Dear MCI Alumni:

With graduation but a few days away, it is difficult for me to bring myself to realize that another year is very nearly over and that the members of our postgraduate and undergraduate classes of 1964 are about to join the ranks of the alumni. It seems so short a time ago that we opened the 1963-64 year with an enrolment of 621 — our largest in the School's ninety-eight year history — and found ourselves wondering how we would make out with so many. The year has been a good one, with an impressive number gaining admission to colleges all over America, some of them with excellent scholarship grants. We have been aided this year, as in the past, by the continuing support and interest of our alumni. Many of our students, we realize, are with us because of the warm recommendation of one or more of our former students. Many of the young men I am interviewing as candidates for 1964-65 have come to the campus to see the School as a direct result of comments made by alumni. We continue to be very grateful for this heart-warming support and to work hard to continue to merit your support.

MCI is growing, and of course in many small ways it is changing somewhat from the School you knew. Growth and change seem to be inevitable, and very probably are desirable, as the demands of our society alter with the passage of each year. Still, there is much at MCI that has not changed and should not change, and I am confident the students and their teachers today are as much concerned with the real values of education as were the students and teachers of an early period in the history of the School. I hope you will be one of those able to return to the campus on the first Saturday in August to see the new MCI and to enjoy once more the old MCI that is and always will be your school.

Sincerely,

Edward R. Stanley
Principal

NEW TENNIS COURTS NOW IN USE

The Vickery Tennis Courts, new in late fall 1963, saw limited service as early as mid-March. Day after this picture was taken five inches of snow fell, the deepest accumulation of the winter.

The Vickery Courts were made possible through the generosity of Ethel Vickery Hambleton '97 and Earle N. Vickery '04, who have donated to the School the land on which the courts are situated.

Our new courts fill a pressing need; MCI had been without tennis facilities since 1956, when space occupied by the old courts became required for construction of the Cianchette Hall of Science.

"Make Plans Now for Saturday, August 1st Homecoming Day at MCI"

In early July your Alumni Office will send more than 3800 invitations to spend a weekend, or part of a weekend, at Pittsfield for the 14th annual Mid-Summer Alumni Homecoming and Reunion. That's a big guest list!

And the best part is, we would like to see all of you. And each year, during the first week in August, there are more and more Alumni who respond to the School's invitation. It must certainly be that news passes, describing MCI Alumni Homecomings as pleasant, casual, and most of all, rewarding. Homecomings — especially our own — offer more than a chance to revisit with old friends and classmates. They also offer an opportunity to observe a truly growing school and an opportunity for an insight to the future as well as the past.

This year on Saturday, August 1, the School will honor its classes from the 4's and 9's, with special attention to the Golden Anniversary Class of 1914. But it can — and will — be a reunion year for all who come, whether one year or sixty away from MCI graduation.

Plans are being made at this early date for a number of reunion classes to meet in Pittsfield, and there will be more as August 1 draws closer. For example: MCI 1944 will celebrate their 20th in Pittsfield as special guests of Helmi Paakki Perry and Ival "Bud" Cianchette, and '44 is broadening its list to include members inducted to military service unable to graduate with their class. The Class of 1934 will be holding open house at the home of John Furbush for all classes from 1932 thru 1936. And this is only a start!

So make plans now. To double insure a good time, get in touch with your MCI friends. Make up a carload and head for Pittsfield. We know you'll be glad you did!

ABOUT OUR COVER

The colorful panoramic impression of the Campus in summer was done by artist Harriett F. Hill of Bucksport, Maine, whose works are frequently exhibited throughout the State.

Yes, the Campus Maples are still with us, but could not be shown without obscuring the buildings of which we are so proud.

MARY JANE WALKER

"Sweetheart of Sigma Chi"

A number of MCI Alumni must have noted with reflected pride the pretty co-ed pictured on the front page of Parade Magazine Sunday, October 23, 1963.

Beautifully portrayed was Miss Mary Jane Walker, a senior at Michigan State University, who has been chosen this year's "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi," making her the official sweetheart of 85,000 boys from that international fraternity. Mary Jane is the daughter of MCI's Merton E. Walker '30 and Eleanor Hill Walker, formerly of Pittsfield, now of New Bedford, Mass.

Selection of "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" was made at the 54th convention of Sigma Chi Fraternity in Houston, Texas. After earlier being designated sweetheart of the Sigma Chi Chapter, Michigan State University, Mary Jane was selected as an international finalist by three prominent Sigma Chi Alumni, actors John Wayne and Addison Richards, and TV announcer Don Wilson.

Mary Jane, a member of Chi Omega sorority, is secretary of her senior class at Michigan State, is social chairman of her sorority, and is a member of the Senior Council.

Both Mary Jane and her brother, Thomas, are recipients of four-year George M. Moffett Scholarships awarded by the Whitehall Corporation, Inc. Thomas, of whom the family is equally proud, is a sophomore at Providence College and is expecting to spend his junior year at Loyola University in Rome, Italy.

Proud father Merton has been associated with the Wirthmore Division, Corn Products Co., for 30 years and is now manager of an associate store in Fall River, Mass. Eleanor Hill Walker was for many years music supervisor in the Pittsfield (Maine) Public

"A Dinner with Frank"

John N. Foss, who will be remembered by his classmates from MCI '54 as being not only active but outstanding in everything from band to track, had planned to enjoy supper with a friend, one Frank Sinatra, Jr., the snowy evening of December 8, 1963, at Lake Tahoe, Nevada. Opening the door to a polite knock, John found not the anticipated waiter with tray, but a tough trio of gunmen, replete with ropes and gags, who trussed John rather thoroughly and departed into the howling night with young Frank.

John, a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and a trumpeter with the Tommy Dorsey Band, led by Sam Donahue, had been appearing on the same bill with the 20 year old Sinatra at Harrah's Tahoe Casino, one of the best known of the resort's several nightspots, and had become a friend to the young singer.

The rest of the story made interesting, if bizarre, history. John, bound and gagged on the floor, after some struggle untangled himself and soon word of the spectacular kidnapping was flashed to the world. The long chase, with Keystone Kop overtures, ended happily several days later with Sinatra delivered to his parents from a car trunk, and the subsequent arrest, trial and conviction of the kidnappers. A sequel, as reported by Dorothy Kilgallen in March, is that John is no longer with the Tommy Dorsey troupe. To quote Dorothy: "His (John's) talent is unquestioned, so the jazz set wonders what went wrong."

John joined the Dorsey band after serving 4 years with the top-notch U. S. Navy Band in Washington, D. C. He is married, has a daughter, Kathy, and eventually plans to teach music. Our sincere best wishes!

Schools, and is now teaching in the grades in the New Bedford school system.

Mary Jane's plans? School teaching, what else? Majoring in elementary education, she will be a most attractive addition to some schoolroom, somewhere. We rather wish it could be Pittsfield!

SECRETARY'S REPORT

The 13th annual Mid-Summer Homecoming was held on the campus with the class of 1913 being the honored guests of the day. Members of this class attended a banquet held in their honor at the Lancey House as the guests of Norris Friend and Everett Hurd.

The 10th anniversary class of 1953 was entertained during the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Lancaster (Carol Hodgins). Members of the Class of 1948 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arey C. Bryant. William Coffin '33 was host to a large delegation of his classmates at the Lancey House. Members of the anniversary classes of 1928 and 1938 held informal meetings in the recreation rooms of Alumni Hall.

The traditional reception and cutting of the 50th anniversary cake was held at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Edward R. Stanley as hostess. Mrs. Mary Smith Christie '13, poured. Assisting the servers were Mrs. Dana Sweet, Mrs. Robert Boulrisse, Mrs. Robert Steward, Mrs. Frank Haseltine and Mrs. George Webber. Members of the Class of 1913 who attended the reception were Mary Smith Christie, Roland Eaton, Joseph Deasey, Marion Peabody Dole, Norris Friend, Everett Hurd, Sara Muncy Lyon, Doris Dyer Nutting, Walter Webendorfer and Harry Wright.

Respectfully submitted,

ELEANOR A. TOOTHAKER,

Secretary

New members of a 40-strong faculty in September 1963 included, seated from left, F. William White of Plymouth, N. H., instructor in French, housemaster, Rowe Hall; F. Peter Williams, of Boston, Mass., instructor in English; Mrs. Anna H. Furbush of Pittsfield, instructor in English; Peter L. Gulick of Geneva, N. Y., instructor in history; William C. Burton of Skowhegan, instructor in chemistry. Standing from left, Alfred Selig of Elmwood, Conn., instructor in English; Brian B. Smith of Norridgewock, instructor in German, assistant housemaster, Weymouth Hall; Dennis L. Brown of Wilton, instructor in chemistry; Alfred I. Murray of West Newton, Mass., instructor in history. Not shown is Captain Vincent L. Hathorn, U.S.N. (ret.), instructor in mathematics.

NEW RULES FOR THE OLDEST SPORT

STATE GAME WARDEN Norman Gilbert of Hartland and MCI Hunter Safety Director Wally Cunningham discuss firearms; friend bear appears interested in Wally's shotgun, as well he might. More than 40 boys last fall received certificates and shoulder patches for successful completion of the National Rifle Association Hunter Safety Course.

One of MCI's unique features (and there are several) is that the school not only permits its boarding boys to enjoy the exceptional hunting found in Central Maine, but encourages them to try their luck in the woods and marshes. But perhaps such support might be expected in a school whose headmaster is a determined duck hunter; and where a good proportion of the faculty fret for the woods like Iroquois at the first touch of October frost. Do all boys hunt? The answer, certainly, is no.

But those interested may hunt after school and Saturdays (no Sunday hunting in Maine) by fulfilling two basic requirements: written permission must be obtained from parents; and each student with permission must pass the Hunter Safety Course of the National Rifle Association, administered by the School. Last September more than 40 boys, many from other states, passed the written examination, following 10 hours of competent instruction. All student firearms are placed in locked storage between hunts, are released only by housemasters or the student School Armorer.

Head of MCI's Hunter Safety Course is Wallace H. Cunningham, member of the faculty and a Registered Maine Guide of long standing. During five evenings of instruction, faculty outdoorsmen lecture and demonstrate their various specialties as rifle, shotgun and pistol; always with a primary emphasis on hunting safety. State Game Wardens discuss laws and regulations, as well as indicate the best hunting grounds for various types of game.

The safety record has been perfect; hunter success by students has embarrassed some local "experts" — including a few faculty!

All boys are not football players; nor do all enjoy golf, tennis or soccer. For the lad who loves hunting and the out-of-doors — and has demonstrated himself responsible — MCI provides a different fall program that many believe beats them all.

Next year's leaders of the MCI Key Club will be, center, Peter Vigue, president. Standing from left, James Gould, vice president; Michael Metrick, treasurer; Cris Stein, secretary.

Rene's World Report

When we heard that Florida residents, Rene Devoe, MCI '26, and his delightful wife Inez, had completed a recent trip around-the-world, we asked Rene for a report of his adventures, thinking perhaps to incorporate them into our Class Notes section of this 1964 Alumnus.

But with so many Americans touring exotic lands these days, we thought Rene's well-written recollections might not only be informative to all our readers, but also might provide useful information. So with apologies to Rene and Inez for a few minor deletions, may we quote some of their reminiscences:

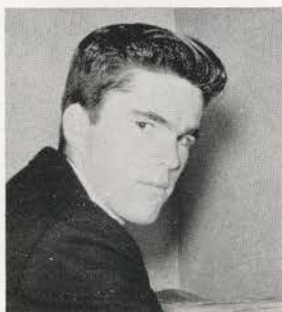

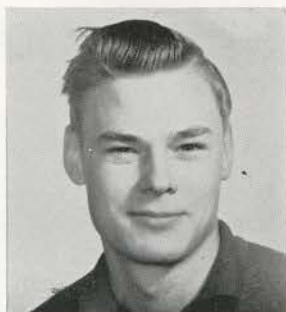

"British people are noted for their apparent lack of humor. In passing thru customs in Southampton, England, we declared items like camera, films, cigarettes, etc. Then the Customs Inspector said in a stern voice, 'You are very wicked to bring these items to this country,' then with a twinkle in his eyes and a broad grin all over his face he added, 'Welcome to England.'"

Lounge Deck aboard ship. (Rene at right)

"A Milan, Italy restaurant serves one standard meal at noon. It started with vegetable salad, then soup, bread, cheese, wine and followed by a huge platter of Italian Spaghetti with meat balls in a rich mushroom sauce, plus a variety of fresh fruit for dessert. After such a hearty meal, and as we were struggling to leave the table, the waitress came by and said, 'No like?' We assured her that everything was just fine. 'Then sit down and finish!' was her reply. A moment later she reappeared with individual platters heaped high with veal chops, five cooked vegetables, gravy, bread, butter and more wine!"

"MEET YOUR ALUMNI SCHOLARS"

Alumni Scholars for 1963-64, Brent W. Washburn of Pittsburg, New Hampshire, left, and Joshua T. Peppard of East Holden, Maine, are not found always at their desks — but still have done exceptional work in academic areas during this year at MCI.

Brent, a senior, has been accepted for admittance to the University of New Hampshire, the University of Maine and to Northeastern University. Carrying an academic load of seven subjects for the last half-year, he has achieved high honors grades for the third academic quarter, was one of three seniors named to high honors. Brent will major in electrical engineering at whichever college he chooses. He is the son of Mrs. Arlene H. Washburn, Pittsburg, N. H.

