Hats off to the Class of 2020!

MILLER PLACE HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 2020 VALEDICTORIAN AND SALUTATORIAN

Joseph Bisiani, valedictorian

Joseph Bisiani is one of the most talented students to have walked through the Miller Place School District's doors. His commitment to academic excellence was an inspiration to all of his peers. He had a weighted GPA of 101.83; took 17 AP, honors, and collegelevel courses; was an AP Scholar with Honors; received the President's Award for Academic Excellence; was a National Merit Commended Scholar; and earned a perfect score on the math section of the SAT. His success didn't stop outside of the classroom, as he was the Student Government President and a member of the National Honor Society, Foreign Language Society, Tri-M Honor Society, Mathletes, Future Business Leaders of America, Natural Helpers, KROBE (school newspaper), Student Government President, Instrumental Jazz Ensemble, Varsity Soccer, Varsity Track, and Varsity Badminton. Joseph will attend Stony Brook University in the fall to study physics.

Larry Davis, salutatorian

Larry Davis has left an indelible mark on the Miller Place School District. His work ethic, academic proficiency, and well-roundedness was a sight to behold for all of his peers and teachers. He had a weighted GPA of 101.6; took 19 AP, honors, and college-level courses; was an AP Scholar with Honors; and received the President's Award for Academic Excellence. Larry was also extremely active outside of the classroom. He was a member of the National Honor Society, Foreign Language Honor Society, Tri-M Honor Society, Pep Band, Pit Band, Mathletes, Mock Trial, Service Club, Future Business Leaders of America, KROBE (school newspaper), Science Club, Bookuneer Club, All-State Band, and All-State Instrumental Jazz Ensemble. He is also an accomplished Boy Scout, earning the highest rank of Eagle Scout. Larry will attend Columbia University in the fall to study biomedical engineering.

ART & MUSIC NEWS

Patrick Serrentino, senior at MPHS, was nominated for the Long Island Scholar Artist Award in the area of music.

Pep Band drumline at homecoming from earlier in the year.

Colton Dooley, AMPS student, learning from home.

Jack Sauer and Evelyn Weiner at SCMEA division 2 rehearsals.

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR SUPERINTENDENT

As educators, we strive to impart life lessons on all students in the District. Many times, however, we find ourselves learning from our students, and I cannot think of a better example than the Class of 2020's positive attitude during the last few months of the school year. The pandemic was hard on all of us in the Miller Place community, and while we did everything we could to keep morale high and the academic journey moving forward, we often looked toward our students for hope and positivity. The Class of 2020's resilience stands out—there was no prom, no spring sports season, no hugs among friends while signing each other's yearbooks, and the list goes on, but this group took everything in stride. This came as no surprise, as the class demonstrated excellence in academics and a selfless attitude for over 13 years. We are so very proud of the Class of 2020 for their accomplishments, happy we were able to come together for socially distanced graduation ceremonies, and are overjoyed to see what they will accomplish in the next chapter of their lives.

Sincerely,

Dr. Marianne F. Cartisano Superintendent of Schools

AROUND OUR SCHOOLS: END-OF-YEAR EDITION!

ANDREW MULLER PRIMARY SCHOOL

Andrew Muller Primary School students embraced distance learning as they finished out the school year. They completed core subjects by reading stories, practicing sight words, and writing in their journals. And although the time apart was not ideal, the innovativeness of the students and teachers ensured a seamless transition. Everyone used their creativity (and some household objects)!

- Students completed math assignments online while utilizing items found around the house to act as manipulates.
- Science experiments and observations about nature were conducted in students' backyards and shared with their teachers!
- In art, students gathered objects to spell out their names and create a color wheel with objects around the house.
- In physical education, students followed teachers during online lessons to create obstacle courses and play new games.
- In music, students sent videos of themselves making music in their homes.
- Library lessons turned household objects into makerspace activities. One of these was a homemade garbage "picker upper".

Videos made by Ms. Gewurz helped students feel more normal and included morning messages, birthday announcements, Mindfulness Monday's, stories read aloud and some new games to try at home. AMPS was also able to remember Memorial Day by having students write letters to Veterans thanking them for their service. These letters were put on a video and shared with a local Veteran's home. Great job, all!

LADDIE A. DECKER SOUND BEACH SCHOOL

With the sudden change to how schools were forced to operate due to the pandemic, the faculty of the Laddie A. Decker Sound Beach School found new and creative ways to educate, interact, communicate and engage with students. The distance learning was an inspiring display of teachers, students and parents coming together to continue the educational process. Daily assignments were posted, morning meetings were held, and extra help was provided via Microsoft Teams. Teachers found ways to modify science experiments to be done at home, have their students go on virtual field trips and work on music and art assignments. In trying to find additional ways to connect with their students, the LADSBS teachers and faculty made videos singing songs, reading books and poetry, and providing messages of hope and positivity. Even school spirit remained strong during these times—the students and staff at LADSBS held a virtual spirit week! Although there was distance, it was wonderful to see how close teachers, students and parents became through this experience.

NORTH COUNTRY ROAD MIDDLE SCHOOL

While graduating from high school is a big day that a student anticipates for years, moving up from middle school is no small moment either. It is a challenging achievement that calls for a celebration—even if that celebration has to look a little different than years prior due to COVID. The administrators and teachers at North Country Road Middle School worked tirelessly to ensure the 8th graders of the District got the moving up ceremony they deserved. Back in June, a car parade was held where the 8th grade students and their families drove through the high school's parking lot, which was lined with teachers and administrators. Each student received a round of cheers and applause from their teachers as their car made its way to the end of line, where Mr. Clark greeted each student with a certificate of promotion, individual awards created by the teachers, and a yearbook for those who purchased. The parade was a wonderful way for students to see their teachers and receive a proper send off as they prepare for freshmen year of high school.
