HEADMASTER'S REPORT

MCI's 102nd Commencement Exercises were held Sunday, 6 June 1971, in Parks Memorial Gymnasium and were surely highlighted by the excellent valedictory address presented by Ginger Hughes of Pittsfield. The afternoon also presented an occasion for the granting of numerous award, culminating in the granting of the Masters' Cup to Hunter Friend, son of Harry '43 and grandson of Ikey '19 and Virginia Hunter Friend '23. Earlier in the day, the seniors gave every evidence of truly appreciating the exceptionally fine baccalaureate address delivered by the Reverend Edwin A. Hind, pastor of the People's Methodist Church in Newport and a native of Australia who is presently studying at the Bangor Theological Seminary. In an age when efforts to bridge the generation gap so often fail, Mr. Hind seemed able to communicate with his young audience and their parents with remarkable clarity.

As we entered the 1970-71 school year last September, the big question in the mind of many was inevitably—how smoothly can MCI make the transition back to the "status quo" of the period 1866 to 1968? That question seems to have been answered. Thanks in large part to the remarkable ability of the young to adjust to circumstances determined for them by their elders-and thanks, too, to the determination of the MCI faculty to do all in their power to make the year a good one for these "new" students-the transition was made in good order. There were, of course, those who made no secret of their regret at having to leave Warsaw High School to attend MCI-even as in 1968 there were those at the newly formed high school who made no secret of their regret at having to leave MCI. On the whole, however, the "newcomers" from the local area mixed in well with those day students who had been at MCI before this year and with the boarding students, many of whom were also attending MCI for the first time. Nowhere, perhaps, was this rapid adjustment more in evidence than on MCI's athletic teams. In football, where the squad was fairly evenly divided between "townies" and "dormies," the spirit of cooperation was outstanding; in baseball, where the locals dominated the squad, and in lacrosse, where the boarders predominated, the same good spirit was in evidence.

The general success of the year was evidenced in the improved college admissions record posted by the student body. Last year, I was able to report to you that 85% of our college-bound seniors and postgraduates were already assured of admission by the end of the year; this year the comparable figure is 87%. With some still awaiting word from the colleges of their choice, the final admissions percentage should approach if not reach 90%.

Among the stimulating developments of the year was the institution of a student council, MCI's first in fourteen years. This group, headed by Colleen Peterson of Pittsfield, was instrumental in improving liaison between the student body and the administration of the school-liaison which lead to careful consideration of number of student-instigated changes in school policy and to the amendment of several of those policies. This year, too, continuing the policy started in the previous year, students were actively involved as members of a number of faculty committees.

Alumni who remember MCI as a coeducational boarding school will be glad to learn the plans announced last year for the reinstatement of coeducational boarding were carried out. The number of boarding girls enrolled, while not large, was large enough to require the assignment of a major dormitory, Rowe Hall, rather than the smaller Bryant House for their housing. In all, fourteen girls were housed in Rowe this year, with Mrs. Lena Dean, mother of Eloise Dean Reilly '38 and Muriel Dean Gould '41, as their house director. When one considers the sharp increase in the number of boarding schools announcing their plans to "go co-ed" in the past several years, MCI was fortunate to attract so many for the first year of the renewed program; hopefully, girl boarding enrollment will grow from this beginning to a number large enough to make the program self-sufficient.

As we approach the opening of another school year in September, MCI is particularly looking forward to the inauguration of a new course of study, basically intended to strengthen our ability to serve the postgraduate boy. This program, already announced in the press, is called "Pre-Physical Education" and is designed to meet the particular needs of the boy who plans to capitalize on his interest in sports and recreation as a means of earning a livelihood. While designed to offer preparation for collegiate level programs in physical education, the program is also so designed as to be valuable and attractive to those who may seek employment in recreational fields without the benefit of college training. While it is too early yet to assess completely the reception of this new program by prospective candidates, Clayton Chambliss, MCI's Director of Admissions, has been most encouraged by the response he has received from many with whom he has discussed the program.

No report to MCI's alumni would be complete without reference to the support the School continue to receive from that group. It is heartening, indeed, to all of us at MCI to be able to report that the MCI Development Fund is already at the highest point ever achieved in any previous complete year-and there are several months to go before the closing of the 1970-71 Fund Year. Dana Sweet, the Executive Alumni Secretary, tells me he is particularly impressed by the increasing number of alumni joining the ranks of those who seek through the means of the Development Fund to demonstrate their support of the School. For this, as for the many other evidences of support shown by the alumni, MCI is truly grateful.

I look forward to the privilege of greeting many of you at the Midsummer Reunion on Saturday, 7 August. Until then, best wishes to you all from all of us at MCI.

ROBLEY H. MORRISON

In January 1971, Coverdale and Colpitts, international specialists in the field of transportation and heavy industry, announced the appointment of Robley S. (Bob) Morrison, MCI '31, to the position of corporate vice president.

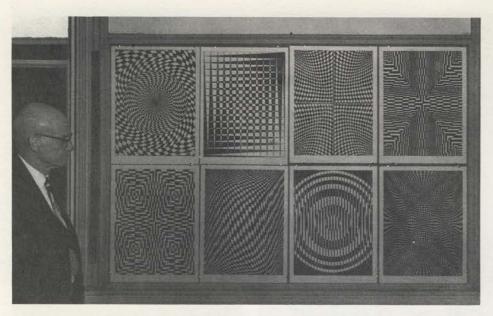

The transportation experience of Bob Morrison includes a 25-year railroad career with positions ranging from departmental supervisor through vice president and general manager on several major railroad lines. Since joining Coverdale and Colpitts in 1965, he has been largely involved in transportation, engineering and economic projects. Studies in which he has participated include a cost analysis of operations of through-passenger train service on the Western Pacific R.R., a determination of earnings and asset value of one section of Chicago & Eastern Illinois R.R., and an analysis of construction and maintenance of Brazilian railroads. He also handled the study and design of track structure for the proposed new Hudson Terminal in the World Trade Center, and a study of the impact of added subway traffic Grand Central Terminal subway stations.

He has a BS degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Maine. IN MEMORIAM

BOUTELLE SAVAGE Jan. 13, 1910-Nov. 21, 1970

Although his tenure on the Board spanned only six years, few trustees in the one hundred four years history of Maine Central Institute have surpassed Boutelle Savage in their impact upon the school. Mr. Savage brought to the board a keen interest in MCI, stemming in part from the role played by the school in the secondary education of his two sons, Michael '62 and Thomas '64, but also from a deep and sincere interest in education for all. He brought, too, a wealth of experience in business. Most of all, he brought a keen interest in people, a genuine desire to help MCI maintain and strengthen its position in Maine education, and a firm conviction that the school had much to offer its students and the communities it served. Under his leadership as President, the Board of Trustees made impressive strides toward resolving problems and preparing to cope with the demands of its second century of operation. His friendly and wise counsel will be sorely missed.

THE STUFF OF WHICH DREAMS ARE MADE could well apply to Art Instructor Young's "Op Art." The pieces induce, after protracted staring, a vague recling of the mind; the patterns shift and move, all's not well with the word. Still he sells them like hot-cakes and it's no surprise that the Columbia University Medical Center has been a big purchaser.

MCI'S PROGRAM IN ART

by Norbert W. Young, Sr.

Norbert W. Young, Sr., instructor in Art at MCI and Industrial Arts Faculty Chairman, has been teaching at MCI for thirty years. He is a graduate from what is now Gorham-Portland University of Maine and has done graduate work at the Orono campus. Well known for many years as a fine artist, he has been particularly successful in the field of "Op Art," a medium of ink drawings using line and geometric forms to produce optical illusions and visual perceptions. He has shown at many of the summer art festivals in Maine, and among his many sales have been several pieces to the Columbia University Medical Center, New York City.

What is our Art Program? When a student first enters the class he is told that his work will be self expression, uninhibited by the instructor. This enables him to create a style of his own. Each student works as an individual and is not involved in mass class-project methods. This enables those with previous experience, as is frequently the case with our fifth-year students, to develop at a pace commensurate with the knowledge they have previously attained. Beginners are also treated in the same manner and will work in the basics of Art, still developing their own initiative in the work they will attempt, and will advance according to the pace set in mastering the techniques. This instructor has found that by using such a philosophy the student will be able to develop and express himself, and will not stifle any inborn trait that makes his technique differ from others.

The beginner will start with instruction in basic techniques of the materials used, while working on a rendition. He will start with basic line drawing and progress at his own speed. The importance of rhythm, composition and movement are emphasized at this stage in his work. Generally, the class will start with pencil sketches, making a progression to more difficult mediums in the sequence of pen and ink, tempera, pastels and water color. During the last trimester of the school year each student selects the medium in which he was most successful to do his major work. No student is inhibited in the selection of any study he will render during the year and work of the class as a whole will vary from landscapes, to still lifes, to abstracts.

The course, generally, offers work in pencil sketching, pen and ink rendition, water colors and tempera, with a strong emphasis on working with pastels. Reason for this is that students working with this medium will be able to use it in a manner that will be nearly as effective as working with oils or acrylics. Some oil painting is being contemplated in the future.

FINE WORK IN ART was accomplished by Rhonda Dahlgren of Pittsfield, a junior. Rhonda is the daughter of Maynard E. Dahlgren '49 and Wanda Green Dahlgren '50.

Admission to a reputable Art school will require a portfolio of work done by a candidate before he will be considered. With a high percentage of our secondary schools offering no work in Art, it is impossible, in most cases, for a pupil with art talent to present an impressionable representation of work. Special emphasis is placed in our work at MCI to help students to develop such a portfolio, in time to submit the same, with a quality of work that will make him an excellent candidate to any school he may apply for admission.

Approximately 70% of the secondary schools in Maine offer nothing in Art education. Most school systems will offer an informal program in Art from grades K to 9, taught by the teacher for the grade assigned. This program is "fitted" into a tight weekly schedule and is developed accordingly to the capabilities of the teacher. In most cases one lesson a week will be all the instruction received. This will terminate what "Art" a student will receive during his school years.

MCI was in this category until 1965, when at that time an exploratory class was established. It was found then that a small pupil-teacher ratio in Engineering Drawing would allow time for instruction to a few talented students in Art, utilizing the same instructor for both courses held in the same room. Headmaster Stanley reluctantly accepted it but felt, as he later stated, "The two hundred dollars needed to finance this can possibly be found."

Today MCI offers an Art course that on its own merit is comparable with any school in Maine. Many of the students graduated from the school the past five years are enrolled in leading Art schools in New England. For example: Norman Bradley '68, now attending the Portland (Maine) School of Fine and Applied Art, has received major recognition and has won a full scholarship in Sculpturing to the prestigious Skowhegan School of Painting and Sculpturing; Rodney Clark '69 is also a student at this school. Previously, Tania Winsor '65 made a fine reputation at Skowhegan, Milton Webber '71 last year was the winner of the Bangor Daily News Art Contest, a statewide competition, and this year Janet Gordon, a member of the Class of '72, was awarded second place in this important contest. Of eight entries submitted this year to the contest, five from MCI were selected for the University of Maine traveling art show. This was more than from any other secondary school in Maine, including schools from the larger cities as Bangor, Portland, Lewiston and Augusta. This exhibit will travel the schools and libraries throughout the state for the next two years.

