

Interviewing Ariana and Will

by: Kaysie Munguia and Shelby Hurd

We were so lucky to interview Will and Ariana in Ms. Anadon's class. We interviewed them because Will and Ariana were born in the same hospital , in the same class and they were born 15 minutes apart, and they are NOT siblings. So, we decided we wanted to see if they had anything else in common. The first question we asked was "What's your favorite color?" Will's favorite color is black and Ariana's favorite color is blue. Our next question is "What's your favorite snack?" Ariana said her's was Jello. Will said his favorite snack is Takis. The next question is what is your favorite cartoon? Ariana said she didn't have a favorite cartoon show, and Will said "Ladybug". The next question is what's your favorite type of pizza (Like cheese or pepperoni). Will said sausage, and Ariana said pepperoni. The last question was "what's your favorite candy?" Ariana said skittles, and Will said chocolate.

Wings of Fire

by: Aron Martinez Sanders

Wings of Fire is a book series, coloring books etc. are all made by TuiT. Sutherland and the graphic novel designer Mike Holmes. And there is a website called Wings of fire Fandom.com (Not sponsored). There is a loving community that gives facts and fanfictions, their own books and more! Here are the most popular Wings of Fire books! The Dangerous Gift, The Brightest Night, Darkness of Dragons, Talons of Power, The Lost Heir, The Hive Queen, Deserter, and Darkstalker. Also it is about talking dragons. There are fifteen books, two Wings of Fire Legends, one coloring book, one guide to Wings of Fire, one how to draw, and one Forge Your Own World. There is more than just one article about Wings of Fire facts but I'm glad you chose this one.

Winter

by: Iker Rodriguez Jaimes

Winter is a season that starts in November. When the winter comes, it starts to get windy, and cold and it even starts to snow. During the winter, you can make snowballs and do an epic snowball fight or even build a snowman and if the weather is super cold, you can even make an igloo. Although to make a snowman, the snow must be hard so that the snow would stick to each other. You can make all sorts of things, not just a snowman. Something else to do in the winter would be to have snow days and not go to school. If you find a high or low hill, you can go sledding, but to go fast in the sled, you must lean forward so you can go faster and if you want to fly when you sled you should make a little hill at the end of the hill. During winter, some people like to drink hot cocoa and stand by the fire pit to get warm. Some people like to add marshmallows on top of a stick and toast it in the fire pit, or they even add miniature marshmallows to their hot cocoa.

Defy

by: Fernando Hernandez

Today, I'm going to be writing about a jumping place called Defy. In my opinion I think you should go to Defy. One reason I think you should go is because there are a bunch of trampolines you could do tricks on. For example, you can do a backflip or a front flip. Another reason I think you should go to Defy is because you can play dodgeball with other people. Also you can jump off a big tower at Defy. It is really high. There are a bunch of things you can do at Defy plus there is a zip line that goes really fast and a bunch of foam pits. Also there is a swing where you can jump or there is a really long slide where you can go super fast. One last fact is they sell pizza and ice cream. In conclusion, I think you should go to Defy.

Do you think Corgis are the best pets? Soft, cuddly, and energized are all the things you will get if you have a Corgi, and this is why Corgis are the best pet. One reason Corgis are the best pet is they are cuddly. For example they sometimes fall asleep on your lap. Another reason is that they are very smart. For example, you can teach them many tricks. Finally Corgis are the best pets because most of them are very friendly. In conclusion Corgis are the best pet to have.

Corgis are the Best Dog

by: Brooklyn Fogg

Interview with Ms. Reanna

by: Adalynne Christensen, Davanee De Loera, Jake Hamer

Today I got the chance to interview Mrs.Reanna. She has two pets, one cat and one dog. Her favorite holiday is her birthday because it's all about her. When I asked her if she is on Draco's or Harry's side (Harry Potter Characters) she said "I am a Slytheren at heart so probably Draco's." Her favorite candy is Willy Wallabees licorice. Her favorite colors are black, purple, and white. She has worked at Stellar for six years. Her favorite pasta is spaghetti with spicy italian sausage. If she could have any nickname it would be Booboo because that is what her grandma calls her. Her favorite grade as a kid was 4th grade because she had a good teacher. Her favorite animal is an elephant because she could imagine being that big. Finally her favorite shape is a triangle because it could fit into almost any other shape. Thanks for letting us interview you Mrs. Reanna!

