

Chimacum School District

Request to Prevent Disclosure of Directory Information

Student records are private by law

Federal law prohibits school districts from releasing information found in student files without parent/guardian permission, except for what is called directory information.

Parents can tell the school and district to keep directory information private as well, with this form

The district does not release directory information for commercial purposes. Directory information may be released under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA). However, parents of students under age 18 and students themselves who are over 18 have the right to tell the school district and its schools to keep directory information private.

What is directory information? Directory information includes:

- Name
- Home address
- Photographs
- E-mail addresses, including personal and school-assigned
- Date and place of birth
- Participation in officially recognized activities and sports
- Dates of enrollment
- Enrollment status
- Telephone number(s)
- Degrees and awards received
- Most recent/previous school attended
- Weight and height of members of athletic teams

Options for keeping directory information private

The district provides three options for withholding directory information, which means keeping it private. Each option concerns how widely the information might be communicated.

Public use: Your student's directory information would not be used in any communication that could reach the public. That includes, for example:

- The school's web site or district web site, which can be reached by anyone
- A press release or media story (newspaper, radio or television) on an award, play or class project
- Graduation program
- District newsletter to all parents or district calendar
- School video shown at a school board meeting open to the public

District internal use: Your student's directory information would not be used in any communication within the school district. That includes, for example:

- A district newsletter that goes to all staff
- A secure internal district web site that cannot be accessed from outside the district
- Any other publications directed at district staff members
- A video shown to teachers from other schools within the district

Local/school use: Your student's directory information would not be used in any communication by his or her school. That includes, for example:

- Student or PTSA directory
- School yearbook
- School newsletter
- School web site open only to classmates

Students in Grades 9-12 Have Two Additional Options

Military: Your student's directory information would not be released to any branch of the armed services. The military is entitled to the names, telephone numbers, and addresses of high school students unless the parent, guardian, or student (even if under the age of 18) checks the box on this form. The military does have other sources for names and addresses, so checking this box does not guarantee that the military will not contact your child.

Higher education: Your student's directory information would not be released to any institution of higher education. Again, colleges and universities may get lists of students from other sources such as educational testing groups. Students may still ask for their information and records to be supplied to specific colleges or universities even if parents check this box. This option would only mean that responses to requests for the names and addresses of all juniors at a high school, for example, would not include your student's information.

Directory Information Withhold Form

If you want the school and district to keep your student's directory information private, submit this form to your student's school office on or before October 1 of the current school year, even if you submitted a form last year. If you do not return the form by October 1 of the current school year or do not check any of the boxes on this form, directory information may be released. Please use one form for each student in your household. Additional forms are available at your student's school.

Please consider carefully the consequences of a decision to withhold directory information. Should you decide to ask the district to withhold information from public, district internal and local/school use, the district will not be able to release any information on your student for any reason.
