Social workers are essential to community well-being. As practitioners, social workers are trained to help people address personal and systemic barriers to optimal living. They are employed to effect positive change with individuals, families, groups and entire communities. As a profession, social workers frequently use their collective power to assist people in having access to community services and benefits, improving the quality of life for everyone. social workers are everywhere that people would need help navigating through tough life challenges. They contribute to interdisciplinary care teams in schools, hospitals, mental health centers, nonprofits, corporations, the military—and in local, state, and federal government. We would like to thank our Social Workers for all the work they do to support our Lehigh Area Community!