Best Fifa Players

by: Eli Brown

We have to start off with the king of soccer, Pele.He won 3 world cups (The most of all time). He scored 1,279 goals. He has 7 hat tricks. Next we have to mention Messi. He has 803 goals. He has 57 hat tricks. Another one is Mbappe he has 267 goals and is a huge offensive threat. He has 7 hat tricks. Next is Cristiano Ronaldo he has 832 goals and 63 hat tricks. Next is Haaland. He has 198 goals and 16 hat tricks. Another one is Zidane who has 689 goals. He only has one hat trick though.

The Unknown Shadow

By: Ryann Williams

One day, a girl was walking down, alone in an alleyway, when all of a sudden, she felt as if she was being followed. She turned around to find nothing. She thought nothing of it and continued walking home. Once she arrived home, she changed her clothes and went to bed. In the middle of the night, she woke up to a crashing noise. She never did discover what it was, so she went back to bed. Once it became morning, she woke up and decided she wanted to go for a walk because she liked exercise. As she was walking, she got the same feeling as she did the night before. So once again, the girl turned around and checked to make sure. She thought she heard some bushes ruffling so she decided to ask "Is anyone there?" No response. So once again, she asked "Is anyone there.?" And once again, no response. The girl decided she was going to keep walking and she was just overthinking it and going crazy about it. She thought she saw a shadow behind her so she turned around and saw a shadow. The girl was terrified. So she began running home as fast as she possibly could. Once she got home, she shut all her blinds, locked all her doors, and hid in her bedroom. As she waited, she decided to call the police in case it was something serious. After she sat for a while, the police arrived. After going through the house the police found nothing and left. The shadow was never seen again and the girl still lives to the day.

Interview with Mrs. Williams

By: Yeleiny Rodriguez Valenzuela

Today I got the chance to interview my teacher. Her name is Paula Williams and she is a third grade teacher at Skyview. I asked her why she liked skyview and she responded saying, "It feels like a family ❤️ ." She also loves the students and feels like the teachers care about their students' success. By her classroom door she has a sign that says how to get to know her. I also asked what her favorite color is and she said purple but she doesn't really have a reason to like it. The next thing I asked was, "What is your favorite flower?" She said "a sunflower because I get to pick flowers with my son (Camden) also because my son likes them." Then I asked, "what is your biggest fear or phobia?" Paula answered by saying "an irrational fear that i have is moths because I don't like how they fly really crazy." Another thing I asked was "what do you like to do when you're not at school?" She responded "I like to go to concerts and do board games. I also like to take my son (Camden) to go do activities." Her star sign is a Gemini. Another thing I asked is, "If you could pick one thing to eat for one whole week what would it be?" She responded saying, "the mexican pizza from Taco Bell" Her favorite fruit is strawberries because she says, "they are juicy and they taste great." Her hobbies are reading because she says that she "gets lost in her books" she also likes singing (but not in public). The next thing I asked her was "what subject do you specialize in and why?" She said math because it was hard for her as a kid and she works really hard to make sure that she teaches math really well. She also has a cat named Tango and he is a tabby. Mrs.Williams also says "he is getting old and a little bit grumpy but he is still playful." The last question that I asked was " what is your dream pet?" and she answered, " I've always been a cat person, but my dream pet is a husky." I had a great time interviewing Paula Williams. I hope this interview helps you know more about Mrs.Williams.

Things to do in an Apartment

by: Arya Thomsen

Hello. This is some advice if you're stuck in a tiny little apartment.

First, if you have to share a room with your sibling I'd suggest bunk beds so you both have a little bit of your own space. But, if your family already decided on separate beds you can get curtains to divide the room into how many siblings you have.

Now you obviously need some games. You can play the classics, like, Monopoly, or "What do you Meme". But.... you can play a game where you get a piece of cereal and try to throw it in a hat. And if you make it you get to eat it. And you can pretend the floor is lava. You can jump on the furnisher.

