Back to School at Miller Place

As a school year like no other began, teachers across the Miller Place School District welcomed students back to class with anticipation. Certainly the last several months have been a stressful time for so many, and our classes—with safety barriers in place, social distancing enforced, and everyone wearing masks—look totally different, some things are the same as always: the unwavering spirit of our students and teachers and the quality of education at Miller Place. Enjoy some photos from our opening day and please read on for a little slice of life at the Miller Place School District in the fall of 2020.

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR SUPERINTENDENT

There is no doubt the 2020-2021 school year is a year like no other. Our schools, like schools across the nation, are dealing with the ongoing implications of the COVID-19 pandemic. We are proud of the resilience of our students, our faculty, our staff and parents during these unsettling times. In the light of unprecedented challenges, our community has risen to the occasion, to keep our schools healthy and safe and open for student instruction.

Despite the unusual start to the school year, there is one thing that hasn't changed: our students are still achieving and learning. We have much to be proud of so far. As you'll read throughout this newsletter, Miller Place students are distinguishing themselves on Long Island and beyond, particularly our student musicians, who have been selected to participate in NYSMMA at an impressive rate. However there is still so much of the school year left, and opportunities to achieve and accomplish. As the year progresses, it's up to all of us to continue our unrelenting efforts to provide students with opportunities for success. We will continue to work hard, aspire to greater heights and make our school community Miller Place Proud. I invite you to read about all of the exciting happenings in our District in this newsletter, and I wish you and your family an enjoyable holiday season.

Dr. Marianne F. Cartisano
Superintendent of Schools

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR BOARD OF EDUCATION

On behalf of the Miller Place Board of Education, we would like to welcome everyone back to school—finally—during this incredibly unusual school year. The COVID-19 pandemic has affected every aspect of our educational lives, and we cannot thank enough the students, families and teachers of our district for their patience, their flexibility and their dedication to our District.

Please read through this newsletter to see how each of our schools are prospering in this young school year. And although it may seem early, we must also start to think about the 2021-2022 school budget as a community, particularly since there is so much unknown about the next year in our country. We have already begun the budget process as a District, and I invite all residents to stay up-to-date on announcements and attend workshops over the winter. Our annual budget funds the wonderful programming and resources every year with input and guidance from the community. Thank you for your support! On behalf of the Board of Education, I look forward to what's to come this year, and I invite every member of our community to be involved in our school community.

Enjoy the holidays, safely and responsibly. Always Panther Pride & Miller Place Proud!

Sincerely,

The Miller Place School District Board of Education

NCRMS Announces 'Coupons for Character' Recipients

We all need positive role models at any age, and there are no shortage of them at North Country Road Middle School (NCRMS). In October, the middle school announced three recipients for its "Coupons for Character" program, which recognizes those students who serve as positive role models, promoting respect and encouraging their peers to build a caring school community. The most recent "Coupons for Character" go to Brett Winslow, grade 6; Joe Terranova, grade 7; and Carolena Hanauer, grade 8. Congratulations to all three well-deserved recipients.

Each month, the names of students who have demonstrated exceptional character are put into a container in the building's main office. At the end of the month, three students' names are randomly selected to receive a prize for their leadership. Students whose names were put into the jar, but not selected, receive a letter of recognition for their commitment to making NCRMS an outstanding place to learn and gain leadership skills.

DISTRICT NOTES

MILLER PLACE SCHOOL DISTRICT LEADERSHIP TEAM WELCOME NEW ADMINISTRATORS

Welcoming new members to our team is a highlight of any new school year, and 2020-2021 is certainly no different. The Miller Place School District administration is thrilled to share that we've appointed Jeffrey Dimoulas as the District's Humanities Curriculum Specialist and Nicole Farley as the North Country Road Middle School Dean of Students. These new additions to the leadership team will help the District expand our student-support services and further our efforts to facilitate a nurturing academic environment for the entire school community. Mr. Dimoulas and Ms. Farley each bring with them a love of teaching, combined with strong backgrounds in educational leadership. Congratulations, and welcome aboard!

FRENCH TEACHER TINAMARIE DEFALCO RECOGNIZED BY LI LANGUAGE TEACHERS, INC.

TinaMarie DeFalco, a world language educator in the District, was recognized by the Long Island Language Teachers, Inc. (LILT) for her outstanding contributions in making a difference in the lives of her students and colleagues. TinaMarie, who teaches French at North Country Road Middle School and Miller Place High School, was selected to be interviewed and featured in LILT's September newsletter.

With a desire and passion to help others and her interest in world languages and cultures, TinaMarie always believed she was destined to become a teacher. Many of TinaMarie's successes as an educator can be attributed to the confidence and passion she demonstrates for teaching. Her ability to motivate Miller Place's students to become excited about learning a second language has been a cornerstone of her success as a teacher and mentor.

The Long Island Language Teachers, Inc. comprises Long Island's most distinguished language educators for K-16 and supervisors of World Languages, ENL (English as a New Language), and ASL (American Sign Language). The organization is committed to providing ample opportunities to develop content knowledge, pedagogical and professional skills for the member and its students. Congratulations, TinaMarie!

ANDREW MULLER PRIMARY SCHOOL

AMPS has ‘Pumpkin’ to Talk About

Students and staff at Andrew Muller Primary School (AMPS) in the Miller Place School District had a blast participating in the school’s recent Pumpkin Patch event for kindergartners, first graders and second graders. Together, AMPS’ young students commemorated the holiday through a multidisciplinary approach, incorporating English Language Arts and science, to engage in imaginative ways. In ELA, classes took pen to paper for a writing assignment that utilized adjectives and sentences to describe the students’ perspectives of pumpkins. In science, classes assessed and analyzed the growth of pumpkins, as well as the life cycle.

LADDIE A. DECKER SOUND BEACH SCHOOL

‘Start With Hello’ at LADSBS Fosters Community and Friendship

This year, for the fourth year in a row, students and staff at Laddie A. Decker Sound Beach School celebrated “Start With Hello” week, an initiative created by the Sandy Hook Promise Foundation. The goal of the program is for everyone to understand that they have an important role in making our school community a friendlier place by following three simple steps: See Someone Alone, Reach Out and Help and Start with Hello.

This wonderful program reminds all of us how powerful a simple hello and smile can be. Celebrated during the week of September 28th - October 2nd, “Start With Hello” week invited students—in-school and distance learners—to do different things each day to promote a positive school climate. We rounded out the month of October celebrating Halloween. Students and staff alike dressed up, filling our hallways with superheroes, princesses, and witches. Classrooms celebrated with arts and crafts and plenty of fun and laughter was had by all!

AROUND OUR SCHOOLS

NORTH COUNTRY ROAD MIDDLE SCHOOL

NCRMS Honors Heroes and Victims of 9/11

The students and teachers of North Country Road Middle School paid tribute to the thousands of lives lost on September 11, 2001 and the heroism of the first responders that risked their lives for others. North Country Road teachers, Ms. Erario and Ms. Ferro, took the initiative to encourage dialogue among their students about the horrific attacks that occurred through a webinar, interactive activities and videos. The webinar, hosted by the 9/11 Memorial & Museum, connected museum staff and guest speakers with the students where they heard primary stories about the attacks and the importance of commemoration. The in-class history lessons were facilitated utilizing Google Classroom to help familiarize and transition students with their virtual learning platforms.
