

Parent Bulletin Friday 12th May 2023

Dear Parents and Carers

The countdown is over and the exam period has now arrived. When students return to school on Monday the Sports Hall, Main Hall and other venues will become exam venues until the end of June. Many students have worked incredibly hard and I hope they all will try their very best in the exams. I wish them all the best of luck.

School Day Changes

From Monday we are amending the internal timings for the school day so that students can have a longer lunch break. We are making morning registration 10 minutes shorter so that each lunch break can be 5 minutes longer (we have two). We trialed this earlier in the year and it was very popular with students and staff. Our start and finish times are no different.

Thank you to all the Year 7 parents who attended last night for their first subject parents' evening. There was a great buzz around the evening and plenty of good conversations. If you were unable to see a teacher please email reception@slougheton.com and leave a message for that teacher to contact you.

The next two weeks of school are full ones with no bank holidays. I think all students will welcome this as I know some have found the last few weeks quite confusing.

Finally, if you have not spent time checking your child's mobile phone recently please do so. It is really important to be sure they are only communicating online with people they actually know and are using apps safely. If you find anything that worries you then you can talk to us about it using safeguarding@slougheton.com.

Have a good weekend.

This week's Collective Worship reflection is:

Father God, we pray for those who are isolated within their homes, especially the lonely and vulnerable. We pray that you would surround them with your love. Lord, in this time would you minister to each one, that they would know that they have a Father in Heaven who loves them and is with them. Amen

'I have come in order that you might have life – life in all its fullness (John 10:10)
