SPECIAL EDUCATION AND HEALTH SERVICES

The Special Education and Health Services division provides direct services for students and their families throughout the county, in school settings or in the home. The SCOE special education division provides specialized services to students birth to age 22, supporting district run programs/schools, and operates SCOE classrooms on district campuses and two special schools.

The division serves students in Stanislaus county, within the county and supports surrounding counties with itinerant specialists and classroom based services. The division has 535 professionals working in different capacities within the division, making a difference in the lives of students, families, and the community.