Planning to follow the footsteps of his Dad, a biologist with the State of Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Game, Josh Peppard is preparing for the University of Maine or Cornell University, and although a sophomore and more than two years away from college, has done fine work at MCI toward that goal. Josh has been active in football and track, has been an outstanding school citizen. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Peppard, East Holden, Maine.

Alumni may experience considerable pride in the knowledge that through Alumni Scholarships two superior boys have had opportunity of attending their School.

Rene's Report

"On a Motor Coach tour of Egypt, along the Nile River, heading for Cairo, the Pyramids, Sphinx, etc., the coach stopped at a check point for a moment. An Egyptian came aboard and in fair English introduced himself as Quarum Sasha or 'Cookie' for short. He explained we would need Egyptian currency in Cairo, and that he had some to exchange at standard rate and that each person could get five-ten-twenty-five or more dollars worth right now. When no one appeared to show interest 'Cookie' quickly added, 'Take my Egyptian money, keep yours, just give me your last name and passport number. I'll collect from you three days later when you return.' It was almost incredible that a stranger was willing to lend his money to strangers without any tangible security. 'Cookie' had made his point and everyone borrowed from him. (Riding on camel back to visit the Ancient Pyramids, discovered that camels have very bad breath.)"

Gondolas in Venice

"In Italy large coins (100 Lire), the size of an American silver dollar, are worth only 16c — reason — they contain mostly aluminum and very little silver."

"It was interesting to see and hear so many crows in Singapore, Malaya. One day, having lunch in a city restaurant, a big old crow came in through the open window and perched himself on the dining table and sank his beak in a bread roll. He was so bold we had trouble shooing him away."

"Australia and New Zealand are reported to be the world's leaders in sheep and wool raising. Strangely enough, yarn and wool products, including wearing apparel, cost two or three times more there than in England or America. Reason: The raw wool is sold to brokers and shipped to England half way around the world to be processed which includes washing, dyeing, carding, spinning, woven into textile, tailored, etc. The wool changes hands many times during this process and results in sky high prices by the time it returns to Australia."

Tri-shaw Ride in Singapore

"When travelling through Europe or Asia, be prepared to drink any kind of beverages except water. Water is scarce and what there is available is not considered safe to drink unless boiled."

"All different countries have their own currency, however the American dollar is one of the few currencies that is still accepted in leading stores almost anywhere in the world."

Star of a freshman cast in the fall series of one-act plays was Brian Brown in the dual roles of Wilbur and Mae in the comedy "Sure as You're Born." Freshmen, coached by Mrs. Anna H. Furbush of the English faculty, took first place in the competition representing each of the undergraduate classes.

PROGRESS REPORT 1964

PARKS RECREATIONAL AREA, MCI

Not quite two years have passed since MCI experienced its largest single expansion of physical facilities through the gift by Johnson W. Parks of Waterville of the Parks Homestead on outer Hartland Avenue. And what, to date, has been done with this splendid grant of nearly 200 acres, plus the fine old home and out-buildings?

During the first year, while possible uses of the property were proper subjects for discussion by the MCI Board of Trustees, the buildings were utilized only for storage, the land remained idle. But in August 1963 the Trustees made a far-reaching decision to develop the Estate into a student recreational area, tentatively designated as the Parks Recreational Area or the School's "North Campus." Work began at once.

First, the house was renovated to accommodate a master and family, and only then were other projects attempted. A new ski jump was erected on the hill areas — across Hartland Avenue from the home and buildings — with proper approaches and run-off space provided (see photo) and portions of the barns and sheds were made appropriate for Ski Team and Outing Club activities.

Plans were carefully drawn for the construction of a 9-hole, 36-par golf course, and work began in the early fall. (Trustee Sanger M. Cook '17 (shown at right) did not cut the first tree but wanted awfully to.) One air picture, by flying school photographer Peter Bradshaw, shows the golfing area — both sides of railroad track — as it appeared in early February, with cutting and clearing still in progress; other photo shows ski area. The sketch (opposite page) plotted by drawing instructor-track coach, Norbert Young, Sr., gives an exciting preview of what may be expected in about one year from now.

No, we can't promise you golfing on the MCI course this summer. But wait another year! By then, should all go as planned, there may be boating facilities on the river, skeet and trap ranges for the shotgun enthusiasts, a "Little Theatre," and a comfortable clubhouse for our weary golfers. We can't wait!

WAY BACK WHEN...

Small in number, but historically one of MCI's finest bands, was the talent-laden crew from 1909-1910. Shown above are Laura Wakefield, mandolin; Frank Haseltine, trombone; Wm. Smith, violin; Mr. Towle, clarinet; Raymond Pinkham, cornet; Harold Bickford, leader and cornet; Gladys Sturtevant, piano; Vernon Shorey, traps and drums; Dorothy Drake, violin; Walter Haseltine, violin; Lillian Norton, violin.

FORTY-NINE YEARS AGO —

1915 . . . A freshman entering MCI on September 8, 1914 could be togged in an Adler-Rochester suit in extreme young men's models in any and every pleasing pattern; total cost at Jenkins Clothing Company, Main St., Pittsfield — with a pair of socks thrown in — $15.00. Not that many dressed up. The sophomores that year had an unparalleled reputation (built by themselves) for unbridled cruelty to neophytes . . . All was forgiven at the YMCA-YWCA reception for the Class of '18 on September 18. Welcomes were offered by William Watson, Helen Robinson, Leslie Black, Edna Rummill, with the program closing by all joining in the MCI Alma Mater . . . Freshmen were sternly advised to master their Class Yell: "Milkshake, Bellyache, Hot dogs and cigars; Freshmen, Freshmen, Rah! Rah! Rah!" Goodness! how crude! . . . A large turnout for football, enough for two teams. Captain Whitten, Fuller, Hackett, Monahan and Small had all seen service; Harvey Maxwell and Kendall were promising transfers from Westbrook Seminary and Gardiner High. Coach Shepard toiled very nearly in vain. Injuries, academic washouts and a murderous schedule were responsible for a season's-end total of 1 win, 2 ties, and 5 defeats, the last to the bone-breaking tune of 50-0 to Thornton Academy. Well, there's always basketball . . . Helen Copeland continued pasting clippings and comment for her scrapbook, started as a freshman (much later a mine of information for at least one MCI alumni researcher), in which appeared one gem, writ by hand: "If every girl were just like me, what kind of a dorm would this place be?" . . . Sorosis elected to office Marion Estes, Esther Copeland, Margaret Staples, Amy Ragan, Ervina Goodale and Helen Robinson . . . A sturdy, vocal group chosen for Prize Speaking included Bertha Wheeler, Dorothy Smith, Helen Hanson, Iva Farnham, Ursula Snow, Marcelline Menard, Sanger Cook, Magnus Ridlon, Gerald Glidden, Edwin Richardson, Harold Slipp and Horace Buxton . . . Old Grads visiting campus included Norris Friend '13, Errold Hilliker '14, Wesley Mills '14, Clarence Emerson '14, Louis Getchell '14, Alta Davis '14, Claire Linscott '14, Lizzie Tufts '14 and Cecil Thurston '14. Just couldn't seem to stay away from the old place . . . Big evening in January was the reception to Principal and Mrs. Oldham. Entertainment was offered by Dorothy Crawford, piano solo; Dorothy Smith, reading; Martha Tucker, vocal solo; Sanger Cook, violin solo; and a farce, "Their Wedding Anniversary," was played by Esther Copeland, Hazel Pushor, Morrill Burse and Van Stevens. The school paper obediently reported, "After several merry games were played the evening closed happily with the Alma Mater." . . . Our basketball team, short on schedule and members, showed plenty of spunk in dunking the Natanis Club from Oakland in their first outing. Players were Captain White, Whittier, Harvey, Maxim, Chase, and one single solitary sub, McKechnie . . . The Girls' basketball team dropped a heartbreaker to Newport High School, 10-0, in what was broadly described by a Newport reporter as "The fastest, closest, most interesting game ever played in the local hall." MCI contestants in this history-maker were Jordan, Estes, Tracey, Copeland and Kennon . . . Editor-in-Chief Homer F. Ray of the MCI was assisted by Mary F. Drake, with a slew of associate editors: Hazel Copeland, Newton Thompson, Myrtle Pushor, Linwood Badger, Rena M. Shepard, Horace Maxim, Helen Libby and Walter Colby. Elmer Goodwin and Jesse Bates handled the many financial problems of this well-written publication. Joke from same: "A little yearning is a dangerous thing," or, if you don't like that one, "Half a loaf is better than no vacation." Well, it seemed funny then . . . The MCI Glee Club made a five-day concert tour that included the towns of Solon, North Anson, Clinton and Albion. Faculty members Haskell, Chorley and Miss Haskell accompanied the breathless musicians, including Moon, Watson, Whittier, Witham, Badger, Chorley, Emery, Robertson, Briggs, Burse, Busell, Buxton, R. E. Moon, Stevens, Goodwin, Haskell, Maxfield, McKechnie, Parsons, and Rogers. Reads like half the school . . . Snow faded, commencement honors parts were announced in April: Valedictory, Dorothy M. Crawford; Salutatory, Helen J. Robinson; Essay, Jennie M. LaDame; Essay, Mildred I. Goodell; Essay, Mary F. Drake . . . Class Day parts assigned: Prophecy, Edna Rummill, Amy Ragan, Neil Briggs, Henry Kingsbury; Historian, Hazel Copeland; Address to Undergraduates, Luther Kenniston; Class Will, Horace Maxim; Class Ode, Mr. Dunbar . . . J. Gardner Witham wrote a blazing article in the MCI, title "Germany Vindicated," urging that Americans better understand the Central Powers. An indication that there was still room for argument on the Kraut question as World War I drew closer for the United States . . . Baseball became the most important topic on campus, and with good reason. The lads won 16 games in an 18 game schedule, both losses to Coburn Classical Institute, doubtless loaded with ringers. Shepard coached, White and Harvey pitched, Austin, Whitten and Maxwell were outstanding defensively. For example, in the last two games: MCI 19 - Bangor 0; MCI 13 - Gardiner 0. The school produced some track whizzes to gladden Captain Wakefield and manager Raymond Blaisdell. At the Maine Meet Clarence Emery won the shotput, "Topsy" Wakefield placed second in the two mile, Carroll Ames placed 3rd in the half mile . . . Absolute crowning smash hit to conclude a long '14-'15 social year was the pageant "The Progress of Women," presented by 100 MCI students, June 15 on the campus lawns. To be sure, women hadn't voted in those days, but from this program had still made quite a splash over the years. Some of the sub-titles: "Woman in the Greek Period," "The Parting of Hector and Andromache," "The American Woman of the Colonies" — underscored with a verse admired by your editor — "Man for the field and woman for the hearth, Man for the sword and for the needle she; Man with the head and woman with the heart, Man to command, and woman to obey." . . . From the last line of the Class of 1915 History: "It is with a feeling half of longing, half of regret, and wholly unrealizing, that we gaze past graduation, and out and away into the future." O Historian, what did we find?

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO —

1929 . . . Registration day was September 10, 1928; can you remember? Alumni Hall, brand new, standing proud and clean, fresh-scrubbed bricks shadow dappled in amber haze of that late summer morning, and at the foot, raw scarred ground where in another year new grass and shrubs might be . . . And lurking in the hall and classrooms a mostly battle-hardened faculty headed by Principal Purinton, with Sanger M. Cook, Frances P. Bearce, Joseph W. Cogan, Roy U. Sinclair, Myrtle V. Main, Marion L. Lord, Clara F. Parnell, Gladys A. Cunningham, Jessie Wheeler, Estelle Bauman and Ruth Plummer Cook, to give heft and balance to the opposition. Almost makes one shudder . . . Routine established itself; a freshman learned that English 1A, Mr. Cook, was held first period in Room 2, except Wednesdays; and that Freshman Bible B, Mrs. Folsom, convened in Room 6 Wednesdays, last period . . . Read and weep ye harried scholars of a more recent generation; classes were out for the day at 2:50 P.M. . . . Those not on detention could watch coach Roy Sinclair and his lads working toward a most frustrating fall of football. Rain and an interminable series of ties and losses made it a long, long season and a wet one. Scores read: MCI-0, Notre Dame (Waterville)-0; MCI-6, Coburn-6; Kents Hill-15, MCI-0; MCI-6, HCI-6; MCI-12, Colby Frosh-12, and so on. Injuries vexed. Stars Modzel-eski, Meader, Gulazian, Morrison, Haley, Balser and Barbour became enshrouded in bandages, hobbled by crutches. Crowning blow came with academic restrictions laid on further participation by uninjured but scholastically lackadaisical Messrs. Webb, Meader, Hackett and Boston, and on the eve of the Colby fray! One good result: coaching up-coming girls' basketball looked progressively more agreeable to glum Roy Sinclair. Now if those darned girls can only stay eligible . . . Field Hockey girls, coached and captained by Edith Spaulding, had an informal schedule, played, from what we can gather, whenever it stopped raining. Mudhens included Doris Gilchrest, Ruth Webber, Marion Louder, Alice Harding, Marion Lagorio, Louise Lagorio, Phyllis Wood, Marguerite Tozer, Winifred Lee, Eleanor Toothaker, Carmelita Provencher, Audrey Thorndike, Frances Wyman, Margaret Humphrey . . . Formal opening of new Alumni Hall took place Friday afternoon and evening, October 19. Dedicatory evening services were at Powers Hall. Featured speakers included Harry W. Rowe, President of the Board of Trustees of MCI and Assistant to the President of Bates College; John Pendleton, Executive Secretary of the United Baptist Convention of Maine; Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, State Commissioner of Education. Greetings were offered by Mary Walker Spear and by Mrs. Betsy Milliken . . . Leap year 1928 nearly over, Dean of Girls Miss Bearce, becoming desperate (says our student reporter), hastily organized a Leap Year Dance, a Masquerade Ball, date: December

Every year we seem to print what is assumed to be the most ancient MCI football picture ever; and each following year find a newer one. But this group from 1896 must represent some kind of a first; there are no records of formal football at MCI before 1898. Shown in this group, not identifiable by row or placement, are Sawyer, John Buck, Felker, Charles Bussell, Urban Willis, Everett Call, Bridgham, Palmer, Carter, Lew Barden, Simmons, Stanley Burrill, and one other. Can you identify?

