

Lehighton Area Middle School

Eighth grade social studies students have been analyzing primary documents throughout the school year. Recently they viewed the Freedom Shrine. The Freedom Shrine is a collection of primary documents that have significant importance to our nation. This collection was donated by the class of 1957 and is on permanent display in the middle school. Students discovered the "mystery letter" in the Bill of Rights. It looks as though Congress is spelled incorrectly with a letter "f" but it is actually a completely different letter, a "long s," which is no longer used. Mystery solved!