Now the pets. I DO NOT suggest birds/a bird! It's because THEY SCREAM. And it will wake up your neighbor. But... a cat would be good. They are very quiet. Also MAYBE a small dog. or maybe a big dog that is calm. Those were some things to do in an apartment.

Wolves

by: Taelyn Fisher

While a small research study indicates that wolf pups raised by people can get attached to them, these wild animals don't turn into adorable human companions. They haven't been domesticated over thousands of years like dogs.

Wolves are legendary because of their spine-tingling howl, which they use to communicate. A lone wolf howls to attract the attention of his pack, while communal howls may send territorial messages from one pack to another.

The gray wolf, which is also called a timber wolf, is the largest wild member of the dog family. It inhabits vast areas of the Northern Hemisphere.

Like many large carnivores, wolves are generally afraid of humans and will avoid people, buildings, and roads if possible. The risk of wolves attacking or killing people is low. As with other wildlife, it is best not to feed wolves and to keep them at a respectful distance.

Although wolves must make their living by preying on large animals, aggression by wolves toward people is much less common than aggressive behavior by other large animals such as bears or even moose. Yet there are instances when wolves can threaten or injure people and pets.

Wolves Really Can Become Attached to Humans Like Dogs Can, Adorable Study Finds. Few animals show as much affection and loyalty as dogs. But a new study offers evidence that the same human-to-animal attachment can develop in wolves, too.

The Adventures of Remi the Glaceon: Friend or Foe?

By: Remi Trujillo

Hi! I'm Remi. I am a Glaceon. Ever since I had chosen my evolution as a young little Eevee, I had left my town of Eeveelution City and headed towards Lumoise City, a great place to rest myself at a Pokemon Center after walking for so long. Except, I had not known that I was being followed. As I heard footsteps approaching, I turned back and saw an Espeon who was wearing some sort of scarf that was a little ripped around its neck. It had tried to launch a bunch of psychic beams at me, but I had used my ability to my advantage. I could make a cloak of snow around me and run while I could. But weirdly, she stopped floating and came towards me and said: "Nice reflexes! I didn't mean to scare you so much. I'm Isabella. Were you heading to Lumiose City too?" I responded with a scared "yes". She then said: "Can I follow you?". That made me a little suspicious of her. "Sure," I said back. We then walked all the way to a Pokemon Center in the city. I then said: "I'm gonna rest. See you again?" She responded with a very excited "YEAH!" and then left. After resting, I saw that she was nowhere to be seen. Forgetting about it, I went to a clothing store and bought a Pokeball top hat and bow tie. It was really nice to meet someone like that! What a day!

Hogwarts Castle

by: Clara Brown

You might not like school, but Harry, Ron, and Hermione from the Harry Potter Franchise definitely like theirs. It never gets boring there, and there is always something to do.

There are many classes you can take, including Transfiguration, Charms, Herbology, Muggle Studies, Potions, and Astronomy. They are scattered all around Hogwarts. In Transfiguration, you can turn a mouse into a tissue box, a pig into a couch, or even turn matches to needles. In Charms, you can make a pineapple tap dance across a desk, or make shoes fly. There are lots of plants to take care of in Herbology, and you can make many potions in potions. Even if you're unlucky enough to take History of Magic (the most boring class) there still is much to learn.

The staff is also amazing. (Though some of them are a little strict). From Professor McGonagall, who is in charge of Gryffindor, to Professor Binns, the History of Magic teacher. There is Professor Sprout, Professor Snape, Professor Dumbledore, and Professor Flitwick.

Hopefully you learned a lot about Hogwarts today.

North Dakota is a very beautiful place to visit for the summer. First of all, their time frame is different from Colorado. There is a one hour time difference, North Dakota is one hour later than Colorado. During the summer in North Dakota, the sun stays up until around 11:00 P.M so you can do more stuff with the sun out! In the Winter, there is a lot of snow that falls on the ground so it gets cold in the winter. There are many towns in North Dakota that are small, Williston is one of them that only has a few things to keep you entertained but you will live if you move there. From Colorado, the drive to North Dakota is 12 hours! But if you fly there it will be around 2-3 hours if you decide to take a flight. There are many more things that are amazing to go there, therefore, you should visit North Dakota for the summer!