We feel we have reason to be proud of our program of Art at MCI.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT at Manson Hall were senior Mike Estey and Nancy Beverage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyford Beverage.

ONE OF THE FIRST GIRL DORM STUDENTS in many years was Donna Bazzinotti of Topsfield, Mass. Donna appears somewhat fearful as she meets Mrs. Lena E. Dean, Housemother of Rowe Hall, but she needn't have been. The girds had a most happy year; Mrs. Dean from September through June mothered a merry flock.

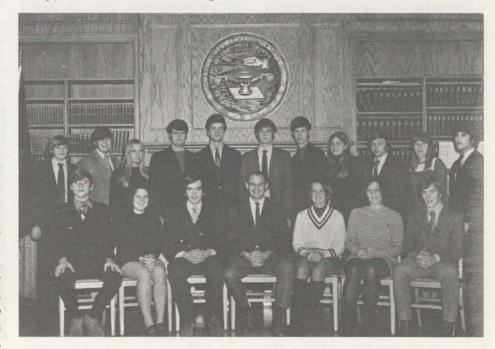

HOUSE COUNCIL FOR ROWE HALL were, reading from bottom of stairs to top, Diane Cooper, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Irene Jewell, Oceanport, N. J.; and Phyllis D'Orsay, Newburyport, Mass. They were semi-official custodians for the first group of girl boarders in many years, not that they did much chasing about keeping things quiet. This new boarding group was much appreciated at MCI, for too long a purelymale boarding sanctuary.

Many changes were evident in September 1970 on the opening day of school. Most obvious was the vast increase in the student population resulting from the welcome return of the majority of Pittsfield's day students. For example, there were 136 girls buzzing and boiling along the corridors, as compared to 30 the previous opening day. They looked good. Coaches glowed to find sturdy potential troops, boys and girls, for their various teams, many of them seasoned on the former Warsaw (Pittsfield, Burnham and Detroit) High School playing grounds. And then there was the novelty of a dormitory for girls, Rowe Hall, refurbished and polished. Hair styles among boys had little changed; some wore it long, some not so long. The rule on beards and lip fuzz was strictly enforced, although during the final two weeks this spring, straggly wisps did occasionally appear. The Warsaw kids were great; joined the teams and clubs and, mostly, became once more a part of MCI. In all, a good year.

CAMPUS NOTES

PUBLICATIONS . . . Masardis, school literary effort, appeared in late spring, again with an unusual cover; this time a blank expanse of white with the ZIP number for Masardis, Maine discreetly emblazoned at the lower right-hand corner. Last year's cover was a topographical map section of that Aroostook township. As previously, the contents are also interesting; some of it clouded and vague (to those over age 30, or 20) and some of it crisp and direct. But all unquestionably sincere, which is what advisor Bill Richardson of the English faculty was looking for. Editor David Austin did a fine job, abetted by assistants Sue Eisen, Tim Rollins and Roxann Soucie, A limited number of copies of Masardis are still available; contact the Alumni Office and send along 25 cents, plus a dime or so for postage, and you'll get a copy. those out more than ten years, and especially for those away from MCI for more than 50. Times do change; the poetry and prose, historically, prove it. The Trumpet, faithful class bugle since 1913, was again under supervision of Norbert Young, Sr., back from a spell of ill health, and was almost as good as Sam (Shep) Hurd's original edition in 1913. Sam was then editor, publisher, principal writer, proof reader and the rest. Mr. Young, Sr., had some help. Linda J. Wiles proved a whip-wielding editor, busy as a bee, (a whip swinging bee, if you can imagine) keeping assistants Mary Lloyd, Brik Hamilton, Linda Sweet, Dave Lynch, Gail Frati, Johnna Furbush, Ginger Hughes, Tamara Wright, and Sharee Dinsmore at some kind of task. It worked. The production is one of the best in decades, although, sadly, this year it is of little interest to any except graduates of the Class of 1971 and their

THE FIRST STUDENT COUNCIL IN THIRTEEN YEARS actually got stodgy faculty and administration to see the light on a number of important issues; like allowing girls to wear slacks during blustery January and February, and even into March, and permitting smoking on campus, by those who wished, in selected areas. All through the determination of Colleen Peterson (and some acceptance by Administration) who, herself, was President of the Maine Association of Student Councils. families or friends. Hang onto them, '71! They will be collectors' items! Photography the greatest . . . . Old school newspaper, the Talisman, not quite as ancient as Trumpet, showed a rejuvination by springing in three editions, letter-pressed and handsome, well-written, and in all a credit to advisor Al Luzzatto and a working crew. One issue had been the rule for the past two years; that the Talisman staff could grind out three, each better than the last, indicates interest and ability. For at least one reader, the editorials were the most fun. Editorials and letters-to-the editor. They ranged from crabbing and (later defending) the dress rules of the school, to advising students to become responsible (grow up!), to a plea for common toilets for teachers and students (both sexes, we guess!), to very serious, well studied, comments, on both sides, regarding the responsibilities of the Federal Government in our time. Some were for increased responsibility, some for less. But as in publication Masardis, the comments were not frivolous. The kids are thinking. Editor was Ginger Hughes, Valedictorian of the Class of '71, indicative of leadership for the staff; helped by David Allen, Laurie Fitts, Eva Frost, Pat Inman, Johnna Furbush, Pam Kelley, Dave Lynch, Sherri Palmer, Jasper Wyman, Dave Reifschneider, Paula Rollins, Tim Rollins, Roxann Soucie, Krista Pease, mostly occasional contributors, all good.

PRIZE SPEAKING AND MANSON ESSAYS . . . The annual Alumni Prize Speaking Contest, nearly as venerable as the Mansons, has for yearsout-of-sight provided freshmen and sophomores the chance to be as interesting and articulate as their grandmothers think they are. (Mostly, the direct parents aren't so sure.) So for decades, shivering youngsters have walked the creaking boards of Powers Hall (nearly as old as the Contest) to attempt to gain money from MCI Alumni Association and to gladden family hearts. They do well; the Contest is a proving ground in several ways: sharpens (eventually) confidence, vocabulary, poise, and all the rest. But the hour of truth is tough. Pamela J. Kelley of Pittsfield, a sophomore, gave "A Room With a View," snitched from Down East magazine, with enough aplomb to capture case-hardened judges, senior elocutionists all, from faculties of neighboring high schools. Pam Frati, also of Pittsfield, ran a close second; Scott Carter of Etna, the only male contestant, took a third. Gail Wright Stephenson '65 of the language faculty coached this able, vocal bunch. At the Manson Essays, restricted to Juniors, it was Patricia Inman of Pittsfield who walked with the honors during the final, oral phase. Her original essay, entitled "The Fine Art of Wordsmithing," proved she knew something of her subject. Stephen Quint earned second honors; Marcia Stanley placed third. It was the 101st version of the Mansons, indicating much verbiage over a century-plus, and also words that made sense, as in this year's efforts. Patient Mrs. Margaret S. Witham, Dean of Girls and a member of the English faculty, coached this team, who, along with the winners, included Candy Wood, Wendy Susi, Shirley Hatton, Martha Kleinschmidt, all of Pittsfield.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS... The Outing Club, again directed by Registered Maine Guide Wally Cunningham assisted by other faculty members Dave Pickle, George Webber and Glenn Jenks, kept its members hopping in the great outdoors from September through the last weeks of school. During September the crew made its first visit of the year to the lodge at Moosehead Lake. It was purely a work session; the grounds were policed, interior walls were completely paneled and, most important, the wood supply was vastly improved. Back at MCI a new trap shooting range was laid out, with a much more comfortable hidy-hole for those running the clay pigeonthrowing gadget. The range was used each Saturday and on Wednesday afternoons by both faculty and students, some good shots, others quite saving with the clay birds. Range Director Cunningham had cleverly seen to it that missed birds landed in tall, soft grass. October 3 found great roaring of shot guns on previously placid Sebasticook River, the first day of duck hunting. The shoots were strictly supervised, with at least one faculty member with each group of three or four students. No one got shot; it proved a safer sport than riding a bicvcle down Pittsfield's Main Street on Friday night. (Well, a few ducks were nailed.) Mountain climbing from the Moosehead camp followed in the fall, and during the winter the camp was used frequently as a base for skiing and snowmobiling. Club president Manning Mersereau (incidentally, deadly on the trap range) in February invited the Club to his parents' camp at Rangeley; Saddleback Mountain was severely skied. In the middle of May, our woodsmen made their customary too-early fishing trip to Ebeemee Lake, where they caught their customary no fish. Rained every day, for one thing. But a trip by 15 members by car and ferry to the summer hide-out of faculty friend Lyford Beverage set things straight. Clams, less cagey than trout, were found by the bucket-load, and lobsters, for a price, provided memorable eating at a clam bake on the ledges. It was a good Outing Club year. Officers were sharpshooting Mersereau, Mike Daily,

DIRECTOR OF MUSIC GLENN A. JENKS was not a dour wand-waver nor an overly jolly ha! ha! sort of music director, but rather a chap who could, and did, gain the confidence of young musicians and guide them toward their potential. A schooled musician to his fingertips, and adept with many musical tools, Glenn wowed the student audience at "Campus Capers."

ONE WAY TO CONTROL THE BASKETBALL is to sit on it, as demonstrated by Betty Knight Webber '39 during the annual student-faculty free-for-all at Carnival Time. Other frantic elders identified are Mrs. Phil Durrell, Mrs. Fred Kohler (a ringer) and Mrs. Lyford Beverage. It's forgotten who won this particular contest.

and Mike Mills, at one time last winter owner of the balkiest snowmobile in Central Maine. . . . The German Club, more inclined to the indoors, braved the cold at least once, when on Christmas Eve they caroled about town, singing in Kraut, yet! No rocks were tossed by irate citizenry, a tribute more to townspeople's patience than to singing ability of the jolly clubbers. Phil Durrell, instructor, was advisor to the Teutons, assisted by Laurie Fitts, club president; Shirley Hatton, secretary; and Linda Wiles, treasurer. At meetings the bunch tried reading German poetry, and showed the customary slides of Germany and Austria. All heart, they turned proceeds from their treasury to the MCI Development Fund, a gesture greatly appreciated. . . . The Forestry and Conservation Club, abbreviated to Foracon Club, was also directed by Mr. Durrell, who served his woodsy apprenticeship north and east of Old Town in Maine's numbered townships. He was able to quickly point out and identify black flies and mosquitoes, having learned the hard way. The foresters were divided into teams, under the direction of student leaders Manning Mersereau, Marc Redmond and Taylor Dow. At the MCI North Campus, which contains a vast tract of forested land, they cleared previously marked property lines, found errors in an existing map of the area, cleared brush along the spring brook, and started a log causeway across dreary swamp. Good works, by an enthusiastic crew. . . . The Art Club, new this year and a reflection of the burgeoning interest in art at MCI, included most members of instructor Norbert Young, Sr.'s classrooms. Looks like "join or else!" but it wasn't. The Club had two successful showings: one in darkest February at the Powell Library, the other, a so-called clothes line exhibit, on the Campus walks in May. More about instructor Young and Art at MCI may be found elsewhere in this Alumnus . . . . A Student Council, the first in many, many years at MCI, was formed last fall, largely through the efforts of Colleen Peterson, herself President of the Maine Association of Student Councils from her Warsaw H. S. days. Colleen braced Headmaster Stanley during the summer and convinced him of the value of such a Council. Colleen can be pretty persuasive; ask Mr. Stanley!

