GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN THEOLOGY

April 1, 2023

Greetings in the Lord Jesus Christ!

I have started hosting a new podcast called The Catholic Theology Show! The podcast promotes theological learning about the great mysteries of our faith and the heroic saints and doctors of our Church. We hope to remind people that theology matters. As C. S. Lewis said in Mere Christianity, if people do not have good theological ideas, they will most likely have bad and unhelpful ideas about God.

The show includes conversations with Ave Maria University faculty as well as with the many theologians and speakers who visit our campus. We already have over twenty-five episodes released. Here are some highlighted episodes:

- Scott Hahn on his recent book about God's holiness;
- Fr. Romanus Cessario, OP, on the feast of St. Thomas Aquinas;
- Joseph Pearce on G. K. Chesterton and The Everlasting Man;
- Roger Nutt on the legacy of Pope Benedict XVI and one on Catholic Universities;
- DiAnn Ecret on Catholic bioethics;
- John Cavadini on St. Augustine's Confessions;
- Fr. Guy Mansini, O.S.B., on his new book Ecclesiology;
- Michael Waldstein on Pope John Paul II's Theology of the Body

These are engaging conversations informed by lifetimes of learning and a genuine love of diving into and sharing the saving truths of our Catholic Faith. The show is pitched at a level accessible to informed Catholic laity and yet informative for students of theology, youth ministers, theology teachers, seminarians, and priests.

Would you be willing to listen to an episode or two of The Catholic Theology Show and perhaps to share it among friends and acquaintances? I hope you will join me in praying that this initiative may bear fruit in the lives of those who listen and help people find greater meaning and purpose in the Gospel of Jesus Christ!

Yours in Christ,

Michael Dauphinais, Ph.D.
