Dear Parent/Guardian:

Richmond County Public Schools (RCPS) offers several online courses and programs through Rappahannock High School (RHS). These programs include:

APEX- online learning for credit recovery and credit accrual for identified students; the program is free to all enrolled as a RCPS student

Project Lead the Way- Governor's STEM Academy at Northern Neck Technical Center- provides blended courses in introductory engineering. The program has an application process open to rising 9th and 10th graders; it is free to all enrolled RCPS students.

Virtual Virginia-online courses for initial high school credit; more information can be found at <https://www.virtualvirginia.org/>, or by contacting the RHS guidance department at 333-3551. These courses can be free of charge to students identified as Early College Scholars, during the school year, for all students enrolled at RHS.

If you have questions about online programs, please contact RHS at 333-3551 for additional information.

Sincerely,

Sarah M. Schmidt
Assistant Superintendent