The present Council replaces the Student Consultative Council which previously had worked with the Headmaster and faculty to provide a liaison between students and administration. The Council was active and was not timid about voicing disagreements with administration; they actually succeeded in changing a few rules and regulations. The Council established a scholarship, to be awarded at graduation, to a student who has "demonstrated leadership, scholarship, sportsmanship, dependability and service to MCI," and there was one outstanding candidate, Miss Peterson, herself, who was also president of this Council. Other officers were Farley Drake, Pamela Peters, Pamela Frati; David A. Mosher served as faculty advisor. . . . There were also Advisory Committees on Discipline and Athletic Policy, working committees to ease strain that might appear in those areas. The committees were stiff with students, with a smattering of faculty for balance. Student members were from the sophomore, junior and senior classes; faculty members were representative of those dealing with discipline and sports. Fair enough. . . . The various Dorm Councils were involved in very much the same thing, but within the narrower strictures of their own residences. Rowe Hall, the girls' dorm, elected Diane Cooper, Phyllis Dorsay and Irene Jewell; Weymouth Hall went with Elliot Carp, Jeffrey Charles, Jeffrey Simpson and James Thomson; Alumni Hall officers were Gregory Saunders, Cliff Bent, Dave Lynch, Steve Young and Peter Brooks and Mark Mittelstadt as Sergeants-at-Arms, whatever duties that included. Manson Hall, formerly New Dorm, elected Richard Sullivan its president and John Reynolds, secretary. Council members included Franklin Scott, Rod Blake, Dave Willmott, Jeff Knights and Scott McInnis. . . . The MCI Y-Teens, whimsically called the "Y-Nots," for the third consecutive year formed the largest girls-only group on campus, and an active lot they were. Chief advisor Mrs. Paul Witham provided much of the impetus, assisted by Mrs. Alan Luzzatto and Mrs. Normand Trottier. The twenty-seven members met twice each month in junior and senior groups; the programs included speakers, discussion groups (the girls were good at this), and business meetings. Again, the girls frolicked during a weekend at the Y-Teen Center in Bangor, where they made full use of the facilities, including the swimming pool. A giant spaghetti supper in mid-winter was a great success; more than enough money to provide a Y-Teen Scholarship at graduation in the amount of $100. A big Y-Teen bash will be held early this summer at MCI, when the New England YTeen Conference will convene for several days. MCI delegates include Louise Cyr, Susan Smith and Pamela Terrio. Many of our girls assisted Bangor groups in fund raising for this meeting, by participation in a fashion show at Bangor. Officers for the senior group were Marcia Stanley, Claudia Thompson, Diane Cooper and Arlene Williams; the junior outfit went with Susan Smith, Tonia Humphrey, Dawna DeBeck and Julie Long. . . . The successful merger of two strong Key Clubs, that of Warsaw H. S. and that of MCI, into a single, strong and most active

Key Club, is perhaps the most important Club achievement in 1970-71, according to advisor Clayton G. Chambliss. Officers were from both schools, as was the general membership; a heartening number of dorm students also help to swell membership to its allowable maximum: 23 members. The Club's round of good works began in early September, when Key Clubbers served as guides and luggage carriers for new dormitory students, a service much appreciated by weary parents. They ran concession stands at football games during the fall and sponsored two dances during that period; at the recreation center, the Husky Hut, the boys set up the Hut before each weekend opending and cleaned afterwards, most appreciated by faculty wives who weekly throughout the year served as unpaid hot dog, pizza and hamburger makers. They worked with the Sebasticook valley Hspital Auxiliray, sponsored the annual Sno-Ball at Winter Carnival time and, as kind of a fun thing, painted the lobby and living rooms of the Bangor YWCA; plenty of volunteers for this job! During the spring they conducted the annual Key Club Scholarship Drive and raised enough for two hefty scholarships, to a boy and to a girl, presented at Commencement. Seven members and advisors attended the New England District Convention at Newton, Mass., where they participated in workshops to learn more about effective Club management. It was a team effort, led by officers Frank Susi and Milton Webber . . . .

THE COURSE IN OUTDOOR WRIT-ING involved more than putting words on paper. Mr. Lewis, for example, had Bruce Mitchell of Burnham demonstrate his trapping tools.

MUSIC . . . . Director of Music Glenn A. Jenks is literate as well as musical. We will let Glenn give his own description of the year's program: "The music department at MCI this past year has been actively engaged in a rebuilding process after two years of only part-time music instruction. The curriculum was designed to meet the interests of as many of the MCI students as possible for optimum participation. A course in Music Appreciation was offered which focused on various aspects of the field of music, to acquaint students with the tools one uses in understanding all kinds of music. In many respects this was the most successful part of the MCI music program: the course stimulated interest and encouraged participation in many of the other musical events. Band and Chorus remained in their germinal stages, but many of the problems relating to performance preparation were worked on; next year should prove even more successful, with a chorus and band that have had some experience playing as groups. The highlights of the year for these groups were the annual Christmas Concert, participation in the All-State Music Festival, and the individual numbers prepared for graduation. Piano and guitar lessons were offered this past year with some success. The interest in guitar was particularly high, owing in part to the semi-regular opening of the music building on weekends as a coffee house. It was this aspect of the music program which reached the greatest number of students. Attendance was high at the coffee house all year, and it is hoped that the idea is worked upon again next year. Another semimusical event, the Campus Capers, a talent show, is a valuable and exciting thing to pursue. It serves to increase interest in music among our students, as did the recital I gave in April on the piano. In all, the year had its successes, and it is hoped the program can be continued into the future." Well said, Glenn. You may be certain that MCI will continue its long tradition for excellence in music. DRAMA AND SPEECH . . . . The concentrated its energies on an April showing of "The Magic Touch," a comedy in three acts, and with a cast of twenty. The play ran for two nights, and ancient Powers Hall was jammed for both showings. It was smoothly paced, well-rehearsed, and was a credit to all who were engaged, including manager Ann Jones, assistants Peter Brooks and Donna Bazzinotti, publicity director Milton Webber and faculty assistant to Mrs. Furbush, Bill Richardson. Lead parts were played by Kathy Bryant, Jasper Wyman, Mary Lloyd, Ray Danielson, Sharee Dinsmore, we guess. It's hard to pick leads from 20 characters. The Club worked all fall and winter on speech and dramatics, plus stagecraft, in preparation for the big two nights. Dramatics Club officers included Johnna Furbush, Cynthia Nash, Leigh Shorey and Ann Jones. Speech director Mrs. Furbush worked throughout the year with individual students, partly in curricular work, partly extra-curricular, and attended speech therapy consultations at the University of Maine. The Alumni Prize Speaking Contest and the oral version of the Manson Essays, although not directed by Mrs. Furbush, reflected in general the efforts made in recent years at MCI in the area of speech. The kids can certainly

THE BEST FOOTBALL TEAM IN YEARS poses proudly with coaches Norm Trottier and Bill White standing at left. A 4-4 record might not please Notre Dame, but it sure pleased MCI and the town of Pittsfield. Some rugged soldiers were lost through graduation, but, as always, they will be replaced. Lots of juniors and sophomores in this club; coach Trottier, for the first time in years may be caught secretly grinning.

STATEMENT OF ATHLETIC POLICY

by RODERIC L. SMITH Director of Athletics

The following paper was presented to the Committee on Interrelations for SAD #53 and MCI. Athletic policy at MCI is rightfully a concern of those involved: students, parents, administrators, alumni and the public at large. Athletic Director Smith—who has served MCI for 26 years — explains MCI's policy and philosophy.

The policy on athletics at MCI seeks to offer a comprehensive program of athletics, one which will provide enjoyment an appeal to a wide variety of student interest. The program if designed to incorporate the importance of leadership, cooperation or teamwork, loyalty, trust, and true sportsmanship, which will involve the acquisition of basic skills which will have carry-over values into later life. We believe that a good sports program should be designed, primarily, for the active participant, that parents and the general public should be invited to share in this recreational opportunity, only insofar as they are willing to see that program conducted solely for the benefit of student competitors and student spectators. Parents and the general public should realize that the control of, and the responsibility for, school athletics, rests entirely with the school authorities. The success of a season should be judged on the number of participants and student spectators, new skills acquired, and good citizenship and good sportsmanship taught, rather than on the number of games won and lost. It should be kept in mind that an athletic contest is part of a school program because of its educational value. When it ceases to have educational value, it should cease to be a school function.

The policy on athletics at MCI takes into account the very important fact, which is sometimes overlooked, that academics are the primary concern of the institution, but that athletics be an integral part of the curriculum, worthy of a place in the curriculum and worthy of school support.

Participants in athletics at MCI have the opportunity to learn new games; to improve playing skills; to develop physical vigor and desirable habits in health, sanitation, and safety; to make real and lasting friendships with squad members and members of opposing teams; opportunity to visit and play in other communities and at other schools; the opportunity to realize that athletic competition is still a Privilege that carries with it definite responsibilities; the oportunity to associate with real gentlemen and true sportsmen in the person of athletic coaches; a chance to enjoy one of the greatest heritages of youth-the right to play; and the chance to learn that violation of a rule of the game brings a penalty -and that this same sequence follows in the game of life.

The policy on athletics, from 1945 to the fall of 1968, was to provide and encourage competition in a wide variety of team sports. Levels of competition included sports at the Post Graduate and Undergraduate levels. Team sports were offered at the varsity, junior varsity, and in some cases at the freshman level. Competition in sports during these years included games with college freshman teams, independent school teams, and public school teams. The majority of teams scheduled were within the State, however, there have been instances when teams in the neighboring states were engaged in competition. During this period of time, MCI was an active member in both the Independent School group (MAIS) and the public school group (SPA). Being a member in good standing, in these two groups, provided a means of arranging very adequate schedules, and a healthy and wholesome atmosphere for competitors.

Our policy on athletics, during this period from 1945 to the fall of 1968, also included a program in intramural athletics. This was not an elaborate program, but it did offer interested students a chance to participate in certain limited activities. Programs were offered in volleyball, basketball, softball, bowling, etc. and were open to both boys and girls desiring to enter an activity.

In the fall of 1968, our policy on athletics changed somewhat, due to the local students being withdrawn from MCI. The majority of our athletic competition was and still is, within the Independent School ranks (MAIS). It was necessary for MCI to withdraw its membership in the SPA at this time, and any public schools competing with MCI, did so, on an exhibition basis only.

With the return of the local students to MCI in the fall of 1970, it was deemed feasible to become reinstated in the SPA, so that our athletic teams, at the Undergraduate level, could participate with the public high school teams and become eligible for tournaments, Conference Championships, and even State titles. We now enjoy membership in the SPA activities as well as the independent school activities. This is providing a full schedule of contests and is creating a great deal of interest within the school population.

