

Summer Reading for Rising 2nd Graders

Students should read at least 10 books during the summer. Use a piece of notebook paper to list each book's title, author, and page count.

The following list is of many wonderful series that your child has previewed for interest. Please do not feel limited to this list, however! Any book that is interesting to your child and is a "just-right" reading level for him or her will be a good choice. Your child should try reading at least one page using the Five Finger Test to determine whether the reading level is comfortable.

Cam Jansen series, by David Adler
All Aboard Readers, by various authors
Berenstain Bears books, by Stan & Jan Berenstain
Minnie & Moo series, by Dennis Cazet
Eyewitness Readers, by Dorling Kindersley
Amber Brown series, by Paula Danziger
Magic Tree House series, by Mary Pope Osborne
Pinky and Rex series, by James Howe
Fluffy the Guinea Pig series, by Kate McMullan
Iris and Walter series, by Elissa Guest
Secrets of Droon series, by Tony Abbott
Nate the Great series, by Marjorie Sharmat
Junie B. Jones series, by Barbara Park
Poppleton series, by Cynthia Rylant
Sports Illustrated Kids books, by SI
Step into Reading books, by various authors
Fox series, by James Marshall
Amelia Bedelia series, by Peggy Parrish
The Littles series, by John Peterson
Scooby Doo! books, by various authors
Black Lagoon Adventures series, by Mike Thaler
Magic School Bus series, by Joanna Cole
Horrible Harry series, by Suzy Kline