North Dakota

by: Jacey Falcon

Interview with Mr. Smith

by: Bianca Avila and Angela Par

We, Bianca Avila and Angela Par interviewed Mr.Smith. Here are the answers to the questions. Mr. Smith likes teaching because he's able to make a difference in kids' lives. His teacher friends are everyone because he gets along really well with anybody. His favorite animal is a sloth. His favorite color is different shades of blue. His birthday is September 11th. This is his seventh year teaching here at Stellar Elementary. His favorite junk food is caramel apple pops and chips with salsa. If Mr. Smith had to go back a grade he would pick 2nd grade. Mr. Smith is 38 years old. He likes pizza more than ice cream. If he was in the newspaper club he would write about how both students and staff feel. If he went back to fix his mistakes he wouldn't because he feels happy about the mistakes that took him here. We learned so much about Mr. Smith during his interview.

Basketball

by:Daniel Jimenez

In this page you will find lots of facts about basketball. Basketball is a game where you try to shoot the ball into the hoop.

The Basics

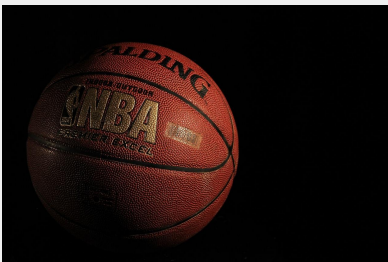

Most people start the game by doing a "jump ball." That means the ref throws the ball and one person from each team tries to get the ball. There are lots of different rules. It also depends if you're playing "street ball" or "professional basketball." Things you can't do in basketball are travel, double dribble, halfcourt violation, or go out of bounds. To travel it means that you take three or more steps without dribbling. If you double dribble it means to hold the ball and then dribble again. A halfcourt violation is when you have the ball and step over half court on to the opponent's side and step back past half court again.

Players

Many people play basketball. Today there's a corporation called the NBA which stands for National Basketball Association. There are many different ways to train for basketball. There are many different ways to play basketball and some people are really good.

Closing

There are lots of different players and rules to this game. You'll have to train hard if you want to get good at the game.

Interview with Mr. Scott

by: Laila and Brooklyn Fogg

Mr. Scott was very nice and fun to interview. His favorite color is blue. His favorite food is either Italian or Mexican. His favorite fast food is pizza. He enjoys being a janitor because of the money. He has been at Stellar for 10 years. He works every day at Stellar. His favorite restaurant is Texas Roadhouse. His favorite candy is gummy bears. Mr. Scott's favorite holiday is Christmas. His favorite season is spring. In his free time he is a musician. His favorite subject in school was lunch. Mr. Scott's favorite music is rock and roll. His favorite band is Journey. His favorite brand of shoes is New Balance. He works Monday through Friday. He is 60. He works 8 hours every day and is normally here until about 11:00! He has two cats, Marian and Maggie and they are both girls. In conclusion Mr Scott was a very interesting, fun, and funny person to interview.

The Origin of the Doge Meme

by: Remi Trujillo

Have you wondered once you have seen this picture of this "Doge" about how it was made? Well, I'm gonna tell you about that right now. It started in 2013 when this picture was taken and was spread across the interwebs. This picture was a Shiba Inu dog named Kabosu added with some different colors in the Comic Sans font, with some sort of broken English words. Soon enough this meme got its own cryptocurrency called Dogecoin (DOGE) that isn't really worth much today, usually being under just 1 dollar, and another called Shiba Inu. Many makers of memes remember making memes with the doge meme and making people laugh to this day still, and many OG's have this meme in their heart.

Why is the snow leopard the cool animal?

Because it's the coolest cat

What are cats' favorite ice cream?

Mouse cream sandwiches

What's the cat's favorite food?

Mac and mouse

What did the mother cat make for the kitten's lunch?

A meownaise sandwich

What did the kitten eat for dinner?