7; place, Powers Hall. Nedra Bridg- ham and Arthur Haley won prizes for costumes; Freddie Folsom and Pauline Ramsey won the Spot Dance; Edwin McLellan and Marion Louder took Prize Waltz honors. Weirdly garbed and masked revelers instantly recog- nized possibilities of piratical behavior, modified, particularly if several pirates were in the whirling throng. Post- intermission program had the faculty on the stage (a mistake), "to see them- selves as others see them." Jolly! Per- haps it was only coincidence that the Girls' Dorm was campused the follow- ing day . . . First coon-skin coat showed up following Christmas vaca- tion . . . General exodus to neighbor- hood barns for a quick smoke after meals must cease, explained Principal Purinton . . . 1929 Trumpet was staffed by Charlotte Reed, Jessie Spaulding, Judson Flanagan, Grace Quarrington, Phyllis Nelson, Olin Mc- Carthy, Rita Cowan, Daisy DeMeyer, Harold Gates, Clementina Johnston, Frederick Folsom, David Hawes, with Miss Clara Parnell as anxious advisor. . . . Coach Cogan's basketball crew lived up to pre-season billing as they started a very satisfying season. The boys knew they were good when they trimmed an Alumni team early in the schedule, 53-38. The highly regarded Alumni all-stars included Sol Johnson, Tom and Jim Flatley, Parker McClay, Paiement, Brewer, Lancaster, Fergu- son and Newhouse, each a formidable name. During a mid-season invasion of Aroostook County MCI took Milli- nocket High, Houlton and Ricker Classical Institute, all in three days. Good work in anyone's league! . . . And the band played on; or, rather, the orchestra, at Chapel each week on Thursdays. Got pretty good, too. Di- rected by Mrs. Cook, the group be- came favorites at school entertain- ments and local churches. Members included Lois Folsom, Helen Bottom- ly, Nina Humphrey, Kenneth Hardy, Elizabeth Kimball, Frederick Folsom, Dayton Vail, Frances Wyman, Frances Cole, Greta Maloon, Arden Havey, Harold Gates, Olin McCarthy, Car- melita Provencher, Evelyn Farnham, Grace Quarrington, a fine smattering of talent . . . Jokes from 1929: "A pedestrian is an uncertain body, en- tirely surrounded by automobiles." Want more? A Girl in a Dormitory — "Help me catch the Dean — I've been robbed." Second Girl — "All right — which way did she go?" Much better . . . The basketball girls stayed eligible, bringing great joy to Coach Sinclair. They rewarded him with a brilliant 9 win, 1 tie, 1 loss, record. Claimed the State Championship, and who was to refute them? Thumped powerful Gardiner H. S. 51-6 at one notable outing. Captained by veteran Delma Steen, the group included Marion Louder, Edith Spaulding, Phyllis Nelson, Margaret Humphrey, Mary Lagorio, Madeline Coolidge, Nina Crossman, Louise Lagorio, Eliza- beth Kimball and Lois Folsom . . . Commencement Honors were an- nounced in April: Grace Quarrington, Valedictory; Olive Murch, Salutatory; Mabel Prince, Essay; Charlotte Reed, Essay; Clementina Johnston, Essay. A clean sweep for the girls . . . Named for Class Day parts were Frederick Folsom, Chaplain; Harold Gates, Phyllis Nelson, Class Prophecy; Made- line Coolidge, Olin McCarthy, Class Gifts; Jessie Spaulding, Class Oration; Wilbur Austin, Address to Under- graduates; David Hawes, Class Will; Rita Cowan, Class History; Herschal Fowler, Arnold Peabody, Class Mar- shals . . . Track coach Sanger Cook and his lads headed into another fine season, helped plenty by Raymond McLaughlin, Lutrell, McCarthy and the McMichael twins . . . 45 baseball candidates reported to Coach Cogan, soon were trimmed to a handier 25. The season was good, not outstanding. "Lefty" Moors and Collette provided mound strength; Larry Ingraham and Jim Peabody made dangerous stick- men. Fine, dry spring weather per- mitted a 10-game schedule, ending June 5th, the eve of Commencement Weekend . . . June 1929: A splendid time to graduate; booming prosperity, unlimited job prospects, a spiraling stock market, fortunes to be made, and yet . . . Gold winds doeth October bring . . .

SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO —

1947 . . . Doors opened at MCI for the 80th year in September 1946 to admit what was by far the largest en- rollment in the school's history. More than 350 heads were counted in the attendant confusion, with something like 63 boarding boys, 25 of them veterans of W. W. II and, probably, 25 girls registered in the Girls Dorm. It must have been a hectic week of registration; the figures are fuzzy even now; newspaper report at the time gives "between 50 and 60 veterans," counting, we presume, the non-board- ers. One thing was crystal-clear: for the first time in several years boys outnumbered girls, great news to some . . . Braced to meet the onslaught was Principal Howard Niblock, backed by a conglomeration of teaching venerables and cadets, with a slight smattering of journeyman dominies. Listed as instructors were Frances M. Bartlett, Maurice Earle, Barbara A. Blackstone, Lucile de Reynolds, Alice Coolidge, Edward R. Stanley, Paul Legge, Norbert Young, Hazel M. Earle, Roderic L. Smith, Virginia Muzroll, Laurence Muzroll, Dorothy Garland, Dorothy Dingwall . . . Coach Paul Legge was tempted onto a limb by a turnout of more than 50 for football, including 6 lettermen and a gaggle of heavily bearded veterans. Paul, according to the Pittsfield Advertiser of Sept. 12, predicted that this team would be better than last year's Prep School Champs. Perhaps they were . . . It was a rough, tough fall of football, with Legge's shocktroops winning 2, dropping 4, in a murderous schedule that included three college JV squads laden with old hands from the beaches of Anzio, Normandy, Iwo and Okinawa. Listed as survivors at season's end were London, Dahlgren, Henderson, Wright, H. Daley, Logan, G. Fitts, Leggett, Paradis, L. Fitts, Staples, MacDonald, Franchetti, Folsom, Roy, Brown, Thompson, Hood, Friend, Sevigny, Frazier, Shorey, Rosasco, with managers Pinkham and Bertrand . . . Undergrad JV footballers showed promise under coach Muzroll, winning 4, plus one tie. Key men Lendall Dahlgren, Gene Henderson and Bud Wright graduated to the Varsity through this apprenticeship . . . In four days of campus balloting Leon Fish was named president of the Senior Class, with Eugene Henderson, vice president; Irene Bunker, secretary; Edwin Pinkham, treasurer . . . The Juniors named Arey Bryant to their top post . . . Coach of debate Edward Stanley gathered him a glib group to represent MCI in the Prep School League come spring. Tedious preparation theoretically commenced for Zelda Osiason, Ralph Mills, William Shumway, Philip Coburn, Leon Fish, Donald Duncan, David Macken, George Morse, Dorothy Tarbox, Leroy Pinkham, Roberta Brown, Betty Stanchfield, Kathleen Mitchell, Joyce Dow, Emmaleen Stickney, Nancy Tarbox, Gene Brackett, Kenneth Robinson, Basil Tasker, Gerald Cole,

George Peat, Barry Bailey and Nancy Wright . . . The cross country hoofers concluded a so-so fall (five wins, five losses) by soundly trouncing the Farmington State Teachers in their final outing. Top runners all season were Captain Pete Connolly, Bob Libby and Marden Brooks . . . The girls returned to inter-school field hockey, after several years' lapse, with kind of a dull thud. Lost to Cony 4-1 and Kents Hill 1-0, their complete schedule. Wish we could say they learned lots of hockey and rapidly improved, but the truth is that they won not a single game until October, 1949, three years away . . . Anyway, the cheerleaders were unbeatable, no matter how you looked at them. Varsity rabble-rousers were Margaret Webb, Alice Wright, Theresa Sirois, Bernice Wright, Harriet Riley and Jackie Beebe, with understudy JV's, early equally vocal, Margaret Coolbroth, Kathleen Mitchell, Loretta White, Sally Friend and Joan Mills. Jokes of the day (printable) had improved only slightly since school publications of the 1870's, as: Tom Staples — "Did you ever take chloroform?" Roy Zallen — "No, who teaches it?"; or, Visitor — "You say you like it at MCI, but I can't see what you find to keep busy." Bruce Coates — "Neither can I; that's why I like it." Oh, well . . . For the first time in school history basketball candidates were divided into two varsity squads: Preppers and Undergrads. Fifty basketball hopefuls made this move not only possible, but imperative. Coach Legge drilled the Preppers; Laurence Muzroll worked the Undergrads. Preppers galloped through an 18 game schedule with 11 wins, 7 defeats. Outstanding contributors included Captain Jack Leet, John Luke, Roy Peasley, Tony Machaj, Gerald Fitts, Jim Logan, Bill Frazier, Ralph Clark, and Jim McGaffin . . . Basketball girls worked hard and pleased; didn't win every game, shall we say? Their lineup featured L. Catlin, L. White, M. Webb, M. Gallison, B. Kennedy, E. Soule, S. Bradbury, A. Wright, B. Gordon, J. Ames, M.

Shorey, J. Dobson, A. Cox, K. Mitchell, J. Beebe, M. Jipson, J. Jackson and manager T. Sirois. Top whips of a newly created Public Speaking Club were Joan Mills, William Hatch, Theresa Sirois, with Maurice Earle as faculty advisor . . . The winter Carnival Weekend was postponed by sloppy, mushy weather, but no matter, Irene Bunker was popular choice as Carnival Queen, regally attended by Alice Wright, Phyllis Hamilton and Margaret Webb. Outing Club president James Murtha blushing made presentations as flash bulbs popped . . . Margaret Chase Smith, member of Congress from the Second Maine District, was among more than 600 music lovers attending the annual Pop Concert. Outstanding program, directed by Ruth Plummer Cook, with Dorothy Dingwall running a multitudinous chorus through their vocal paces . . . Commencement Honor parts listed Eunice Soule, Valedictorian; Marie Tasker, Salutatorian; Eugene Hamilton, Irene Bunker, and Winfield Tilton, Essayists . . . Big spring news was appointment of C. "Nels" Corey as head football coach for 1947-48 . . . 44 candidates showed up for spring track; 51 applicants clamored for two-dozen baseball uniforms; frustrating sorting jobs for coaches Maurice Earle and Rod Smith . . . Paul Legge was appointed mentor of newly-organized girls' softball, complete with 45 candidates and an 8-game schedule . . . MCI completed a good track season by travelling 20 members to the Bates Relays for the spring finals; they had previously taken meets from Lawrence H. S., Kents Hill, Hartland Academy and Monson. Fitts, Roy, Rosasco and Daley gathered big points at Bates . . . Baseball players won 9, lost 2 . . . Shirley Dunham and William Hatch earned $25 each for their Manson Essay efforts; Shirley's essay, "The Early Life of George Washington"; Bill's topic was "Harold Stassen" . . . Sunday, June 10, and bells tolled the commencement of new hope for 120 seniors, the largest graduating class in School history . . .

Headmaster

Honored

PRINCIPAL EDWARD R. STANLEY was honored by Governor John H. Reed by appointment to the Board of Trustees of the Maine Maritime Academy at Castine, in February 1964. Principal Stanley, who will serve for a 3-year term, was later elected secretary pro-tem of the Board. Administrator of the oath of office was Lester N. Hobbs, chairman of the Governor's Executive Council.

*Highest
Scholastically
Class of

Commencement honor parts were announced by Principal Edward R. Stanley in late March. Our outstanding seniors were, seated from l., Una M. Inman of Pittsfield, 3rd Honor Essayist; Jane R. Woodcock of Pittsfield, Valedictorian.

Standing, from l., R. Glen Wehrwein of Farmingdale, Former Alumni Scholar, Salutatorian; Erle R. Kelley of West Southport, 1st Honor Essayist; James M. Gould of North Jay, 2nd Honor Essayist.

NOTES FROM THE CAMPUS

A giant staff has made the TALISMAN for 1963-64 our best school newspaper in years. New offset printing has also helped. Hard-working advisor Oscar Auger has cracked a stern whip, is shown front row, left.

PUBLICATIONS . . . The Talisman, school newspaper, appeared this fall in a new format, done in offset printing and liberally sprinkled with photos of the current campus scene. The issues have been fat, some as many as 20 pages, and frequent; there have been 6 printings through the middle of April. Faculty advisor Oscar Auger has gathered a talented staff including Editor, Jane Woodcock; Features, Gail Wright; Society, Carleen Cianchette; Sports, Brenda Hickey; Exchanges, Judy Smith and Advertising, Karen Reilly. The Trumpet, senior yearbook since 1913, has again been compiled under the direction of veteran advisor Norbert Young, Sr. Editor of this 51st version of the Trumpet is Carleen Cianchette, assisted by Erle Kelley and Linda Eastman. Athletics editors are Michael Gordon and Una Inman; advertising managers are Joseph Cirillo, Linda Gerald and Carolyn Dutill.

