

Prince of Peace Christian School

Carrollton, TX

Job Title: Part-Time/Stipend-Based Digital Animation Instructor

Department: Fine Arts

Reports To: Upper School Principal and Fine Arts Director

Job Summary: Prince of Peace Christian School is seeking a talented and passionate Part-Time/Stipend-Based Digital Animation Instructor to join our school community. As the Part-Time/Stipend-Based Digital Animation Instructor, you will be responsible for teaching digital animation courses to students in grades 9-12. You will play a vital role in nurturing students' passion for digital animation, developing their digital animation skills, and fostering Christian values through digital art education.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:

- Teach digital animation courses to students in grades 9-12, including planning, organizing, and executing digital animation lessons, demonstrations, and projects.
- Select appropriate digital animation topics and projects that align with the school's values and educational objectives.
- Collaborate with students, teachers, and staff to develop and implement a comprehensive digital animation curriculum.
- Provide guidance and instruction to students on digital animation techniques, software, and other digital animation skills.
- Coordinate and oversee the use of digital animation equipment and facilities.
- Foster a supportive and inclusive environment that encourages students to express themselves, take creative risks, and develop their talents.
- Promote the integration of Christian values and biblical principles into digital animation education, fostering a positive and uplifting experience for participants and audiences.
- Mentor and guide students in developing teamwork, discipline, responsibility, and self-confidence through their participation in digital animation classes and projects.
- Conduct demonstrations and lead discussions on digital animation topics.
- Evaluate student progress and provide feedback to students, parents, and colleagues.
- Stay current with industry trends, digital animation techniques, and best practices in digital animation education.
- Attend faculty meetings, staff meetings, and professional development sessions as required by the school administration.
- Be on campus 30 minutes before the first class and 30 minutes after the last class, as well as during performances.
- Adhere to all school policies, procedures, and guidelines to ensure a safe and conducive learning and performance environment for students.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in Digital Arts, Computer Animation, Film, or a related field. A Master's degree is preferred.
- Previous experience teaching digital animation to students of varying ages and skill levels.
- Strong knowledge of digital animation, software, and other digital animation principles.
- Proficiency in a variety of digital animation skills, such as character animation, 2D animation, 3D animation, and visual effects.

- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills to effectively engage with students, parents, and colleagues.
- Organizational skills to manage multiple aspects of digital animation classes and projects, including scheduling, budgeting, and inventory.
- Patience, enthusiasm, and a passion for digital animation education, inspiring students to explore their talents and develop a love of animation.
- Demonstrate a life commitment to Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior, care for students' physical/emotional/spiritual life, foster relationships and "family" life, grow in personal and professional life and celebrate life as a gift from God

Salary and Benefits:

- Stipend based on experience and qualifications.
- Possibility of more hours or full time if teaching other courses.
- Benefits may include health insurance, dental insurance, vision insurance, life insurance, and retirement plan.

If you are a talented and passionate Digital Animation Instructor who is looking for a rewarding career in education, we encourage you to apply for this exciting opportunity. Please submit your resume, cover letter, and three references to hr@popcs.org.