Fried fish

Cat Jokes

by: Danny Yanez

Land of Literal

by: Clara Brown

Kayla was bored. It was literacy time in class, and we were learning the very thing she hated. Idioms. Why say one thing but mean another? "Say what you mean, mean what you say," Chuck Garcia said. Idioms don't do that. When you say an idiom, you don't mean what you say. It was infuriating.

"Kayla?" her teacher, Mr. West asked, snapping her back into reality. "What does the idiom "couch potato" mean?"

"Um..." Kayla started. "A potato on a couch?" The class snickered. Kayla glared at them.

Mr. West sighed. "That's not correct and I think you know that." Then he turned to the class. "Class, that's not polite to laugh. We all are on different levels and that's not a bad thing."

"It is bad if you can't even tell the difference between a literal couch potato and a figurative one," a girl named Jane whispered to her friend. Her friend snickered.

Kayla stood up. "Say that again one more time. I dare you,"Kayla said threateningly.

"Kayla. Chill." Mr. West watched her as she calmed down, then turned to Jane. "Being mean is not permitted in this class. You can spend your recess cleaning the whiteboards. And you..." He turned back to Kayla. "Need to stop getting so worked up about a little thing." Kayla sighed and returned to her seat. She blew her short, brown hair out of her eyes, put her head down and never looked up till lunch time. During lunch time...

Kayla grabbed her lunch tray and, instead of going to her usual table with her friends, walked to her classroom. She needed to borrow a book from Mr. West, and he told her to stop by during lunch. The door was closed, so Kayla knocked on it. She heard a book or two falling, but no Mr. West. It took her two seconds to decide what to do. She opened the door and was surprised to see no one there.

"Mr. West? Are you there?" Kayla called. No answer. She decided that Mr. West was in the teachers lounge, probably getting his lunch. She sat down at her desk and took out her book. She read for a little while, losing track of time. Then she heard a soft swoosh as a book on Mr. West's desk began to glow. She set down her book and stood up. Then she walked over to it. It was pale blue with a gold border. The title was a little faded, but she could just make out the words, "The Land of Literal." Kayla opened the book. The posters on the wall started blowing in an invisible wind, and the book pages started turning at their own will. Then they stopped at a page that had chapter one on the top in big letters. Kayla couldn't help but notice a word was missing in the first sentence. The sentence read "This is the _____ of the book." Then Kayla read it out loud, only adding the word, beginning to the blank. A tornado came out of the pages, grabbed Kayla, and went back into the book. It felt like Kayla was being squished into the pages, then stretched long again. She couldn't breathe. It felt like Kayla was drowning. She finally sucked in a deep breath as her feet touched the ground. Kayla looked around. There were stone buildings with little color and everything was very boring.

"Where am I?" Kayla asked.
"The Land of Literal," Mr. West replied.
To be Continued...

Miss Jessica

By: Delilah Miera

I just had an interview with Miss Jessica. She worked at skyview. She won't tell me her age but she said "I am in my 30's." Miss Jessica has a daughter named Emmie. Miss Jessica has two dog's Indy, and a boy named Haydee and Indy is 13 years old. Haydee is 4 years old. If she had a superpower, she would have the ability to fly and to turn into a mermaid. "The reason why I want to fly is I would like to fly like an eagle. I would also like to swim for days." "I like working with kids," Mrs. Jessica said. She wanted to be a vet tech when she was a kid and she went to school for it. Her favorite flower is a sunflower and her favorite food is Mexican food. Her favorite book is a princess series because the princess overcomes her challenges. Last but not least, her favorite movie is a Wakada movie.

Rocky and Ryder

by: Ava Lee and Gracie Klem

They're both cray-cray. yes they are.
They will eat your granola bar.
Rocky and Ryder that is them.
They'll dig up a shiny gem.
Puppies, Dogs everywhere.
Rocky and Ryder are so spare.
Play, play everyday.
They will sometimes show no way.
Rocky and Ryder are so spare.
They won't ever mess with hair.

