Why you chose to run for school board:

Because I come from a working class background, I was taught early on that education was my chance to succeed in life. Through my own educational journey, I know first hand the immense power of educators and the impact they have on our youth. Today, as the parent and guardian of six children in Cleburne ISD and as a Partner Development Manager in Education Technology, I am blessed to work with educators, administrators and students on a daily basis. I have a strong understanding of all areas of the curriculum, educational policies and professional development. This allows me to have a clear understanding of the issues in education as well as use feedback I've received to be a voice for our educators and students.