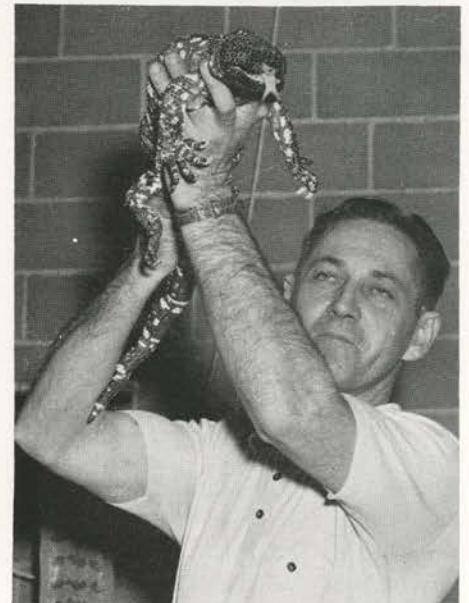

CHAPELS AND ASSEMBLIES . . . Fall, winter and spring sports awards assemblies again have pleasantly disrupted work-a-day classroom schedules by their thrice-yearly appearances. Programs of a more serious nature have enriched the curriculum through a variety of guest artists and speakers, including Chet Mitchell, a trumpet virtuoso and lyric tenor; the Metropolitan Brass Quintet with Albert Ligotti, Donald Benedetti, Arthur Goldstein, Robert Hauck and Lewis Waldeck; an educational program on domestic and foreign reptiles by Chuck Naidl (a real screamer for most of our girls) and an informative discussion of youth and its problems by Francis Henderson, sheriff of Somerset County.

ORGANIZATIONS . . . The International Correspondence Club was organized last spring by Robert Welch and Michael Gordon, then both juniors. Purpose of the club is to promote international understanding at a teen-age level through the medium of letters. From intensive spade work done by Welch and Gordon last spring and summer, has come a full-fledged MCI organization, replete with advisor, Mr. Gerald Richards, and a staff of officers: Sandra Rich, president; Barbara Vigue, vice president; and Christine Welch, secretary-treasurer. Our MCI Chapter, Future Homemakers of America, has been under the capable presidency of Olive Knowles, with Dorothy Creasy, Susan Smith, Marnelle Madore and Linda Debay as key assistants. The FHA girls have sponsored a series of dances, have been active in area and State programs of FHA, have conducted a vigorous "Tidy Coon" anti-litter campaign and, perhaps most important, spent hours in house-to-house solicitation for the Heart Fund. FHA advisors are Mrs. Betty Webber and Mrs. Alice W. Sinclair. The Romans of the Modern Era, formerly the Latin Club, opened their social season, as would any good Latins, with a pizza party. Our Romans vied mightily for the hottest pizzas and coolest cokes; and thus inspired they selected a beatnik dance as their next cultural project. We fear that the Romans are a gay, giddy lot, with their minds mostly on food; the final bust each season is a Latin Banquet and all that it implies, within reason, although somewhat confined by its Home Ec Lab setting and resolute chaperonage of advisor Mrs. Hazel M. Earle. President of this wild lot was Una M. Inman.

KEY CLUB . . . The MCI Key Club continues as the School's service organization, with a strong program of social activities and fund raising promotions directed toward the betterment of the School. On October 19 Miss Carole Daily was chosen "Key Club Sweetheart" at the Key Club sponsored Fall Prom, held in conjunction with Parents' Weekend. On October 23 the club honored faculty and parents at an appreciation banquet in the dining rooms of the First Universalist Church, Pittsfield. Peter J. Bradshaw, chairman of the history faculty, entertained a well-fed throng with slides of beauty spots in Maine. The club has produced a model assembly for the student body and in mid-winter sponsored its annual "Sno-Ball Weekend," this year without the snow. Key Club advisors are Wesley V. Ryder and Donald Murphy.

LECTURER - HERPETOLOGIST Charles Naidl gingerly displays a deadly banded lizard from Mexico, at a student assembly of unusual interest. A number of lively assemblies have been presented throughout the school year.

PRIZE SPEAKING AND MANSON ESSAYS . . . One thing each year becomes more evident: whatever are the failings of our younger generation, they are not faults of articulation. Alumni Prize Speakers and Manson Essayists were better this year than ever, a statement that appears each Alumnus issue in these spaces. It's purely the truth. Competing this winter for cash awards provided by the Alumni Association were sophomores Linda Abbott, Anna Parker, Alison Baird, and Frances Nash; Freshmen Nancy Christie, Erica Susi, Randy Atwater, Nancy Jones, Susan Haseltine and Geneva Small. Declared winners, after much soul-searching by perplexed judges, were Linda Abbott and Nancy Christie in the sophomore and freshman divisions respectively, and second prizes were awarded to Frances Nash and Geneva Small. At the 94th consecutive Manson Essay Contest Peter Susi took top honors for boys, Brenda Hickey was adjudged best of the girls. Peter's prize winner was "Far Right — Right or Wrong"; Brenda's essay was entitled "Plato's Lost Continent, Atlantis." Named to honorable mention were Gail Wright and Roy Pettengill.

DRAMA . . . A new format for the traditional fall series of one-act plays was successfully introduced this year by Frances C. Piper, chairman of the English faculty. Each undergraduate class provided its own productions, giving a full evening of 4 one-act plays. Acclaimed winners were the frosh thespians, directed by Mrs. Anna H. Furbush, with stellar performances by Brian Brown in a demanding part; Valerie Stein, Pamela Cole, Geneva Small, Thompson Webster and Jane Stafford. Sophomores played "The Laughing Ghost," directed by frowning Mrs. Margaret S. Witham of the English Faculty and supported by Mary Lyon, Rex Fowler, Allison Baird, Frances Nash, Paulette Shaw, Norbert Young, Jr., and Linda Abbott. Junior actors presented "Drums in the Night," a mystery, presented by Mrs. Frances Piper, featuring Gail Wright, Daniel Webster, Nancy Bennett, Diane Conlogue, Brenda Hickey, John Lord, and Patty Russell. Seniors offered "Seeds of Suspicion," a drama, directed by F. Peter Williams and Oscar Auger, with Donna Shorey, Jane Woodcock, Carleen Cianchette, Judy Smith, Lowell Martin, Gerald

Buker and Richard Carey. In January students interested in dramatics and forensics visited the campus of the University of Maine to attend a speech clinic. Visitors were treated to selections from Shakespeare, a program of Maine folklore and a lecture on authors from the state of Indiana, all of the above stressing thematic programming, the object of the clinic.

MUSIC . . . Director of music Ted Burgoyne continued his ambitious plans for three major concerts each year, as well as more or less continuous direction of band, orchestra, chorus and several vocal ensembles. As always with Burgoyne productions, the results were polished and of consistently high calibre. A variety show in November, "Campus Capers," was enthusiastically received, with enough resulting proceeds to purchase a bass clarinet for the School. The annual Christmas Concert in December was presented in conjunction with the Vickery School Band and Orchestra. The spring Pop Concert in early April was again a crowning artistic success, featuring the MCI Band and Chorus, as well as a number of talented soloists and vocal groups. Considerable credit for the increased stature of MCI's musical program must go to the Friends of Music, a group of Pittsfield residents banded to promote and publicize the School's musical efforts.

DORMITORY COUNCILS, CLASS OFFICERS . . . Dorm councils continue important in maintaining dormitory social disciplines and as liaison to the school administrative offices. Elected to head Weymouth Hall were William P. Thombs, president; Cordell L. Snow, vice president; Philip A. Cook, Jr., secretary; Joseph P. Mooney, treasurer. Council officers for Alumni Hall have been Thomas W. Savage, president; Donald T. Appleby, vice president; Daniel M. Webster, secretary; Melvin S. Brody, treasurer. The Alumni Hall council this spring conducted a "Work Week," making Alumni Hall labor available to residents of the Pittsfield area; purpose, to raise money for the Alumni Hall Scholarship Fund which helps to support a deserving student each year in the dormitory. Dorm Council executives of Rowe Hall included Robert H. Love, president; Hamilton P. Gross, secretary; Theodore M. Grant, treasurer.

Unwilling time spent in afternoon study hall kept this freshman basketball team from achieving its full potential. Coach Bill White (not shown) had great difficulty in raising a quorum for some key games. No, they did not win them all.

MCI IN SPORTS

PREPPER FOOTBALL . . . 1963 marked the end of postgraduate "Prepper" football at MCI. Football for PG's only, began in 1946 when hordes of muscular super-charged veterans of World War II precluded scheduling other than college freshmen and JV's, or top-flight prep school opposition. More recently, with increasingly larger numbers of postgraduate students more interested in matters academic than football, Prepper teams have not only been thin numerically but have found themselves pitted against college freshman powerhouses ready, willing and able, in many cases, to chew up their own varsity at the tweet of a whistle. The difficult decision to discontinue Prepper football was made in September, altho not announced until late November. The season of 1963 should indicate why the step was required. Coach Al Card with a squad that numbered 21, before injuries, looked forward in September to a jolly fall bumping heads, in too rapid succession, with Phillips Exeter Academy, Maine Frosh, Colby Frosh, U. of Mass. Frosh, Maine Frosh (again!), Bowdoin Frosh, and Bridgton Academy. Too little vs. too, too much. The Preppers won none, gallantly appeared for each game. All were brave, but named as outstanding members of the Last Preppers were Bruce Cushing, Frank Mirabito, Bob Love, Paul Landry and Jay Viles.

UNDERGRAD HUSKIES FOOTBALL . . . The undergraduate Huskies, directed by coach Bob Boulrisse and assistant F. William "Bill" White, this year entered the spanking new Class B Pine Tree Conference and did right well for themselves by winning 2, dropping 5, in much tougher competition than Huskies in past years have had to face. Injuries hampered throughout the season, and by the final game with powerhouse Madison (State Class B. Champs) coach Boulrisse had dug well into his bag of reserves. Named winners of the undergrad Coaches' Trophy were lineman Pete Susi and halfback Bruce Stafford, both juniors with considerable ability. JV Huskies played a 5 game schedule under coach Al Murray, winning 1, losing 4 by decently narrow margins. Freshman footballers under coach Bill

Last of a hard breed were the football Preppers for Fall, 1963. Postgraduate MCI football for the foreseeable future ended Saturday, November 9, 1963 in driving rain at Bridgton Academy, score 13-8, Bridgton. Outmanned, never outfought, our Last Preppers included, first row, from left: Jon Saleeby of Norway, Robert Menucci of Winchester, Mass., Francis Mirabito of Norwich, N. Y., Bruce Cushing of Keene, N. H., Joseph Mooney of Milton, Mass., Russ Sponsler of Kittery, Dennis Frost of Dexter. Second row: Robert Coffey of Arlington, Mass., Larry Watt of Greenville, John Whaley of Hemet, Calif., William Schweitzer of Stratford, Conn., Stephen Milley of Westwood, Mass., Michael Baldacci of Bangor, Daniel Webster of Stoughton, Mass. Third row: Roderic Tibbetts of Westbrook, Jay Viles of Weston, Mass., Ronald Zenga of Winchester, Mass., Paul Landry of Gloucester, Mass., Walter Bassett of Lovell, Maine, David Blanchard of Lewiston, Robert Love of Braintree, Mass. Back: Coach Al Card, managers William Bauer of Lisbon Falls, Burns Knowlton of Pittsfield, David Marsh of Bath. Joe Mooney, Bruce Cushing were co-captains.

Burton (MCI '58) won none out of three but pleased their rabid fans with a wild, open, passing attack and dazzling series of reverses that baffled the most seasoned observers during the fading dusk of their late season, early evening contests.

CROSS COUNTRY . . . Coach Norbert Young, senior member of the MCI coaching staff, had fair team balance but lacked consistent front-runners in his Fall of '63 hill-and-dalers. Bob Ballard, Mike Gordon, Stan Walus, Randy Parker and Dick Rodgers placed well throughout the season. Norby's troops outran the Bowdoin Frosh and Hinckley School, but trailed Old Town High School (always outstanding in Maine schoolboy running), Bangor High and Hebron Academy in other meets. Our weary hoofers placed a decent third in the State Cross Country Meet; are loaded with talent for another year. The Maurice L. Earle Trophy was awarded to top runner Bob Ballard.

SOCCER . . . A large lack of soccer players, for the first time in several years, made it impossible for coach Rod Smith to field both varsity and JV squads. Big, strapping lads that Rod had earlier somewhat coveted to bolster his lean teams were found of fall afternoons in interdorm touch football,

THE UNDERGRAD FOOTBALL HUSKIES, in their first year with the tough Class B Pine Tree Conference, won 2, dropped 5, in much tougher competition than previous Huskies have faced. Many are juniors and consensus of conference opinion is that the Huskies will be formidable another season.

daintily plucking handkerchiefs from opponents dungarees to signify a tag. The boys he did have were not in the slightest discouraged by physical slam-bang; there were some woolly battles on the soccer fields. Co-captains Jose Borbolla and Dan King led their undermanned platoons to victories over Curn Academy and the Hinckley School, a tie with Hinckley, and losses to Kents Hill (twice), Hebron Academy and St. Dominique. Considerable fire was shown by most players; named as outstanding by Coach Smith were Dave Rideout, Jose Borbolla, Dan King, Ken Sachs and Brent Washburn. For future reference: Next year with no Prepper football and the strong possibility of player limitations for touch-football, look for king-sized soccer squads and consequent better records.