Walt Disney

by: Natalie Lucero

In this article you will learn about Walt Disney's childhood, early adult years and accomplishments. First, Walt Disney was born December 5, 1901 in Chicago Illinois. His mother's name was Flora Call Disney and Disney's father's name was Elias Disney. Disney had 4 siblings, 3 brothers (Herbert Arthur Disney, Raymond Arnold Disney, and Roy Oliver Disney) and 1 sister (Ruth Flora Disney). At 4 years old he moved to Missouri and spent most of his boyhood on a farm near Marceline. His family moved back to Chicago for high school. At 16 he studied art in Chicago. In 1920 he joined the Kansas film ad. He wanted to help during World War 1 but was too young. So he dropped out of high school and joined The Red Cross, and spent the next year driving ambulances for the Red Cross in France. Walt Disney had many accomplishments. First, he left his job and started his own company called Laugh-O-Grams, And he made 57 Alice films. In the 1920's and 1930's he made cartoon film characters such as Mickey Mouse and Donald Duck. He won 22 academy awards and 7 Emmy awards. He died in Burbank, California on December 15, 1966 (at 65) He had lung cancer.

Jurassic World

by: Phillip Hernandez

The Jurassic World movie series is one of the best series in the US. It started off as "Jurassic Park" but as the Park was shutting down 30 years later Jurassic World was born. Yet Dr. Henry Wu's hybrid creation of the Indominis Rex failed and it wreaked havoc on the streets if it wasn't for Blue, REXY, and the Mosasaur, the Indominis Rex wouldn't be at the bottom of the lagoon.

Wu hadn't given up; he made a new hybrid called The Indoraptor. Putting a sale behind the mansion's owner's back "John Lockwood" when the fans got a little picky and wanted to sell the Indoraptor, but the merchant told them it was not for sale. The hybrid broke out and killed the merchant. Blue once again saved the day and busted her and the Indoraptor through the glass roof. Somehow Blue fortunately escaped the deadly horns of a Triceratops skull but not so much for the other raptor, the horns pierced through the skin of the raptor.

The dinosaurs were living in the real world now as Claire and Owen went to a new dinosaur study center called "Biosyn". They soon found out that CEO Lewis Dodgson was being shady all along. Dr. Ean Malclom worked there as well; he, Ramsey, and Wu helped Grant, Macy, Claire, and Owen defeat Dodgson. But not before Dodgeson released the Locust and burned them. Dr. Ellie Satler said "He's burning the evidence!" This is messed up Dr. Ian Malcolm put a Locust on a stick burning one and threw it in the giganotosaurus's mouth and she breathed fire! The therizinosaurus and the T. Rex helped defeat the giganotosaurus and everyone got away safely and Biosyn was shut down for good.

Dog and Cat Fall in Love

By: Gracie Deen

One sunny day Dog's owner left for Nevada for a month. They live in Texas by the way. Dog was terrified of being all alone for a month. Then he jumped out of the window to go take a walk. He loved nature more than anything in this world. He saw a stray cat, well he assumed it was a stray cat because it did not have a collar, and Dog didn't see its owner. Well he was very lonely for the past 2 hours. Dog went home. He was just sitting on the sofa. When he saw some stray cat jump through the same open window that he had jumped out of to take a walk. Dog was a scaredy cat but he was a big scary dog. On the outside at least. Dog thought this is for my owner Mason who is a man by the way. He got his claws ready and just as he was about to use them the cat said, "hey! Please no," she cried. He said, "why not?" She answered in a scared voice, "because I am a stray cat and I need a home."

Dog said, "oh I know what that feels like," he sighed. Cat said, "can I please stay with you for like a month." Just as Dog was about to say no she interrupted, "I am afraid I will get sick or some other stray cat will hurt me." Dog unfortunately agreed but only for a month and that's it. Am I clear? Dog said in a serious voice. "Yes very! Cat said with the happiest voice ever. One day went by. Dog was miserable. He hated everything she did... from yawns to scratches. Then a week went by and he started to like her slowly. And, well Cat also felt the same way the first day. Cat hated him but he was kind because he let her stay. Then the Dog and Cat went skateboarding. Cat was a pro and the dog was bad. The dog fell and the cat caught him.

To be continued in the next edition...

