

The Life Skills class at LAMS just came back from an amazing CBI (Community-Based Instruction) trip. First, they stopped at the Lehighton Post Office to mail out the letters they wrote and addressed to Santa. They worked diligently writing out the envelopes with Santa's address, their return addresses, and remembering to add postage. In keeping with the spirit of the holiday season, the students also traveled to the Dollar Tree to purchase toys. They then added the toys to the LAMS "Toys for Tots" donation bin. The students practiced budgeting, counting money, figuring out sales tax, and charitable community skills. The Life Skills class finished their trip with lunch at The Boulevard. They enjoyed choosing from the menu and ordering for themselves. The students learned about prices of food at a restaurant vs. buying and preparing food themselves. They also practiced calculating sales tax and a tip. It was a fun-filled day of learning!
