Conflict of Interest Policy and the Brown Act. The PAL Charter Academy would need to provide the District with the names of the PAL Charter Academy governance board, board policies and procedures, and compliance with the Brown Act. This requirement would include the responsibilities and authorizations of the board of trustees. Establish and implement board policies covering Conflict of Interest and the Brown Act laws. Establish a calendar of board meetings and procedures to inform the public of such meetings. The board agendas would include a place for the public to speak on charter school issues.

Board of Education Meeting

Financial Stability and Accounting Principles

Element I of the charter law states that the charter school must contain the manner in which annual, independent, financial audits shall be conducted, which shall employ generally accepted accounting principles, and the manner in which audit exceptions and deficiencies shall be resolved to the satisfaction of the chartering authority.

District Findings

The District conducted an internal audit in 2005 to determine the financial viability of the PAL Charter Academy. The audit indicated that the financial stability of the PAL Charter School is declining. The PAL Center (PESI), which oversees the PAL Charter Academy, has increased their long-term debt by approximately $150,000. The PESI CEO has provided the PAL Center personal no interest loans estimated at $92,000. Two CPA firms that conducted annual financial audits for the PAL Center expressed concerns about federal grants that the PAL Center had acquired from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. These HUD grants require grantees to provide match for supportive services over the length of the grants. The audit reports state that the agency (PAL Center) may not meet the supportive services match requirement.

Generally accepted accounting principles were not evident in the District's internal audit. The PAL Charter Academy funds should support only charter school operations. There is evidence that charter school funds were transferred to the PAL Center general fund account. The PAL Charter Academy reserve funds were in an incorrect account. The charter school needs to strengthen its internal controls. Currently, the executive director authorizes transfer of funds, disbursements, and bank reconciliation. The governance board should have this authority.

District Recommendations

The PAL Charter Academy is a viable intervention program for at-risk youth. The following are the District recommendations.

The academic indicators show that the percent of enrolled students graduating from high school and going to college has increased each year. The PAL Charter Academy has a high enrollment of students with a history of poor attendance and behavior and poor academic performance. The school has provided an effective dropout retrieval program. It would be challenging for the PAL Charter Academy to meet API targets. It is recommended that the PAL Charter Academy declare to the State Department of Education to include the Alternative Schools Accountability Measure (ASAM) to show those results that contribute to improved school attendance and behavior and reduced dropouts.

The PAL Charter Academy must comply with element D to adhere to California Charter School law. A governance board must be established with the board's responsibilities and authorizations. The board must develop policies and procedures for the operation of the PAL Charter Academy and comply with Conflict of Interest and the Brown Act laws.

Board of Education Meeting

The PAL Charter Academy must comply with element I to adhere to California Charter School law. The financial stability of the PAL Charter Academy is questionable. The charter school must show financial sustainability. This would include meeting their financial obligations to pay off existing loans, eliminate the need for personal no-interest loans, reimburse the PAL Charter Academy for funds spent on paid “stipends” for other PAL Center programs, meet grant match financial requirements, and amend accounting practices. PAL Charter School funds must support only those operations of the charter school.

The District recommends the renewal of the PAL Charter Academy with the condition that the above three recommendations be defined and functional by July 1, 2006.

Conclusion

It is recommended that the following resolution be adopted:

BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Education approves the renewal of the PAL Charter Academy.

It is further recommended that one of the following resolutions be adopted:

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Education approves the renewal of the PAL Charter Academy.

Or

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Board of Education denies the renewal of the PAL Charter Academy.

10.9 Federal/State/Local District Budgets and Revisions
(Prepared by Business Services Division)

Throughout the year, the District is advised by federal, state, and local agencies of program entitlements and any additions and/or reductions in funds available for already approved programs. The following are programs requested by the Board of Education that affect the restricted portion of the District's General Fund. In order to adjust the program budgets, it is necessary to have Board of Education approval.

The unrestricted program, Principal Induction (155), was not included in the 2004-2005 budget. Based on the new program established for principal induction, an increase in the amount of $60,000.00 will result in a revised budget of $60,000.00.

The restricted program, National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS) (426), was included in the 2004-2005 budget in the amount of $21,582.00.
