

The Middle School Marvelous March Madness is nearing an end and one of the events was to create an original design that had to include academics and basketball. There was a category for hand drawn and also a graphic design so our 8th grade graphic design students could show what they have learned. The winner for the hand drawn poster was Sophia Bastone and the graphic design was C.J. Strohl.

