CIF-SOUTHERN SECTION ANNOUNCES 100 ATHLETES FOR 100 YEARS

LOS ALAMITOS — The CIF Southern Section unveiled its “100 Athletes for 100 Years” this past Saturday at a reception and awards show that was produced and taped for later release by Fox Sports West at the AT&T Center in Los Angeles.

The list of 100 athletes, which spans from the infancy of the 20th Century to the present, also represents the inaugural CIF-SS Athletes Hall of Fame.

Criteria for the selection of these athletes including participation in a CIF-SS sport at a time during their schools membership and ranged from success at all levels (high school, collegiate, Olympic and professional ranks).

Female athletes that participated at a CIF-SS high school during the period that the section did not recognize girl’s athletics were included as the opportunity at those times was denied them outside of their control.

Finally, athletes that now participate in other sections, but competed in the CIF-SS during the time their school was a member of the CIF-SS were also included on this list.

The committee making the selections included sportswriters, producers, on-air personalities, local historians and past and former members of the CIF-SS staff and Executive Committee.

“We are tremendously proud of this list of 100 Athletes for 100 Years,” stated Commissioner of Athletics Rob Wigod. They truly represent the very best in high school athletics from our section over the past 100 years.”

“I want to personally thank the selection committee and all of the student-athletes, coaches, administrators and officials – past and present – that have and continue to add to our legacy today,” added Wigod.

The following is the complete list of the CIF Southern Section 100 Athletes for 100 Years:
