AP Exam Volunteers Needed

Last year, Herron Classical Schools students sat for over 900 individual Advanced Placement exams and earned over 1500 hours of college credits! In order to alleviate the extraordinary lift put on our faculty and staff to proctor exams while simultaneously holding the final weeks of classes, we need support through volunteer test proctoring from you and our community.

Do you have one or more half days to spare in the first two weeks of May? Do you know anyone in the community who might? Please visit our website below to learn more and share with friends and coworkers.

Double, double, toil and trouble coming to Herron Theater: HCS Theatre Department presents "Macbeth" by William Shakespeare

Greed. Power. Political Ambition. It all comes to bear when the HCS Theatre Department presents their spring production of William Shakespeare's tragedy, Macbeth.

Primarily set in Scotland, the play follows the character of Macbeth, a bold Scottish general, as he becomes power-hungry and demented with political ambition. Shakespeare brilliantly portrays Macbeth and Lady Macbeth's downward spiral as they struggle with the punishing physical and psychological effects of greed.

Please join the talented cast of young performers from both Herron and Herron-Riverside High School as we present three performances in the second-floor theatre located in Russell Hall at HHS.

HHS Scholars to Compete at World Robotics Tournament

Congratulations to HHS students Bruce and Erin Miller who qualified for the Worlds Vex Robotics Tournament in Dallas, TX at the end of April! Their team, "621B" worked together to design, build, and program a robot that can quickly and efficiently solve specific challenges. Each week, these scholars apply what they've learned about STEM in the classroom to build their machines. At competition, they hone their skills in communication, project management, time management and teamwork.

Best of luck in Dallas in a few weeks, Bruce and Erin!

Yearbooks

Online yearbook sales ended on April 4th. If you or your student would still like a yearbook, have your student find Mrs. Byers before and after school in 134M. We will be selling books during lunch for the rest of April.

Alumni Highlights

Nate Pappas

Congratulations to Nate Pappas (Class of 2019) for being honored for his submission to the Hearst Journalism Awards! The awards program was founded in 1960 to provide support, encouragement, and assistance to journalism education at the college and university level. The program awards scholarships to students for outstanding performance in college-level journalism. With submissions from all across the country, this honor is a HUGE deal! Congratulations Nate! Check out some of his photos of hospice care workers in action below. He says, "I was able to capture the stresses of being a hospice nurse and the care that they put into their jobs daily by following a nurse for multiple days as she cared for patients who are dying." Sierra Nuckols

The Community Food Box Project, founded by Herron High School graduate Sierra Nuckols (Class of 2015) provides 24 hour emergency food assistance in neighborhoods facing food insecurity. They partner with local schools, churches, community centers, and businesses to install pantries (refurbished from old newspaper boxes!) for those in need. Nuckols was recently featured on FOX59 News sharing about her organization. Check out her feature here:

LEAD Workshop

Before spring break, our Argonaut 80 scholars hosted the LEAD (Lead, Explore, Accomplish, Discover) Workshop! A80 members led groups of middle school students through a series of activities that focused on communication skills.

A big thank you to Kara Kenney from WRTV who joined us as a guest speaker. She shared her experiences in the industry and helpful tips for students as they think about high school and beyond. She said the Argonauts were among the most engaged students she's had and asked the best questions!

HPA 2nd Annual Disability Awareness Week

March was Disability Awareness Month. At HPA, scholars heard from a selection of guest speakers who have disabilities. Our students were especially interested in learning more about ADHD and Diabetes. One of our Instructional Assistants, Miss Byrum, even brought in two service dogs (including her own!) to teach students about service animals and how they help people with different disabilities. Miss Byrum is a certified dog trainer and our scholars loved learning with her!

Be on the lookout for the opportunity to volunteer to speak to HPA students during next year's Disability Awareness Week!