SOCCER AT MCI has grown yearly more popular. With the dropping of Prepper Football next fall, there should be an even greater surge of interest in the rugged sport. Undermanned in 1963, the MCI booters won two, tied one, and lost four games.

FIELD HOCKEY . . . Field hockey fortunes for coach Malaka "Tookie" Russell's roughnecks did not hang high in the Fall of '63. True, the Varsity won 2, lost 3 and tied 1, for an average-type record, and the JV's did only slightly less in winning 1, losing 2, and tying 1. But the schedule was a frustrating thing, caused in major part by the School's policy of playing fall games on Wednesday afternoons and Saturdays only. Yes, you guessed it; most area schools plan hockey for Tuesdays and Thursdays. MCI girls played Hinckley twice, Kents Hill twice and Cony twice, good opponents, probably too good, but certainly lacking in variety. Our Kamikaze Kids thumped Hinckley handily on each occasion, lost twice to ancient rivals Kents Hill, split with Cony. Enough of excuses! Named Eastern Maine All Stars were Jane Woodcock, Carole Daily, Linda Clukey, Malaka Russell and Elaine Gould. Winner of the coveted Malaka Russell Hockey Award, made for excellence in the sport, was stormy, long-winded Jane Woodcock, bold beyond measure in a game where all are bold.

HIGH-SPIRITED field hockey girls did not expend all of their energies on the playing fields, but frequently found strength for pyramids — particularly should a photographer wander on the scene.

POSTGRADUATE BASKETBALL

. . . Basketball Preppers under soft-spoken Lennie MacPhee turned in one of the finest records of recent Preppers history. Defeated in the New England Prep School Tournament finals by Worcester Academy, the MacPheemen had blasted an 11-5 record prior to tourney time thru the likes of Maine Maritime Academy, St. Francis Academy, Bowdoin Frosh, Kents Hill, and the Bates JV's in a repeat. Losses were to the potent Colby Frosh in two contests, one by 1 point; the Maine Frosh, U. of Maine, Portland, and Bridgton Academy. Forced to a play-off with Bridgton to settle the Maine State Prep School Championship, the willing Preppers swamped these old rivals. Despite limited space, we must name these champions: Bob Rymsha, Les Hinckley, Tom Kelley, Dick Lane, Tom Pickford, Bruce Cushing, Tony Zirilli, Don Fate, John Bouchard, Harold Bombard, Bob Love, Joe Kelley, Larry Watt, and managers Burns Knowlton, George Paige, Rod Tibbetts.

THE UNDERGRADUATE BASKETBALL HUSKIES made a sincere bid for State Tournament consideration, just missed through a 9-7 record, with all losses to tournament-bound teams. This club, mostly juniors, will be primed for another year.

UNDERGRAD HUSKIES BASKETBALL . . . Huskies, under the seasoned direction of John M. Shields and Mort Remick, narrowly missed the Eastern Maine Tournament, played an exciting brand of basketball always. They knit themselves a sound 9-7 record and, significantly, all of their losses were to tournament-bound teams. A good defensive club, the highest scored against them was 81 points on one disastrous occasion, by potent Madison. Average scores against the Huskies were about 55 points, with, of course, a few lamentable exceptions. The nucleus of the squad will return for 1964-65, good news for MCI coaches, rather saddening to the rest of the conference. The JV's showed considerable promise (as we invariably say) in winning 4 and dropping 11. Not really a sound percentage but coach Dennis Brown's crew learned basketball under mostly disheartening circumstances; that is, losing. The Freshmen also lost, and very graciously, 4 out of 5 scheduled games. Coach Bill White taught his disciples good manners as well as rudiments of the game, instructed his manager how to count to ten, and didn't lose a jersey. Rather a good winter, feels Bill.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL . . . Girls' Basketball, with Prepper Basketball, was a bright mark on the winter sports calendar. Varsity girls won 5, lost 2; the JV girls ran roughshod through a 7-game schedule, winning every game. Losing only to Foxcroft Academy and Kents Hill, our Varsity girls then beat those two upstarts and added Farmington, Crosby (twice), and Farmington to their list of victims. As noted, the fireball JV's thumped all their JV counterparts. Coach "Tookie" Russell will lose only three seniors from her varsity; Jane Woodcock, Malaka

Russell and manager Carol Gould. There will be plenty of replacements from the talented JV's and JV Manager Kathy Sweet was coming along nicely late in the season. Sue Slate, a junior, was awarded the Girls' Basketball Trophy, presented for outstanding sportsmanship.

SKI TEAM . . . The 1963-64 ski season included no meetings other than the Class B Regional meets and the Class A finals. All else was curtailed for lack of skiable snow. Doesn't sound like the Pittsfield we knew. There was a mild dusting in December, just enough to stir a bit of excitement; a two-week thaw in January which left the ground as bare as Boon Island; no snow whatsoever in February; and then late in March when it was too darned late, 5 or 6 inches. Western Maine did a bit better. The Class B Regionals were conducted there, with MCI taking all the marbles for the Eastern Maine Class B crown. At the Class A meet, somewhat later and also in Western Maine, coach Bob Boul-risse's sno-birds finished 8th in a field of 10. No chance to practice near Pittsfield. The 13 skiers representing MCI had little chance to display their talents, but the performance of John Reifschneider, a junior, in the Class B's earned him the skimeister award.

Varsity Basketball Girls completed one of their finest winters in years, winning 5, losing only two. Coach Russell will drop only two varsity players through graduation, will have some fine reserves available from her undefeated JV's.

MCI BUILDERS

The MCI BUILDERS, twenty-six in number to April 21, 1964, have thus far contributed $4,317.00 to the current Alumni Department Fund Effort, entitling them to distinction as "builders" of our expanding School.

MCI is grateful to its Builders, whose gifts in the amount of $100 or more represent the solid base on which your Alumni Association's efforts stand.

The current Alumni Development Fund will terminate on August 15, 1964. Final complete listings, including the leading Classes in the several categories, will be published at that time and mailed to all MCI Alumni as part of the Fall News-Letter.

A LIVING ENDOWMENT

Although the current Alumni Development Fund effort will not end until August 15, 1964, your Alumni Association is more than proud to make this interim report. Since the start of our Fund Year in August 1963 there have been 434 contributions totaling $7,512.50, all received during the 9-month period to April 21, 1964. This is a notable achievement and it now appears assured that when the present effort ends in August that our Alumni and Friends, for the third consecutive year, will have established new highs in both number of donors and total gifts. The funds provided will continue to help reduce the indebtedness outstanding on Rowe Hall as well as to provide the $1,000 needed to support the Alumni Scholarships now provided by the Association.

Membership to the Dollar-A-Year Club — earned by those whose gifts equal or surpass in dollars the number of years since graduation from MCI — has already been granted to 49. In the following listings, Dollar-A-Year Club membership is indicated by bold type; parentheses indicate the number of contributions since the start of the present Fund Effort.

Complete and final listing will be published in our Fall News-Letter and will be mailed to all Alumni at the termination of our Fund Year in August.

To all listed below, the School's sincere gratitude!

RIFLE TEAMS . . . Small-bore rifles have crackled like popcorn this winter from the 50-foot range in the basement of the Institute Building, occasionally to the bewilderment of late-calling salesmen in the business office directly overhead. Rifle teams in Senior, Junior and Girls' divisions were active from early winter preparing themselves for their series of interschool matches and Postal League competition. The marksmen have been coached by faculty sharpshooters Frank Haseltine and Blake Bartlett, who are very, very careful in their choice of rifle team candidates.

INTER-DORM COMPETITION . . . Weymouth Hall, last year's winners of the then-new "All Point Trophy," is being seriously challenged as we go to press (mid-April) by Rowe Hall, with final tallies available in only three sports. Alumni Hall must depend on good results from chess, cribbage, and pool to be a contender in late May when official results are added. In touch football we find: Weymouth Hall 130; Rowe Hall 110; Alumni Hall 0. Bowling: Rowe Hall 167.5; Weymouth Hall 52.5; Alumni Hall 30. Basketball: Rowe Hall 120; Weymouth Hall 95; Alumni Hall 10.

Too late for inclusion in last year's ALUMNUS, sports results from the Spring of '63 may stir some memories. In any event, they are well worth reporting.

TRACK . . . Coached by Norbert Young, Sr. and former track star Werner Beyer, MCI won dual meets with the Colby Frosh and a strong Bangor High School contingent, later placed second in the State Prep School Meet at Hebron. Real strength was provided by Harvey McGuire in the dashes and high jump, Jim Harrington in the mile, and Glen Wehrwein in the dashes and high jump. Harrington established a new School record for the mile, in 4:38.2. Only losses were to the Bowdoin and Maine Frosh.

PREPPER BASEBALL . . . Coach Al Card left his undergrad Huskies last spring to instruct Prepper baseball. He may have been sorry he did. The Preppers won two, lost 4, in a season abbreviated by a long winter and frequent downpours. Brightest spot was a thumping administered to Maine

BIG QUESTION: Is girls' rifle instructor Blake Bartlett flinching or dozing while his sharpshooters pepper away in the subterranean depths of the Institute Building? The girls, Blake has found, make fine, steady marksmen, frequently outshooting the boys in interclub meets.

Maritime Academy, later champions of the New England College Conference. Perhaps tuckered by this surprise win, the Preppers then took only the Hebron game; they lost to the Maine Frosh twice; Colby and Bowdoin Frosh once each. Outstanding baseball Preppers were Norm Tardiff, Jim Pereira, Walt Nelson and pitcher Bill Pidgeon.

HUSKIES BASEBALL . . . The Huskies, temporarily deserted by coach Al Card, came on strong for new leader Kemp Pottle, winning 6 out of 7 games, most by decisive margins. In fact, during the season the Huskies scored a total of 70 runs to opponents' 13. Pitching by Leon Southard, Ron Friend and Tom Savage baffled Waterville, Kents Hill, Hinckley, Crosby of Belfast; only ones not fooled were Winslow, edging the Huskies 5-3.

GOLF . . . John Dana and assistant Peter Bradshaw again coached MCI sandblasters to a winning season in the late, moist spring of 1963, for the umptieth year of consecutive successful schedules. The swingers won 4, lost 3; beating the Maine Frosh, Maine Maritime Academy, Bowdoin Frosh (some of them twice) and losing to U. of Maine, Portland, Rockland High, and the Maine Frosh in a late meeting. Consistently best golfers were Bob Smith, Jon Haynes, Craig Banton and Charlie MacLennon.

BEST SPORTS RECORD for the school year was set by the JV basketball girls. They ran undefeated through a 7-game schedule, should all be back another season for coach Mrs. John Russell.

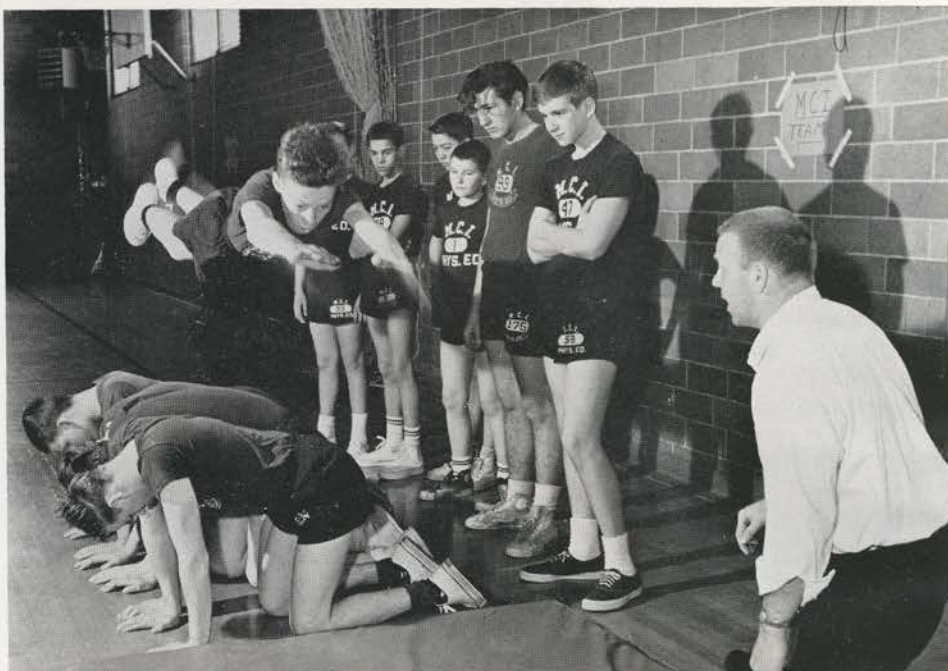

GIRLS' SOFTBALL . . . Coach Russell's girls drew good crowds to their home contests in what must be considered a well-balanced schedule of softball. They won 3, lost 3, and the JV's kept it that way with 1 win, 1 loss. Even the scores seemed to average out. MCI scored 139 runs in the 6 game schedule; opponents scored 131. Yes, there were some lengthy innings. The Iva C. Cregnole Softball Trophy was earned by Viola Clukey, one of MCI's most versatile girl athletes. And also named for outstanding play were Jean Ann Bagley, Patricia Rodgers and Mary Burch.