In the immediate future, for the year 1970-1971 at least, Fall schedules in varsity football, IV football, cross country, varsity soccer, JV soccer, and varsity and JV field hockey, have been established. For the Winter season, post graduate basketball, undergraduate basketball, undergraduate JV basketball, skiing, and girls' basketball schedules are well established. The possibility of adding wrestling to the program still exists if adequate funds are available to purchase necessary equipment and space for practice can be made available. For the Spring season, schedules are arranged for varsity lacrosse, JV lacrosse, track, tennis, golf, and softball for girls. In baseball, it was necessary to make an adjustment in the schedule, from what had been previously plannednamely-two baseball teams-one at the Post Graduate level and one at the Undergraduate level. Lack of interest, plus lack of personnel among the Post Graduate boys, made it necessary to field only one team-at the Undergraduate level. This team played a total of 17 games, exhibition games with all of the KVC teams in the public school ranks, and games with the (MAIS) teams in the Independent School League. The League title was decided in the final game of the season between MCI and Bridgton Academy. BA won the game 7-3 and annexed the League Championship for 1971.

At the May meeting of the Kennebec Valley Conference, MCI made a formal application for reinstatement in the KVC. It is our desire to again become a member of the Conference and participate with member schools in several sports—hopefully—basketball, cross country, golf, tennis, and baseball. The application was tabled at the May meeting for further study by the member schools and will again be presented at the September meeting at which time action should be forthcoming. If no chance of Conference affiliation exists, then the team would play independently with the public schools that would be willing to give us a schedule of games.

A SUPERLATIVE SOCCER GOALIE, Jim Thomson of Woodland, Maine, was awarded the Roderic L. Smith Trophy, by coach Al Luzzatto. The award is made annually in honor of Rod Smith, Director of Athletics and for many years coach of soccer at MCI. Jim was also a stand-out on the tennis courts during the spring.

Some thought is given to adding a tennis team for girls to the Spring program, but with only two courts available for practice and matches, this may create somewhat of a problem. There is also the possibility of a girls' golf team if sufficient interest is manifest and teams available for matches.

The over-all policy for athletic competition in the future points to competing in both the independent school ranks and in the public school ranks. This would provide a wellbalanced schedule of contests, supply a healthy wholesome atmosphere for competitors and spectators, and have a definite student appeal. This policy is endorsed by the present Administration of the school, the Director, and the Advisory Committee on Athletic Policy within the school. Over a considerable number of years, MCI has participated in a large and a varied program of sports activities, both within the ranks of SPA and MAIS schools. The school is well respected within both groups and competition has been and still is, of a healthy nature and of educational value in many ways. Students, parents and the general public, have showed a great deal of enthusiasm for this type of program and I see no reason why this will not continue into future years, if efforts are pointed in this direction.

SOME GREAT SOCCER WINS were delivered by the 1970 crew, at the expense of Hebron Academy, Oak Grove-Coburn, North Yarmouth Academy and Bridgton Academy. Yes, there were some losses.

MCI IN SPORTS

The sports year 1970-71 generally was a fine one over the fall, winter and spring. The football Huskies enjoyed their best year in recent history, the field hockey girls turned in a winning season, there were several important soccer wins, the cross-country lads had sticky going. During the winter the Husky basketballers won as many as they lost, the Prepper hoopsters were less fortunate. Coach Paul Legge's JV team won 13 games, lost only one, the basketball girls did not do as well. It was a good winter for the rifle teams; for the first time in many years MCI did not field a ski team. Plenty of snow, not enough skiers. During a late, but surprisingly dry, spring the golf team ran wild again, the baseball Huskies and the girl softballers had winning seasons, the tracksters fielded a solid, representative group. The tennis team was better than last year's, the lacrosse roughnecks less effective. Let's go into some detail.

A 4 win-4 loss record in football was the best in a decade. It is true that some tough kids from the former Warsaw (Pittsfield) High School ranks helped coach Norm Trottier considerably. MCI met Bucksport H. S. after a very few days of practice (by MCI!) and was predictably thumped, with aches and pains hanging over to the next week when our boys dropped a closer one to Old Orchard H. S. During the balance of the season things looked better: the boys measured York H. S., Gould Academy, Foxcroft Academy and always-dangerous Kents Hill. Games were lost to Oxford Hills H. S., and the Hyde School during this happier part of the schedule, but by reasonable scores. Outstanding senior players were E. Hunter Friend of Pittsfield and M. Scott McGinnis of Rumford; outstanding offensive player was Peter Brooks of Bucksport, top defensive player was Joel Abbott of Pittsfield. Sturdier kids you never did see! JV coach Lyford Beverage led his troops through 1 win, 1 tie and 3 losses over an abbreviated program. Top younger performers were Mike Ames of Matinicus, Dave Reifschneider, Earle Cianchette, Tom Quint and Brian Bickford of Pittsfield, all sophomores.

Coach Mrs. John Russell had the distinct novelty (for her, over recent years) of being able to count 24 girls on her field hockey team. Most of them big, rugged heavy-swinging types, the sort to gladden any sports instructor. They weren't bad hockey players, either; winning six, dropping 4 and tieing 2. The schedule looked dreary, indeed, to start, with two quick losses and a tie and coach Russell in not the best of humor. Five wins, hand running, improved the picture no end. The Malaka Russell Field Hockey Trophy was awarded to senior Johnna Furbush.

Fine soccer wins from Oak Grove-Coburn, Hebron Academy, North Yarmouth Academy and Bridgton Academy did gladden his heart, the cockles of, coach Al Luzzatto. Quite made the season, along with a tie from Kents Hill. Nokomis High School, Waterville H. S., the Hinckley School.

A SCORE OR MORE FIELD HOCKEY GIRLS were a gladsome sight to coach Malaka "Tookie" Russell, who in very recent years has been lucky to attract enough troops to field a team. Veterans from both the former Warsaw H.S. and from MCI worked together as a unit from the first day of practice to produce a winning team, an action typical of the student attitude in all MCI sports during the past year.

BEST OF THE 1971 FOOTBALL HUSKIES are shown with grinning coach Norm Trottier. Well he might grin; these stalwarts, with many more, gave Norm the best season in football that MCI has experienced in many, many years. From left, Peter Brooks, outstanding offensive player; Hunter Friend, outstanding lineman; coach Norm; Joel Abbott, outstanding defensive player; Scott McInnis, outstanding back.

some of them twice, plus Oak Grove-Coburn in a repeat, proved too tough. Inexperience, plus an early-season injury to Alason Cham, flash from The Gambia, possibly chilled what could have been a winning fall. Outstanding were Cham, Jim Thomson from Woodland, Maine, and John Burbank of Bronxville, N. Y.

Coach Stan Reczek's weary boys, the cross-country die-hards, considered they had it made when during their opener they ground Oak Grove-Coburn by a perfect score, 15-48. But it was not to be. Herds of lean gazelles, graceful and swift, from North Yarmouth, Hebron, Hinckley, Gould, and Kents Hill shattered dreams of glory on the footpaths. All were solid workmen in a demanding sport; lettermen included Clarence Hamm, Rodney Leighton and David Moody, all of Pittsfield.

It was kind of a mixed-bag during a long (surely) Maine winter. You will discover:

The undergrad Huskies in basket-ball action had a good, average season, more average than most, as they split wins and losses 7-7. Coach Lyonel Tracy's crew might have posted an impressive record (or a more impressive record) had they not been pinned by mean Gould Academy in back-to-back two-point losses. It hurt. The Huskies generally looked good against Maine prep schools, beating Oak Grove-Coburn, Higgins Classical Institute, Hinckley School, Hebron Academy and Kents Hill, some of them twice, some only once in homeand-home affrays. Most of the losses were from high schools which, in these days of consolidation, enjoy huge student populations. Possibly the most talented Huskies were Jerry Mitchell, forward sharp-shooter with an average of better than 20 points a game; Frank Susi, floor general; and Clarence Hamm, hustling defenseman. JV basketball coach, Paul W. Legge, out of long retirement from the courts, fashioned a nifty 13 win, 1 loss season for himself and his bunch of mostly sophomores. Paul's explanation of his single loss is a long one, you may sincerely believe, but actually no apologies are needed. These kids could really pour it on-witness: MCI JV 112, Oak Grove-Coburn JV 33, things like that—but one careless afternon against talented Gould Academy does not spoil an exceptional record. There was considerable JV depth, boding ill for MCI opponents another year. Sophomores Jere Dana, Mike Ames, Greg Hennigan and Mike Daily should be watched.

The basketball Preppers did not do as well. Coach Mike Lumbra, for all his basketball savvy and wit (one of the best coaching records at MCI), could not tease a win from his game but outnumbered troops. Lack of experience was probably the sorest spot;

A PERFECT SCORE was achieved by the cross-country team in their first scheduled meet. From there things went rather downhill (or for cross-country, perhaps uphill) and for those who enjoy bad news we suggest the "MCI in Sports" section of this publication. Coach Stan Reczek and manager Dave Lynch were often tempted to join the pack, but not very much. The lads deserve all-credit, goodness knows. It's a tough way to earn a letter.

lack of height and bench were other faults. It made for a longish winter, all right, but it was heartening to watch these lads stick in there. Some of the games were real battles, right to the wire; but there were a few routs, which makes this team's determination more remarkable. Enough said.

der-to-shoulder matches, the team was undefeated. In the State Champion-ships at the Hampden ranges MCI placed third in a field of 15 teams. Not bad! MCI gunner Paul Sauer, pinned a second in the kneeling position; Reimond Grignon copped a second in the prone. Sauer and Gerhard Grignon, brother to Reimond, were probably the most consistent marksmen.

Golf coaches John Dana and Bob Boulrisse, unbeaten in 1970, very nearly did it again. Only blot on the record was a 4-3 loss to the Maine Frosh, a bunch the MCI slicers had twice tied. One loss over a two-year span is good going in any league.

THE HARD-SLUGGING SOFTBALL GIRLS literally demolished some of their opposition; for example they showed no mercy with Kents Hill, racking up scores of 49-7 and 31-21. Unfortunately, perhaps, they were equally ill-treated by some opponents. Debra Morancie, 3rd from 1., seated, was winner of the Iva C. Cregnole Softball Award.

Basketball girls did somewhat better, rescuing two wins from a tengame schedule. Gould Academy and Messalonskee (Oakland) High School were the victims. If the group didn't always jell as a team, Debra Morancie was just about tops in the foulshooting department. Debbie nailed 29 baskets out of 35 shots at the Central Maine Foul Shooting Contest, to win the event; then went on to the State Shoot-offs, where she placed third in a vast field of contestants. Jeri Lee Cookson, a fine ball player in her own right, served as faithful chaser.

The rifle teams, with the advantage of two coaches, Frank Haseltine and Mort Remick, did very well, following what appeared a shaky start. The "A" group finished second in its division in the Postal League, losing only one match in the process, against a bunch of sharpshooters from the shadow of Katahdin Mountain, whom shall otherwise be nameless. In shoul-

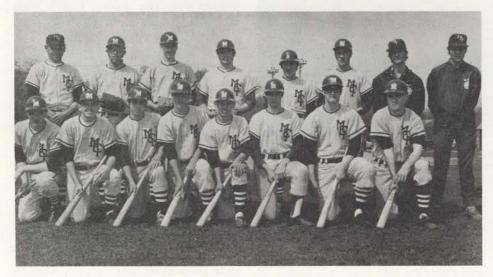

COACH PAUL W. LEGGE OUT OF COACHING RETIREMENT, sent his JV's through a 14-game schedule with but a single loss, for the finest basketball record by any MCI team in many, many years. Mostly sophomores, they certainly learned rudiments of the game from physicist Legge, and the hard way. Practices looked like a parade ground drill at West Point, but it paid off, handsomely. These lads will be seen again as juniors and seniors.

