Professional Learning by Individuals and by Project/Teams
Self-Assessment Form Guidelines

Intended Uses of Form

- To identify potential areas of learning and improvement by individuals, through project/teams, and others.

- To determine professional development opportunities to impact individual learning, team-based learning, and/or systems-wide improvement.

- To support positive reflective practices aimed at improving performance and growth over time.

General Guidelines

- This form can be completed individually or collectively as part of a team activity; however, each individual should be encouraged to respond to each item based on their own experiences, contributions, and needs

- Consensus on specific items if/when completed through a group or team activity can occur if it is decided that is what is needed in order to prioritize items/activities for future consultation, training, and technical assistance.
