Lehighton Area Middle School

HISTORY

Nearpod is an online student engagement platform that is a great resource that teachers can use in class to help students learn because it allows the teacher to give students questions like open-ended ones where you type the response, or the answers can be published in drawings where the students can actually draw on their computers. Recently in our 8th grade Social Studies classes students utilized Nearpod to learn about our local canals. The lesson does not include an audio portion, but you will be able to hear the two videos embedded within the slide.

Enjoy learning about our local history!