COACH LYONEL TRACY in his first year at MCI, won 7 and lost 7 with the basketball Huskies, for about as average a season as one could conceive statistically speaking. There were a couple of consecutive 2-point losses to the same school (Gould Academy) that could have made it a different story.

THE BASKETBALL GIRLS were tall (mostly) and talented, did well in prep school competition but lagged against the larger high schools, where they were terribly outmanned (or out girled).

COACH DAVE MOSHER, standing, left, and his lads came through with another fine season of baseball; they were tied for first in the Independent School League until the last, fateful contest with Bridgton Academy.

Wins were from Kents Hill, Nokomis H. S., Penquis (Milo) H. S., Foxcroft Academy. At the season's-end Father-Son Tourney, Brian Bickford of Pittsfield, and his father, Arnold, took the contest for the second straight year from a large field. The Johnson Parks Course continues to produce!

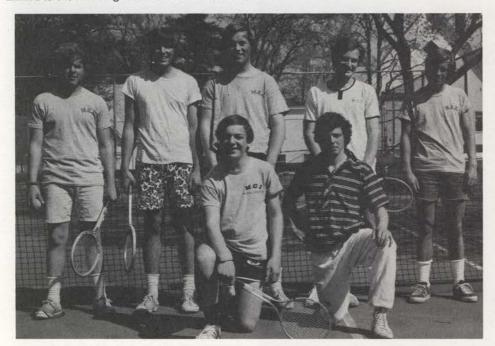

Coach Dave Mosher's young baseball team (they started 3 sophomores, 3 juniors and 3 seniors) finished with a winning 9-8 record, were tied for first place in the Independent School League until the final game with Bridgton Academy, a team stiff with burly PG's. There was plenty of talent: sophomore Roscoe Sanborn, for example, pitched five consecutive wins; juniors Larry Vaughn and Mike Chadbourne were the leading hitters. Only four seniors will leave this group: Milton Webber, Bruce Basford, Alan Alton and Clarence Hamm.

The softball girls looked good, as usual. They won 4, lost 2, and only one game cancelled because of rain (most unusual). Scores were typical: the Nokomis H. S. kids really rapped our ladies twice, to the tune of 27-4 and 32-9. But on the other hand the Husky girls (no pun) laced Kents Hill 49-7 and 31-21 and were equally pitiless in two marathons with Oak Grove-Coburn. Coach Tookie Russell will lose a raft of seniors: Cindy Nash, Nancy McGibney, Debra Morancie, Sharee Dinsmore, Colleen Peterson, Linda Wiles and Laurie Fitts. They will be hard to replace.

Veteran track observers, all self-considered experts, gave coach Stan Reczek's gang not the slightest chance of winning anything. Stan had other ideas. Stan proved a kind of inspirational leader, of the best sort, by measuring Hyde School, Oak Grove-Coburn and Nokomis H. S. in dual meets, and by finishing second in one triangular meet. A 4th in the State Prep School Meet was nothing to brag about, even with the excuse that several key operatives were absent, for the usual late-season reasons. Great spring on the grass and cinders, all the same. Outstanding were Elwood Porter in the 100, 220 and low

AS TOUGH AS THEY LOOK were the lacrosse roughnecks in the spring of 1971. They passed out a few physical beatings to opponents, but that's as far as it went, Injuries and inexperience—things hard to overcome. Peter Brooks, number 88 in the back rank, star-gazing, was named to the All-League first team on attack.

hurdles; Ken Yanco in the 100 and 220; and Dale Lambert, winner of the Sanger M. Cook Track Trophy, in the 440, 880, and high jump. Both Yanko and Porter broke meet records in the dashes, but their times were not allowed as official because of a baffling web of technicalities, ranging from wind to unofficial watches to non-qualified starters. Future stars will be Scott Jones of Old Town, Dave Reifschneider, Bob Chadbourne and Kevin Fitts, all of Pittsfield.

Tennis coach Tom Nale fashioned his second winning schedule in two years with four wins, three losses. Wins were from North Yarmouth Academy, Hyde School, Kents Hill and Oak Grove-Coburn, all traditional rivals; losses were to Gould Academy, Hebron and Hinckley School, equally traditional, for that matter. Top performers were Jeff Knights and Dick Sullivan, both veterans of MCI nets; Manning Mersereau was most improved over the season. Coach Nale was given some help when lacrosse goalie Kevin Favant of Bronxville, N. Y., found himself, unexpectedly, with a broken nose and decided to recuperate on the courts. He won several matches, nose got back in shape, Favant went back to lacrosse, where he also won a letter. Most unusual in MCI sports; not really encouraged. Most games were played away; limited court space at MCI continues to be a problem.

Lyford Beverage, coach of lacrosse, was probably the hardest worker on the field and off, to little avail. There were no lacrosse wins, a pity, because there were good boys in some close, well-battled games. The crew was physically tough, with plenty of refugees from the fall's proud footbal Huskies. Also, Lyford had tough luck. His goalies, sort of key men, dropped like flies - he used four or five over the schedule-dropped not so much from being clobbered in combat, as from horsing around in the dorms. Again, tough luck. Scores improved as the season progressed; example: in the last two games with powerhouse Bridgton, Bridgton scored 11 goals, MCI 7. Peter Brooks, All-Conference in football, repeated in this sport; Scott McInnis, Dave Willmott, Earle Cianchette and Mark Mittelstadt could have played as standouts on any team in the League.

JOHN FOSS MUSICIAN

Several years ago in the Alumnus for 1964 a mention was made of musician John N. Foss and his remarkable dinner at Lake Tahoe, Nevada, with Frank Sinatra, Jr., on a blustery December night. For those who may not remember, John and Frank, both working musicians, answered the door to a polite knock, only to shortly find themselves bound and gagged, and Frank hauled away by thug abductors. John was then working with the Tommy Dorsey Band, led by Sam Donahue, and was appearing on the same bill with young Frank. John is considered one of the country's top trumpeters.

The story ended happily enough; Frank was returned unharmed; John was possibly left with a few mental scars.

But it did not impede John's musical progress. Following his MCI graduation, he attended the New England Conservatory of Music for five years, graduating in 1959 with a bachelor's degree in Music Education. While at the Conservatory John was privileged to perform and record with the Boston Symphony under the direction of Charles Munch.

Faced with an imminent draft call, he joined the Navy and for two years served as a theory and instrumental instructor at the Navy School of Music in Washington, D. C., finishing out his service as a member of the U. S. Navy Band. While in Washington he had the singular opportunity to sing in a chorus performing Igor Stravinsky's Oepidus Rex, conducted by the composer himself and recorded on Columbia Records. Upon completion of his Navy tour he moved with his wife and step-daughter to Las Vegas, where he has resided for several years.

A partial listing of performers John has worked with includes the Kim Sisters, Della Reese, Ella Fitzgerald, Jack Jones, Bobby Darin, Maynard Ferguson, Charlie Barnett, Jimmy Dean, Wayne Newton, Ed Ames, Buddy Greco, Bobby Sherwood, Dianna Ross, Robert Goulet, Jimmy Durante, Phil Harris, Bobby Vinton, George Gobel, Theresa Brewer, Bill Cosby, Sid Caesar, Eddie Fisher, Peggy Lee and many, many others.

Recently John became a member of the Las Vegas Symphony, now in its third season. They give about 7 concerts each year.

He still hopes someday to move back to Maine; we at MCI are looking forward to his next visit.

THE MCI BUILDERS, 38 in number to June 1, 1971, have contributed $5,933.00 to the current Development Fund, entitling them to recognition as true "Builders" of MCI.

The School salutes its Builders, whose gifts in the amount of $100 or more represent the solid base of this most successful Fund ever!

FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION

The Trustees of Maine Central Institute recall with grateful memory the names of friends and alumni whose annual donations, capital gifts, and bequests have been such an important factor in the School's growth and achievement in the past years. Of growing importance, however, is the need for future bequests, both large and small.

In naming MCI as a beneficiary or residuary legatee, one should realize that he is selecting the one best means of perpetuating, through his estate, his own hopes and prayers for a better America and a better world through education.

The Headmaster or Trustees will always appreciate the opportunity of discussing with friends the subject of bequests.

The following form is simple—and it can be used for any amounts.

CLASS NOTES

ALBERT L. PARTRIDGE '04 AND OLIVE DYER PARTRIDGE '05 of Watertown, Mass., celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary July 6, 1970. They were wed in Augusta, Maine in 1910. Both originally from Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Partridge still enjoy returning, particularly at Alumni Reunion time. Mrs. Partridge taught for some time; Mr. Partridge in 1910 became a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association and maintained law offices in Boston for many years. An antique clock enthusiast, he was one of the founders and secretary of the Boston Clock Club, which functioned from 1934 to 1941. He has presented MCI with two extremely fine antique clocks; one of them is placed in the Headmaster's reception office, the other is in the reading room of the Powell Memorial Library. Our congratulations to the Partridges!

1904

Vera Connor Nutter, the widow of Harry H. Nutter '99, is at the Sunray Convalescent Home, 3233 West Pico Blvd., Los Angeles, California. She would be delighted to hear from old MCI friends.

1905

Honorary member of MCI '05, William (Bill) Schenk, is residing at Summer St., Reading, Mass. At Christmas-time Bill sent a most kind note to MCI. We hope he will again attend the Mid-Summer Reunion this August!

Zana E. Prescott writes: "Here I am, still living, at 85 years of age. I'd like to see the Campus again, although I did see it in 1959, the year my sister, Leta Davis, died. I am glad to hear that everything is going smoothly now, and that so many new interests are open to the students. I like the motto for MCI (Morality, Conscience, Integrity)." Her address: 720 Seneca St., Seattle, Washington.

1906 Class Agent HARRY W. ROWE

374 College St., Lewiston, Maine Mrs. Barbara Anderson of Stockton, Calif., writes: "It will be impossible for my mother, Dora Norton Billings, to attend her 65th MCI Reunion. She is a patient in a convalescent hospital, where she has been living for two and a half years. Last November she broke her leg and although the cast has been removed, she no longer has the use of her leg. She is confined in a wheelchair. Certainly hope the remaining 13 members of the Class of 1906 are in beta ter health than my mother and will be able to meet in August.

Leta Young writes, "How is Harry Rowe? He must be mad at me for he did not answer my letter." We can say that Dean Rowe is fine. In August 1970 he was elected President Emeritus of the Board of Trustees of MCI.

Frederick R. Weymouth, although somewhat handicapped by a stroke two years ago, is otherwise very well and keeps busy all the time. He has four grandchildren, two great grandchildren, all of whom are well and happy. His address: R.D. #2, West Valley, N. Y.

1908

Nellie B. Allen has lived in Brattleboro, Vt., since 1930. She enjoys good health and spends several months each summer with relatives in Maine.