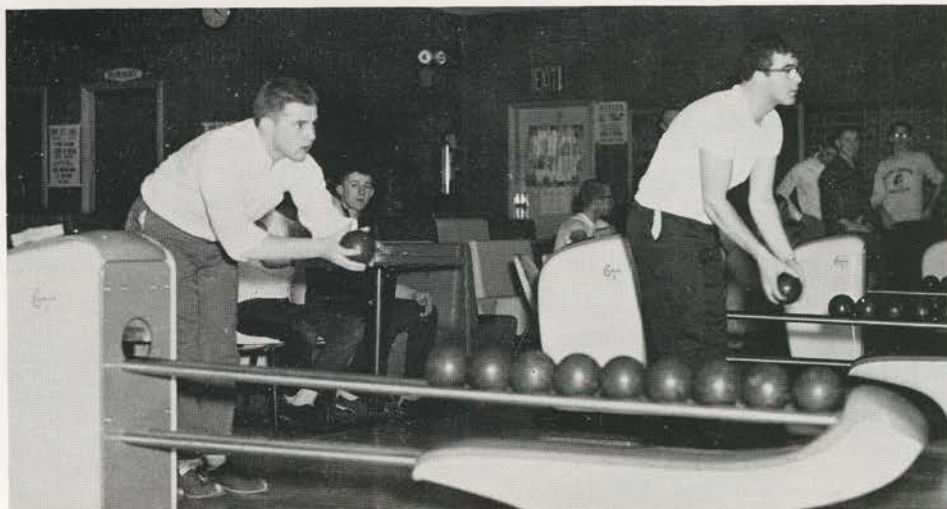

Bob Ballard, a consistently strong front-runner, was awarded the Maurice L. Earle Cross Country Trophy for excellence in the sport.

The Malaka Russell Field Hockey Trophy, awarded for excellence in the sport, was won by aggressive, intelligent Jane Woodcock '64, a three-sport athlete, Valedictorian of her Class.

SPECTACULAR DIVES are only part of the phys-ed program conducted daily at the Parks Memorial Gymnasium by director of physical education Albert L. Card, MCI '49. Al runs his troops through a solid program of volleyball, basketball, kickball and gymnastics.

Pittsfield's new Bowl-Rite Lanes and Recreation Center, located on South Main St., about two minutes from Campus, is a popular free-hour spot, as well as battlefield for the inter-dorm Bowling Championships. This bowling and pool facility, one of the finest in the state, was built last summer.

MCI skiers again won the Eastern Maine Divisional Championships, almost habitual in recent years, but could thereafter find little snow on which to practice or compete until the State Meet held later in Western Maine. Snow level all winter was not more than ankle deep on Campus lawn, even less on the wind-blown Pinnacle Slopes.

1883 Bates College received among its many bequests a substantial amount from the Hartford, Conn., Bates Alumni Club, to be used for the purchase of books in philosophy in memory of the late Rev. Roscoe Nelson, MCI '83, who died in November 1961 at the age of 100.

1892 Florence Young Bean has recently moved from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to Owls Head, Maine.

1893 Annie Gilman Crowell of Corinna, Maine, during this past winter has made gifts of pictures taken of her Class and other mementos to MCI. The School is more than grateful for these additions to its growing collection of MCI memorabilia.

1900 - 1904

Class Agent

EARLE N. VICKERY

Libby St., Pittsfield, Maine

1900 After twelve winters in Florida Herman R. Mansur has decided that Maine the year-around is plenty good enough. Certainly the open winter of 1963-64 would not disprove Herman's theory! After fifteen years of retirement he is still going strong but has found, like many others, that retirement dollars are not as good as when he quit.

1901 Lena Butler Richards of Hartland, Maine, invited a group of friends, some of whom had not met for 60 years, to a dinner at her home during early spring. Among those entertained were Allison P. Howes '98 of Palmyra, Iona Willis Kierstead '06 of Harmony, and Vivian Laugh-ton James '01 of Berlin, New Hampshire.

1902 Orel M. Bean was among four distinguished citizens honored by the Woburn (Mass.) Lodge of Elks at a Civic Appreciation Banquet in June 1963. The Banquet was held to honor citizens whose long and dedicated careers have followed the highest traditions of outstanding service to the community. Orel's citation emphasized that as a retired principal of the Woburn High School many leaders of civic, professional and business life in Woburn and elsewhere graduated from high school during his direction and stewardship.

1903 Dr. Carl Stevens observed his 78th birthday on October 18, 1963 at Belfast, Maine, where he has practiced for fifty years. Dr. Carl still maintains an active medical practice and stoutly maintains that he would not know what to do should he retire. Asked by a reporter from the Bangor Daily News what advice he might give aspiring young doctors, Dr. Stevens replied, "The Lord knows we need plenty of good medical men. First of all one needs good health and shouldn't think of the field at all if he doesn't have that. I would advise, as they did years ago, that a young doctor go into general practice for two or three years before specializing." Dr. Stevens lost his wife in 1959. They had raised two children, a son and a daughter, both married and living in New Jersey. There are six grandchildren.

Hugh F. Goodwin and brother Stuart W. Goodwin were most welcome visitors to campus during the annual Mid-Summer Alumni Homecoming, and obviously enjoyed renewing old friendships. Stuart is a resident of Norway, Maine; Hugh spends summers in North Berwick, Maine, and winters in Florida.

1904 Agnes Vaughn Woods has moved from Pittsford, N. Y., and now resides at 120 Wildwood St., Winchester, Mass.

Our latest address for Lula Stiles Barstow is 6 Clifton Ave., Beverly, Mass. She had formerly lived in Jamaica Plain, Massachusetts.

AMY PORTER

Dr. "George I" is going strong and is still being honored by his whole community. This year it was expressed on his 80th birthday.

Archie Hayden is living near his daughter's family in East Madison, N. H. They have a big ski slope, a ski school in January, a big ski barn, and an inn where they can care for a hundred and seventy guests a day. He has five grandchildren—one teaching, one in college, one in high school, and two in the grades. A fine family.

Vera Bryant Kendall has written of her husband's death last September after over two years of suffering and surgery. She has spent this last winter in the Eastland Motor Hotel in Portland. Her daughter, Barbara Kendall Ireland, lives in Concord, Mass., where her husband is superintendent of schools. Barbara has one son through school and working, one in Bates, and a daughter in high school.

Olive Dyer Partridge has suffered from a serious back ailment for over a year. It required wearing a brace so heavy that she could not even wait on herself. By last summer she was enough better so that they made the trip home from Florida in June and back again in November. We hope she may be able to be at Reunion this year.

Zana Prescott has moved to an apartment in a large retirement home, formerly the Exeter Home. Her address is 720 Seneca St., Seattle, Washington.

Mary Webster Patton was glad to be off the ranch and living in the hamlet last winter, especially in hunting season. Her address is Lundbreck, Alberta, Canada.

Mildred Schermerhorn is recovering from a broken hip—her second in twelve years. It happened early in January, so she should be back in her own home now at 508 East Second St., Jamestown, N. Y.

Mary Sweetland's eyes are failing but she still writes fine letters. And Adah Clark Brown's husband is still writing many letters for her. We have a wonderful class in the way they keep in touch with each other.

Our class "in-laws" are still very loyal. We shall be hoping to see Bill Schenk and Mrs. Snow at Reunion. Mrs. Magoon has just recovered from a broken hip and is back in her home after months in hospital or under nurses' care.

Class Agent

HARRY W. ROWE

374 College St., Lewiston, Maine

Wallace L. Barney has closed out his large and successful Rexall Drugstore in Jackman, Maine, and now, fortunate chap, spends considerable time during the summers at his Greenville cottage on Moosehead Lake as well as winters in the South.

Harry W. Rowe at the organization meeting of the New League of Historical Societies and Museums was chosen as an Incorporator and Secretary of the Corporation.

Busy summers with her "Beacon Street Farm" has been Mildred Manter Jackson. And busy it must be! There are 68 trees, bushes and shrubs; 11 flower beds and boxes; two medium sized and two very large lawns. With her work for assorted public activities—the most important of which is the Boston Ethical Society—Mildred surely must spend some strenuous days. The latchstring is always out at her home on 723 Beacon St., Newton Centre 59, Massachusetts, for all the 1906 boys and girls!

Our latest address for Cynthia Rollins Harris is 25 Otis St., Bangor, Maine. Cynthia previously lived in Newport, Maine.

Ethel M. Reed has been spending the winter months with her sister at Summit, N. J. Ethel's permanent and summer address is Northeast Harbor, Maine.

Class Agent

FREDERICK R. WEYMOUTH
RFD No. 2, West Valley, N. Y.

Our latest address for Dr. Perley L. Russell is 1207 Hamilton Blvd., Hagerstown, Md.

Roy M. Strout is living in Hebron, Maine, and enjoying himself in that lovely town. He retired in 1955 after serving for 34 years as principal of the Pittsfield High School.

1908

Class Agent

LEO W. BLAISDELL
Franklin, Maine

Isa Herrick Packard and her late husband made their home in Wrentham, Massachusetts for 34 years of their 43 years of married life. Her husband Charles passed away in 1956. Isa has two children: Laurence, with the Great Scott Markets in Providence, R. I., has three grown daughters; Louise is married to Eugene Elliott of "The Billy Graham Films," and has three daughters, Donna, Patti Jean, and Darlene. Isa makes her home in Harmony, Maine, during the summer months, and in the winter lives with her daughter and family in Middletown, N. Y. She and Nellie B. Allen of Brattleboro, Vt., had a grand time with classmates and friends at the MCI Midsummer Homecoming last August.

We are sorry to hear that Flora G. Ames has been confined to a wheelchair with arthritis. Flora lives with her son; her husband passed away in 1962. Her address is Mercer Ave., RD No. 1, Norridge-wock, Maine. She would love to hear from old schoolmates.

Class Agent Leo W. Blaisdell has been polishing his golf game all winter at Clearwater Beach, Florida. Leo, should you have forgotten, married Margaret Moore Sprague in December 1916 and has three daughters and eleven grandchildren. Leo is one of the most active "retired" persons one could possibly imagine.

Our newest address for Vera C. Libby is Powellhurst Nursing Home, 13033 S. E. Halgate Blvd., Portland 36, Oregon. She would certainly be pleased to hear from old friends.

1910

Class Agent

SADIE SANFORD MCCRILLIS
31 Hartland Ave., Pittsfield, Maine

The many friends of Hazel Young Grinnell were saddened to hear of the death of her husband, Frank B. Grinnell, this winter at San Diego, California. The Grinnells were vacationing at La Jolla, California, at the time of his death. Mr. Grinnell, a Newcastle, Maine, business man, was active in Republican political circles and was a member of the Republican town committee and was Lincoln County chairman for the Reed for Governor Committee. Survivors include Mrs. Grinnell and a son, Lt. Frank B. Grinnell, Jr. '47, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y. All members of the MCI Family extend their deepest sympathy.

Class Agent

EARLE A. HARDING
2301 Ridgeway Road
Wilmington, Delaware

Class Agent Earle A. Harding has done a notable job of compiling notes for his far-flung constituency, and it is with real pleasure and appreciation that we reproduce them here.

Adelbert Bridges: After graduation was employed as a bookkeeper by W. A. Bean & Sons until 1918, and the First National Bank of Bangor until 1927 when it was consolidated with the Merrill Trust Company. Adelbert, or Del, as we knew him, steadily advanced in the organization and retired in 1956 as vice president. As a sideline Del at one time operated three blueberry farms. He and Mrs. Bridges now reside at 796 Union St., Bangor, Me.

Clifford L. Burrill: Clifford writes that he suffered a stroke October 27, 1962, which left his left side paralyzed, but now reports that he has improved to such a degree that he went to Thayer Hospital (Waterville, Maine) in the spring of 1963 for additional therapy. This is indeed good news, Cliff, and 1911 is pulling for your recovery.

Mildred Bartlett Walker: After graduating from MCI Mildred trained for the nursing profession in Lewiston, Maine. She has continued her interest professionally and assisted in physical education with the school system as well as a Well-Baby clinic. As a hobby Mildred is interested in animal welfare, searching out good homes for stray dogs and cats. Mildred and her family reside in Eliot, Maine.

Inez Chapman Bridgman (Mrs. Winslow): Has lived practically all her life in Pittsfield, and now resides at 64 Detroit Ave., Pittsfield, Maine.

Harry M. Chatto: Harry came to our class at MCI from Brooksville, Maine, graduated from Bowdoin in 1915, and M.I.T. in 1923. After 25 years with General Electric as an engineer, he resigned to become a consultant for Automatic Machinery Co. This has continued to the present. Harry now lives at 22 Centre St., Cambridge, Mass.

Nina Cunningham Goodwin: Mr. and Mrs. Atwood B. Goodwin observed their 50th wedding anniversary with Open House Sunday afternoon and evening August 11, 1963. The arrangements were made by their two sons and families, and was held at their home, 57 Lee St., Lincoln, Maine. Nearly 200 friends and relatives came bearing gifts and messages expressing continued good health and happiness.

Fern Hoxie Webendorfer (Mrs. Walter): Fern's mother passed away after a lingering illness and MCI '11 join hands in expressing great sympathy in her great loss. Fern reports that following graduation from MCI she attended Emerson College, taught school for a few years. Later she was made manager for the Detroit Importing Tea Co., a position which she held for 7 years. Fern has a daughter and a young grandson. Her present address is 15 Forest St., Pittsfield, Maine.

