Unit Title: Study Skills
Topic: Test Prep and School Resources

Grade Level: 10
Lesson Sequence: 2 of 2

Lesson Objectives: Students will

1. Know how to study for specific types of test questions.
2. Know how to complete different types of test questions, on the test.

EALR's Addressed: Reading 2.1, 2.2, 3.1 Communication 1.2,4.1 Math 4.1, 4.2 Counseling-Education 1.3, 1.6 Personal Social 2.7 Writing 2

Special Materials: Have students bring to class a review sheet that a teacher has given them to prepare for a test. It could be from this year, or last year. If they don't have one, instruct them to be ready to share a review activity that they have participated in. Examples: Review games, Question and Answer, 3" x 5" card to use on the test, etc

Special Preparations: Make copies of student handouts.

Time	Activity	Procedures	Supplies
10	Entry Task	Students make a list of the different types of test questions they have encountered, and one way they study for each type. Then, they list how they currently answer each type of question, when they get to the test.	Handout 1
10	Discussion	Student read in pairs, or individually, Pgs. 21-23 of "How to Get Good Grades." Students should then revise Handout 1 with better ways for studying for, and approaching different types of test questions. Place Handout 1 in notebook.	Copies of Pgs. 21-23 Handout 1
		* Take time to discuss with students the importance of being prepared for the test, completing every question on the test, and checking their answers before turning the test in.
10	Conclusion	School Resources: Discuss the different resources that Eisenhower makes available to help students: Tutoring, website, Family Access, library, computer labs, Career Center, Counseling, etc. If Time: Have students look at examples of review sheets from different classes. Discuss with students how to complete the review sheet, and how it will help them prepare for the test.	Examples of Review sheets from different classes.