> 1910 Class Agent SADIE SANFORD McCRILLIS

31 Hartland Ave., Pittsfield, Maine
A nice note from Earle C. (Phil) Phillips.
He writes: "It was with great interest that I read the letter from Irvin Lord (Alumnus for 1970), as we were not only classmates but roommates. I'd like to contribute a little to the magazine. Much of my spare time while at MCI was spent working for Harry Nutter (MCI '99) in his drugstore, and after graduating I continued to work for Harry. It was during that period I decided to enter the drug business. I chose the Philadelphia School of Pharmacy for two reasons; first, it was 'tops' in the field, and second, I could work my way through college. I graduated in 1915 with a degree of Doctor of Pharmacy and in 1919, I purchased a drugstore in a town called Hatboro, Pa., where I remained until selling in 1941. During that time I married and became the father of a little girl, my pride and but roommates. I'd like to contribute a little came the father of a little girl, my pride and joy. In 1942 I was in such demand to do relief work, I again was a full-time pharma-cist. In 1951 we decided to move to Florida, but after 13 months returned to Pennsylvania and re-established a home, and returned to relief work which soon turned out to be steady. In 1967 we again had the urge to spend our winters in Florida. We took an apartment in Lake Worth and after a month became manager of the building. In the summer of 1969 we returned to Pennsylvania, sold our home and came back to Lake Worth, lock, stock and barrel, expecting to spend our days in sunny Florida. In retrospect: Financially I would have been much better off had I kept my store longer, but I feel it added years to my life by selling. Sincerely yours, Phil." Phil's address, 229 N.K., Lake Worth, Florida.

New addresses: Roselle Grady Lataille, 80 Heckla St., Uxbridge, Mass.

Ruth Runnals Lyon's son, Russell Lyon, works in the research department for General Electric at Auburn, N. Y. In the past year he and another engineer in the same department made two inventions which C.F. department made two inventions which G.E. is using. They received awards from G.E. for both inventions. Ruth's address: 6 Orchard St., MDB, Augusta, Maine. 1912

Class Agent HAYWARD T. PARSONS 290 Succotash Road, Wakefield, R. I.

Una Cornforth Burkhart has a new address. In January she moved from Portland to Milwaukie, Oregon, a small but delightful city adjoining Portland. They bought a ful city adjoining Fortland. They bought a smaller house just three doors from their son's home; the move has been a most happy one. The address: 4708 Fieldcrest Ave., Milwaukie, Oregon.

Class Agent Hayward W. Parsons (see address above) questions whether his situation will promit his returning to Pittsfield.

tion will permit his returning to Pittsfield in August to attend the Mid-summer Reunion, but he will try to do so.

New addresses: Martha Drake Evans, 1098 Lockesley Ct., Woodbury, N. J. Nice to hear from Helena Boothby Brown! Helena graduated from Bates College in 1918 and married a Benton man and has had three children. They still live in Benton, but with a Clinton address: RFD #1, Clinton, Maine.

Sara Muncy Lyon hopes to return to the Campus for the August Reunion. Sara always enjoys good news from MCI. Her son, Clement, Jr., lives nearby, and also a daughter. She has seven grandchildren. Her husband, Clement, MCI '11, passed away in December 1968. Sara's address: 69 Warren St., Concord, N. H.

Class Agent BETH RUSSELL McCAUSLAND Box 594, Farmington, N. H.

New addresses: Marguerite Libby Ellis, New addresses: Marguerite Libby Ellis, 1971 Union St., Bangor, Maine; Anne L. Leathers, 3571 Kirkwood St., Orlando, Flor-ida; Elmer Forbus, RFD #1, Skowhegan, Beth Russell McCausland and husband, Mack, spent a thoroughly enjoyable winter in Las Vegas, Nevada. Mack (Frank L. Mc-Causland '15) had a bit of trouble with a tooth, but nothing to keep him from enjoying the city, Beth adds. They have been visiting a different hotel, just about each evening! The Farm in Farmington must look good!

Raeburne L. Marsh retired from the Railway Mail Service in 1962. Rae's son John is an official at the American Embassy on the island of Ceylon; his daughter lives in Virginia. His address: 108 Alba St., Portland, Maine.

Izer Whiting Bales is retired from teaching, after many years' service in the class rooms. They spend about six months each year in Chattanooga and the other six months at Fort Meyers Beach, Florida. An ideal arrangement!

Clare Linscott Tower says she lives a quiet, uneventful life at her daughter's in beautiful Virginia. Clare is slowed by arthritis but remains much interested in MCI and hopes that its future may be as rewarding as it hopes for. Her address: 9206 Christopher St., Fairfax, Virginia.

A new address for Dorothy M. Crawford: 124 Wesley Heights, Shelton, Conn. She and a retired teacher friend are happily settled in a 4-room cottage in the United Methodist Retirement Homes in Shelton. There is room for 200 people in apartments or cottages and the resident teachers, ministers and wives are pleasant prospects for new friends.

FIFTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY CLASS New addresses: Mildred Webb Bailey, 200 Ocean Ave., Portland, Maine.

Leland M. Goodrich retired at Columbia University in June 1968. During the past year he held the post of Visiting Professor at the University of Toronto, Canada. He will be returning to Toronto for another year. Leland's home address: 460 Riverside Drive, New York City.

> 1917 Class Agent AGRANDECE L. HEALEY

R.D. #2, Box 589, Kennebunkport, Maine Newly appointed Class Agent Agrandece L. Healey spends nearly all of her time at Kennebunkport, Maine, and can be reached at the above address. Among her other activities she is program chairman for the York County Retired Teachers Association.

A new address for Mary Wentworth Bart-A new address for Mary Wentworth Bart-lett: West Appleton, Maine, post office closed, giving Mary the post office location of Star Route, Liberty, Maine. She and her husband and two married boys live at the family farm. There are 6 grandchildren, two girls, four boys.

Bertha Wheeler Carter and Crawford deserted Etna, Maine for the past winter (wisely!) and spent a delightful time at Englewood, Florida. They were visited during the winter by their three children; one of them Preston, an MCI graduate in the class of 1962. Preston and his wife Beth are finishing their internship at Madigan Hospital, Tacoma, Washington. Both doctors, they will be residents there next year, Preston in surgery and Beth in radiology. Although a doctor's schedule doesn't allow much time for recreation, they will spend as many weekends as possible in hiking, mountain climbing and camping. Both are ardent conservationists. Of the grandchildren who are MCI graduates, Maryjane Christie Staf-ford and husband Bruce (MCI '65) have a beautiful new home in Winslow, Maine, with their son, Ryan 3. Bruce is employed by Scott Paper Co. Nancy Christie '67 graduated from Chamberlyne Junior College, Boston, in June; Katherine Christie '70 is attending Endicott Junior College, Beverly, Mass. Quite an MCI family!

New addresses: C. Alton Palmer, Box 237, Owl's Head, Maine; Ina Gillespie Cunningham, 21 Fort Knox Ave., Bangor, Maine; Aaron C. Johnson, Orrington, Maine.

Ivis Glidden (Cook) Fowle married the Rev. Forrest F. Fowle in 1968. Ivis and Forrest are retired, but he still preaches in Dixmont and Troy every Sunday. Ivis attended the Mid-summer Reunion in 1968 for her 50th; hopes to be present again this summer in August. The Fowle address: 25 High St., Newport, Maine.

Vernon A. Libby is retired Executive Vice President of the Better Business Bureau Vice President of the Better Business batch of San Francisco. He and wife Fidelia (nicknamed "Pidge,") have one daughter, Mrs. Charles (Carol) Brandner. She and her husband, Dr. Charles Brandner her husband, Dr. Charles Brandner (D.V.M.) live in Petaluma, California with their four children: Kathleen, Gregory, Michael and Stacia. Vern's address: 100 Woodland Road, Fairfax, California.

1919

Class Agent ELAINE MARDEN BROOKS 20 Manson St., Pittsfield, Maine

Olive Taylor Corey echoes the sentiments of most of us when she says, "I'm glad the 'town students' are again at MCI. I was one, and appreciate the MCI of my day." Olive's husband is a retired Methodist minister. Their address: Rt. #2, St. Mary's,

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Day (Ethel Reed '20) spend winters at Sarasota, Florida, quite a step from their Middlebury, Vt., home. Clarence works part time at Middlebury College.

Howard S. Haskell is retired from many years' service with First National Stores. Howard, a widower, lives at 15 Webster Ave. No., Bangor, Maine.

1920

Class Agent HENRY W. NASON Mere Point, Brunswick, Maine New addresses: Elizabeth Staples Two-mey, 7 Berry St., Danvers, Mass.

STACKS OF THE POWELL MEMORIAL LIBRARY were possibly not always as decorous as this carefully posed shot indicates. Still, there was work to be done, volumes to be selected. The Powell Library, over the years, has proved to be one of MCI's finest assets.

Basil Hunt reports from Michigan that there is not much new with him, that he is still enjoying retirement. Basil wishes MCI good luck with its program and is pleased that day students are back. His address: 17 Woodside Park, Pleasant Ridge, Michi-

Alice Whitten McDougall says all is fine in California despite the earthquakes! She reports that they also had some pretty stiff after-shocks following the initial serious quake. Ever the optimist, Alice says it's still a wonderful place to live. Her address: 535 So. Curson Ave., Apt. 5-E, Los Angeles,

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY CLASS

Class Agent FRANCIS W. SMILEY Box 216, Pittsfield, Maine

Evelyn Leathers Damon resides at 55 Grove St., Apt. 17, Rockville, Conn. The mother of five children, Evelyn is now retired, but manages to work part time and also to raise a few flowers.

Officially retired, but acting as superin-Maine, is Laurence P. Bagley. Some retirement! Laurence's address: 4 Hillside Ave., Winthrop, Maine.

We have heard from Jennie Phillips Sanders, for the first time in several years. Jennie has two married daughters, who have two daughters each, giving Jennie a nice total of four granddaughters. Her husband died in June 1968, and Jennie keeps busy with church work and volunteer work at a local hospital. Her address: 17 Pond St., Framingham, Mass.

Christine Eames Mayhew has the same job, that of a Christian Science nurse at Pleasant View Home in Concord, N. H. Christine's address: 233 Pleasant St., Con-

Sara Muncy Lyon hopes to return to the Campus for the August Reunion. Sara always enjoys good news from MCI. Her son, Clement, Jr., lives nearby, and also a daughter. She has seven grandchildren. Her husband, Clement, MCI '11, passed away in December 1968. Sara's address: 69 Warren St., Concord, N. H.

Class Agent BETH RUSSELL McCAUSLAND Box 594, Farmington, N. H.

New addresses: Marguerite Libby Ellis, 1971 Union St., Bangor, Maine; Anne L. Leathers, 3571 Kirkwood St., Orlando, Florida; Elmer Forbus, RFD #1, Skowhegan, Beth Russell McCausland and husband, Mack, spent a thoroughly enjoyable winter in Las Vegas, Nevada. Mack (Frank L. Mc-Causland '15) had a bit of trouble with a tooth, but nothing to keep him from enjoying the city, Beth adds. They have been visiting a different hotel, just about each evening! The Farm in Farmington must look good!

