Current Forecast Results through May Total Revenue, Total Expenditures, Cash Balance

The district continues to contain expenditure growth and improve cash balance stability. While the trend is toward revenue shortfall the cash reserves are adequate through FY 2021.

Revenue was down for the month of May when compared to last year and May estimated. However the Tax Incentive Financing (TIF) revenue from the county and city were received in June and will meet expectations. These TIF funds ($2.6 million) were estimated for May but have been received in June. Expenditures could exceed forecasted primarily because of supply and capital expenses (page 6).

The district's enrollment remains stable compared to last year. There was only slight variance in the enrollment count from the April #2 state report to the May #2 report.

Revenue is up slightly over last year but was under the estimate because of property tax incentive payments that were received in June instead of in May. The TIF revenue will be reflected in the June monthly summary.

Expenditures were up 13.6% over last year with salaries, supplies, and capital being up the most. These categories also exceeded estimates. The expenditure level for these three categories suggests that expenses will end the year $2.5 million more than forecasted. The June cash flow will be the final indication.

The district's cash balance is up $803,286 for the month when compared to last year.

Remaining

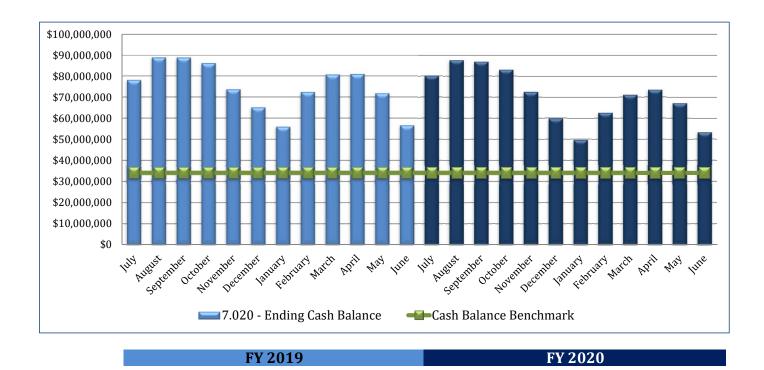

Note: Remaining Estimated Cash Flow, if realized, would result in total expenditures being $2,668,374 higher than forecast.

The district has spent 91.0% of its total annual forecasted amount which is higher than the three-year average.

Expenditures are forecasted to be up 2.5% this year compared to last year. To-date the expenditures are up 3.8%.

The supply and capital line items could push the district's expenditures $2.0 million higher than forecasted. At the same time, as reported on page 5 of this report, revenue is trending about $1.1 million favorably.

Monthly Cash Balance Projections

The district's cash balance is adequate through June 30, 2020.