Rena Jones Chandler writes that her husband Clayton V. Chandler suffered a nervous collapse in May 1963 which made retirement necessary. Rena has now become the family chauffeur and reports three short but interesting trips in New England and New York. Ceramics and painting have afforded her many happy and interesting hours, consequently she possesses a substantial collection of authentic copies of Royal Daulton figurines. She has served 2 years as president of her local Women's Club, 2 years as Seventh District Director, and 2 years as a member of the State Council of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. Rena's address is 57 Hall Avenue, Watertown 72, Mass.

Earle A. Harding: Earle made one trip this year which took him through New York and New England where he visited friends, relatives and classmates. He also attended Home Coming activities at MCI.

Ruth Runnals Lyon (Mrs. Clyde): A major operation early in 1963 confined Ruth to the hospital for a while; we are glad to report, however, that she has made a fine recovery and back to her normal self. Present address is MDB, Augusta, Maine.

Myron C. Peabody: Upon graduating from MCI in 1911 Myron went on to graduate from the University of Maine. He spent his entire active career in the banking world. Myron is now retired and lives at 39 Westernview Circle, East Longmeadow, Massachusetts.

Helen Philbrick Ward (Mrs. Lawrence): Helen reports that she and her husband live a quiet life at Thorndike, Maine. The Wards' five children are all married and widely scattered. One son lives in Maine, three in Colorado, and one daughter lives in the state of Washington. At present Helen has nine grandchildren.

Millard S. Wiswell: As your Class Agent it was my pleasure to bring news of our classmates to Millard. At the time of my visit in 1961 Mrs. Wiswell had just returned from the hospital and was making satisfactory progress toward complete recovery. Their address is 213 High St., Berlin, N. H.

Mrs. Norman E. Willis (Althea): As Class Agent of 1911, I paid a short visit to Althea and her young son, extending the deep sympathy which we all share with her in this great loss of her husband and we a valued Classmate. Her address is in Harmony, Maine.

A change of address has been reported from Rosella Grady LaTaille. Her home is now at 188 No. Main St., Uxbridge, Massachusetts.

A recent note from Mildred Bartlett Walker tells of how much she enjoyed her 50th MCI Anniversary visit in Pittsfield during August 1961. She adds that she was very proud of the School, and how much of a pleasure it was to have seen so many friends.

Class Agent

HAYWARD T. PARSONS

2200 Industrial Bank Bldg.

Providence 3, R. I.

Alice Cowan Osgood has left Maine — we hope only temporarily — for the sunnier climate of Arizona. Her address: 2534 W. Catalina Dr., Phoenix, Arizona.

A nice note from Class Teacher Helen Dow Baker tells us that she has enjoyed meeting old friends and students at the MCI annual Mid-summer Alumni Homecomings. She spends winters in Bolivar, Missouri, to be near her family and has summered in Peterboro, New York. During the past two summers Mrs. Baker has served as hostess of the Mayflower Society House at Plymouth, Mass.

Iona Tibbetts Britt retired from teaching in July 1963. Her three children and ten grandchildren are in three states; her daughter and three sons are in the Pacific Northwest; her oldest son, with four boys and one girl is in up-state New York; youngest son, John, has two sons and resides in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Iona still has her apartment in Saugus, Mass., and has done substitute teaching in the grades.

Charming Queen of the mid-winter Snow-Ball Weekend was Maryjane Christie of Newport, a junior. Maryjane is a granddaughter of Mary Smith Christie '13, also of Newport.

Class Agent

NORRIS FRIEND

Newport, Maine

Norris Friend, Class Agent to 1913, has been seriously ill during the past winter. We are certain that his Classmates and many friends will be pleased to know that he has been making satisfactory progress. Norris might like to hear from you. His address: Newport, Maine; no more is required.

1914

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY CLASS

Class Agent

BETH RUSSELL McCausland

72 Rawson Road, Wollaston, Mass.

Raeburn L. Marsh retired from the Railway Mail Service in October 1962 after 42 years of service, and his wife has retired from teaching. The Marsh family keeps very busy, however, in church work, retired persons organizations, Masonic and musical groups. They also make tapes for blind students at the Down East Recording Studio for the Blind. Raeburn keeps in shape for golfing with once-a-week bowling in an old-timers league. Can't wait for the snow to leave the fairways!

In recent address changes, Leonora Runnals Frost has moved to 4 Flagg St. Place, Augusta, Maine; Mary Hanson Parkman's new address is 32 Rio Vista Lane, Red Bluff, Calif.

Lizzie Tufts Friend will retire from teaching in Stetson, Maine, at the end of this year. Lizzie has one daughter, Ruth, and 3 granddaughters.

No stay-at-home is Kathryn Dow Nichols. Kathryn gets to spend at least some time in Maine each year; she is a native of Searsport, you know. In 1961-62 she had a tremendous 5-month trip around the world. Not bad for a California housewife! Her address: 413 Market St., Santa Cruz, California.

The Mertherall & McCausland Company has been sold by Frank L. McCausland. Frank, the sole proprietor, will continue with the firm in an advisory capacity.

Note to MCI '14: We will be looking for you at the Mid-Summer Alumni Homecoming Saturday, August 1 in Pittsfield. Members of the 50th Anniversary Class, as always, are honored guests of the Alumni Association at the Afternoon Reception and Banquet. You will receive a more formal invitation later, but it's not too soon to start planning!

HOMER F. RAY

425 Old Shawnee Road, Milford, Delaware

New addresses: Martha Tucker Griffin, Bristol Road, Damariscotta, Maine; Rena Shepard Davidson, RR 1A, Gardiner, Maine; Doris Kenniston Cockell, Hacienda Carmel Valley, Box 5517, Carmel, Calif.; John E. Goodwin, 15 Tibbetts St., Augusta, Maine; Melvin L. Ames, 492 Hillside Ave., Berlin, N. H.

Rosamond Woods Abbott plans to visit Maine this summer, following a winter in Florida, and the Kentucky Derby in May as the guest of her son Bion, Turf Editor of the Los Angeles Times. The Abbotts have sold their house in La Puente, Calif.; their new address is 22 El Prado Place, Santa Barbara, California.

1916

Class Agent

HELEN LIBBY RAY

425 Old Shawnee Road, Milford, Delaware

New addresses: Jesse H. Bates, 1337 - 182nd Ave., Oakland, Calif.

Esther Copeland Ring was bereaved September 25, 1963, by the death of her husband, E. Raymond Ring. Mr. Ring had been the assistant superintendent of Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research for twenty-one years, and for the past sixteen years he was Chief of the Bureau of Farm Operations, State of New Jersey, Department of Institutions and Agencies. The Rings have two sons, a daughter, and eight grandchildren. Esther's home is at 30 Jefferson Road, Princeton, N. J.

Last fall the Rays and Whitcombs (Avis Maddocks '15) called on Thirza Colby Fairbrother '15 and her husband at Guilford. This is the nearest we have come to seeing Rufus Colby since graduation, but we have had several very fine letters from him. Rufus lost his wife in January, 1960, but continues to live in his old home at Jackman. His oldest daughter and six grandchildren live only a mile away.

In December Van and Amelia (Haskell) Stevens reported that all their children and grandchildren had spent Thanksgiving Day with them — a group of 16 in all, "counting twin girls in high chairs at the corner of the table." They spent Christmas in Pittsfield with their daughter and family. They were at the Stevens, or Mitchell, farm in Unity a week during foliage season. After Christmas they went to Arizona to stay until mid-April. In the spring of 1963 they stopped to see us Rays here at "Del Havens" en route home from a winter at Big Pine Key, Florida.

Marion Morse Bartlett of Damariscotta Mills, Maine, was bereaved by the death of her husband last year.

Edith M. Mitchell retired in 1959 from an interesting career in teaching to help care for her invalid mother. She is teaching in Troy this year, and lives with her sister in Unity. Edith is very actively helping with plans to make our 50th reunion a memorable occasion, and has sent us some fine suggestions. We hope that more Sixteeners will begin making plans for August, 1966.

Horace Newhouse was one of several classmates who sent us autobiographical notes as requested. Horace has two sons; one a surgeon on the staff of two Rhode Island hospitals, the other is a Commander and Director of U. S. Naval Personnel Research in Washington, D. C. Horace and his wife have a total of ten grandchildren. He writes that he and his wife will be at Homecoming in August this year. Horace retired in 1962 after forty-six years of continuous service with express companies.

Verna Coffin Farrow and her husband have been retired since they sold Farrow's Book Store in Waterville. Mr. Farrow has been appointed city treasurer for another two-year term, and Verna's many activities indicate that she is still very busy. They spent Christmas with their daughter and family in Albany, N. Y. Last year at Homecoming time in August, they were vacationing in Calgary, Alberta, Canada, with Welton's twin brother and wife. They flew by jet from Montreal, attended the Calgary Stampede Parade with Bob Hope as Marshal, visited Banff, Lake Louise, Hot Springs, and many other interesting and beautiful spots. We hope to see them at MCI this August.

Olive Mayo Toft has been in Denver, Colorado, for nine years and has been on the staff of St. Luke's Hospital there since 1956. In free time she enjoys driving her car to see the beautiful country. Her vacation comes the middle of August each year, so she has had to miss the Homecoming activities at MCI.

Leland Goodrich wrote your class agent a fine letter of encouragement despite the fact that he is a very busy man indeed! He is interested in hearing what classmates have been doing since 1916 and their present activities. Won't you all write, please, to either the MCI Alumni Office or to your class agent, a letter to tell us all the news of yourselves. Leland says that he will "of course make every effort to be back on our 50th." We wish that he might get there earlier, too!

We were saddened to learn of the passing of Phillip Bradford. His sister, Bessie Bradford Skinner '18, wrote us about his death on November 19, 1963, after seven years of illness. Phillip and his wife had three sons. At the time of Bessie's letter, last January, his wife was quite ill. We hope that by now she has improved greatly.

Etta Gray Collins is one of our classmates who is faithful about writing to keep in touch. She is still a very active business woman in Kezar Falls. We hope you get to Pittsfield again this year on August 1st, Etta.

Hazel Pushor Reagan is active with Gray Lady Service, Church Work, and the hobbies which she and her husband enjoy — beagle hounds, greenhouse flowers, fishing, and traveling. Her autobiographical notes indicate a very full and happy life.

Myrtle Pushor has had a long teaching career. She flew to Philadelphia on March 26 for a three-day convention of the National Teachers' Association. Part of her vacation is often spent at Ogunquit, Maine.

Colonel Delbert O. Fuller sent in his autobiographical sketch recently. The careers of two sons and a daughter, all college graduates, and Delbert's own career in teaching and in the military service, make very interesting reading. Del has been retired and on a pension with rank of Colonel since 1955. His hobbies are gardening and fishing. He and his wife plan to return to MCI for the 50th reunion.

In May, 1963, Ruby Dodge Sawyer wrote us a fine letter and described their retirement home in Newcastle, Maine. It sounds like an ideal place to live.

Ruby Hackett Young's address at 2330 N. E. 51st Street, Pompano Beach, Florida, leads us to believe that she and her husband are enjoying retirement in the south.

John Rogers, at St. Petersburg, is another Sixteener in the Sunny South. We haven't heard from you recently, John. Won't you write and tell us all the news? Or, better still, tell us on August 1st in person.

Homer '15 and Helen Libby Ray expect to leave about the middle of June for Oregon and Alaska. They will visit their son, Dr. Homer, Jr., and family at Auke Bay, twelve miles north of Juneau, in late June and early July, then will return east in time to attend Homecoming Day at MCI. The few autobiographical sketches already received from classmates will be in Helen's "portfolio" on that day and available for alumni to read. Won't you folks who haven't yet sent in your life histories please do so soon? It will take time to get them ready for distribution at our 50th.

We Rays have the best intentions about calling on all of you who have asked us to look you up in Maine. Our time in the old home State just flies! If we dash all the way from Alaska to be at MCI for Homecoming weekend, why can't you meet us on the campus? Lots of others there would like to see you, too!

Class Agent

LYDIA BICKFORD SUSI

37 Lancey St., Pittsfield, Maine

New addresses: Dr. Achsa Bean, Star Route, Owls Head, Maine; Virgil E. Goodrich, 29 Thirlmere Ave., Thornton Heights, So. Portland, Maine; Benson L. Gowan, 134 E. Longmeadow, Greenville, N. C.; Vera Gould White, 28 West St., Pittsfield, Maine.

Dr. Achsa Bean has retired from her position as physician and professor of health and hygiene at Vassar College. She had been associated with the college since 1938. She received her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of Maine and her medical degree from the University of Rochester. She took a leave of absence from Vassar in 1941 to serve with the American Red Cross in World War II, and later became a major with the British Royal Army Medical Corps. Later she served in the U. S. Navy with the rank of Lieutenant Commander in the Medical Corps Reserve. She returned to Vassar in 1946. Dr. Bean is a member of the Dutchess County Medical Society and recently retired as assistant attending physician at the Vanderbilt clinic of Presbyterian Hospital after serving there for many years.

Sanger M. Cook visited Florida during the past winter, spending several days in St. Petersburg as the guest of Robert Whitehouse. Sanger returned to Pittsfield tanned and fit, and reportedly trimmed several strokes from his golf game during this southern sojourn.