Raeburne L. Marsh retired from the Railway Mail Service in 1962. Rae's son John is an official at the American Embassy on the island of Ceylon; his daughter lives in Virginia. His address: 108 Alba St., Portland, Maine.

Izer Whiting Bales is retired from teaching, after many years' service in the class rooms. They spend about six months each year in Chattanooga and the other six months at Fort Meyers Beach, Florida. An ideal arrangement!

Clare Linscott Tower says she lives a quiet, uneventful life at her daughter's in beautiful Virginia. Clare is slowed by arthritis but remains much interested in MCI and hopes that its future may be as rewarding as it hopes for. Her address: 9206 Christopher St., Fairfax, Virginia.

1915 A new address for Dorothy M. Crawford: 124 Wesley Heights, Shelton, Conn. She and a retired teacher friend are happily settled in a 4-room cottage in the United Methodist Retirement Homes in Shelton. There is room for 200 people in apartments or cottages and the resident teachers, ministers and wives are pleasant prospects for new friends.

1916 FIFTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY CLASS New addresses: Mildred Webb Bailey, 200

Ocean Ave., Portland, Maine.

Leland M. Goodrich retired at Columbia University in June 1968. During the past year he held the post of Visiting Professor at the University of Toronto, Canada. He will be returning to Toronto for another year. Leland's home address: 460 Riverside Drive, New York City.

Class Agent AGRANDECE L. HEALEY

R.D. #2, Box 589, Kennebunkport, Maine Newly appointed Class Agent Agrandece L. Healey spends nearly all of her time at Kennebunkport, Maine, and can be reached at the above address. Among her other activities she is program chairman for the York County Retired Teachers Association.

A new address for Mary Wentworth Bart-lett: West Appleton, Maine, post office closed, giving Mary the post office location of Star Route, Liberty, Maine. She and her husband and two married boys live at the family farm. There are 6 grandchildren, two girls, four boys.

Bertha Wheeler Carter and Crawford deserted Etna, Maine for the past winter (wisely!) and spent a delightful time at Englewood, Florida. They were visited during the winter by their three children; one them Preston, an MCI graduate in the class of 1962. Preston and his wife Beth are finishing their internship at Madigan Hospital, Tacoma, Washington. Both doctors, they will be residents there next year, Preston in surgery and Beth in radiology. Although a doctor's schedule doesn't allow much time for recreation, they will spend as many weekends as possible in hiking, mountain climbing and camping. Both are ardent conservationists. Of the grandchildren who are MCI graduates, Maryjane Christie Stafford and husband Bruce (MCI '65) have a beautiful new home in Winslow, Maine, with their son, Ryan 3. Bruce is employed by Scott Paper Co. Nancy Christie '67 graduated from Chamberlyne Junior College, Boston, in June; Katherine Christie '70 is attending Endicott Junior College, Beverly, Mass. Quite an MCI family!

"Lost" from the files for some time, Clif-ford V. Chisholm has been "found," thanks to Mary Rhodes Folsom '22. Cliff has found an ideal way to live, it would seem: he spends summers at Islesboro, Maine, and winters in equally beautiful Largo, Florida. Congratulations, Cliff!

Virginia Higgins Fowler says she is "just playing around" with gardening, sewing and so-forth. Virginia has a daughter and two grandsons who have graduated from MCI.

Her address: Thorndike, Maine.
It's the FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY for '21 and all members are urged to return to MCI Saturday, August 7, when the occasion will be properly observed. Make your plans!!!

1922 Class Agent GILBERT A. SPEAR

Main St., Pittsfield, Maine Irene Tibbetts Traskers in April 1971 attended the African Violet Convention at San Francsico. As if that wasn't enough, Irene continued in the general direction of west for a tour of Hawaii! Irene's home address: Saybrook Rd., Haddam, Conn.
Pearl Damon Chute has retired after 38 years of teaching and serving as principal of elementary schools. Those years represent much service in a demanding field! Pearl's address: 14 Capri St., Brewer, Maine. Leland L. Thurlow and wife Marie spent part of June and July in Maine, visiting with friends and relatives in Pittsfield and Kittery. They visited MCI, and "found it the same good old school." You are quite right, Leland. Some changes, of course, but still one of Maine's finest secondary schools.

Since retiring from Fireman's Fund American Insurance Co. in 1967, Everard E. Hall has been associated with Ballard Oil and Equipment Co. of Portland, Maine, in the sales promotion department. His wife, the former Wilma Frank of Westbrook, is in the sales division of P.M.&B. of Portland;

CHRISTMAS TIME IN MAINE must have been a bit of a shock to Alasan Cham of The Gambia, Africa, left, and Wanthani Durongkapitaya of Bangkok, Thailand. Neither had ever seen snow, which came to Pittsfield in early December and lingered into April. Shown here gathering a Christmas tree (not poached, contrary to Maine custom) they both professed to rather en-joy the winter and the contrast of the seasons. Whew!

CHEERLEADERS AS PRETTY AS EVER sparked the fall and winter sports schedules. They are shown here in autumnal plumage; quite a different costume was worn indoors during the winter months.

son Reginald is owner and president of Blake, Hall and Sprague Ins. Co. of Portland, and president of the board of industry there; daughter Beverly Hall Legere lives in South Portland. Ev's address: 23 Payson Rd., Falmouth Foreside, Maine.

Wilbert H. Cook is a hard man to follow; he always seems to be buzzing around exotic spots. A mid-winter postal card from Wil found him in New Zealand, on his way to Sydney, Australia, and from there to Africa, London and finally Box Corner, Bradford, N. H., around April. (The card depicted a Maori maid in native costume displaying a mat of greeting or welcome. Very interesting!)

> 1924 Class Agent E. BURNELL OVERLOCK

66 Presidents Road, Buzzards Bay, Mass. Class Agent Bun was a bit tardy with his notes, but they are always welcomed and we will try to slip them past impatient printer.

"A letter from Frank Carter in February tells me that he is still at 16 Milbury St., Worcester, Mass., and employed at A. A. Meola & Sons at 165 Boylston St. He enjoys the work and has no intention of retiring in the near future. A surprise call on him in May found him busy on the job. Will make every effort to attend Homecoming Day this year.

"A Christmas card from Jo Nason Ogilvie contained some interesting news about her and what she is presently doing. She is Director of Housekeeping Services at the Bridgeport, Conn., Hospital and is now getting ready to open a new 10-story wing. Previously she was with Black and Decker Co. in Boston after a considerable stay in Europe. Says she keeps plenty busy and works harder each year.

"The Emery Whittens enjoyed a month in Florida the past winter visiting their daughter and taking in all the baseball games nearby. Visited grandson in Birmingham, Alabama, who is attending college in that city. Whittens have eight grandchildren. Emery is still dispensing drugs and supplies in Sanford, Maine.

"A call on Charlie Whitten in Hampden Highlands on Rt. 9 found him making preparations to report for his evening's work. For years Charlie lived and worked in his native town, Lee, and in 1965 had the mis-fortune to lose part of one of his legs in a woods accident. He is presently employed as a toll collector on the Bangor-Brewer bridge. It was nice to see him after a period of 47 years.

"A recent letter from Will Landry tells "A recent letter from Will Landry tells and finds plenty to keep him busy and out of mischief. Had a siege of illness during the winter but has fully recovered and he and Mary are looking forward to Homecoming Day this summer.

"The Overlocks did get to Scandinavia last summer and enjoyed the beautiful scenery. This summer they are planning to divide their time between Maine and the Cape and perhaps a trip to Quebec and Montreal. Many people come to the Cape during the summer and you should be among the visitors who drop in to chat for a few minutes. We live 2 miles from the Bourne Bridge on the way to Mashnee Island. It's the little red house with the mailbox, "The Overlocks' on the other side."

A posthumous award by the U. S. Department of the Treasury was made to Cecil J. Harribine, who died in May 1970. The Albert Gallatin Award was made for "the evidence of esteem in which this loyal employee was held as inspector of U. S. Customs during a long and useful public career. Such a record of service well merits the commendation of an appreciative government."

Lurena Hilliker Whitten and Emery '24 have a grandson who will graduate from the University of Florida Graduate School in August. Number two grandson is a student at Samford University in Birmingham, Alabama; and their only granddaughter graduated from Noble High School in Berwick, Maine. There are five younger grandsons. The Whitten residence: 3 Lowell St., Sanford, Maine.

Sympathy is extended to Beatrice Palmer Frederick upon the death of her husband, Anthony, in May 1971. Bea had reported a fine winter in sunny Florida, busy with company and remodeling a home, and had hoped that they could be in New England for the summer months.

Finally some news from old friend Thelma V. Ham. She reports that she became a retired teacher in June 1971. For a number of years Thelma has served as Chairman of the French Department at Thornton Academy, Biddeford, Maine. She enjoys her home on the ocean at Wells, Maine, as well she might!

Class Agent Rene Devoe would like very much to attend the Mid-summer Reunion in August, but tentative plans call for the Devoes to be in the Orient on another of their extended travels. There is some hope, however, that Rene and Inez may be back by the first Saturday in August. Last summer they visited North Africa and southern Europe, reported a great time.

In September 1970 Frances Small Farr wrote from her Pond Road, Manchester, Maine residence. The Farrs had a very special event in their family—the arrival of their new granddaughter, Rebecca Alice Farr, born in June 1970. Son David and his wife Judith bring young Rebecca to see her grandparents as often as possible (they reside in Northfield, N. H.). Frances last spring had a surprise call from Dorothy Corey Pike and has heard from Elizabeth Griffin Farr, a cousin by marriage. Frances is still enjoying her retirement and is busier than ever!

Theo Davis Walker reports no special news; she and her husband are semi-retired. They did, however, recently take a trip to the West Coast. The Walker address: 40 Highland St., Milford, Mass.

Dutton, Dana Drive, Apt. 11, Hudson, N. H.; Brian L. Cowan, RFD #2, Pittsfield, Maine; Neil J. Stanley, 9 N. High Norwich, Conn.

Class Agent Judi, bless her, writes her own class notes. Let's take a scan:

"Judi is on her own again and working as an executive secretary in Camden. For fun she is playing the organ and piano in church, and is president of the Glen Cove Garden Club, belongs to the Camden-Rockport Historical (Hysterical?) Society and is raising her 11-year-old Mary Ella who is an A-1 student. Her grades certainly don't reflect those of her mother-remember who got to go to almost all Saturday Morning Studies year after year? Judy is recruiting help planning our 15th Reunion. How about some ideas? (Judi adds:)
"HELLO SPORTS FANS! Please all plan to come to Pittsfield for the August Homecoming. We need suggestions on how to make this a ball. How about an afternoon get-together before the banquet. Then a cabaret-type talent (?) show featuring all your wonderful talents that have been going to waste for 15 years? Any voluntures?

"Steve Clark, Winslow, will come to the aid of your Class Agent to help plan, and as he says, 'These things usually fall on the shoulders of a few. Where could we meet? New York Hilton, Parker House, Eastland or Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan!'