Holiday Survey

by: Brooklyn Fogg and Laila

We decided to interview the kids in the Intergalactic Gazette about what their favorite holiday is. The options were Halloween, Christmas, Thanksgiving, Hanukkah, Chinese New Year, Constitution Day, Cinco de Mayo, German Unity Day, Timkat, International Women's Day, Army Day, and Other. The most popular holiday was Christmas! 28 of the students in the Intergalactic Gazette picked Christmas. 2 students picked their birthday. 2 students picked Halloween. We cannot believe the most popular holiday was Christmas. We had Thanksgiving and Valentine's day Etc... but most of the kids picked Christmas! The one that had the least was birthdays. Lastly the one that was in the middle was Halloween, the one wear you get CANDY! Students in the Intergalactic Gazette, thank you for taking this survey. Below try to guess which holiday each one is. by using the picture.

YUI AND SARA:
Backstabber

by: Gracie Klem and River Mayumi Banu-Stewart

Hello! Gracie Klemm and I have written a new book. It is called YUI AND SARA:Backstabber Basically, it's about how there is this one girl called Yui (which is fountain in Japanese! I think-) and her little sister Sara. She meets two girls at school. Her parents normally make her wear tomboy clothes, but since she got friends they let her choose her own clothes. Her two "friends" are so jealous of her cute accessories that when she starts bringing them to school, they start stealing them. Even the jewelry her grandma gave her. WAHHHHHHH>-< Will Yui find out what's going on, or will her life end in MISERY? Dun dun duuuun!!! Find out when you read the book! If you are lucky you will get the limited edition book! (Which is basically the same book but different illustrator, aka MOI nyeheheh the original illustrator is Gracie >w0)

Going to School Chapter 3 and 4

By: Yeleiny Rodriguez Valenzuela

We talked to the principal and I'm in the school. I woke up to a DELICIOUS smell, I walked into the kitchen to find MY MOM cooking. I never got to see her cook. It was my first time but she looked like a professional. All the flips for the pancakes and everything were amazing! I was just standing looking as if I just saw a unicorn come in and out of the house! She turned around and saw me just standing there like nothing was wrong. I was so confused. How did she learn this!? She saw me standing there and said, "oh your breakfast is ready!"

I sat down at the dinner table and had one TINY bite of the pancakes,bacon, and eggs and I fell in LOVE. They were so good. I had a weird look on my face because it looked like I was practicing a fish face. "What's that face?" My mom stared at me weirdly, I started stuttering like crazy, "u- uh- nothing" I was SO nervous, "I just was" uhm, "I'm just surprised you did THIS!" "Why are you so surprised Maya? I just took lessons while you weren't watching," my mom said.

"What about your interview?" I asked nervously. "I did it online!" My mom responded really excitedly and I had no idea why. "Ok, Maya go get ready for school!" "Ok I'll go get ready".

I got ready, started eating and right when I finished brushing my teeth, my mom yelled, "get in the car!" And of course I came running down the stairs almost tripping and I glared at my mom for chuckling. She quickly put on an "ok fine, I won't do it" face. I got in the car and when we got there I realized that we were just on time. Which is really good because it would be bad if you were late on your first day of school, and trust me I HATE being late. And everyone I mean EVERYONE was smiling, some people were glaring at me, smiling and staring at me, especially the "cheerleaders." Sometimes they scare me with their glares and stares. It makes me feel weird. There was a person that was supposed to show me the school, like a "tour". Little did I know it was a BOY. His name was Jack and he was 16, just two years older than me. He had beautiful black hair just like mine! I hoped we would become friends right away, we did not only just become friends we became best friends. We had so much fun together. After school we would go to the park for a walk and later on we would feed the ducks bread. It was so cute. Today, one even splashed Jack and he burst out laughing. After that we went to go get ice cream. We both went back home but we were going the same way because he was my neighbor, so far in school he was my only friend.

All About Myanmar

By: Angela Par

Today we are going to talk about Myanmar! Do you know why I'm not in Myanmar? It is because they are going through war! Do you know why they're going through war? It's because the military arrested the president Aung San Suu Kyi. And the citizens of Myanmar liked Aung San Suu Kyi and the military got jealous that is why they got into war!