Traveller on a wider scale has been Marcelline Menard Trailler who, with husband Marshall, has wintered in Torremolinas, Spain, after an extended tour of England and the Continent. She reports the weather in her section of Spain to be lovely, much like Florida in the winter, but without the fog! Average temperature on the "Costa del Sol" is 68 degrees during the colder months. Marcelline and Marshall have enjoyed a deluxe apartment at Torremolinas, with maid service, for most reasonable rates. They have visited the larger city of Malaga for shopping, with a choice of modern supermarkets or the colorful municipal market resembling, says Marcelline, the "Seraglio of the Sultan"! At the fashionable resort of Torremolinas one may meet people from all countries, and particularly England, enjoying the unparalleled scenery and weather. The Traillers left Spain in early April; we can only wonder how they managed to break away.

Lydia Bickford Susi somehow finds time to do an outstanding job as Agent to her MCI Class of '17. Lydia, among other things, is in charge of the Sewing Room at the Pittsfield Woolen Yarns Company. She, and we, find it hard to believe, but Lydia has a granddaughter at the University of Maine, Dawn Susi, daughter of Donald D. Susi '40; and two grandchildren at MCI, Erica '67, daughter of Wayne E. Susi '45, and Peter '65, son of Roosevelt T. Susi '38. Yes, there are more to come!

HELEN CHILDS SHOREY

RFD Savage St., Southington, Conn.

New addresses: Harry P. Brann, 43 Lexington Ave., Beacon Hill, New Port Rickey, Florida.

Ruby Gray Bridges has retired from teaching after 30 years of service. A widow since 1958, Ruby has been busy as organizer for her church, and in other church work and services. Her address: 169 Bridge St., Belfast, Maine.

Energetic Class Agent Helen Childs Shorey, school lunch supervisor to the Southington, Conn. school system, has had a new junior high school added to her chain of responsibilities. Helen now has the direction of 10 cafeterias and no wonder looks forward to her summers in Maine. Helen seems slightly aghast that she has a granddaughter, Donna L. Shorey, who will graduate from MCI in June!! Have no fear, Helen, no one would believe it!

Erma Holden Oseland proudly announces (a bit late, but welcome, certainly) the birth of a granddaughter in June, 1961. Please, Erma, more details! The Oseland address is 695 Merriman Road, Akron 3, Ohio.

An occasional stint of substitute teaching keeps Azalia Osgood Smith informed about our younger generation. Azalia lives in Woodland, Maine, where husband Virgil is an engineer for the large St. Croix Paper Co. plant, a subsidiary of Georgia-Pacific Corporation. They have two daughters: Mrs. George F. Gee, a graduate of the University of Maine and now living in Athens, Georgia; and Barbara Ann Smith, also a Maine graduate, who is teaching in Portland, Connecticut.

Class Agent

RUTH WHITTEN PALMER

85 Silver St., Waterville, Maine

New addresses: Walter E. Moses, 51 Crestview Dr., Portland, Maine.

Clarence R. Day and wife Ethel Reed Day '20 reside in Middlebury, Vermont, where Clarence is Civil Engineer at Middlebury College. Son Philip is an engineer with the Maine State Highway Department and is located in Bangor. The Days have three grandchildren, Wayne 9, Raymond 6 and Elaine 2.

Clerk and tax collector in Dixfield, Maine, for 14 years is Helen Williamson Emery. Helen, widow of Clarence L. Emery, has two married daughters, Ruth in Rumford, Maine, and Eleanor in Tallmadge, Ohio, plus 9 grandchildren. Quite a brood!

Carrie Edes Round has been working at the Lincoln (Maine) Hospital for the past five years. Her husband Elmer died in January after a prolonged illness. Carrie has a married daughter in neighboring Enfield and one granddaughter. Carrie's address: 4 Lake St., Lincoln, Maine.

Alice Whitten McDougall lives at 1651 Cimarron St., Los Angeles, California, and is a retired registered nurse. Alice maintains a busy social life, is deaconess of her church as well as chairman of her church group.

Marion Harris Novak, 11508 Ohio Ave., Los Angeles, is an active worker for a scholastic fund named in memory of a beloved niece, who died at 38 of cancer. Certainly a most worthy cause! Marion has not forgotten Maine (who from Penobscot County could!) and hopes someday to return for at least a visit.

Class Agent

WILLIAM S. SILSBY, SR.

4 Union St., Ellsworth, Maine

New addresses: Harvey E. Mitchell, 72 Somerset St., Millinocket, Maine.

Irene Reynolds Karkos and husband Andy '27 are both associated with the large Fitchburg (Mass.) High School. Irene teaches in the business department and Andy is a guidance counselor. They spent a delightful winter vacation at Nassau; we would like to hear more about it! Andy and Irene have two grandsons, John and Paul. Hope that they bring them to Maine this summer.

1922

GILBERT A. SPEAR

Marada L. Johnson is at a new address: 173 Park Ave., Watertown, N. Y. She is a member of the New York State Syllabus Committee, a part of the present statewide home economics curriculum revision.

Recently named Training Supervisor for the Los Angeles County Bureau of Public Assistance was S. Ellen Henderson. Ellen has had a distinguished career in psychiatric social work, and in 1961 became the first social worker in her area to become a certified social worker under credentials issued by the newly established Academy of Certified Social Workers. She is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles with a degree of Master of Social Welfare. Prior to World War II, she was engaged in orthopedic rehabilitation in New York City and as a consultant in medical social work to the Department of Welfare. Her work with the United Seamen's Service in the war brought her to the West Coast where she subsequently joined the American Red Cross as assistant field director in Africa and Italy. Ten years ago she became a member of the staff at Camarillo (Calif.) State Hospital where she quickly rose to the position of supervising social worker.

40TH ANNIVERSARY CLASS

Class Agent

E. BURNELL OVERLOCK

Box 610, Pocasset, Mass.

He is married to the former Peggy Hunter of Altus, Oklahoma, and has one daughter, Cindy Deanne. Son Norris is with the State of Maine Forest Service and is located in Milo. He is married to the former Violet Grant of Cherryfield, has two sons, Stephen and Michael.

A Grand Tour of Europe was made during the past fall and winter by Madeline Coolidge McKinnie and husband Paul. Their itinerary included Holland, Germany (where they picked up a new Volkswagen), Vienna, Italy, Sicily and the British Isles. They departed Spain on February first for their home at Weirs Beach, New Hampshire. Madeline remembers a motor trip around the spectacular island of Sicily as the most exciting part of their extended vacation.

Charles Connor of Auburn, husband of Clementina Johnston Connor, was featured in a "Face of Maine" story in the Portland Sunday Telegram in September. "Face of Maine" spotlights each week a widely known person mirroring the face of Maine. Charley is the president of the Poland Spring Hotels Corp., and in this capacity has enjoyed the friendship and esteem of countless thousands since he became affiliated with the famed resort in 1942.

Jere G. Moynihan, Sr. (see address above) has been named sales manager for Maine and New Brunswick by the Summers Fertilizer Co., with offices in Bangor, Maine. Jere has previously spent a number of years in Maine's Aroostook County.

BEATRICE WRIGHT CARTER

1260 Grant Rd., East Wenatchee, Wash.
New addresses: Virginia Stewart Gniffke, Thomas Ave., Owatonna, Minnesota.

"It's A Girl! After 152 Years"

The arrival of Ann Sheila Mathews — seven pounds, twelve ounces — in October 1963 caused considerable stir around the Pittsfield residence of Harris V. Mathews, Jr., MCI '40, and wife Sheila. While all new babies start some excitement, young Ann, born at the Eastern Maine General Hospital, Bangor, October 17, nearly provoked a revolution!

For this young lady shattered a record that the Mathews family had established over a century and a half — 152 years, to be exact — by being the first girl born to the Mathews' in four generations.

It all started — or failed to start, we might say — with Benjamin S. Mathews, MCI '79. Benjamin, himself from an all-boy family, had one son, Harris V. Mathews, MCI '04. Harris, in turn and in due time, had two sons, Harris, Jr., MCI '40, and Benjamin, MCI '42. These sons each had two boys and then, finally, the long-awaited daughter to Harris Jr.

There is a strong MCI tradition in the Mathews family. We can only hope that Ann Sheila, no respecter of custom, will plan to be with us. Should graduate about 1982!

Albert L. Lander has worked for the National Guard in Newport, Maine, for more than eight years. Al has three children; the oldest girl is a high school freshman, his other daughter is 13, and his son 10.

Recently promoted at the Portland (Me.) Savings Bank was Roger B. Percival to treasurer. Roger, the son of Wallace G. Percival '20, came to Portland Savings in 1958 after a number of years as an examiner in the State's Department of Banks and Banking. He became assistant treasurer August 1, 1962. Last year he graduated from the Graduate School of Savings Banking at Brown University. There he completed a management course open selectively to those having a number of years' experience in banking. Roger resides with his family at 13 Meadow Way, Cape Elizabeth, Maine.

Alice Craig Anderson and husband Dick have purchased a "new" house in Norwell, Mass., that is 300 years old! An antique colonial, and one of the showplaces of the section. The Andersons have two children, Jane 9 and Craig 6. Their new address is River St., Norwell, Mass.

Donald Duncan is still a resident of Presque Isle, is employed at the post office. Don was a very welcome visitor to the Campus during the spring.

Richard Groves, coach of basketball and baseball at Schenck High School, East Millinocket, Maine, for the past six years has shed his coaching duties to devote more time in directing an intramural program. Dick has been a fine coach; during his 6 years at Schenck his teams have reached the Eastern Maine Class "L" tournament five times and have posted a 79-46 record over that span. Dick is a graduate of Springfield College in 1951 and received a master's degree from the University of Missouri in 1954. He will continue his work as physical education director and instructor in biology at Schenck.

Class Agents Lin and Marilyn Pelletier have incautiously sent word that visitors are always welcome at their summer address: Nason's Beach, North Sebago, Maine. Wouldn't it be jolly for a big bunch to drop in some long weekend in July? Something to consider. They do warn, however, to bring your own sleeping bags. They kind of live in a tent, like.

Julia Jackson Bird became the bride of Franklin Moore, Jr., at the First Universalist Church, Pittsfield, in July 1963. Mary Jean Jipson Frati served as matron of honor at the single-ring ceremony. Julia has been employed as an executive secretary in Dayton, Ohio. The bridegroom is a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas. The couple reside at 205 Virginia Ave., Dayton, Ohio.

Leader in a field of 16 candidates for 7 offices on the Skowhegan, Maine, board of selectmen, was Dr. Richard F. Berry. Dick took first honors handily in the race and was named chairman of the board. He is a graduate of Tufts Dental School and has served 4 years with the Air Force. Dick is married to the former June Hughes and has 4 children.

Clarence E. Furbush (see address above) is County Office Manager for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Herkimer County, New York, has held the post for 5 years. "Rosie," to his MCI buddies, is married, well married, with 6 children, 3 boys and 3 girls, a nice balance, ages 6 months, 2 yrs., 3 yrs., 4 yrs., 5 yrs., and 6 yrs. Excellent!

Anne McKeel Kelly was happy to see a vastly expanded MCI during a visit last summer with her husband from her home in Waterford, New York. They gave the old school a careful examination; it had been 10 years since Anne had revisited.

Other pleased viewers of the old scene were Walter Mooers and Catherine Doyle Mooers '53. Catherine had a gay time at her 10th MCI anniversary at the Homecoming in August; enjoyed every minute of it. And at a later visit to the Sno-Ball in February found things "quite interesting." Was baffled by the immaturity of the present students, and they danced so differently! Walter is employed by Holmes & Swift, Augusta. There are two children, Walter, Jr., 6, and Deborah Lynn, 2. Walter has completed 15 years in the Air National Guard, is a S/Sgt. with the 112th Aviation Gp., Gardiner. Catherine finds being a housewife just great after working for 7 years; spends her scant spare time with church groups, club activities and P.T.A.

Dear Fellow Alumni:

As President of the MCI Alumni Association it is not only my duty but my distinct pleasure to extend warmest greetings to all MCI graduates through the medium of the ALUMNUS for 1964. Your alumni magazine, as in the past, is designed with you in mind, and from its beginning in 1947 has been the outgrowth of your expressed desire for more news about the School, its present students, its Alumni, and what is commonly described as its "growth."

As Alumni we well might ask: Has MCI achieved "growth" over the years in the best meanings of the word? Has it developed academically as well as in physical plant (which all can see) during the years since we graduated?

Alumni, and particularly Alumni of an older vintage, must wonder if the Old School is as sound as when they attended. Changes they see do not always conform with the older patterns, in teaching or, occasionally, even behavior.

But in the final analysis a school may be adjudged only by its products. What are our students doing after leaving MCI? Where are they going? Have they been prepared?

Happily, the records show that in spite of vastly stiffened college entrance requirements, that each year more graduates not only apply to education beyond MCI, but that a truly impressive percentage are admitted. Last June, for a most recent example, 191 students from the regular 4-year and postgraduate groups were graduated, all of whom but 29 had undertaken college preparatory courses. Of the college oriented students 131 were admitted to one or more schools of higher learning, and 10 from the non-college group were successful in gaining admission to schooling beyond the secondary level.

A notable job, and indicative that MCI continues worthy of our loyal support. The School's reputation, reaching far beyond Maine, was never better.

I am looking forward to seeing as many of you as possible at the annual Mid-Summer Alumni Homecoming. Each year we have a larger crowd and a better time! Plan to be with us.

Sincerely,

Earl O. Whitney
President, MCI Alumni Association