"John Carroll is a Sea and Shore Warden in Warren but is being transferred to Boothbay Harbor with a new promotion. He and Diane have 3 boys and 2 girls, the oldest 13, the youngest, Tim, is 1 year old. John was Master-of-Ceremonies at the most popular variety show of 5 counties recently. I was there to enjoy the 70-80 performers do a minstrel-type free-for-all with our own John keeping everything as straight as possible. The Parson's wife (whose church sponsored the annual show) accepted her Thank-you bouquet' for being director again this year. She said one reason she would direct again would be to get a kiss from John Carroll 'right here, John.' She asked the audience how many gray-haired parsons' wives they knew got a kiss on the check from a handsome man like John. He will M.C. a talent show for our Reunion. We have a few ideas for the ridiculous, but can you dream up more?

"Eunice Brooks Huff has 3 children, 2 boys and a girl. She and Dennis have their own 6-room ranch. Dennis is assistant superintendent of Hood's manufacturing plant in St. Albans, Vt. Eunice is secretary of the P.T.A., sings in the choir, has a part-time job besides her regular full-time job at home!

"Wilbur A. Knowles, Burnham, married Nancy Sherwood '57. They have 2 girls and a boy. Wilbur is a shop foreman in Portland. Watch for their change of address.

"John Griffin's wife, Janet, wrote me as John is the 'non-corresponding type' and because she knows the frustration of being class agent with no news. Thanks, Janetother wives should be so thoughtful. The Griffins live in Moody, Maine, where John teaches math in York Junior High. Last summer John received a National Science Foundation grant to study math extensively with his 'Masters in Mind' at New York State. Congratulations, John! He took family and all, lived in a lake-side cottage and 'touristed' historic sites on the weekends. There are 2 young Griffin girls and Michael, their sixth grader, who is studious, athletic and even dissects frogs for his science class."

Later, still from Judi: "Richard MacFarland lives in Owls Head, Maine, with his wife, Elsa. Congratulations on your new (first) baby, Master Princeton MacFarland! Dick went to MMA and is now a marine surveyor. He and Elsa have been all around our world, having spent 12 weeks in Hong Kong and now contemplaiting a 3-year job in Japan. Dick promises to keep us posted."

Too late for Judi's notes:

Deputy Sheriff for Belknap County, N. H., is Andre H. Paquet. Andy is married, has four children: Jo-Anne 9, Lynn 8, Thomas 6 and Andrea 4. Andy and wife Beth will be unable to attend the giant party planned for '56 in August on Campus, but send their west wishes to all!

Elva C. Tooker, a Providence, R. I., resident since 1937, died in November 1970. She was Dean of Girls and an instructor in English and History at MCI from 1921 through 1924. A graduate of Colby College, she received her master's degree from Radcliffe College in 1925, and later taught at Wellesley College. She was the author of a book, "Nathan Trotter, Philadelphia Merchant," a biography.

Marion Dixon Lester of Wethersfield, Conn., died in December 1970. She taught home economics at MCI from 1933-37 and also coached girls athletics. She was a graduate of the University of Maine.

COMMENCEMENT 1971

A week-long program devoted to MCI's 102nd Commencement began with Senior Chapel on Friday, May 28, and concluded with the graduation of 111 members of the Class of 1971 on Sunday afternoon, June 6. The graduating seniors did not conduct their usual Senior Banquet, scheduled for Friday, June 4, but decided instead to use the funds available to present a Class of 1971 Scholarship in the amount of $300, to Alasan Cham, a member of the Class and a resident of the Gambia, Africa. Alasan has been admitted to the University of Maine, Orono. A reception at the Manson House residence of Headmaster and Mrs. Edward R. Stanley for members of the Class, their parents, friends and teachers, was particularly well attended, June 6, the long-awaited day, was beautiful, even by Maine standards. Bright, crisp (frost the evening before!) and with a slight breeze from the north-west stirring the Campus Maples. At the Baccalaureate Service Sunday morning, the Reverend Edwin A. Hind, pastor of the People's United Methodist Church of Newport, addressed the about-to-graduate seniors.

Ginger L. Hughes, Valedictorian of Pittsfield, was speaker at the graduation exercises Sunday afternoon before a thronged Parks Memorial Gymnasium audience of families, friends and faculty, the latter resplendently robed. Also honored during the program were Susan M. Cooley, First Honors, General; Debra S. Morancie, 1st Honor Essayist; Tamara P. Cianchette, 2nd Honor Essayist; Krista I. Pease, 3rd Honor Essayist, all of Pittsfield.

THE MCI SPORTS BOOSTER SCHOLARSHIPS were awarded to Colleen Peterson of Pittsfield and to Alasan Cham of Bathurst, The Gambia, Africa. New this year, the scholarships are made to students who have gained admission to college and who have gainfully engaged in sports at MCI. Both Colleen and Ali won other important awards.

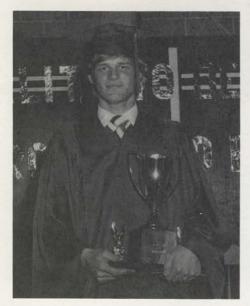

THE KEY CLUB COMMUNITY SCHOL-ARSHIPS were awarded to Sharee Dinsmore and Jasper Wyman at MCI's 102nd Commencement Sunday, June 6. The scholarships are made to senior Pittsfield students who have gained admission to recognized colleges, and are selected by a committee composed of members of the Pittsfield Kiwanis Club, the community at large, and the faculty and administration. Jasper was also winner of the Maurice L. Earle Memorial Award in History.

Achievement Awards were presented by Headmaster Stanley at both Senior Chapel and Commencement.

At Senior Chapel, James M. Thomson was named Valedictorian of the Fifth-year Class; Paul R. Montgomery of Rockland was named Salutatorian. The Sanger M. Cook Track Trophy was won by Dale Lambert of Boxford, Mass.; the Iva Cianchette Cregnole Softball Award was made to Debra S. Morancie of Pittsfield. The Ruth Plummer Cook Music Award was presented to Stephen M. Quint of Pittsfield; Dormitory Citizenship Awards were made to Arlene N. Williams of Gardiner, for Rowe Hall, and to Dale Lambert of Boxford, Mass., for Weymouth Hall. The Dale McDonald Memorial Baseball Award was earned by Bruce Basford of Detroit. There were many other presentations.

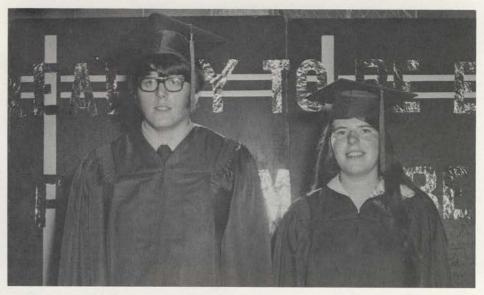

At Graduation, Dormitory Citizenship Awards were earned by Mark Mittelstadt of Rochester, N. Y., for Alumni Hall; by Franklin Scott of Hopewell, N. Y., for Manson Hall. Kiwanis Club (Pittsfield) Scholarships were made to Ginger Hughes and to MCI'S MOST COVETED TROPHY, the Masters' Cup was awarded at graduation to E. Hunter Friend of Pittsfield. The Masters' Cup is provided by the masters of the faculty to the boy who best represents the school's ideals for athletic ability, character, leadership and school spirit. Hunter has been admitted to the Maine Maritime Academy.

DEBRA MORANCIE OF PITTSFIELD was Central Maine Region Foul Shooting Champion, sinking 29 tosses out of 35. In the State shoot-off Debbie placed third in a field of 40 contestants. Expert in all girls' sports, she was also awarded the Iva C. Cregnole Softball Trophy.

PITTSFIELD KIWANIS CLUB SCHOLARSHIPS were presented to William Nolan and Ginger Hughes, both of Pittsfield at graduation. The awards are made to students who have been accepted at recognized colleges and who, in the judgment of the faculty can best profit by taking education beyond MCI. Valedictorian Hughes was also awarded the Leon Gordon, Inc., Scholarship, new this year, and the George M. Parks Scholarship Prize to a senior. Nolan was also recipient of the Y-Teen Scholarship, given in memory of Frances C. Piper, for many years head of the English faculty.

William Nolan; the Key Club Community Scholarship was earned by Sharee Dinsmore and Jasper Wyman, both of Pittsfield. The Ruth Plummer Cook Memorial Scholarship was made to Marjorie Jones of Pittsfield; The Gary S. Dupill Sportsmanship Award, new this year, was earned by Peter Brooks of Bucksport. The Leon Gordon, Inc. Scholarship, also new this year, was made to Ginger Hughes MCI Sports Booster Scholarship.

ships, new this year, were made to Colleen Peterson of Pittsfield and to Alasan Cham of The Gambia, Africa. The Masters' Cup, a most-coveted possession, was awarded to E. Hunter Friend of Pittsfield. Again, there were many more awards, more than can be itemized in limited space.

MCI's 102nd Commencement is now behind, the culmination of an important year in the School's long history.

THE HARD-LUCK PREPPER BASKETBALLERS never quit, also never won. Truly, it was an impossibly tough schedule for the few fifth-year students electing to try basketball, several of them for the first time in organized competition. Coach Mike Lumbra, standing, right, who has one of the best records of any MCI basketball coach in recent years, had nothing but praise for a bunch of hard-working non-quitters.

FROM MASTER'S CUP TO SILVER STAR

Now a resident of Lewiston, Maine, Major Wilbur P. Spencer, Jr., MCI '57 and formerly a resident of Berwick, Maine, last fall was appointed Assistant Director of the Bowdoin College ROTC program.

It's been a long winding path since MCI days, when Will majored in cross country and basketball and battled manfully with something called senior math. But he did win the Masters' Cup, that most coveted of all MCI awards, which probably was indicative of things to come.

Commissioned a 2nd lieutenant through the ROTC at the University of Maine in 1961, Will entered active service the following year at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he attended Infantry Officer Basic Course and the Airborne and Ranger Courses. In 1962 he was assigned to the 24th Infantry Division in Germany, and worked his way from platoon leader to Brigade assistant. The following assignments were routine (on paper!) but in 1968 he attended the Infantry Office Advanced Course at Ft. Benning. In 1965 he had accepted a commission in the Regular Army.

In August 1969 things moved rapidly. He joined the 4th Infantry Division, historically a tough outfit, which he served as Battalion Exec, Operations Officer and Assistant Chief of Staff.

Will is most reluctant to spell-out his service in Vietnam but the decorations tell the story. He has been awarded the Silver Star, the Bronze Star with the "V" device and three Oak Leaf Clusters, the Air Medal, the Army Commendation Medal, the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantryman's Badge. There is quite a story in that hardware.

Will is married to the former Carlene Louise Lane of Auburn; they have three children.

MAKE PLANS NOW

Please consider this announcement your PERSONAL INVITATION to return to MCI for the renewal of the School's traditional Alumni Homecoming. Saturday, August 7, is the big day and it should be another great one for MCI Alumni. The Homecoming parties at MCI have always been enjoyed by those returning; this year will be no different.

Reunion Classes are those ending with 1 and 6, but, as always, everyone is invited.

But when 4,880 people are invited to dinner it creates a problem. We hope that you will take time to mail the return card, included with this Alumnus, particularly if you are planning to join us at the banquet table or if your plans include staying at one of the dorms, for one or two nights. THIS IS MOST IMPORTANT!!!

To doubly insure a good time, get in touch with your MCI friends. Make up a carload and head for Pittsfield. You'll be glad you did!