Interesting facts about Myanmar is that people can eat tea! Shwedagon Pagoda holds a bit of the Buddha. For the conclusion, Bark paste called thanakha is basically skincare and makeup for both women and men.

All About Mexico

By: Yeleiny Rodriguez Valenzuela

Mexico is a very nice place to stay. There are lots of kind people. There are tons of mountains that are very nice if you ever go to Mexico. I recommend going to Sierra de Los Tuxtlas. It is along the southeastern Veracruz Gulf coast in Eastern Mexico. It is very nice and pretty there. Another mountain I recommend is Sierra Madre Oriental. It is located in northeastern Mexico. Also there are many traditions in Mexico. There is Dia De Los Muertos (Day of the Dead). Most of the time at birthday parties there is mariachi. Mariachi is when people call a group of singers who perform songs. These people are in the mariachi . They usually go to the parties when it's the middle of the party so they can sing songs people never know what songs they are playing.. Mariachis have to learn several songs to be ready. The reason they have to be ready is because once they are at the party people ask them to play songs so they have to be ready. The Day of the Dead is when you set up stands for relatives who have passed away. They put a picture of them on the stand along with flowers. People also make stuff that their relatives liked, like if one of my relatives like sugar cookies my family members and I would make them sugar cookies. Then we would put it on their stand. Mexico is a very nice place to stay. If you ever go there you will see that they celebrate very nice traditions, have nice mountains and lastly they celebrate birthdays very well. I hope you liked the information about mexico!

Friendship

by: Ryann Williams

If you have ever been like me and thought, even though the friends I have right now are good I wanna make new friends too! Then here's how to do it. First, you need to know how to start conversations. So to start one ask something like, "Hi! What's your name, what's your favorite color, do you have any pets.?" Things like that are a great conversation starter and ways to get closer to a friendship. Another thing you need to know before asking to be friends is if they match your energy. If they don't then it might be a kind of weird friendship. It's also really important you know things about them like I mentioned before with the conversation starters. If you don't know your friend very well then your friendship will most likely not last as long as you might have been hoping.

How To End A Friendship

If you feel like one of your friends is controlling you or doesn't really know that much about you, you might want to rethink your friendship. If you really don't feel like your friend is a match for you then here's how to break it down. You first need to gather them in a quiet private place because it's embarrassing for them if you publicly announce that you don't want to be their friend anymore. After you find a private spot you need to admit to them that you don't think it's gonna work out with them and you think it's time you start considering losing contact. After you break it down you need to say sorry, wish the person well and tell him or her bye. Even if they don't agree, your opinion matters too.

Word Search

G	F	C	Q	X	R	K	S	W	N	O	H	H	T	L
L	O	F	A	E	B	F	N	W	H	Z	I	M	B	F
H	A	L	T	Z	A	S	E	P	P	Q	D	D	I	T
A	I	S	D	M	J	S	R	A	H	F	I	L	S	T
V	A	K	I	E	S	N	E	J	K	A	N	F	X	R
E	C	L	C	B	G	C	F	S	K	F	G	T	H	E
M	Y	N	E	R	N	G	E	T	S	P	C	R	D	C
H	D	Z	M	S	H	Z	F	C	B	U	N	N	Y	P
V	P	H	L	V	I	Q	M	A	E	S	L	O	W	Z
Y	N	E	K	R	V	F	G	O	U	G	F	Z	F	V
Y	E	H	P	S	Z	Y	G	B	P	G	G	I	U	A
R	T	N	E	O	C	M	X	H	B	E	N	U	F	L
P	P	J	O	B	H	C	H	D	O	Z	V	H	S	H
J	F	A	L	M	V	H	W	A	B	H	U	Z	E	F
Z	D	F	A	T	Z	C	D	A	F	N	O	O	W	F
R	X	U	M	S	N	P	D	Z	T	N	N	B	H	J
P	G	I	B	G	Q	R	S	C	H	J	V	K	G	N

bunny

family

Gold egg

prizes

easter ferens

hiding

egg

fun

money